The general tenor of all the reports, Friday, was to the effect that the insurrection against law and order was dying out in the places where it first started and has raged most fiercely, and that the police, military and citizens' organizations are able to cope with and beat back the rioters in cities where the commune has been late in getting started on the work of murder, incendiarism and pillage. The San Francisco crowd of bummers, tramps, thieves and "hoodlums" could not resist the police and vigilantes, and were driven to their dens without the aid of the troops. In Chicago, the mobs were defeated by the police and military, as reported Thursday evening, from fifteen to twenty-five of the rioters being killed and many wounded; but the report that the U. S. regulars opened on the mob with grape and canister was unfortunately not confirmed. The officers commanding United States troops at Chicago, St. Louis and other western cities have been ordered to place their forces under the command of the governors of the States in which they are stationed, to aid in enforcing the law. In St. Louis the citizens flocked to enroll themselves under the lead of old military men, and all the pawnbrokers and dealers gave up all the arms in their possession, to prevent the mob getting them; several manufactories where the employes refused to strike were burned by the ruffianly rabble, and a terrible riot was feared after dark. The rioters are weakening in Pennsylvania; coal trains run on the Lehigh & Susquehannah road. In New York the insurrection seems to have been flattened out very quickly by the vigorous measures of Governor Robinson, who ordered out the entire militia of the State, 28,000 in number, as soon as the trouble commenced, and announced that the law should triumph if he had to call for 100,000 volunteers. The Erie railroad commenced taking freight for all points, Thursday; and trains were running from Buffalo, Syracuse and Albany, and other places where the strike had been temporarily successful. The hands of the Chicago & Canada Southern road gave up the strike on Thursday, and went to work. The communists along the Baltimore & Ohio road were alarmed by a report that Gen. Hancock, at the request of Gov. Hartranft and by direction of the War Department, was to take full charge of the Pennsylvania troops, declare martial law along the line of the railroad, and run it as a military line.

Despatches Friday evening reported Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville and San Francisco all quiet, the criminal classes having been effectually cowed by the respectable citizens.

The Eastern War.

Advices by way of London say it is certain that as the Russians advance in Bulgaria the Mohammedans massacre the Christian population. Turkish statesmen are concerned at this, but foresee that the massacres will ultimately assume such dimensions that they cannot be prevented. The Austrian Consul at Smyrna announces that the Christians are in constant terror that the Turks will indulge in massacres. In such circumstances the attention of Austria is naturally excited, her interest being so closely affected by Servia and Herzegovinia. A detailed account of the fighting by which the Russians obtained Schipka Pass and went through the Balkan mountains shows the most desperate hand-to-hand fighting, resulting, in one place, in 400 Turks being killed and about the same number of Russians. The Turks sent a man to parley and during the parley the Russians consolidated, when the Turks treacherously fired into them, killing several hundred. They were charged and driven, and then, being summoned to surrender, promised to do so at noon the next day, but during the night they stole away, leaving their camp-fires and line after line of entrenchments. The Russians captured all the Turkish camps and baggage, twelve cannons and 400 prisoners. The ferocity of the defeated Turks was horribly exemplified in their treatment of the Russian wounded who were left on the field the previous night. These unfortunates were all murdered as they lay, and when the pitiless slaughter was completed the dead were all decapitated and fearfully mutilated. The ghastly spectacle filled all beholders with horror and intensified the fury of the Russians against the Turkish irregulars.

More Indian Atrocities.

Reports from the Black Hills announce many murders by the Indians. Lieut. Lemley, with a company of soldiers and a dozen or more civilians, left Spearfish City a week ago with two days' rations and have not since been heard of. A ranche on Crow Creek, containing seven men, was attacked on Wednesday and five men killed. On Thursday men were arriving at Deadwood all day, bringing reports of fresh outrages by the Indians; over twenty murders were reported that day.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.

Evidences of a reaction in the minds of laboring men who for a moment allowed themselves to be misled by the specious but illogical and altogether wicked appeals of cunning demagogues, against the excesses and bloody instincts of the triumphant canaille, multiply and are having a very reassuring effect here, and the organization of the respectable elements of all our large towns for the preservation of order and to rescue from the thieves the remnants of their plunder has begotten confidence in the speedy restoration of order and the salvation of popular government, so seriously menaced during the tumultuous and bloody occurrences of the past week. The announcement was made yesterday that trains were again running over the Washington branch of the Baltimore and Ohio road on schedule time; and the somewhat demonstrative crowds that for a few days congregated about the depot of that road have disappeared, the tramps having again pulled out into the open country, whence they hurried into town to take advantage of the first opportunity offered for pillage and robbery. There are hardly any arrivals of money by mail or express to the Treasury, and the bulk of the mails now received at the city postoffice are much reduced in size. Our meat supply is getting rapidly scarce and an advance upon present exorbitant prices is among the immediate probabilities. But the capabilities of the adjacent farms have been so largely developed since the war, that our market for farm produce was never better supplied, and that too, at the most reasonable rates. It is thought that unless some adjustment shall have been reached within one week so as to permit the peach crop to be moved cheaply and expeditiously to a market, a very serious disaster awaits owners of the magnificent orchards in Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey. If anything unconnected with the strikes is transpiring of general interest it does not reach the public. But as the fires go out from exhaustion of the fuel there is a gradual return of public attention to matters of absorbing interest when the insurrection first broke out, diverting us from everything else. The action of the Government threatening to annul the privileges granted the Direct Atlantic Cable Company, should it persist in its purpose to combine with another company, in palpable disregard of the one condition upon which they were granted, is almost universally commended.

KNOX.

News and Notes.

Stetson's Howard Athenæum Company, who finished an engagement at the Adelphi Theatre, Chicago, last week, are at Cleveland, unable to proceed eastward on account of the passenger embargo. The troupe includes Miss Adah Richmond, Miss Nellie Larkelle, James S. Maffit, Yankee Locke, N. D. Jones and others.

President Arthur, of the Locomotive Brotherhood, said on the 24th in Cleveland that the brotherhood is not connected with this strike, and his advice has been not to jeopardize their lives nor compromise their manhood. They sympathize with the strike, but not with communism. "The best way to settle the difficulty is to restore wages as prior to July 1st. The men will never resume work till that is done. They have been treated tyrannically by railroad officers. If Tom Scott had gone to Pittsburg instead of sending soldiers all bloodshed would have been averted. Whenever the officers of the road have met the brotherhood there has been no strike. This strike will continue until the companies yield, and, if continued long, the locomotive brotherhood will be forced to take a hand on roads where there have been reductions." President Arthur is no doubt a great man, but the nation does not hang on his lips, and the communist insurrection will be put down without the law-breakers being bought off, even though President Arthur should disapprove of the means employed to restore order.

Mr. R. W. Bishop, whom the Ohio democrats have just nominated for Governor, is a wholesale grocer of Cincinnati, and has accumulated a fortune. He was a Know-Nothing candidate for Mayor in 1854. He is sixty years of age.

In answer to the assertion of President Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, that all the trouble of the strike arose from Tom Scott's refusal to listen to the brotherhood, Scott says in so many words that Arthur lies, as he (Scott) never refused to listen to any delegation whatever, and had no anticipation of any strike until after it commenced. Arthur also says the brotherhood has had nothing to do with the strike—probably he lies when he says so—but threatens that if the demands of the communists are not acceded to they will "take a hand." President Arthur is an imprudent talker.

A Solace for the Aged.

In the decline of life, as the vigor of the system wanes, and infirmities attack it to which in early life it was a stranger, the use of a safe medicinal stimulant is highly advisable. Nothing, as experience shows, is so admirably adapted to the wants of old people as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a real solace to the aged, and the best safeguard they can possibly use against the complaints to which they are peculiarly liable. It invigorates the body and cheers the mind, is pure, agreeable and effective. Rheumatism, lumbago and gout are more frequently developed in age than in youth or middle life. Hostetter's Bitters are an excellent remedy for those painful disorders, and also fortify the system against them. They never create undue excitement, are gentle in their action, and are infinitely purer than the unmedicated stimulants of commerce.

A Tooth for a Tooth,

that is to say an artificial tooth for a real one, is not a good exchange. Therefore, keep your natural teeth unimpaired, and in order to do so use that famous preservative tooth-wash, Sozodont. It is a wholesome botanical preparation, unrivalled as an antiputrescent and antagonist of decomposition and decay.

Nothing welds things together like Spalding's Glue.

It seems very strange that there should be such general complaint heard everywhere as to the hardness of the times and the scarcity of money—gold, silver, or paper—when one remembers that about the first of every month, Generals P. T. Beauregard and Jubal Early, as the commissioners of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, give away hundreds of thousands of dollars. Write to M. A. Dauphin, Box 692, New Orleans, La.

Since the opening of the new and excellent Hotel Devonshire, opposite the main entrance of Grand Central Depot, first-class accommodations at reasonable rates can be had in this most convenient locality. By all means stop at the Hotel Devonshire on your next visit to the city.

If one could only be fortunate in these days of misfortune, it would be worth one's while to write M. A. Dauphin, Box 692, P. O., New Orleans, La., for the particulars of the August drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, under the supervision, as commissioners, of Generals P. T. Beauregard and Jubal Early.—Tickets are only two dollars.

To save time is to lengthen life. Why will you waste time when you have a severe cold or hacking cough, or even suffering from the destroyer, Consumption, hunting for a remedy, when you can obtain instant relief by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. Even the worst cases have been cured. Ask your druggist for it.

The 5th grand drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery Company will take place on the 7th of August next.

MORE WAR.

Some time not far from midnight on Thursday, Mayor Broughton was aroused by a call from "Professor" Jerry Edwards, who a few minutes later also aroused Judge Batchelder of the Police Court from the sleep of the just. Jerry proclaimed to the Judge his grievances which were: that having come down from Boston to pay a visit to his home—or at least to the place where his wife resides—he was refused admission, William Quinn and a Frenchman from the U. S. S. Enterprise being in the house as a garrison. Judge Batchelder sent the misused and enraged Professor to the police for redress, and not long after was favored with a visit from an officer, who wanted to know just how far the law would allow him to go in forcing an entrance into Jerry's wife's domicile, inside of which Quinn was reported as brandishing a hatchet and vowing he would split the head of any ruthless invader. Learning on enquiry that the officer had no warrant, the magistrate advised him not to enter unless to quell an open breach of the peace occurring within his own knowledge, and the officer left, going once more to the besieged dwelling. Arrived at the scene of hostilities the officer found that the besieging force, to wit, the Professor, had stormed the fortress and effected an entrance, and was engaged in massacring the French contingent, which had taken refuge under a bed when the storming party burst in. So the whole crowd, including the regular garrison, the special recruits and the besieging force, were taken to the lockup, and peace reigned in Warsaw—we mean in Madison street. On Friday morning the demoralized Professor was brought before Judge Batchelder, charged with malicious mischief as exemplified by the breaking up of crockery ware and housekeeping generally. Mrs. Professor testified that she knew Jerry was coming down from Boston, and being in great bodily, moral and mental fear of him she hired the two men mentioned to defend her. After due deliberation, as the complainant was perfectly willing that Jerry should leave if only he would, the defendant was released on his own recognizance, he promising not to renew hostilities in this city for at least two months.

NEW LAWS.

Col. Kent, Sheriff of the County, has had his attention called to the violation of the recent law for the protection of oyster beds. For the benefit of those interested we publish the law, the Sheriff having received a certified copy from Secretary of State Thompson:

SEC. 1. No person shall take oysters from Great Bay in the County of Rockingham, or any of its tributaries, during the months of May, June, July and August, unless said oysters have been bedded in said bay or its tributaries by the person so taking them.

SEC. 2. Any person violating the provisions of this bill shall be fined not less than twenty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each offence.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved July 19, 1877.

This following bill also passed both houses of the Legislature and received the Governor's signature, and went into effect at once:

"If any sheriff, city marshal, constable, or other officer authorized to serve civil or criminal process, receives from any person any money or other valuable thing as a consideration, reward, or inducement for omitting or delaying to arrest any defendant or respondent, or for omitting to carry any person held in custody before a magistrate, or for delaying to take a person to prison, or for postponing the sale of property under an execution, or for omitting or delaying any duty pertaining to his office, he shall be punished by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding three months."

CITY AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, the matters of cross-walk at No. 1 North street, common sewer on Summer and Middle streets, sewer petitioned for by C. E. Walker and others, and erection of hitching posts near St. Mary's church, were referred to committee on streets, with power.

Petition of proprietors of Commercial wharf was referred to the Mayor.

Committee on claims reported in favor of paying Mr. Coleman $200 for damage to sleigh, etc.; report accepted. Claim of George A. Perkins was committed.

Matter of Vaughan street repairs was taken up and recommitted.

Committee of conference with Gas Company made the following report, it and the proposition being accepted and adopted:

"At a meeting of the directors of the Portsmouth Gas-Light Company, held on Saturday, July 14, it was voted that a discount of twenty instead of eight per cent. be made upon the bills for gas furnished the city, commencing January 1st, 1877, provided our superintendent furnish, inspect or repair all gas burners used for street lights without cost to the city, and that said burners are not to consume more nor less than five cubic feet of gas per hour, and that each watchman shall go in all cases to each light post on his route, whether the gas be out or lighted, and turn off the gas."

JOTTINGS.

Orders were received at the navy yard on Thursday for the new sloop-of-war Enterprise to sail for New York Saturday morning. Orders were received some time ago to fit out the Kansas, but the orders have since been revoked.

The Times, in a report of York county (Me.) cases recently argued at the law term of the court at Portland, speaks of one case instituted "to get possession of York Nubble, an island of about six acres in York river harbor, which the owners value at a high price, now that Uncle Samuel wants it whereon to build a light-house." When was York Nubble moved to York river harbor?

The Maine Press Association start on their week's excursion to Moosehead Lake this morning. The Massachusetts and New Hampshire Associations will be well represented, among the guests from the latter being Hon. Frank W. Miller and ladies of this city.

Ship Grandee, Capt. Joseph R. Shillaber, has added another quick passage to her famous list. She left Melbourne May 4, and arrived at Calcutta after a passage of 38 days.

The Times of Friday evening says: "Capt. Thomas Hoyt of Kittery Point was seriously injured a few days since by being thrown from his wagon. It is feared that he was seriously injured internally." Capt. Hoyt "has the luck of it" at being thrown out of wagons; somewhere about a year ago he was thrown out on the corner of Market street and Market square, (through the running away of his horse, which took fright at a hand-organ,) and struck his head on the curbstone with such force as to cut off a piece of one ear.

The Journal says "it is currently reported that Captain William Robinson and Engineer Gertin of the steamer Appledore have bought the steamer Major, of Gosport, of Mr. John R. Poor, to be delivered to them after the season closes at the Isles of Shoals. They will employ it in winter towing in New York harbor."

A correspondent says, "I have travelled a great deal and stopped at many hotels, but I have never yet found one better kept or more comfortable than that well established and popular house, the 'American,' of Boston. Here everything is of the best, the rooms are scrupulously neat and clean, and the charges most reasonable."

New Hampshire Items.

Hon. Lewis W. Clark of Manchester is being urged by prominent members of the bar for the vacant Judgeship on the Supreme Bench.

A young son of Nathaniel Sawyer of Salisbury was badly mangled by falling upon the knives of a mowing machine, recently, but it is thought may recover.

There is a superfluity of rabid dogs at Hampton Beach. Five have been killed and two more reported mad, all within a week; a young boy about twelve years of age was bitten, besides several cattle.

On the 14th of July Jonathan Cilley of Andover found three cows, a pair of young oxen and two sheep piled one upon another under an elm tree in his pasture, and all dead. They had evidently been killed by lightning, though no trace of the bolt can be found upon the tree.

As Mrs. Samuel Eastman, of East Concord, was hanging out clothes, she was stung by hornets, to which she at first paid but little attention. As the pain increased, she laid down, in the forenoon, and was found by her husband in an unconscious condition. She remained in that state for several hours before she was restored.

—Bristol, R. I., dates back nearly two centuries, and long before the Revolutionary war her streets were laid out by a royal engineer, who did his work so well that no modern Macadamizer has been able to improve on it. It is asserted that this is the only ancient town in America, with the solitary exception of Philadelphia, where the streets are all made "on the square," and where, for the whole distance of each one, they run as straight as an arrow.

—It takes, according to a scientific journal, four thousand bumblebees to weigh a pound; but you stop a bumblebee some time when he is right busy, and pick him up and heft him, and you will raise your hand and swear he weighs a ton.

—It takes Father MacNulty, of Paterson, N. J., to stop a run on a savings bank. When there was a panic among the depositors, recently, Father MacNulty walked calmly through the crowd at the door, with his red silk handkerchief full of greenbacks, and dropping them on the counter, turned around and went home again. The crowd saw the point, and one by one concluded their money might as well stay in the bank.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often restores the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thin, lifeless, weak and sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilized; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalps are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
Washington, D. C., July 3, 1877.

The Bureau of Construction and Repair will receive proposals until 12 o'clock M. of Tuesday, the 14th day of August, 1877, for building the shells of the turrets of the double-turreted monitor "Miantonomoh," now at Chester, Pennsylvania; scrap-iron for the work to be furnished by the Bureau.

These turrets are to be 22 feet and 9 inches external diameter, and will be constructed of plates 9 feet long, about 5 feet broad, and 10½ inches in thickness, according to plans which will be for exhibition at the Navy Yard, League Island, on and after the 20th of July instant.

Separate proposals will be received under this advertisement as follows:

1st. For the entire work of completing these turrets, including the revolling of the irons.

2d. For all the labor of building these turrets, the materials, ready for use, to be provided by the Bureau.

3d. For rolling the iron required in their construction. The scrap to be furnished by the Bureau.)

Plates to be bent and planed according to plan.

Proposals will also be received under this advertisement for furnishing all the materials which may be required in the construction of these turrets; the plates to be of the size mentioned above, bent and planed according to plan, to be equal to the best quality of English turret iron, and all iron furnished will be subject to such tests as the Bureau may direct.

It is desirable that these turrets should be constructed on some wharf on the Delaware river, in such position as to be readily placed on board the ship.

No proposal will be received except from parties known to possess the requisite facilities to perform the work in a satisfactory manner, and the Bureau reserves the right to reject any and all offers, if considered to the interest of the Government to do so.

Proposals will be received at the same time for building the shells of the pilot houses required for the same vessel, subject to the same conditions observed in building the turrets. d jy10 17 24 31

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, Jr., D. D.

This work is not prophetic. It discusses the topic as a Divine precise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo., 216 pp., $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all other medicine I have ever tried, I can now eat and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $5 for the Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22nd of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty; but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indyzed him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had by me. I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I did not need them, and am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried it do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I suffered so that I could do no work at the time for eight or ten winters, and have been trav. eling ever since for a milder and healthier air. I suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with, and I thought I would never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and I thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anything. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON!

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The receipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind above their stale or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

—o—

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST FOR THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who a substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Irregular Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Exostosis and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

A Promising Customer.

He is a small man, rather dapper in appearance, with a propitiary air in his clothes, in his face, and even in the fringe of hair which encircles his head without covering it. His wife is a large woman, of course, with a red face, and an aggressive air. He went out to the vegetable peddler this morning, with a large tin pan, to make purchases. It was the first time the pedlar had seen him come to trade. There were several women, neighbors, at the wagon. He came up to the cart, and looked critically over the array of fruits and vegetables.

"How much are those cucumbers?" he asked.

"Five cents."

He lifted one of them, said they wore fine-looking, and then asked:

"How much is that lettuce a head?"

"Ten cents."

"That is cheap enough. And now let me see," he said, slowly. "Ah, there's watermelons, eh? Why, they are early enough, I'm sure. How much are they?"

"Seventy-five cents apiece," said the dealer, who, seeing that his customer was no ordinary party, began to stir himself about. "They are fresh melons, just got last night, and every one of them is fully ripe. I'll guarantee that."

"Fully ripe, eh?" said the customer, fondling the article.

"Yes, sir," said the dealer, getting up on his feet in the flush of expectation.

"They look ripe," coincided the customer. Then he looked around and spied another attractive article.

"Peaches, eh? Well, I declare! How natural and good they look. How much for the peaches?"

"Thirty cents a quart," said the dealer, mentally figuring up the total of half dozen cucumbers, a couple heads of lettuce, a watermelon and a quart of peaches, while the women at the cart opened their eyes in wonder and stood silently by, awed by the magnitude of the transaction.

"Only thirty cents," mused he. "Why that's reasonable enough, I take it, in these times. Let me see—five cents a piece for the cucumbers, ten cents for the lettuce, seventy-five cents for a watermelon, thirty cents for——"

"Joseph Malachia!" came a sharp, loud voice, through a spitefully opened door, "are you going to get what I sent you after, or are you going to stand out there all the whole day?"

"Gimme ten cents worth new potatoes," gasped the man, nervously opening the hand he had kept shut, and disclosing a new dime. "Quick, please!"

The Communist Insurrection.

The back-bone of the great strike is broken, and the riotous crowds of roughs and criminals that have attempted to set up the commune have mostly slunk back to their dens in the back-slums; it will be a long time before the ill effects of the insurrection on the welfare of the laboring classes will pass away, but the danger is past. The strike has flattened out completely, and the foolish men who have been engaged in it have now become cool enough to begin to realize the results of their folly.

Throughout the State of New York the railroads are generally running freight, the mobs of thieves and tramps having disappeared and the trainmen returned to the work from which in many instances they were driven. So confident are the authorities that no further trouble will be experienced, that many regiments of troops on duty at Hornellsville, Albany and other places where the mob appeared in force at first, were sent home on Friday and Saturday.

No trouble was experienced in San Francisco, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Chicago or the other cities where the commune last broke loose, on Friday night, the rioters not daring to face the citizens. At Toledo, Friday, the work shops which closed on Thursday under the threats of the mob were reopened, in many of them the workmen appearing armed to the teeth and determined to fight if again assailed. The Mayor of Toledo flatly denies that he gave encouragement or sympathy to the mob.

Gen. Sheridan arrived at Chicago on Saturday and took command of the U. S. troops there; it is needless to say that good order prevails in that city.

Gen. Hancock and Gov. Hartranft in person took command of affairs at Pittsburg, Saturday morning, and freight was started out from Cumberland over the Baltimore and Ohio road without resistance from the strikers.

The Lake Shore, Michigan Southern and Michigan Central roads, that have been embargoed, were running freight on Saturday.

Donohue, the ringleader of the rioters at Hornellsville, N. Y., is in jail in New York city; and the man who set fire to the $150,000 bridge at Reading, Pa., is in custody and likely to spend the rest of his life in prison. The leaders in the riots have been arrested in many cities, and not a few of them will be tried for murder.

The only fresh outbreaks of importance reported Saturday were in the coal regions of Pennsylvania, where the miners committed some outrages and several persons were killed.

Capt. E. Y. Breck, who commanded the Hutchinson Battery during the riot at Pittsburg, takes pains to contradict what he terms "infamous lies about the Philadelphia troops." He says that after the retreat into the round-house the guards were mounted and a most vigilant watch was kept on all avenues of approach. Several times during the night, attacks were made and were quickly repulsed by the sentries alone. No general firing was permitted at any time, and not a shot was fired from the much-dreaded Gatling guns on Sunday. The only demonstration worth mentioning was when the mob placed one of the guns stolen from the armory in position on Liberty street, and endeavored to fire it. They speedily retired when opened on with sixty-five muskets. They were allowed to remove all the dead and wounded, except two dead men who lay in such a position, that under cover of removing them, they might have fired the gun. Every man who approached that gun was warned by the sentries to keep away, and no one was shot at who heeded the warning. At every point where attacks were made warning to keep away was given before firing. The stories about the round-house being bombarded Capt. Breck pronounces false. Not a shot was fired at them from a field-piece, nor would the guns of the mob, had they commenced firing, created the least confusion. The Philadelphia men, he says, were soldiers and gentlemen, and simply obeyed the orders given them, regretting very much that obedience to those orders on Saturday caused bloodshed. They were as steady and precise as regulars. The round-house was not evacuated till the men were suffocating from the smoke, and they retired in most excellent order.

New Hampshire Items.

Manchester again—"The name of Lewis W. Clarke is urged by prominent members of the bar for the vacant Judgeship on the Supreme Bench." Will not one judge of each political party satisfy Manchester?

The people of Sutton are much excited over the tragic death of Ephraim Marston, a noted citizen of that town whose stubbornness had kept him in lawsuits most of the time through the last half-century, reduced him to ragged and hungry poverty, and driven him half crazy. A few days ago he was gored by an ox, and though not dangerously hurt, a woman was hired to watch with him. A crony called on her at night, and the two women got boozy drunk and gave the groaning man a whole bottle of laudanum at a dose, and when they awoke in the morning Marston was cold and stiff.

Hubbard's steam mill, situated in West Windham, was burned Thursday night, together with a part of its contents. Loss about $1200; partially insured.

The house and barn of George H. Farrar, in West Henniker, were burned Wednesday. Loss $1500.

A Danville correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter says: "Mr. Chase Fuller, one of our oldest inhabitants and a much respected citizen, is quite ill, and fears are entertained of his recovery."

Gov. Prescott of New Hampshire arrived in Bennington, Vt., Thursday evening, and was presented to Gov. Fairbanks. The militia had a dress parade and review before them.

News and Notes.

It is the Anglo-American Times of London which publishes this startling story regarding Zach Chandler: "Not long ago he is said to have had there (in Michigan) 10,000 slaves, with 200 newspapers to help him. Some 400 office-seekers were continually on his books. He gave the lot their cues and war-cries, and no man dared to give tongue except after the music caught up from him."

While there can be only contempt for General Pearson's "bravery" in Pittsburg, there must be universal sympathy for his wife. The ruffians of the mob, it is now related, actually carried a coffin to his house, and told Mrs. Pearson that they intended to kill her husband and put him into it. She was there with her children, her mother and her sister, and with no protection. No wonder that her hair grew white in a single night.

Nineteen thousand packages of goods have been saved from the wreck of the steamship Rusland at Long Branch, and but 500 were lost. The wreck has now been turned over to the Boston Wrecking Company, who purchased it for $9300, and will break it up.

At a meeting of strikers at Wilkesbarre, Pa., Congressman Wright said he would make a demand on Congress for $10,000,000 for the laboring men of the country. Congressman Wright, besides being a demagogue and a blatherskite, is a fellow of petty ideas; why didn't he announce that he should demand of Congress $10,000,000 apiece for the laboring men of the country? Then folks would have thought something of him.

The contemptuous indifference with which the Tompkins-square demonstration was treated by the people of New York is the best possible evidence that we have in this city a very solid substratum of good sense and of respect for law and order. The punctilious courtesy with which the organizers of the meeting were treated by the Mayor and the Commissioners of Parks and Police is but another proof that our rulers are a parcel of white-livered demagogues. —N. Y. Times.

The Eastern War.

The Russians report that one of their men-of-war, formerly an old merchant ship, the Vesta, had an engagement off Kustendjie, lasting over five hours, with a Turkish monitor, which fled much damaged by Russian shells, one of which burst in her turret. The Vesta had her rudder injured and went to Sebastopol for repairs. Two officers and nine sailors were killed. Six officers, among them the commander, and seventeen sailors were wounded; one officer died.

A Bucharest despatch says the Turks have left Philipopolis. A special from Adrianople says Suleiman Pasha has been defeated at Karabunor. He lost ten guns. His army is retreating on Adrianople. The Second Russian Army Corps has invested Silistria, and at Rustchuk the Russians have got their seige batteries so close as to throw shells inside the inner lines of fortifications.

A despatch from Erzeroum, in Asia Minor, says that the Russians are again moving in force on Kars. It is rumored that the Turks met with a decisive defeat in an attack on Bayazid.

Gen. Pearson, Penn. N. G.

Says the Philadelphia Times: "General Pearson of the National Guard, who has been missing for several days, has finally turned up and written a card to the Pittsburg papers. This card is an apology to the strikers, and he wants them to know that while he was in command no orders were given the troops to fire. He also wants an investigation of his conduct in what he calls 'the recent unfortunate conflict between the citizens of my native city and the Philadelphia troops,' so that the strikers may satisfy themselves on this point before they execute their threat to 'hang General Pearson on a sour-apple tree.' If General Pearson had spent half as much time writing his resignation as a militia officer as he gave to the composition of this apology he might have done the State some service."

Pearson—"General" Pearson—"General" Pearson of Pittsburg—has crawled out of his hole to say that he never, never, never ordered the troops to fire. No one who knew Pearson ever thought he did. He took to his heels at the first shot. Fire? He ordered troops to fire? Oh no! He wouldn't hurt anybody, not much. Crawl under the bed again, Pearson, that'll do for you.—Exchange.

The Bussey Woods Murderer.

The murderer of the Joyce children in the Bussey woods, West Roxbury, June 12, 1865, in all human probability sleeps in death in the small graveyard at the easterly end of Golloupe's Island, Boston harbor, where he died of small-pox in 1873. His name is there given, and his age at the time of the commission of the murders was twenty-two. He was a resident in that city, and worked as a journeyman in different parts of the city prior to the crime, and was a visitor at the house of the grandmother, at the South End, where the little children stopped while in Boston. Taking to drink he drifted away from Boston, and was found in Chicago a few years after the crime, where, in one of his maudlin periods, he confessed to a companion he was the perpetrator of the deed. Upon coming to his consciousness he denied all that he had said, and no further evidence could then be obtained. His revelations were communicated to our authorities, and two of our detective force were sent to that city to "shadow" him. This was done thoroughly, and for six weeks these experienced officers plied every art to find out the truth. They became acquainted with him, gained his confidence, were with him frequently, and heard from his own lips the confession of his perpetration of the double crime. Yet he offered no corroborating evidence—no clue by which the trail could be followed—and when he was in his sober moments would invariably deny all that he had previously said. The revelations thus made were communicated to one of our ablest and best-known justices, who was to pronounce upon the expediency of an arrest. Every effort was made to gain some corroborating testimony from him, but without avail—not a single circumstantial incident being vouchsafed which would serve to strengthen his unsupported statement. Nevertheless, the time, the prompting, the manner, of the atrocity were in turn narrated, not only once, but over and over again, and in turn, in his sober moments, denied. The officers reluctantly gave up the case and returned to Boston, after becoming satisfied that it was useless to proceed further unless some corroboration was obtained. They were both impressed with the conviction that he told the literal truth in his drunken moments, and falsified when he was sober. Suffice it to say, in conclusion, that he drifted back to Boston, and that during the small-pox epidemic of 1873 he took the disease, superinduced by his habits, and died and was buried upon Gallonpe's Island, where his grave and head-board may now be seen—as they were by us on Tuesday last, and where we learned this remarkable story. —Boston Commonwealth.

The Moral for "Innocent Persons."

1. In this country, where all persons have fire-arms and the soldiers are volunteers, there will be firing done soon after stone throwing commences.

2. There is no good place for innocent spectators where there is a mob, for they only furnish miscreants an ambuscade from which to hurl missiles certain to provoke a deadly return.

Moral—Keep out of the crowds.

A Solace for the Aged.

In the decline of life, as the vigor of the system wanes, and infirmities attack it to which in early life it was a stranger, the use of a safe medicinal stimulant is highly advisable. Nothing, as experience shows, is so admirably adapted to the wants of old people as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a real solace to the aged, and the best safeguard they can possibly use against the complaints to which they are peculiarly liable. It invigorates the body and cheers the mind, is pure, agreeable and effective. Rheumatism, lumbago and gout are more frequently developed in age than in youth or middle life. Hostetter's Bitters are an excellent remedy for those painful disorders, and also fortify the system against them. They never create undue excitement, are gentle in their action, and are infinitely purer than the unmedicated stimulants of commerce.

A Tooth for a Tooth,

that is to say an artificial tooth for a real one, is not a good exchange. Therefore, keep your natural teeth unimpaired, and in order to do so use that famous preservative tooth-wash, Sozodont. It is a wholesome botanical preparation, unrivalled as an anti-putrescent and antagonist of decomposition and decay.

Nothing welds things together like Spalding's Glue.

It seems very strange that there should be such general complaint heard everywhere as to the hardness of the times and the scarcity of money—gold, silver, or paper—when one remembers that about the first of every month, Generals P. T. Beauregard and Jubal Early, as the commissioners of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, give away hundreds of thousands of dollars. Write to M. A. Dauphin, Box 692, New Orleans, La.

Since the opening of the new and excellent Hotel Devonshire, opposite the main entrance of Grand Central Depot, first-class accommodations at reasonable rates can be had in this most convenient locality. By all means stop at the Hotel Devonshire on your next visit to the city.

If one could only be fortunate in these days of misfortune, it would be worth one's while to write M. A. Dauphin, Box 692, P. O., New Orleans, La., for the particulars of the August drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery Company, under the supervision, as commissioners, of Generals P. T. Beauregard and Jubal Early.—Tickets are only two dollars.

To save time is to lengthen life. Why will you waste time when you have a severe cold or hacking cough, or even suffering from the destroyer, Consumption, hunting for a remedy, when you can obtain instant relief by using Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup. Even the worst cases have been cured. Ask your druggist for it.

The 8th grand drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery Company will take place on the 7th of August next.

EASTERN RAILROAD.

The Summer Arrangement of the Eastern Railroad goes into effect to-day. The changes made are not many, the most important ones being the addition of a train from Boston, leaving there at ten o'clock A. M.; the alteration of the time of leaving of the last train from North Conway; and the putting on of a Sunday train, to leave Boston at 8:15 A. M., and arrive here at 10:24, and leave this city at 5:35 P. M., and arrive in Boston at 7:45. The corrected table will be found in the usual place in our advertising columns.

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, July 28th.

Oliver P. Philbrook, of Rye, was brought up on a complaint of cruelty to a horse. This was a continued case, Philbrook having been first arraigned on the 11th of July, at which time the case was continued to the 21st, but Philbrook not appearing at the time set measures were taken to compel his attendance, and the case was passed on by the Judge on the 28th, Philbrook being fined one cent, and ordered to pay costs amounting to $43.86. The defendant appealed, and gave bonds in the sum of $100 to appear at the proper time and place.

LITTLE FIRES.

On Friday night, shortly before twelve o'clock, fire was discovered in a stall in the stable on Warren street owned by Mr. Samuel W. Moses, but was extinguished without any damage to speak of being done and without an alarm being given. Incendiarism is hinted at.

On Saturday morning a pane of glass in a window of the carriage repair shop of W. A. Brooks on Fleet street was found broken, and on top of a tool chest beneath the broken pane laid a lot of half burned matches, presumed to have been thrust through the window when lighted for the purpose of setting fire to the shop.

We hear rumors of attempts to burn two or more buildings in the outskirts of the city on the same night, but as we are unable to learn anything definite we presume the rumors are unfounded.

On Saturday evening there was a little excitement in the store of John S. Rand on Market street, and among the people in front of the store, occasioned by the sudden blazing up of some of the light show goods in the window, which took fire from a gas burner; but this fire, like the others, did little damage and caused no alarm to be given.

NEW ENGLAND IDEAS.

The Boston Globe of Saturday says: "It is reported that the firemen on the Eastern and other roads are appointing committees to confer with the managers on an increase of pay." That is proper, if their pay is not satisfactory, and the general public is apt to sympathize with the working men as against the railroads in any dispute, until their sympathy is dissipated by the acts of the men themselves. An impressive illustration of this was given at the time of the engineers' strike on the Boston & Maine railroad some months ago. That road has never been a popular one, the management having always been regarded as "hoggish" to the last degree in dealing with the towns along the line, and the public generally; and when the strike was first foreshadowed a large proportion of the people were ready to side with the strikers, regardless of the fact that the strike was not owing to the road paying insufficient wages, (for only the most trifling advance—not sufficient to pay for an extra cigar and cocktail a day—was demanded by the strikers,) but was really a struggle between a trade-union and the management of the road, as to which should make rules for the road's government. But this sympathy, which it would have been pleasant to the strikers to have retained even if it had not helped them to a victory, was thrown away by the strikers at the start, through an exhibition of reckless folly—the abandonment of trains at points between stations, and the temporary disabling of engines by the blowing off of the water from the boilers, whereby the unoffending passengers were put to great and entirely useless inconvenience. This foolish conduct caused all rational supporters of law and order to at once range themselves on the side of the railroad, the public promptly recognizing the danger of giving moral support to a movement marked at its first step by an act which, if not criminal, at least evinced a contemptuous disregard of the public rights and common decency; and Massachusetts hastened to pass a law making a combination for the unlawful obstruction of traffic on railroads a penal offence, so that if Mr. Arthur had attempted to carry out his threat to stop business on every railroad running out of Boston unless the Boston & Maine managers yielded, he would have found himself in the penitentiary in a hurry. The dominant sentiment of New England is with the laboring man in every legitimate attempt he may make to better his condition; but when he tells the employer "I will not work for you unless you pay me more wages than you are willing to do, and no other man shall work for you even if he desires to," and says to the unemployed laborer "I do not want my old place at the wages offered, and you shall not take it if you do want it," then public opinion turns irresistibly against him.

JOTTINGS.

A Sunday train for the beaches, running to this city from Boston, will be put on the Eastern Railroad the first Sunday in August.

A five-hundred-pound sword-fish was caught off the Shoals a day or two ago by some of our fishermen, and sold to Messrs. Sullivan & Co., retail fish dealers of this city. It is the first that has been brought into our market this season. There is no better kind of fish sold than the sword-fish. It surpasses salmon in flavor, and has hardly any of its rankness.

"The Ladies' Purchase Agency," of Boston, will be found a most convenient arrangement for those desiring to purchase goods in that city without the expense and trouble of a personal visit. Its references are ladies of the highest social standing. See card elsewhere in this paper.

A workman's union, with Aaron Young as President, has been organized in Portsmouth. The union holds meetings every pleasant evening in the custom house.—Exeter News-Letter.

A large side-walk committee under the chairmanship of Geo. W. Guppy, Esq., inspected the successful introduction of a good sized safe at Nute's shoe factory on State street, Friday evening; a delegation from the Workingmen's Union arrived on the ground too late for duty. We hope the new occupant of the manufactory will always have abundant use for this important part of his office furniture.

Henry Chickering, Esq., of the Berkshire County Eagle, rounded out his week with the New Hampshire editors by a brief sojourn at the Isles of Shoals, which seem to have charmed the editors from the Berkshire Hills, as this locality does every one.

Luther Holden, Esq., of the Boston Journal, has in a reportorial capacity made twenty balloon ascensions, and this accounts for the ease with which he mounts the high horse when he describes the mountain scenery he witnessed with the N. H. Press excursionists.

The imperative orders for the U. S. S. Enterprise to sail for New York on Saturday morning were so far modified on Friday afternoon by a despatch from the Navy Department as to permit the vessel to leave when she gets ready, so she did not go out in the rain of Saturday to meet the thick fog which prevailed outside the harbor. The only motive for the first order, probably, was the desire of the Department to have her where her battery and crew could be utilized in supporting the law in case the New York communists undertook to improve the condition of the workingman by burning buildings, robbing banks, pillaging stores and houses and stealing everything they could lay their hands on; and the order was modified as soon as it became apparent that the communist movement in New York was a fizzle.

On Saturday Messrs. Morse & Ilsley sold five shares in the Portsmouth Trust & Guaranty Company at $90 each; four shares New Hampshire National Bank brought 108 1-2, ten shares Nat. Mech. & Trad. Bank 107 1-2, five shares M. & T. Bank 107. The same auctioneers sold the small house and lot on Richards avenue belonging to the estate of the late William Varrell, for $690, Mr. Howard Walker being the purchaser.

On Thursday afternoon, from two o'clock to eight, there will be an exhibition at N. F. Mathes & Co's store, No. 48 Market street, of the cooking qualities of George V. Hecker & Co's self-raising flower, which will be mixed with water and baked into various articles in presence of the ladies in attendance. See advertisement in another column. We shall call the ladies' attention to the subject again on Thursday morning, if we think of it.

As reported to us, the scene presented at the laying of the corner-stone of a new house at the West End of this city, recently, was one of the saddest and most disgraceful that has occurred in this region for a long while. We are told that a tub of whiskey punch was furnished, and that all the considerable company present gave lamentable evidence in their conduct, or misconduct, of its strength. In fact that it was a general drunken debauch, unworthy of this enlightened age, and startling in consideration of its locality—adjacent to and in full view of at least three homesteads which have recently been forfeited to their once happy and prosperous owners by this very demon of drink, and are now the abodes of strangers. What a foundation for a home! what a memory for a young family! what an example for the young and the public generally!—Portsmouth Weekly.

The Board of Directors of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad, elected July 10th, had a meeting at the Eastern railroad depot in Boston on Friday, and elected Alfred P. Rockwell of Boston, President, Nathaniel G. Chapin of Boston, Treasurer, and Wallace Hackett of this city, Clerk.

One of the finest-looking women seen on the piazza at Appledore is Mrs. Samuel Dinsmore, formerly of Keene, whose now deceased husband twenty-five years ago was Governor of New Hampshire.

The CHRONICLE is referred to United States District Attorney Webb and Hon. Mr. Copeland, for "light" in relation to York Nubble.—Times.

Why? Were they the persons who moved the Nubble to "York river harbor?"

The rain of Saturday was welcome to the farmers, though there was not enough of it to do a great deal of good. Crops in this vicinity, particularly potatoes, have suffered much from the dry weather, many fields not being expected to yield half an average crop.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have quite extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
Washington, D. C., July 9, 1877.

The Bureau of Construction and Repair will receive proposals until 12 o'clock M. of Tuesday, the 14th day of August, 1877, for building the shells of the turrets of the double-turreted monitor "Miantonomoh," now at Chester, Pennsylvania; scrap iron for the work to be furnished by the Bureau.

These turrets are to be 22 feet and 9 inches external diameter, and will be constructed of plates 9 feet long, about 5 feet broad, and 10½ inches in thickness, according to plans which will be for exhibition at the Navy Yard, League Island, on and after the 20th of July instant.

Separate proposals will be received under this advertisement as follows:

1st. For the entire work of completing these turrets, including the revolling of the iron.

2d. For all the labor of building these turrets, the materials, ready for use, to be provided by the Bureau.

3d. For rolling the iron required in their construction. (The scrap to be furnished by the Bureau.)

Plates to be bent and planed according to plan.

Proposals will also be received under this advertisement for furnishing all the materials which may be required in the construction of these turrets, the plates to be of the size mentioned above, bent and planed according to plan, to be equal to the best quality of English turret iron, and all iron furnished will be subject to such tests as the Bureau may direct.

It is desirable that these turrets should be constructed on some wharf on the Delaware river, in such position as to be readily placed on board the ship.

No proposal will be received except from parties known to possess the requisite facilities to perform the work in a satisfactory manner, and the Bureau reserves the right to reject any and all offers, if considered to be interest of the Government to do so.

Proposals will be received at the same time for building the shells of the pilot houses required for the same vessel, subject to the same conditions observed in building the turrets. d jy10 17 24 31

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.
HE WILL COME;
BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.
This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine practical. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and is a work which no one can lay down without wishing and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo., 216 pp., $1.25 in Cloth; $2.00 in Morocco. The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousna, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue, where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Effect of Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Send more to me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the good news will gladden and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, NOV. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir;—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most miserably. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to go to Florida, when, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherre, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve You Lungs.
or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of the ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind upon their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive exhalations therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his hand into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most efficacious cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who's substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Daniel Webster and the Quakers.

"While I was in the Senate," said General Shields, in a recent lecture before the citizens of Lockport, N. Y., "I saw much of Webster both in and out of the capitol. He met me one day and said: 'Shields, I find I have got into difficulty with some of my constituents, some Quakers, who are dissatisfied with my advocacy of a certain measure, and they have sent a large delegation down here from Massachusetts to make a protest. I have promised to meet them this evening, and I would like to have you there.'

'Why, what can I do?'

'Your native blarney, Shields—it may help me out of the trouble.'

I laughed at the idea of blarney effecting anything where Daniel Webster's eloquence could not convince; and I made that objection; but he insisted, and I promised to be on hand. Evening came, and I joined Mr. Webster at his rooms. Presently the delegation arrived and were seated: a dozen or twenty of the most solemn men I have ever seen all rigidly costumed in Quaker dress. Without wasting any time the chairman arose and addressed Mr. Webster in a set speech. He commented severely on the course of the Senator as to the measure in question, setting forth the bad effect which it might have on the sect, expressing great sorrow and surprise that Mr. Webster had been found supporting such a bill, and concluded with a vigorous protest in writing, which bore many signatures. Webster listened attentively with unchanged countenance, and when the spokesman had resumed his seat he rose and replied. He spoke half an hour, and before he concluded he grew as eloquent as he was often heard. His defense was simply that he deemed the measure one demanded by the interests of the whole country, although it might not be specially adapted to the wants and interests of any sect, and after clearly setting this forth, he made such an appeal to the delegation to remember that they were Americans, as well as Quakers, that I was fairly electrified. The effect produced by his words on the delegation was astonishing. When he began they were all seated; after he spoke ten minutes one after another rose to his feet, until they were all standing; then they commenced to move toward him, and they had soon surrounded him in a body. Before he finished I saw the chairman take out his petition and tear it to pieces; and when he had finished, some of them were shedding tears, and were all grasping Webster's hands as fast as they could get them. 'Friend Webster,' cried the spokesman, 'thee is right and we are wrong; we owe thee an apology; we will say no more about it; thee knows thy duty better than we.'

The next day I met Mr. Webster, and with a countenance of perfect gravity he said: 'Well, Shields—now didn't we blarney them nicely?"

A Prairie Minuet.

One Autumn day, watching for ducks while ensconced in a musk-rat house in the great Mendocio marsh, which extends back many miles from the Mississippi river opposite Clinton, I noticed some objects moving on the summit of a knoll. By very careful watching I discovered they were prairie-fowl, and, moved by curiosity, carefully approached them. As I drew near I discovered fifteen prairie-fowl apparently dancing a minuet. They were scattered about on the short turf, twenty yards apart, nodding their heads at one another, and presently two would run out and perform the figure which in a country dance is known as "cross over and back to places," all the while uttering a soft note of "coo—cooe,"—the last syllable being much elongated. Then would follow "salute your partners" and "dos a dos." This scene of merriment was sustained for half an hour and until a shot from a neighboring gun caused the birds to run into the tall cover of the reeds. The bright sunshine of Autumn and the conspicuous group of native birds impressed the scene vividly on the spectator's mind. A neighboring farmer to whom the circumstance was mentioned, said: "Yes, them same birds skye around there mostly every day." The other varieties of prairie grouse indulge in the same kind of amusements.

Such is Life.

He was a singularly grave man, even for a sexton. For nearly a half century he had been a public functionary—had performed the conspicuous duties of a sexton; yet no one had ever seen him smile. Occasionally he joked, but he did it in such a funereal manner that no one could accuse him of levity. One day he was standing on the church steps wiping his melancholy features with a red bandanna. A hearse stood near and three or four carriages were drawn up behind it. The notes of the organ floated out of the windows with solemn effect. A stranger came along and said:

"Funeral?"

And the old sexton gravely bowed his head—it was.

"Who's dead?"

The old man again wiped his brow and gave the name of the deceased.

"What complaint?" asked the inquisitive stranger.

Solemnly placing his bandanna in his hat and covering his bald head, the old sexton made answer:

"There is no complaint; everbody is entirely satisfied."

Railroads and Demagogues.

Certain demagogues of the democratic persuasion having hastened to "improve" the great railroad strike as political capital, the Dayton (Ohio) Journal is moved to mention the following facts:

"The Baltimore & Ohio road is under John W. Garret's administration. He is a democrat.

The Pennsylvania road is managed by Colonel Tom Scott. He is a democrat, who was nominated for President by the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Erie road is under the management of Hon. Hugh J. Jewitt, an Ohio democrat.

The New York Central is controlled by W. H. Vanderbilt, who is a democrat.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, the Short-line, and the Dayton & Michigan roads are under the control of Mr. Shoemaker, a prominent democrat."

The Journal says it "is not responsible for raising this issue, but if the question is to be dragged into politics, let the truth be told." The fact is that politics had nothing to do with the strike,—that is, neither the republican nor democratic parties, as organizations, were responsible for it. The organs of both parties have been almost unanimous in denouncing lawlessness and demanding the suppression of the insurrection, and the few disreputable exceptions have been mightily disciplined by their party press as well as by their opponents. That the four great trunk lines between the East and West,—including the Baltimore & Ohio, on which the strike commenced,—all happen to be managed by democrats, may not show that the democratic party is responsible for the strike, but it does show that the republican party is not; and only the most unscrupulous and dangerous of demagogues would attempt to use the strike as political capital at a time when the commercial and industrial interests of half the Union are prostrate under the feet of lawless mobs.

The question of what causes, near or remote, led to the disastrous strike; of how the injury done to business and labor can best be remedied; and of what measures of precaution shall be taken against similar troubles in the future, must be discussed calmly and honestly, and from a much higher moral plane than that on which the mere partisan politician stands, if any good is to come from the great convulsion through which half a score of States have passed or are passing.

The Communist Insurrection.

Monday morning's reports show that the strike is steadily waning. On Saturday four trains arrived at Pittsburg, with troops under Gov. Hartranft in person. The troops comprised Gen. Brinton's Philadelphia Division, Gen. Gallagher's Division, Gen. Harry White's Division, and three batteries of regulars. The most serious trouble en route was at Johnstown, where the strikers had laid a trap to wreck the second train, and did wreck it, but did not succeed in killing the soldiers, who disembarked and caught one hundred of the ruffians. The first train presented a formidable appearance. In front of the two engines was a gondola car, on which was mounted a Gatling gun, defended by a detachment of State Fencibles. The engineers and firemen on the locomotives were under a strong guard, the soldiers having orders to shoot them if there as the slightest hesitation in discharging their duties. The strikers who were compelled to run the trains were sullen and disposed to offer resistance, but with death staring them in the face they reluctantly yielded. Various minor outrages are reported from various places, but nothing serious. Gov. Cullom of Missouri announced that he had 10,000 men to enforce the law, and would call for 10,000 more if necessary to put down violence; but the indications are that the troubles in that State are mainly over. No further trouble has arisen in Chicago; nineteen deaths have occurred among the rioters of Thursday, and many more are badly wounded. The only serious trouble reported on Sunday was in the coal districts of Pennsylvania, where the miners are striking and destroying property. The reserve police in New York city were dismissed on Sunday.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 27.

"All quiet on the Potomac" and Southward, and likely to remain so. The cheerful feeling noticeable here twenty-four hours ago is somewhat less on account of the unfavorable intelligence reaching us from Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco this morning. It appears to still be the belief about the Executive Mansion and the Departments, that we have passed the crisis of immediate danger. The epidemic has now swept entirely across the continent and many cities will bear for months the scars of the incendiary's torch; much property has been otherwise sacrificed while the loss of life in a few instances has been terrible; but all points first infected are tranquil, and excepting the three mentioned, there is comparative quiet. Work has been resumed at some of the great manufacturing establishments and trains are again running on some of the roads, although the movement of freight is far from general and that of passenger trains only partial. Still, considering the almost universal tumult and panic of last Sunday, the situation is regarded as very hopeful. A well known member of the St. George's society was yesterday at the State Department, urging arbitration; and Mr. Evarts is represented as saying that the plan had his hearty concurrence, and so far as I am able to learn, that method of settlement has the approval of many more here than a majority, to supplement the work of the military after the mobs shall have been dispersed and men shall have been impressed to the point of conviction that a peaceable adjustment of all difficulties is far preferable to any attempt to redress wrongs through violence and revolution. Many of the problems with which Congress will have to deal, growing out of the present disturbance, will be of a novel character, and will call for an exercise of wisdom not usually included as among the possessions of the average Congressman. It ought to be able to decide as to the validity of the charge now so generally made against capital; and as the supreme authority in law—making it—should be able to find an early and an effectual remedy for all abuses found existing.

I think it is entirely safe to predict that the friends of the abolition or reduction of the army will find themselves in a decided minority, judging from what is heard here and from the change of sentiment indicated through the press. The collapse of State and municipal authority in the presence of a great danger; the lesson taught of the inefficiency and unreliability of State militia and constabulary in an emergency like the present, and liable to occur at any time; the present depressing effect had on the rioters by Federal troops as soon as their presence was known, are a few of the many influences that have operated to popularize the idea of a central Government sufficiently strong to protect its citizens, at the expense of State rights heresies; and the logic of the riotous events are more fatal to the fine spun theories of democratic statesmen, than all the Congressional and other speakers uttered since the foundation of the Government, in opposition. The frantic appeals of democratic Governors for Federal protection against the very masses they had taught to oppose such interference as revolutionary and subversive of the very foundations of good government, must prove the most potential weapon against them in the future; and they are reminded that the loss of life at Elleuton and Hamburg was greater than all those sacrificed at Baltimore and in West Virginia. The call for troops to prevent a recurrence of the two former was denounced as an outrage, almost justifying the inauguration of another rebellion; while in the case of the rioters hardly sufficient time was allowed to test the ability of the State forces before the National authorities were implored to save the communities concerned from the wrath of the mobs.

But there is a general agreement that new problems of a politico-social character have been precipitated by the strikers which it will not be safe to ignore. Arbitration is the plan most generally favored to supplement the work of the military. With such a wide spread insurrection against capital, it cannot be longer denied that a real hostility to it exists which has been aggravated and rendered less amenable to reason by canning demagogues for selfish purposes, and if it has no foundation in fact, Congress ought to be able to show it conclusively. If, on the contrary, it is well founded, relief and redress should be prompt and effectual. Such is about the line of argument heard here.

To those who have taken time to consider the action of the British Government in its late movement of troops, the conclusion is almost irresistible that it portends armed intervention in the Turk's behalf at no distant day. The Ministry is charged with prevarication and duplicity in its pretended explanation of the active military preparations now making. Even the friends of the Government are obliged to admit that its reply was evasive and susceptible of many different constructions.

Mexican matters have become somewhat confused, but it does not appear that the Diaz Government is anxious to provoke hostilities; and it hastens to express its gratification at the action of our authorities in arresting Escabedo and other Lerdo leaders, preparing to cross the Rio Grande with hostile intent.

Some impatience is expressed at the alleged indecision of the State Department in forcing Spain to declare its purposes in the late outrages against the Ellen Rispah and the Rising Sun, but we shall probably know all in good time. KNOX.

News and Notes.

The men who talk about the hardship of reduced wages and the title of the strikers to public sympathy, take only a half-view of the case. If there is to be any demonstration of public or private sympathy in this matter, let it go out toward the poor fellows who are out of work and looking for employment at any wages, rather than toward those who stand with clubs and brick-bats and pistols between them and a fair chance. Let it be kept constantly in mind that the meaning of all these violent outbreaks is simply that the few hundreds of men who have good places and have good pay may retain their old places and their old pay, while the thousands out of work shall continue to have neither place nor pay, and be left to starve. That is the sufficient answer to all attempts to justify this movement. If public sympathy is to regulate this matter, let that sympathy be exercised in the direction of the thousands of unemployed who are willing to work and violently hindered from it.—Tribune.

They have some very funny jokers in New Haven. A weak-minded woman who had been allowed to leave the almshouse applied to the Town Agent's office for a pass to go to New York. At first she was given a recommendation for a liquor license, but she would not take it, and finally she was given a piece of paper on which was written "pass her along—Mrs. Tom Collins."

"Citizen" Swinton was one of the principal orators at the Tompkin's square mass meeting of communists in New York, and improved the occasion to puff the New York Sun and commend that paper to the workingmen. Citizen Swinton is one of the Sun's editorial staff.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean remarks: "If a man driving on the highway in his buggy was stopped, and the buggy was taken from him, it would be a violation of the law. If the buggy was a freight train, what then? The public seems to have been a little confused on this point within the last few days."

Flour has gone up a dollar a barrel, beef and pork and other provisions have also increased in price. Thus, observes the Chicago Times, does a mob improve the condition of the poor.

The Richmond Despatch, the most influential democratic paper in Virginia, advocates in strong terms an increase in the regular army, which, it says, is too small for even guard duty.

There were several employers in New York who discharged men in their employ for turning out as members of the National Guard to quell the riots; and these employers are promptly receiving their reward. Their names and addresses are being published, with the suggestion that they be remembered in case of any riot in New York city, and carefully avoided by good citizens who may be called out to protect property.

Several county clerks in Indiana announce that they will grant no marriage licences to minors, without the written consent of parents or guardians. This action is due to a great number of elopements in that region lately.

At Savoy, Mass., on Sunday, a young man named Herbert Blanchard, who has been courting a young girl named Trask, his attentions being opposed by the girl's father, shot the father and his brother dead in the midst of the people assembled at church, and then attempted to shoot a young lady who told him he had done shooting enough. The people were so paralyzed with horror that they allowed the assassin to escape.

A Solace for the Aged.

In the decline of life, as the vigor of the system wanes, and infirmities attack it to which in early life it was a stranger, the use of a safe medicinal stimulant is highly advisable. Nothing, as experience shows, is so admirably adapted to the wants of old people as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a real solace to the aged, and the best safeguard they can possibly use against the complaints to which they are peculiarly liable. It invigorates the body and cheers the mind, is pure, agreeable and effective. Rheumatism, lumbago and gout are more frequently developed in age than in youth or middle life. Hostetter's Bitters are an excellent remedy for those painful disorders, and also fortify the system against them. They never create undue excitement, are gentle in their action, and are infinitely purer than the unmedicated stimulants of commerce.

A Tooth for a Tooth,

It seems very strange that there should be such general complaint heard everywhere as to the hardness of the times and the scarcity of money—gold, silver, or paper—when one remembers that about the first of every month, Generals P. REPUBLICAN MAYORALTY CAUCUS.

A caucus of the Republican voters of this city to nominate a CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR to be supported at the polls at the coming election, will be held at the Court House on Thursday, August 2d. The polls will be open from four to eight o'clock P. M. The check-list will be used. PER ORDER.

POLICE COURT.

Monday, July 30th.

Charles J. McDonald entered a complaint against Charles Foster for assault and battery, but when Foster was brought up McDonald said he was not the assailant, so of course he was discharged. William Foster, Charles Foster's brother, was then brought into court for the same offence, but McDonald did not recognize him as the assailant either, so he too was liberated. We believe the assault complained of was the same as the drunken row on Market street reported to us and referred to in another place.

THE FARRAGUT BALL.

In a very pleasant article published some weeks ago in the Portsmouth Weekly, and written for that paper by Mrs. Frances M. Bartlett, that lady speaks of a conversation she had with Admiral Farragut "in the summer of 1865, at the Farragut ball, given in his honor. The ball took place at the well-known Atlantic House, at Rye Beach, where he and his family were passing the summer. The house is now much enlarged and improved, under the name of The Farragut." A Rye correspondent of the Times, in a recent letter says: "Farragut was never here but one season, and that was before the Farragut House was built. He staid at the old Atlantic House, then leased by Mr. Lougee, the present landlord of the Sea View. I think the Admiral died before the Farragut House was built." The editor of the Weekly makes a note of this, and adds: "but we are very sure we saw and conversed with him [Farragut] in the new house, at the ball given in his honor." Our Rye correspondent, "Nat," in his letter published in to-day's paper, says the Admiral did stop at the Atlantic House, and that the ball was given at the Ocean House by the guests of the latter, the Ocean House being then new and the Farragut not built.

BELLA, HORRIDA BELLA!

Those Pittsburgh and Baltimore people need not think they are the only ones that can get up local wars, for Portsmouth had two on Monday. In the forenoon there was a conflict between an elderly lady and the hireling minions of a bloated monopoly; a gas-company gang of workmen commenced to dig a trench for laying a pipe across premises of which control is claimed by the lady, when she sallied out with a shovel and threw the earth back into the trench as fast as the men threw it out, and the daring invaders were at length obliged to retreat, leaving the trench unfinished. It is rumored that reinforcements have been called for by the gas company, and that hostilities will be renewed.

In the evening there was a skirmish between the genial President of the Workingmen's Union and a street gamin, in which the latter was ignominiously routed. The young scamp throw a big stone at the President's inoffensive dog, and hit him on the leg. This was too much—too much; and the way about 180 lbs. avoirdupois went up Warren street after the aggressor was a warning to bad boys not to assail harmless animals without provocation when their owners are around. Visions of a choice item, with glorious headlines—"Brutal conduct of a street Arab," "The aggressor utterly rubbed out," etc.,—floated before our eyes, but only for a moment; the President is too full-chested in the region of the waistband to run well, and the boy went like a locomotive in the delirium tremens, and was out of sight in less than a minute. But the boy's name was procured, and if he isn't brought before the Police Court for throwing stones in the streets and cruelty to animals,—then he's lucky, that's all.

JOTTINGS.

There was a knock-down between two partially drunken men in front of the Union store on Market street at about one o'clock Sunday afternoon. One of the combatants received a sanguinary nose and had several teeth knocked out.

The police report another attempt to burn the old Ham house at the Creek, Sunday night. Two officers discovered the fire before it got fairly under way, and extinguished it without giving an alarm.

Gospel Temperence Meeting in the Court street Christian Church this (Tuesday) evening at 7:45 o'clock. An account of the arrest and imprisonment of Mr. Wolfe in the Newburyport jail will be read, as published by himself in the Word of Truth. It is one of the most thrilling experiences with the demon rum on record. All are invited.

Number five of the Monthly Reader, published by John S. Shorey of Boston at fifty cents per year, is out, and is as beautifully illustrated and as well calculated to interest juvenile learners as the previous numbers.

Sheriff Kent on Monday dug up an early rose potato weighing one pound four ounces, grown in his garden at the jail. He has corn nine feet high growing in the same garden.

"ALL THE WORLD, AND THE REST OF MANKIND."

Mr. Editor: I cannot find in either of General Taylor's Presidential messages, such language as the Portsmouth Weekly attributes to him, while denying, as well as the writer, that he ever used the above "silly phrase." In the message as given in the Portsmouth Journal of that time, which was printed from first copies of the message furnished at once to the press, it reads simply, with nothing following it in the sentence, "We are at peace with all the world." [Communicated.]

MUDDY CROSS-WALKS.

In the large cities the water is stopped while the sprinkling carts are passing over the cross-walks, thus preventing a conversion into mud of the dust gathered upon them. Why may not the same practice prevail here, and thus save the public, the feminine portion especially, from a great annoyance that is daily complained of? Will whoever has the power to regulate this matter, by doing so, greatly oblige MANY?

RYE LETTER.

Rye, July 30th.

As there appears to be considerable misunderstanding in regard to the celebrated "Farragut Ball" at Rye Beach, perhaps the recollections of one who was there may convince those in doubt as to the real facts in the case. The ball took place at the Ocean House, some time in August, 1865. The "Farragut House" was not then in existence. The Admiral was at the time boarding at the Atlantic House, then under the management of Mr. Lougee, now of the Sea View House. The new Ocean House (since destroyed by fire, as was the old one) was opened that year, and the ball was gotten up by the guests at that popular resort in honor of the gallant sailor. The writer of this was there at the time, and is reasonably sure that his memory is not at fault in regard to the "Farragut Ball at Rye Beach." As to the dispute about the Admiral's being lashed to the mast, the writer knows nothing, except what he has read in the papers, he not having had the honor of a personal interview.

The bell for "St. Andrew's by the Sea" (perhaps it may be news to some folks that there is such a church) is rung every Sunday, although for some reason or other it is not yet placed in position in the tower, but is rigged so as to send forth its notes, on the ground in front of the chapel.

A plank walk has been laid the whole length of the Sea road. The new road to the beach has been christened "Beach street" and a sign put up accordingly.

There is talk of a new hotel at or near Foss' Beach.

The accommodations for 3000 boarders (vide correspondent Boston Post) are not yet fully filled; and when there is that number of guests on the New Hampshire sea coast, times will probably be better than they are just at present, and there will have to be more houses put up. What is the use of so much exaggeration?

As a general thing, business so far has not been up to the standard heretofore, but a hot August may make amends. NAT.

The first Paris order for American silks has been received at Paterson, N. J., and if it is satisfactorily filled a considerable trade in this special line of goods is anticipated by the Paterson manufacturers. At any rate, the order is significant, as it indicates an appreciation of the more delicate fabrics made here, in those circles where they are the most critical; and with reasonable progress in this line the American manufacturers may find steady markets in Europe as well as in America.

Major-Gen. Pearson, who figured in Pittsburg as commander of the militia, is a brother to the negro minstrel known as W. P. Collins. It is rumored that Gen. Pearson will also go on the stage, taking Capt. Bobadil and Major de Boots as his favorite characters.

—The Paris papers tell of an exquisite in that city who bought a hat from each of the two leading hatters of Paris and changed the linings. He called casually at the shop of one and asked to have his hat ironed. "Good heavens, sir!" exclaimed the artist, "how can you possibly wear such an abomination! Only look at it closely! It is an old hat vamped up, I assure you!" He went home, changed his hat and called on the second. "I should be sorry to injure a colleague," said the second hatter sarcastically, "but really, if a salesman at my shop were to offer a customer such a wretched object as this I should dismiss him instantly!"

—The proprietor of the Occidental Hotel in San Francisco said publicly that no bills would be presented to army officers by him until Congress made an appropriation for their pay. The consequence is said to be that an astonishing number of guests registered there with prefixes of "Col.," "Maj.," "Capt.," or "Lieut."

—There was not much difference in the character of the riots east and west. In San Francisco they were anti-Celestial, and in Pittsburg simply infernal.

—Lawyer: "How do you identify this handkerchief?" Witness: "By its general appearance, and the fact that I have others like it." Lawyer: "That's no proof, for I have one just like it in my pocket." Witness: "I don't doubt that. I had more than one of the same sort stolen."

—They had a strike up at Mr. Middleribb's last night, says the Hawkeye. The baby struck for six hours' walking every night, instead of four, which it has been getting. The family at first refused to accede to this preposterous and unreasonable demand, but the baby being a monopoly, there being no others to supply the place of the striker, it was able to enforce its demands, as all sleep was shut off until a settlement was effected. The only show of violence was the threat, on the part of the baby, to make it warm for the household when it was about four years older and the green apple time came around.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

Barque Antioch, Hemingway, for Cebu, to load for United States, at Hong Kong June 19. [Advices from Manila, May 28, say the Antioch began to leak on the 17th of May, after having taken in about 250 tons of sugar for New York. All efforts to find the position of the leak after discharging the cargo proved unavailing, and as there are no docking facilities there it was decided to send the vessel to Hong Kong for repairs.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

—Lady Z. intended shortly to give a series of strawberry-and-cream garden parties in the country. Here is a copy of her letter to her factotum: "Tell the gardener to begin growing strawberries immediately, and mind and don't have the cows milked until we come down."

—A lady in the suite of the Princess of Wales, when that lady and her husband visited Constantinople, speaks of a dinner with the Sultan as being very good, and in European style, but as a very dull affair. It was the first time that the Sultan had ever sat at dinner with ladies, or that any of his Ministers, except the Grand Vizier, had sat in his presence. There were twenty-four at the table, twelve of whom were Turks, who looked frightened and astonished, and dared not speak.

—The editor of a rural newspaper wandered to a city the other day, and dropped into a church while the Sunday school services were in progress. He fell asleep, and woke to find a child's paper on his lap. With the true journalistic instinct he picked it up, and had read through a column and a half of assorted Bible texts when the officiating minister lighted on him, and, laying a patronizing hand on his shoulder, inquired how he liked it. "First-rate," was the reply, "and I'm glad to see you credit. But where did you strike your exchange list?"

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
Washington, D. C., July 9, 1877.

The Bureau of Construction and Repair will receive proposals until 12 o'clock M. of Tuesday, the 14th day of August, 1877, for building the shells of the turrets of the double-turreted monitor "Miantonomoh," now at Chester, Pennsylvania; scrap-iron for the work to be furnished by the Bureau.

These turrets are to be 22 feet and 9 inches external diameter, and will be constructed of plates 9 feet long, about 3 feet broad, and 10½ inches in thickness, according to plans which will be for exhibition at the Navy Yard, League Island, on and after the 20th of July instant.

Separate proposals will be received under this advertisement as follows:

1st. For the entire work of completing these turrets, including the revolving of the iron.

2d. For all the labor of building these turrets, the materials, ready for use, to be provided by the Bureau.

3d. For rolling the iron required in their construction. (The scrap to be furnished by the Bureau.)

Plates to be bent and planed according to plan.

Proposals will also be received under this advertisement for furnishing all the materials which may be required in the construction of these turrets; the plates to be of the size mentioned above, bent and planed according to plan, to be equal to the best quality of English turret iron, and all iron furnished will be subject to such tests as the Bureau may direct.

It is desirable that these turrets should be constructed on some wharf on the Delaware river, in such position as to be readily placed on board the ship.

No proposal will be received except from parties known to possess the requisite facilities to perform the work in a satisfactory manner, and the Bureau reserves the right to reject any and all offers, if considered to the interest of the Government to do so.

Proposals will be received at the same time for building the shells of the pilot houses required for the same vessel, subject to the same conditions observed in building the turrets. d jy10 17 24 31

DR. QUAIN'S
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all Diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23rd of their wonderful effects. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I hope to gain flesh I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has since been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am selling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they merit to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and neck, and I did not know how to have many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and trying medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherre! Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, writes the following:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual change of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who establishes their discharge and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Fungus Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

"The Odorous Piney Woods."

These words caught our eyes as we were lazily glancing through The North and West Illustrated, and they caused us to long for a trip to the home of the "piney woods." Without much thought as to where we should stop, we took our start from the good city of Louisville, Ky., and soon found ourselves at Chicago. There we found but one route that could give us what we were looking for, and found that to be the new Chicago, St. Paul & Minneapolis Line, that led through prairie and meadow, through hill and valley, along great lakes and streams, and finally through the depths of the pine forests of Wisconsin, and so on to St. Paul and Minneapolis. Buying our tickets we started and left the Canal and Kinzie streets depot of the Chicago and North-Western Railway, and passed through many pleasant villages, such as Irving Park, Desplaines, Barrington, Crystal Lake and Woodstock, and reached Harvard, thence to Beloit, Hanover, and Madison, where we are 140 miles from Chicago, and at the capital of Wisconsin, a city of over fifteen thousand people.

The city is pleasantly situated on an isthmus about three-fourths of a mile wide, between lakes Mendota and Monona, in the centre of a broad valley, surrounded by heights from which it can be seen at a distance of several miles. Lake Mendota lies northwest of the town, is six miles long and four miles wide, with clean gravelly shores, and a depth sufficient for the navigation of steamboats. Lake Monona is somewhat smaller.

At 176 miles from Chicago, and 36 miles from Madison, we reached the celebrated Devil's Lake. This is a beautiful body of water, surrounded by precipitous mountains on every side, except at two points, one being at the southern end, where the railroad enters the lake basin, and the other at the northern end, where the railroad finds exit from the basin of the lake. On every side of the lake you see "rock piled on rock" in every conceivable form, and in immense columns, pillars, piles and masses of very great magnitude and height. The railroad runs along the shore of the lake on a bed that was literally blasted out of the sides of the mountain. From the car window all the beauties of this wonderful and weirdly mysterious region can readily be seen. This was the home of Minnawaukene, a beautiful but unfortunate Indian maiden, and many legends are related of her by the simple hearted and kindly people of the vicinity. This lake is a favorite summer resort, and to it the people for many miles around come for picnicing, sailing, boating, fishing, and other sports.

At Baraboo you reach the Baraboo river, and from thence pass along its valley for many miles.

At Elroy you are 212 miles from Chicago, and at the southern terminus of the Wisconsin Railway. From Elroy you hasten northward on the new and admirable track of the West Wisconsin road, and soon reach the great pine woods, which have rendered Wisconsin celebrated the world over. Into the heart of the pine lumber region you speed, passing through Black River Falls, Humbird, Augusta, Eau Claire, Menomonee, and other "lumber" towns, and finally cross the River St. Croix at Hudson. This river is the dividing line between Wisconsin and Minnesota. A few miles beyond, you reach a branch to Stillwater, a flourishing town on the St. Croix river. A fifteen mile ride brings you to St. Paul, and here you rest, or push on eleven miles further to the active, bustling cities of Minneapolis and St. Anthony.

At St. Paul you can make close connections, via the Lake Superior & Mississippi Railroad, for Duluth, Morehead, Bismarck and other points on the line of the great Northern Pacific Railroad, and also with the St. Paul & Pacific Railway, for Breckenridge, Fort Garry, and points in Manitoba.

On the line we have hastily sketched, you have a variety of scenery—the quiet, beautiful prairie country of North-eastern Illinois; the rolling farming country of Southern Wisconsin; the wildly romantic mountain scenery of the Devil's Lake country; the breezy, odorous "piney woods," with their busy mills, active towns, and numerous logging camps; and the charming river country of the St. Croix valley. A greater diversity of country cannot be found anywhere in a journey of the same length. You will find comfortable, cleanly and commodious dining stations and hotels along the line, at which ample time is given for all meals.

One management controls the route, and Pullman Palace Sleepers run through to Minneapolis via St. Paul. It will be seen that this line runs nearly due north-west from Chicago to St. Paul, and is but a few miles longer than an air line, and it is the shortest practical route over which a railroad line can be built between these points. This assures the passenger the quickest time that can be made. No other route is now or can be made as direct.

We are now settled down by a quiet brook where we daily pull from the "vasty deep" the speckled beauties we have heard so much about.—The Courier.

—The scions of the richest and most fashionable sojourners at Saratoga no longer smoke cigarettes. Every gentleman who smokes there uses a good cigar, and those who cannot afford that luxury, if any there be, give up smoking altogether.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 1, 1877.

The Communist Insurrection.

The reports from all quarters, on Tuesday, indicated the steady decrease of disorders, most of the railroads all over the Union being now moving freight. At Columbus, Ohio, a mob held possession and refused to allow trains to run, but no property was destroyed by them; few if any railroad men were in the mob. Gov. Young ordered the militia to Columbus. Gen. Hancock notified the War Department that the strike in Pennsylvania is virtually ended. Minor outrages, such as the burning of buildings and flooding of mines by striking miners in Pennsylvania, and the compelling of workmen to leave their work by mobs, are reported; but the commune has not broken out seriously in any fresh place, and the striking railroad men almost everywhere have returned to work. Arrests of leading rioters continue; David McConnell was on Monday committed without bail in Philadelphia, to answer to a charge of arson in setting fire to a train of oil-cars on the 23d ult.

News and Notes.

Herbert Blanchard, who murdered the father and uncle of a young girl he had been courting, at Savoy, Mass., on Sunday, was arrested and lodged in jail at South Readfield, Vt., Monday morning.

One P. J. McGuire addressed a meeting of 2500 persons at New Haven on Monday evening, on behalf of the workingmen. The blathering lunatic publicly challenged the editor of the Palladium—who was not present—to personal combat, and loudly bewailed the execution of the "poor Molly Maguires." The idiot failed to get up any trouble, the meeting being quite orderly. The authorities had made ample preparations to put down any ruffianism that might be attempted.

A cow wrecked a passenger train near Wilmington, Del., and sixteen persons were injured.

The Neshobe river overflowed on Monday at Brandon, Vt., owing to heavy rains, and did much damage to streets, buildings and crops; but no lives were lost.

Some motion of the vastness of the railroad strike may be obtained from a statement of the number of men employed by the great trunk lines. The figures are from trustworthy sources. The New York Central and Hudson River employs 45,000 men; the Lake Shore and Michigan Central, 10,000; the Erie, 15,500; the Baltimore and Ohio, main and leased lines, 16,000, and the Pennsylvania, with its leaseholds, 27,500.

A short time ago it was announced that there were 12,000 people in prison in England awaiting trial. Of these 7000 had been detained more than a month, 3000 over two months and nearly a thousand over three months. Justice may be tolerably sure over there, but it isn't in much of a hurry, and some of the less conservative think Magna Charta needs overhauling.

Hon. Thomas H. Reed, Representative from the First Congressional District of Maine, is visiting at Old York, and has taken rooms at the Moody House, Long Beach.

The reduction of wages on the great Pennsylvania railroad may have been a prudential step in view of a prospective shrinkage in business and earnings, but the past condition of the road certainly warranted no reduction. On the first of January last this corporation had a surplus of ten millions of dollars. After paying all its expenses last year, including taxes, interest and an eight per cent. dividend, it had a surplus from the year's earnings of three and a half millions of dollar. The manager of this overgrown and despotic corporation wants Congress to subsidize the Southern Pacific, in order that he may have a new railroad empire to control. It will take a bold Congressman to stand up and support such a scheme next winter.

There should be taken steps to disgrace all militia-men who, like those of Norristown, Pa., fraternized with the mob they were called out to quell. Such organizations as this, or as the two Pittsburgh regiments, should be drummed out of the National Guard to the music of the "Rogue's March." A soldier should have no sympathies that interfere with his duty. "You wouldn't fire on your brother, would you?" asked anxiously a Dublin Fenian of an Irish regular. "Begorra, I would if the colonel told me to," was the reply. There was no necessity to call out the military.—N. Y. World.

The rifle team of the United Kingdom will sail for this country about the middle of August, and the excitement will grow from this time on. The Americans, at this writing, are the more confident, or rather in the best spirits; but the contest is too far ahead, and trifles light as air have such an influence in deciding the result that neither side can afford to boast much till it has examined the final score.

A New Mexico journal tells this anecdote of Major Tom Ochiltree: "On one occasion he was in England, a guest of a nobleman who had come in contact with him during a visit to this country, and who had fallen an easy victim to Tom's unsurpassed impudence and powers of fascination. The Englishman had taken Tom to London and was exhibiting him to his friends as a genuine American lion. Tom was plentifully supplied with funds by his noble friend, and was cutting a grand figure. One day Tom and his friend met the Prince of Wales at a club. The nobleman asked permission of the Prince to introduce his American friend. Leave having been obtained, Tom was formally introduced to the heir apparent. He grasped the royal hand and shook it heartily, and then burst out, 'Wales, old fellow, I'm devilish glad to know you; let's take a drink!' The horror of the nobleman was changed to amazement when the Prince gave Tom's hand a hearty shake, and replied, 'Don't care if I do.' Cheek carried the day."

The Eastern War.

The Russians have been several times repulsed at Plevna; the Turks claim to have captured an entire train of artillery and many prisoners on Saturday, but a later report says the Russians again attacked and gained considerable ground. Despatches say an important engagement was fought on Sunday, near Rustchuk, between the Czarowitch and Ahmed Eyroub Pasha. The Turkish force is said to have been defeated with a loss of 30 guns, ten standards and 5000 prisoners. Later official despatches confirm the foregoing, the number of Turkish prisoners being given at 8000. Ahmed Eyroub's army is stated to have been completely routed. A despatch from Constantinople states that a panic prevails. It is generally believed that the Sultan will shortly leave for Broussa unless the Turkish success makes his position more secure, in which case a massacre of all foreigners in the city by the Mohammedan fanatics is considered probable. Great numbers of European residents are leaving. The steamer for Trieste, Friday, took 250 passengers. All the berths are already taken aboard the French and Italian steamers sailing this week.

There is no news of note from Asia Minor. Hobart Pasha's fleet has arrived at Batoum.

Railway Profits.

It is an error to suppose that the profits of capital invested in railways, as a whole, are disproportionate to the wages of operatives. A few facts from Poor's Manual of Railroads will show this. Below we have tabulated from its last edition a statement exhibiting the number of companies in each State, and how many of them earned dividends the last year. It is as follows:

	Number of Companies.	Earning Dividends.

Leaving out of view the fact that many of these companies built their roads on bonds rather than in stock paid in, it appears that less than one-fourth of the railway corporations throughout the United States earned any dividend at all. Several of those which did were on preferred stock, the original having vanished. Of the small number yielding any return the rate of dividend averaged less than seven per cent. According to the same authority there has been a decrease of dividends, as compared with 1875, of $6,254,540. It should be further considered that the amount of capital invested in defaulting railroads and completely sunk out of sight is simply enormous. In the list from which the foregoing table was made up are two hundred and seventeen companies whose bonds are in default in payment of interest.

This view of the case shows that railway investments, as a whole, have not proved so remunerative to capitalists as to excite envy, much less engender discontent and a general strike. It should also be borne in mind that during all the years required for constructing railways and keeping the same in repair the wages of labor have been remunerative, for which investors never have received, and in many cases never will receive, any return. The money of such has gone for public improvements, while the operatives have been receiving the full benefit of their labor. Meanwhile the clamor for cheap transportation has become very general. Who are most interested in this question? Not capitalists, for they can take care of themselves. In this, as in most other forms of taxation, the burden falls most heavily on the consumer. The laborer wants his barrel of flour, his corn and his meats as cheap as he can get them. But how can the rates of transportation be reduced, or kept at living prices, without rigid economy in railway management? The rails will wear out and must be replaced. The rolling stock must be kept in good condition and be multiplied in proportion to an increase of business resulting from cheap transportation. The returns show, as already stated, a large reduction of profits on railroad capital. Is it unreasonable, then, to look to an equitable reduction of wages of operatives to meet a common want in which they are concerned, more especially since there is such a redundancy of laborers who would gladly serve if not improperly prevented?—Boston Post.

The New York World, in an article on "the inexcusable strike," says: "In 1873, before the panic, when the whole North and West was up in a balloon, the average monthly wages of railway engineers and firemen in Maine, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri, as tabulated by the Chief of the United States Bureau of Statistics were as follows:

Engineers	$87.12
Firemen	$43.32

The wages of these classes in Pennsylvania in 1873 were lower considerably than in any of the other States mentioned, and yet these are the classes which now in 1877 arrogate to themselves a right to set aside the laws of the land and interfere with the comfort and the daily bread of great masses of their industrious fellow-citizens because they find it impossible to live on the following wages, which are now offered them:

Engineers, from	$83.66 to $92.78
Firemen, from	$48.03 to $51.23

How Rats Set a Steamship on Fire.

The Pacific Mail steamship Granada has arrived from Panama. A rumor was circulated that the Granada was a few days ago set on fire by the Chinese crew, but the report was ungrounded. There was a fire, however. While the ship was beating against a heavy wind and running sea about forty miles, some Chinese sailors, who were asleep in their hammocks over the forward hatch, were awakened by smoke. At the same time the watch on deck discovered dense smoke issuing from the hatch. An agile Mongol ran abaft and informed first officer Hart that the ship was on fire. Simultaneously the boatswain, also a Mongol, violently rung the fire bell. First officer Hart is afraid of fire. He has been burned out several times, and was on the Japan when that steamer was burned off the Chinese coast about two years ago. He has for years made it his habit to have the hose placed on the deck every night at eight o'clock. Rushing forward he found that the ship was indeed on fire. The captain was notified, and Hart, seizing an axe, chopped a hole in the hatch and called for a small-sized volunteer. A Chinaman, stark naked, sprang forward, and Hart ordered him to take the hose and go below and extinguish the fire. The almond-eyed tar bound a wet towel over his face and obeyed with alacrity, and Hart, who is a large man, enlarged the aperture and followed. Seven Chinamen went down after him like monkeys, and the pumps were manned. The engine was stopped, and ceasing its task of driving wheels commenced forcing water. By this time the passengers, alarmed by the unwonted tumult and the clanging fire bell, were huddled, half-naked, on the deck in panic. The women shrieked and the sterner sex felt decidedly shaky. The exploring squad below decks groped their way through the suffocating smoke to the storeroom in the forehold, where they found the fire. The pumps were already working, and in three and a half minutes more the blaze was extinguished. The origin of the fire was certainly very curious. In the storeroom was a barrel of matches in paper boxes. Rats are remarkably fond of phosphorus. This outre taste was the cause of the fire. It was found that rats had gnawed their way through the walls of the storeroom and into the matches, and in their nibblings at the lucifers the attrition of their teeth had ignited them and created the blaze. Insurance men state that the majority of the instances of fire by "spontaneous combustion" are really caused by rats nibbling at matches.—San Fran. Chronicle.

A Remedial Agent of Uncommon Power.

It is a fact which became patent years ago to the people of the United States, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a remedial agent of uncommon power. As a consequence of this recognition, its sales have increased immensely at home and abroad, and it has risen to a foremost rank among the proprietary medicines of the day. Chemical analysts, after submitting it to the closest scrutiny, pronounce it absolutely pure, and skilful and conscientious medical practitioners recommend its use. A wide range of disorders falls within the scope of its curative operation. Among them may be enumerated dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, nervous ailments, urinary and uterine affections, rheumatism and gout. It is a supremely efficacious tonic, hastens convalescence, cheers the mind, imparts appetite, and promotes sound sleep.

A Toilet Essential.

Pomades and cosmetics may be dispensed with, but not so the Fragrant Sozodont; the most wholesome and efficient article for the teeth that the world has ever known.

Its popularity is immense. In the brown stone palace and the cottage, it is alike considered indispensable.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

A Sagacious Mouse.

Yesterday afternoon the writer witnessed a strange sight in the Record office. Our attention was attracted by several lusty squeaks from the inside of a pail, almost filled with water, into which a half-grown mouse had fallen. The alarm had scarcely died away before four or five mice appeared on the scene, and began clambering to the edge of the pail. For several moments after gaining the top of the pail and catching sight of the mouse in the water, a squeaking confab was held. First one mouse and then another would cling to the rim of the bucket with his hind legs, and while almost touching the water with his nose, squeak out either consolation or advice to the immersed, but while all this was going on the swimming powers of the unfortunate mouse in the pail were rapidly giving out. At last a happy thought seemed to strike the biggest mouse in the crowd, and almost without a squeak he firmly fastened his fore feet to the edge of the pail and let his body and tail hang down. The drowning mouse saw it, and, making a desperate effort for life, swam to the spot, seized the tail of his brother mouse, and amid squeaks of delight from all the mice present was hauled high and dry out of the water and over the edge of the bucket.—*Corinne (Nev.) REPUBLICAN MAYORALTY CAUCUS.

A caucus of the Republican voters of this city to nominate a CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR to be supported at the polls at the coming election, will be held at the Court House on Thursday, August 2d. The polls will be open from four to eight o'clock P. M. The check-list will be used. PER ORDER.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, July 31st.

George Jackson was proved to have been drunk, and was ordered to pay $9.90, fine and costs, failing in which he was sent to Brentwood.

Henry Hussey, a young fellow of eighteen or nineteen years of age, pleaded guilty to a charge of tapping the till of Thomas Lester's place of business, and stealing a small sum of money—some four or five dollars. He was sent to Brentwood for thirty days, and ordered to pay $6.90 costs.

JOTTINGS.

Mr. Albert Leach came near losing his life at the mill on Monday, through getting his shirt sleeve caught in a belt. A fellow workman standing near caught hold of him and managed to drag him clear, with the loss of most of his clothing. Mr. Leach was badly bruised, but had no bones broken.

Portsmouth is represented in the famous New York Seventh Regiment by 1st Lieut. George W. Rand, of the sixth company, and Messrs. Frank Ball and Fred. Hones. The Express says of the latter: "A quieter, lovelier disposition cannot be found; his favorite place in the armory, this week, has been in one corner of the company room, lamenting 'the girl I left behind me!'"

Mr. George E. Hanson has sold his drug stock and business to a Dover gentleman, who will take charge of the store in a few days.

The elderly lady who vanquished the gas company's laborers' gang on Monday was herself defeated on Tuesday, the gas company having hurried up reinforcements and then charged all along the line.

Stolen Kisses.

There is a class of men in this community who never let anybody else have any fun. Instead of making everybody happy around them, they make everybody miserable. One of these characters was on board the train on Saturday, coming up from the pioneer's picnic, with his young and pretty wife. They were on one of the long benches of the platform car. Alongside the wife sat a young man of festive tendencies, a peculiarity in men, young and old, not unfrequent upon the Comstock. Well, the train reached a tunnel, and in a moment everybody was in the dark. When daylight was reached again the husband saw a fragment of his wife's veil upon that young man's hat. Instead of reasoning, as a philosopher would have done, that it might be all a mistake, the suspicious husband got up and wanted to punch the other man's head and make a scene generally. The trouble finally cooled down, and everybody began to laugh at the old fellow. When presently another tunnel was reached, a mischievous young lady who sat next to the husband, quietly detached a piece of her veil and put it on his hat. As soon as the car got into daylight the other passengers began to laugh at him, and to hint that he had been browsing on forbidden pastures. Worse than all, his wife pretended to get angry, and when such audible remarks as "Who'd a thought it?" "Pity a man of his age can't behave himself," "Bald headed men are all that way," etc., went around the car, his face looked like a boiled lobster all over. When the depot was reached he was the first man off the train.—Virginia (Nevada) Chronicle.

Ice Water.

The Cincinnati Commercial has recently published a series of articles pointing out the evil effects of ice water, and condemning its use in the strongest term. In one of its articles it says:

"A man, who in a state of perspiration, with the sweat oozing from every pore in his skin, should suddenly strip off his clothing and shut himself up in a refrigerator would be set down in public estimation as a natural fool, who defied Providence itself to save him from death. Such a thing actually happened in this city a few years ago, and the man was taken out of his ice-box dead as a herring and stiff as a pike-staff. Ice water arrests digestion, if it does not absolutely drive out all animal heat, and it is not resumed till the water is raised to the temperature required to carry it on. Habitual ice water drinkers are usually very flabby about the region of the stomach. They complain that their food lies heavy on that patient organ. They taste their dinner for hours after it is bolted. They cultivate the use of stimulants to aid digestion. If they are intelligent they read up on food and what the physiologists have to say about it—how long it takes cabbage and pork and beef and potatoes and other meats and esculents to go through the process of assimilation. They roar at new bread and hot cakes and fried meat, imagining these to have been the cause of their maladies. But the ice water goes down all the same, and finally friends are called in to take a farewell look at one whom a mysterious Providence has called to a clime where, so far as is known, ice water is not used. The number of immortal beings who go hence to return no more on account of an injudicious use of ice water can hardly be estimated."

The article proceeds to show that in numberless cases fine teeth are totally destroyed by its use. It chills the teeth and cracks the enamel, then follows rapid decay and frequent visits to the office of the dentist. In conclusion the article says:

"These remarks seem to be necessary, because ice is abundant and cheap this year, and the water drinkers are increasing in numbers, through the missionary efforts of the disciples of Francis Murphy. There is no objection, certainly, to the exclusive use of water, if taken as the Creator intended it should be. It is the excessive use of water, reduced below its average temperature with ice, that is to be condemned. It is an abuse of the stomach to use it, as it is an abuse of the stomach to put into it fluids that inflame its coatings and finally eat them away. We must put ice water and whiskey into the same index expurgatorius. They should be banished from all private tables and banqueting halls, or used only to preserve articles of food in pickle or in the refrigerators."

A Vindication of the Electoral Commission.

If there were to-day a real conflict of authority at Washington there would be absolutely no power in the country to deal with an insurrection which had got beyond the control of the States. The troops detached if any troops could be detached, to put down a mob themselves be regarded by half the people they were sent to protect as no better than a mob. The country would be in a state of anarchy, and no authority within its limits would be in a condition to put down even the most trivial and contemptible riot. It was to avoid precisely this state of things that many eminent democrats, such statesmen as Senator Bayard and Senator Thurman among them, consented to the plan of the Electoral Commission. They were probably as well aware as other people that the commission, if not unconstitutional, was extra constitutional. They may even have looked upon it in some sense as a revolutionary measure and still have supported it, seeing in it a prevention, and the only sure prevention, of other measures certainly not less revolutionary and directly menacing to the peace of the country which the Electoral Commission promised to preserve, and which in fact was preserved, under it.

As the World not only disagreed with them at that time, but expressed its disagreement plainly and earnestly, we conceive ourselves to have a right to speak on the subject more emphatically now than others who held their peace while the matter was debating, only to whine over the result afterward. It is due to these distinguished democrats to say now that, in the light of what is now happening in the North and West, their attitude at the close of the Presidential contest commends them to the respect of all good men of all parties. Let us suppose that neither the Electoral Commission nor any equivalent plan had been adopted. In what sort of position should we find ourselves now? The rioting which has gone so far now with no political conflict to disturb the unity of West Virginia and Maryland under democratic governors, or of Pennsylvania under a republican governor, would have become incalculably more formidable, and when the States failed there would have been no effective and undisputed authority left to confront it.

This demonstration of what we have escaped by reason of the Electoral Commission will silence such of the ex post facto critics of the men who framed it as have any common sense. The notion of making the Electoral Commission a leading political issue for the next three years, already dismissed with contempt by the liberated South, will now be seen by the whole country to be the maggot of a diseased brain. —N. Y. World.

—"Doctor," said an old lady to her family physician, "kin ye tell me how it is that some folks is born dumb?" "Why, hem! certainly madam," replied the doctor; "it is owing to the fact that they come into the world without the power of speech!" "La, me!" remarked the old lady; "now jess see what it is to have a physical eddication. I've axed my old man more nor a hundred times that same thing, and all that I could ever get out of him was jest this, 'Kase they is.'"

—Principal Dice of the schools of Cincinnati says: "When a young woman commences to teach a school she loses nine chances in ten for marriage. If she teaches five years her chances for marriage and the dear delights of mother-hood are but one in one hundred, and if she teaches ten years her chances for marriage and good social position are but one in ten thousand." After this the Cincinnati girls will take in washing before they will teach school.

—Says the Courier-Journal: The apostrophe is getting to be a greater nuisance than even the comma. It is making idiotic nonsense and halting rhyme, and it is determined to get into all words ending with "s," whether they are possessive or not. It is happiest, however, when it can get on the wrong side of a letter and mangle somebody's name. Apostrophes think, and have malice, just as much as bayonets.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, number not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sick, sick, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Daily Chronicle.

—A New York chemist says he wants nothing more than three pails, a cask o cold water and twenty cents' worth of drugs to make six gallons of just such champagne as fools pay a dollar a pint for.

—Andrew Jackson Davis declares, in the Banner of Light, that he recently, in a trance, saw five weddings in the Summer Land. All these were unions of couples who had been husband and wife on earth. He says: "How long those two men (angel youths now) waited for the coming of their mates! How lovely patient those three angel maidens (once wives and mothers on earth) waited for their darling husbands to come to them through death's triumphal arch! These ten persons were truly mated and happily married, four in St. Louis and six in London."

—A minister had a negro in his family. One Sunday, when he was preaching, he happened to look in the pew where the negro was, and could hardly contain himself as he saw the negro, who could not read or write a word, scribbling away most industriously. After meeting he said to the negro, "Tom, what were you doing in the church?" "Taking notes, massa; all de gemmen takes notes." "Bring your notes here and let me see them!" Tom brought his notes, which looked more like Chinese than English. "Why, Tom, this is all nonsense." "I thought so, massa, all the time that you was preaching it."

—A correspondent of the Bangor Whig lets the cat out of the bag in regard to the discovery of gold at Oldtown, Me. It seems the town authorities having contracted with one of the citizens to build a town cistern for fire department purposes on the island occupied by a large number of French families, it occurred to one of the wags in town to have a little fun and to see how much of a stirring up he could give the inhabitants on the Island. Accordingly he got a few pieces of real gold-bearing quartz from a returned Californian, and taking the bullet of the cistern into his confidence, proceeded to deposit them during the night into one of the seams made by blasting in the ledge where the cistern was to be located, several feet below the surface of the soil. The next day he was carelessly upon the spot in good season in the morning, and the two made a wonderful discovery, no less than the finding of real gold. A few bits were taken into the shop of one of the jewelers, and the workman on melting it pronounced it the real article and no mistake. The news spread like wildfire, and the contractor got the cistern dug for nothing.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February the 16th, wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and twenty pounds, and I weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My health has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing would do him any good. I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What I write him I will do. DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVAREY.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and neck. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling a little in the spring, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e'was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed find thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Give Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I well known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, is one of the most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who a substance they diseases and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Impurities of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Exostosis and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

A Torpedo Boat.

One of the torpedo launches used in destroying the Turkish monitor near Matchin, on the Danube, was recently carefully looked over by a correspondent of the London Daily News, who minutely describes it. The launch is only twenty-five feet long, with about four feet beam. The torpedo spars, of which each boat carried two, were about thirty feet long. They were placed on each side of the boat in large iron rings, fore and aft, which maintained them in a horizontal position when not being used. The torpedo is attached, of course, to the forward end of the spar. The torpedoes themselves were about twenty inches in length by eighteen inches in diameter, and were covered apparently with wood. When used, the torpedo-bar is thrust forward through the rings until it is only supported by one, and the torpedo on the end of the spar may then be hoisted up and down as on the end of a lever. It is known that the force of a torpedo only acts within a radius of ten feet, and as the spar is thirty feet long, the boat is thus at a safe distance from the explosion, except the danger of its being swamped by the column of water which the torpedo inevitably throws up. The launch is an ordinary wooden one, covered over with a wooden deck, supported by very slight wooden or iron uprights. The sides from a little above the water are protected by plates of iron a quarter of an inch thick, loosely fastened on to the uprights, and sufficient to stop a bullet, leaving exposed about four inches just below the deck for a crew to fire through in case of need. Neither the bow nor the stern, however, were protected in this way, and the launch coming on would be exposed to be traversed from stem to stern by the enemy's bullets. As is well known, not a single bullet had ever penetrated the boat or wounded a man, although the launch must have been for several seconds within twenty feet of the monitor, and the Turks had fired probably more than 100 shots at her at that distance. The reason was, that it had not occurred to them to fire down through the deck, which was only of wood, and all their bullets had been expended on the iron plates, which were of course impenetrable. The torpedo is made to explode by contact, and may also be exploded by an electric battery in case the shock should not have been sufficient to explode it.

By All Means Be an Editor.

An editor is the happiest being on earth; he has little or nothing to do, and his pay is all that heart could wish. His sanctum, with its Persian rugs and Turkish carpets, its costly rosewood furniture, its magnificent mirrors, its beautiful pictures, its complete library of splendidly-bound books, its buffet stocked with the finest of wines, liquors and cigars, which cost him but a puff or two, its silver bell to summon an attendant whenever a julep or cocktail is wanted, and, in short, with its everything that human ingenuity can devise for his comfort and pleasure, is a perfect little paradise, where he sits or lounges and reigns a young lord, with the world of fashion and pleasure at his feet. And then anybody can be an editor—no study, no preparation, no brains, nothing but a little money to start with, and once started the money pours in upon you in a steady stream, and the chief labor of your life is to spend it. As for the labor of editing a newspaper, that is mere moon-shine. A mere glance at the columns of a newspaper is enough to convince you that it requires no labor to edit it, and less brains. It is certainly a glorious life, that of an editor; a life for the gods, filled, like that of the young lover in his first sweet dream of requited love, with flutes and rose leaves and moonbeams,

"While not a wave of trouble rolls Across his peaceful breast;"

and that all men are not editors is one of the strangest things beneath the stars. True, there must be doctors and lawyers and merchants and shoemakers and peanut dealers and the like, and all these callings must be filled by somebody, but there are enough to fill them, and why they don't become editors and lead the life of opulent princes is a thing that staggers us. But after all, it may be that it is mere matter of taste. It may be repugnant to some natures to be clothed in purple and fine linen and fare sumptuously every day, and of course it would never do for such a nature to become an editor; the life of ease and elegance and luxury, and exemption from all care and toil and debts and duns, would soon become a bore to him, and he would spend his nights in dreaming of plows and pitchforks and reaping machines, and squander his days in devising some plan for swapping places with a blacksmith's apprentice or a street-car driver.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—A telegraphic operator, not far from Boston, received a telegram for an Irishman from a girl whom he had previously been trotting round, inviting him to come and spend a holiday with her. He sent the message, and received the following answer: "I am married, and to me grief."

—Ross' goose laid eggs in Hott's dooryard, in Cincinnati, and Hott's goose hatched from them one gosling. Who owned the gosling? The question was angrily disputed by Ross and Hott, and they have gone to law about it. The gosling has grown to a goose and is worth a dollar at most. The litigation has already cost two hundred dollars.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 21.

We are gradually returning to the consideration of such matters as still retain sufficient interest to entitle them to that treatment, and which were temporarily dismissed at the outbreak of the strikes. Business men have gone to work again, trains are running as usual, and the old routine has been generally re-established. The fears of a scarcity in our markets have subsided, and we are cheered by assurances of a full supply of peaches. There is still considerable activity in the movement of troops, showing the Government's purpose to relax no effort until there shall be perfect submission to, and an absolute compliance with, law.

The influence of the strike appears to have extended to the Sitka Indians who are reported to have assumed a very threatening attitude toward the few whites engaged in business in that dismal region; and it has been proposed to send a gunboat there to restore order, although San Francisco opposes the proposition to send the one now in her waters to hold the "hoodlums" of that city in subjection.

While it is believed that the report of Indian outrages about Deadwood has been greatly exaggerated, it is known that many of the treacherous savages have gone off their reservations and are presumably engaged in unlawful pursuits. Nothing specially interesting has been heard directly from General Howard since my last. He appears to be maneuvering to take the wary Joseph at a disadvantage; but up to the latest accounts that chief had well sustained his reputation for courage and sagacity and refused to be "gobbled." Captain Rawn had attempted peace negotiation without definite results; meanwhile Governor Potts is appealing for volunteers, proposing to take the field himself.

It is charged that the Syndicate is acting in bad faith toward the public and trying to obtain money under false pretences, by its advertisement in the English papers, calling attention to the four per cent. bonds as a very desirable investment, and virtually stating that their interest is payable in gold. As silver was a legal tender when the act authorizing the bonds was passed, it is thought probable that the Government would decide it optional whether it would pay in gold or silver, should the latter be remonetized, as now seems likely.

Miss Anna Boyle, a dramatic prodigy, native of this city, less than fifteen years old, and who has already become famous in her rendition of "Juliet," appears in New York this week upon the invitation of many of the eminent citizens of that city, including Mayor Ely, and Generals McClellen and Barlow. Miss Boyle is understood to be under the tutelage of "Grace Greenwood," and Washingtonians feel proud of her triumphs, which, considering her youth, are remarkable.

Not for many years has Washington been flooded as during the present season, with storms accompanied by frightful winds, thunder and lightning. KNOX.

Humors of the Great Strike.

It would seem that there could hardly be a humorous side to, or a gleam of humor in, the great strike which has cost the railroads and business men and laboring men of the country sixty or seventy millions of dollars already, and will cost them many millions more before its evil effects cease to be felt; which cost many lives, spread anxiety over the whole nation, kept the peaceable inhabitants of great cities in terror for days, and put mobs of violent and bloodthirsty ruffians momentarily above the law. Yet even amid all the confusion and disaster comical incidents occurred.

The brilliant retreat of Gen. Pearson from the mob at Pittsburg was perhaps not very funny, but his card of apology to the ruffianly rioters, in which he assured them that he did not order the Philadelphia troops to fire, was amusing, and the storm of sarcastic and contemptuous paragraphs which his cowardice called out from the newspapers was more so. We give a sample of the newspaper comments on Gen. Pearson's card: "Pearson—'General' Pearson—'General' Pearson of Pittsburg—has crawled out of his hole to say that he never, never, never ordered the troops to fire. No one who knows Pearson ever thought he did. He took to his heels at the first fire. Fire? He ordered troops to fire? Oh no! He wouldn't hurt anybody, not much. Crawl under the bed again, Pearson, that'll do for you." It seems that Gen. Pearson's courage is of the sort attributed by the telegraph to the Chicago reporters during the riots in that city, where the howling mobs displayed special hostility to anybody they thought connected with newspapers. Said the telegraph, "whenever it seemed safe, most of the reporters showed personal bravery!" That's the kind of bravery to have around—never gets its possessor into any trouble; men who are brave when it is not safe often get hurt.

In St. Louis, at a time when the veterans of the war and hundreds of the best citizens were hastening to enroll themselves under ex-federal and ex-confederate officers to protect the city from the crowds of roughs that had been parading with the red flag of the commune and "bread or blood" banners, a lot of street urchins got up a parade of their own and marched about the streets to the music of a tin pan by way of drum, and displaying a huge paper banner bearing the inscription, "We don't want bread. We want cake and pie or blood!" And the manner in which the strike spread on railroads where the employes had no grievances to complain of, and among workmen not connected with railroads and who had no end whatever in view when they struck, was laughable as well as humiliating—for it is both to see a lot of men needlessly make fools of themselves. A lot of negro workmen in New Orleans knocked off work and got up a procession—which seems the orthodox thing to do when a strike occurs—and forced all the other negroes they could catch to join them; but they were utterly unable to tell what they had struck for, and did not demand more pay, shorter hours of labor or better treatment, as they had nothing to complain of on these points. But the queerest strike of all took place in Hoboken, N. J., where forty-five boys in the employ of the American Lead Pencil Company struck, because, as they said, the men were striking all over the country, and so they thought they ought to. They could not tell what their object was in striking; but their parents took the matter in hand and proceeded to "strike" with a definite object in view, and after a dozen or so of the brats had been soundly spanked they all went to work again, satisfied with their experience in strikes.

The Communist Insurrection.

The strike is played out; on Wednesday the metropolitan papers gave the European war news the place of honor in their news columns, the strike being crowded into second or third place. Freight was being rapidly cleared away from the stations where it accumulated during the embargo, and any trouble in running trains was due more to the refusal of some companies to take back striking employes than to any acts of the mobs, though the latter still held out in a few places. The striking miners in Pennsylvania have gone to work in some of the mines, and no new outbreaks were reported.

The Eastern War.

Osman Pasha claims to have won a great victory before Plevna. The battle lasted two days and 60,000 Russians took part in it. A despatch from Constantinople says that Adifs Pasha has resigned the Foreign Ministry, and that Served Pasha has been appointed to succeed him. A despatch from Adrianople says that the Russians on the South of the Balkans are retreating before Suleiman Pasha. England has ordered two gunboats to the Danube, and the ironclads Shannon and Agincourt will support them. Austria is to mobilize 90,000 troops.

[Written for the Chronicle.]

New York City Forty Years Ago.

A gentleman who has recently visited the Empire City, brought with him on his return copies he procured there of the New York Express of 1837 and '8. Curiously interesting it is to note the changes time creates. The city proper did not then extend so far up as the lower reservoir at 40th street, and what is now Central Park was well out-of-town. Of the business men, whose trade on land and sea gave life to the mercantile and commercial districts, but very few survive. Prominent among them was E. K. Collins, who, from being ahead of his time, subsequently sunk his once abundant means in the line of steamships that bore his name. Nearly all the names of his business contemporaries have disappeared from the journals of the present day, or if the firms still survive, their trade is conducted by younger men; often of other names though that of the firm remains the same. Among the natives of Portsmouth whose advertisements appear in the Express of 1837, are Capt. Shadrach Sise and William Turell. The Astor House and Holt's huge pile of marble (now the United States) were the great hotels of New York. A. T. Stewart was a dry goods dealer in Broadway, but of no great prominence in the trade; others, of far more note, arose and fell, and passed into obscurity, while he was creating his colossal fortune. Marquand & Co., the well-known jewellers of their time, were as far down as 181 Broadway; the same firm that has been known in later years as Ball, Black & Co., of which Mr. Henry Ball, brother of our esteemed fellow-citizens, Mr. T. M. Ball, and himself a native of Portsmouth, was the leading member. The once famous fancy goods depot of Bonfante, whose poetical shopbills are kept by the older residents of New York as memorials of their youth, was still in existence, as appears by advertisements, in 1837, conducted by two sons of the poet Woodworth, author of "the Old Oaken Bucket." Of the theatres, the Bowery, that Hamblin, with his magnificent scenic spectacles, once made so attractive, is all that survives. Niblo's Garden, that was so delightful a resort on summer nights, is covered by the Metropolitan Hotel, excepting the theatre, enclosed within the huge structure, known as "Niblo's." Castle Garden, an equally popular resort at midsummer, is now the depot for newly-arrived immigrants; to the utter disgust of not a few who associate it with happy hours in their youth. The residents of New York, instead of living around the Battery, and the streets east and west of Broadway, have scattered over the whole island, even as far up as Fort Washington where, at his beautiful home, the late John Appleton Haven, Esq., a native of this city, passed many of his latter years.

One of the topics referred to in these old papers, is the attempted Canadian rebellion of 1837, when the American steamer Caroline, that had been employed by the rebels in conveying volunteers to their depot at an island in Lake Erie was seized by a party from the Canada shore, set on fire, and sent in full blaze over Niagara Falls, the darkness of the hour increasing the splendor of the spectacle. The details of the duel between Graves and Cilley, members of Congress, in which the latter lost his life; and mingled with those of others in the affair, are the names of Col. J. W. Webb, of New York, and Henry A. Wise, of Virginia. An investigation was going on by a committee of the Legislature in relation to a charge against the Phenix Bank of New York, that instead of accommodating the business people of that city with discounts, its funds were kept for carrying on shaving operations upon distant paper. Among the opponents of "Old Mother Bank" (as the U. S. Bank was styled by them, and Nick Biddle, its President, an enthusiastic individual fired a huge horse-pistol through the key-hole of the institution, telling the lookers-on that they would hear no more of "the old monster." While the times were very hard, a gentleman had paid $40 for four tickets at the benefit of Miss Ellen Tree (afterward Mrs. Charles Kean) at the Tremont theatre of Boston. Rough times, financially, were those of 1837, when "Nick Biddle," of "Old Mother Bank," at the solicitation of the merchants of New York, issued post-notes, payable at a future time, "for the relief of the commercial community all over the country." It showed their faith at that time in the old bank, that after becoming a State instead of a United States institution, went utterly to the dogs. A fugitive slave from Virginia was arrested in New York, on the plea that he had committed a two-and-six-penny larceny in the South, and while on his way to prison, the officer who had him in charge was cuffed and called a "man-stealer," a "negro-catcher," etc., by an enthusiastic young "broad-brim," who did not believe in "the divine institution." Such happy events are ever since slavery was wiped out in the effort to strengthen it. A complimentary ball was given at the Shakspeare hotel to Mr. F. C. Schaffer, (well known here for many years as a teacher of dancing) by the highly respectable class of young people who composed his scholars. In a letter of Henry Clay, he denies the report set afloat by his enemies, that he was not in favor of extending citizenship to Catholics unless they would abjure allegiance to the Pope.

Among the changes of time none is more curious than that the Express itself, once enthusiastic in the cause of the old Whig party, is not less so now in that of its opponents, the democrats. With the kindliest feelings toward the old journal, (that has survived so many of its early contemporaries,) even though it has gone over the other side of the fence, it is amusing to see in these sheets among its issues of the past, how it once discoursed of "Loco-Focos" and "Slam, Bang & Co.," the latter a name given to the democratic party by its first editor, the late James Brooks, and that stuck to it like cobblers' wax, for the reason that among the Tammany leaders was one named Slamm and another Bang,—affording him the opportunity for stating, when the Whigs carried the State of New York, that "Slam had blown down like a loose window-shutter," and "Bang had gone off at half-cock." "J. B." did good service in the Tippecanoe and Tyler too" times, and "E. B.," still a proprietor and writer for the Express, as its then Washington correspondent was wont to make amusing hits in his letters at the democrats, styling Van Buren "the Prince of Humbug," and Thos. H. Benton, with not less of aptness, "the great Tumble-Bug of Missouri," for his boast that, in setting forth his specie currency ideas, "Solitary and alone, amid the jeers and taunt of my enemies, I sat this bail in motion." At another time he wrote of him, "Like a calf in want of his mother's milk, he bellowed for hours to-day to 'a beggably account of empty boxes' with here and there a 'bank-ruffian,' as he styles all who are not opposed to all banks. Benton certainly is a great man; that is, great in the way of hunting up musty old books that nobody but himself would read, and books written before the flood." Truly, times do "change, and men change with them."

A Remedial Agent of Uncommon Power.

It is a fact which became patent years ago to the people of the United States, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a remedial agent of uncommon power. As a consequence of this recognition, its sales have increased immensely at home and abroad, and it has risen to a foremost rank among the proprietary medicines of the day. Chemical analysts, after submitting it to the closest scrutiny, pronounce it absolutely pure, and skilful and conscientious medical practitioners recommend its use. A wide range of disorders falls within the scope of its curative operation. Among them may be enumerated dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, nervous ailments, urinary and uterine affections, rheumatism and gout. It is a supremely efficacious tonic, hastens convalescence, cheers the mind, imparts appetite, and promotes sound sleep.

A Toilet Essential.

Pomades and cosmetics may be dispensed with, but not so the Fragrant Sozodont; the most wholesome and efficient article for the teeth that the world has ever known.

Its popularity is immense. In the brown stone palace and the cottage, it is alike considered indispensable.

Shattered toys are regenerated with Spalding's Glue.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

Passengers arriving in New York by way of the Grand Central Depot will find the new and comfortable Hotel Devonshire, which is opposite the main entrance on 43d Street, the most convenient and inexpensive place to stop. It is a modern hotel, and first-class in all appointments.

The City of New Orleans has an institution called the Louisiana State Lottery Company, honestly conducted under Generals P. T. Beauregard and Jubal Early, which recalls the memory of fifty years ago, when our colleges and churches were built by lotteries. It has its next drawing August 7th, and tickets, at Two Dollars each, or any information, can be had by addressing M. A. Dauphin, President, Box 692, P. O., New Orleans, La.

REPUBLICAN MAYORALTY CAUCUS.

A caucus of the Republican voters of this city to nominate a CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR to be supported at the polls at the coming election, will be held at the Court House on Thursday, August 2d. The polls will be open from four to eight o'clock P. M. The check-list will be used. PER ORDER.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

The Board of Instruction elected by the Board of Aldermen at the last meeting in July assembled in the Common Council Room on Wednesday evening, the following members being present:

James DeNormandie, James R. May, Andrew B. Sherburne, Charles A. Shannon, Mercer Goodrich, Andrew P. Wendell, John H. Hutchinson, Charles W. Gardner, John Pender, William H. Hackett.

The Mayor administered the oath of office to the members, and the Board then organized by the choice of Rev. James DeNormandie as President, and Mr. John Pender as Secretary. There being two vacancies, Messrs. Joseph H. Thacher and Edward S. Ryder declining to serve, the Board adjourned without transacting any other business.

BOAT RACE.

A race for a yacht flag, presented by Capt. William Keen of Kittery as a prize for the winning craft, will take place on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, provided a three-knot breeze or better be then blowing, the contesting boats starting from Clark's island, going around Kitts' rock and Branscom's rocks and back to the starting point, keeping to port of the rocks when passing them. In addition to several whaleboats (names not given) from Newcastle which have entered for the race, the following pleasure boats will compete, Portsmouth boats not being allowed to enter:

Kittery Foreside boats: Mingle, W. Otis, owner, W. Dixon, pilot; Sankey, — Dixon, owner and pilot; Moody, Wm. Jellison; Hattie, Geo. Paul. Lower Foreside boats: Petrel, Geo. Witham; ————, Joseph Keen; Myth, Samuel Pillsbury; Cock Robin, Wm. Keen.

The boats entered vary in length from fifteen to nineteen feet on the keel; some of them are fast sailers, and each owner rather expects to win the flag, and knows he will give the others a good tug for it, at any rate; and if the day is favorable there is no doubt the race will be interesting.

POLICE COURT.

Wednesday, August 1st.

Robert Foster, drunk, and Charles Batchelder, ditto, were invited to pass over $9.-90 cents each, fine and costs. Gone to board in the country. [N. B. The Charles Batchelder referred to above is not Judge Charles E. Batchelder of the Police Court.]

JOTTINGS.

Twenty-five years ago to-day the first number of the CHRONICLE was issued—its success being then regarded as very doubtful by many people, while the rest had no doubt at all of the utter failure of the attempt to establish a daily paper in Portsmouth, an experiment which had more than once been unsuccessfully tried before.

An Eliot fisherman engaged at his business near the mouth of the harbor on Wednesday, caught twenty-five large skates in a few hours, loading his boat down like a sand-barge. The only eatable parts of the skate are the fins, which are esteemed a great delicacy by some people, and bring about twenty-five cents a pair.

The wreck of the schooner "Ceres" had on Wednesday evening been moved several hundred feet toward the flats on which it is proposed to place her, near the Kittery end of Portsmouth bridge, from the place where she was left when work on her was abandoned early in the season. The wreckers are confident of raising her this time.

At a meeting of the Heavy Artillery held on the evening of July 31st it was voted to accept the invitation to attend the Centennial celebration at Bennington, Vt.

Mr. T. C. Crowley, who has for some months been in the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Co's office in this city, learning to "run the machine," has been promoted to the position of operator and placed in charge of the company's office at Dover, the late operator there having resigned the place. Mr. Crowley has been diligent and capable in the discharge of his duties as a subordinate, and will no doubt give a good account of himself in his new and more responsible position. It was recently rumored that the efficient, attentive and obliging operator who has had charge of the company's office in this city from the time it was opened—Mr. Neff—was to be transferred to Concord; but it has been definitely decided that he is to remain here, which is entirely satisfactory to those who have had business to do through his office.

On Thursday, the 26th ult., the sloop yacht Phantom, recently built by Mr. Dixon at Kittery, for Mr. Decatur, made a run from the Shoals to Rockport, Mass., a distance of about twenty-eight miles, with the yacht Julia, of Squam, beating her one hour and twenty minutes.

The ladies should not omit to read, this morning, the advertisement in another column of the exhibition at N. F. Mathes & Co's store, from two o'clock this afternoon to eight, of the cooking qualities of self-raising flours. It is of special interest to housekeepers and cooks.

A disastrous peanut war raged in this city on Wednesday, between the grinding monopoly who some time ago established himself on the post-office corner, and an unblushing interloper who put up a stand under the windows of the First National Bank and attempted to seduce the public from its allegiance to the other dealer by setting up some kind of a clock-work machine for roasting the nuts. The price of peanuts went down to five cents a quart.

News and Notes.

The Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Company have extended their wires from Nashville, Tenn., to New Orleans, through Mississippi and Alabama, and now take despatches to that point.

Mr. Honore of Chicago, the father-in-law of Colonel Fred. Grant, has just filed a voluntary petition to be adjudicated a bankrupt. His secured debts amount to $1,-554,089, and the unsecured debts to $973,-146.

A reporter approached Governor Hartranft as he was getting aboard a train in Philadelphia, with this pointed question: "Governor, where are you going?" The governor replied quite as pointedly: "I will let you know when I get there."

A Reading company of militia which fraternized with the mob has been ignobly dismissed from the service.

"Pittsburg is dead as to all trade" is the confession of one of the newspapers of that city.

The Portland Locomotive Works have just received orders from the European & North American Railway and other railroads which will enable the company to increase their force to 250 men—a larger number than it has been able to employ for two years.

Gen. Blinton, who commanded the Philadelphia regiment which fired upon the Pittsburg mob, now says that when his men were driven from the round-house, numbers of the city police hooted at them, and even went so far as to fire upon them. It is scarcely worth while to appeal to the Mayor. When they reached the arsenal gates he asked Major Buffington to supply the regiment with ammunition. The Major replied in the rudest manner, telling him to clear out, as the regiment would not be allowed to remain there a minute.

Gov. Williams seems to be doing his best to bring the State into disrepute. Not content with exciting foreign censure by his dalliance with law-breakers, he has made himself a subject of ridicule at Washington by the sneaking and back-handed manner of his application for Government troops. Probably one result of this crisis will be to convince the people of Indiana of the propriety of having a man of character and nerve for Governor.—Indianapolis Journal.

Patsey Gallagher and Jack Hogan, two notorious roughs and prize-fighters of New York, had a brutal contest Tuesday night in a room at Brooklyn, for $100 a side Gallagher won; both brutes were shockingly pounded, but neither is likely to die—worse luck.

The Mayor of St. John has made public through the local press that all messages sent over the wires by his office on behalf of the sufferers by the fire were sent by the Western Union Telegraph Company free of charge.

The Chicago Times says that "at least one-fifth of every riotous gathering in the streets in that city was composed of women. The majority of them seemed to be present for the sole purpose of gratifying an insatiable curiosity. That they openly defied the police until deserted by the men is a fact."

A tramp arrested at Clinton, Me., July 31st, fired a revolver at the officer and hit Cushman Brown in the groin. He then fatally shot himself.

New Hampshire Items.

Ferdinand Clough had his left arm broken in two places at Enfield on Tuesday, while at work in Leviston's tannery.

The Stark Mills Company at Manchester is to build a new mill 150 feet long and four stories high, and will also add a story to No. 1 mill.

Ally Lock of Littleton, eight years old, ate some poisonous fruit while picking berries Friday, July 20th, and died the next day from the effects.

Henry J. Furber, the insurance financier who has succeeded so well in attracting the wrath of the policy-holders in the Charter Oak by his management, is a Great Falls man.

Joseph Ham of Thornton has sued for $10,000 for injuries received by his carriage wheel dropping through a hole in a culvert last Fall. He has been disabled since last November.

The Peterboro Postmaster having held the office sixteen years the Department at Washington has suggested that the republicans of the town select a new one.

Persons who have never seen the Old Man of the Mountain in the Franconia region had better lose little time in obtaining a view of it. The profile is said to be wearing away with considerable rapidity, as the frost cracks off large pieces of rocks every spring.

State Superintendent of Schools Cathell will hold two or more conventions of teachers in each of the counties during September and October,—a practice that has been obsolete since the legal provision for them was abolished two years ago.

The little steamer Lady Woodsum, running on Sunapee lake, exploded her boiler and sank on Wednesday. There were eighteen passengers on board at the time, but all were saved. The engineer's hands were blown off.

The authorities at Concord on Wednesday decided upon the following military organizations to attend the Bennington centennial: Amoskeag Veterans of Manchester, Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, Manchester War Veterans, Strafford Guards of Dover, Hinsdale Guards of Hinsdale, State Capital Guards of Concord, Gov. Cheney Guards of Peterboro, all under command of Col. White of Peterboro', colonel of the 2d Regiment. All commissioned officers of the State militia will be invited; transportation and shelter will be furnished by the State; subsistence by the troops themselves.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equaled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

—The way people are looking after the pennies makes this the age of sentiment.

—A leading character in navigation—The youth who leads the mules of a canal boat.

—When you see a man who has been owing you $5 of borrowed money for a year past skipping home with a bran new shiny plug hat on, and a big basket of early grapes daintily carried in his right hand, it does indeed make you feel that there are cases which the law doesn't reach or where a man is fully justified in being his own avenger.

—The Richmond Dispatch says: "The past is gone; the future is before us." This is important, if true. The Dispatch must have had a revelation. It would be a terrible awakening, indeed, if we should discover after all, that the past won't be here for a hundred years, while we passed the future and left it behind us in the middle of the last century. However, if the Dispatch is pretty certain about it, we'll take the chances and go right along.—Burlington Hawkeye.

—When those regular troops passed through the streets on their arrival last week the "bread-or-blood" fellows didn't say a word to them. They looked "so sort of careless, you know," that it wasn't worth while bothering with them. They come from the plains, have no friends, and shoot just as often as the order is given, and in a hand-to-hand contest each one of them can lick a mob of communists. They are "a hard crowd."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

—A high-collared, eye-glassed, mutton-chop-whiskered, snobbish-looking English-man up at the Glen House, the other day was gazing at the big patch of snow on Mount Jefferson with an immense amount of wonder. Finally he turned to a native and inquired: "I say, mistaw, can—ah—you tell me if that is snow I see up yon-daw?" "No, sir, it is not," was the reply. "But, sir," exclaimed the Englishman, "I am told it—ah—is a snow bank, and you know—" "I know," said the American, "that they say it is snow, but"—he added confidentially—"I don't mind telling you how it is. You see, a few of us went over there to-day and we found it is nothing but a big ledge which our friend Milliken here has had whitewashed so as to make his guests think they are looking at a snow bank. I tell you, my friend, there is nothing these Yankee hotel men won't do to get custom."

MR. THOMAS W. MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was sick three years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I know I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. JOHN W. LORD.
Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."
EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago, I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know of them. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE
Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Fulton.
DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for over twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mabie, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one for Mrs. Laura Morrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.
Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.
LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve You Lungs.
or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders.

Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e subsistance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Other Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Exaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Florida Rattlesnakes.

A Florida hunter tells the following snake-stories:

You may spend the whole winter fishing and hunting in Florida, and not see a snake. This is easily explained. For years the peninsula has been a vast cattle range. During spring and autumn, cow boys burn the dry prairies and savannas to keep the grass fresh and green. These fires spread to the scrub and hammocks, and thousands of reptiles perish. On walking over the blackened ground, it is not uncommon to see the tail of a dead snake protruding from a mole hole. Caught by the fire in an effort to escape, he is burned to death.

Of the different species of snakes, only two are thought to be poisonous. They are the moccasin and the rattlesnake. Their venom readily yields to the whiskey treatment if taken in time, although this in a measure depends upon the location of the bite. It is said that a man in Alachua county died within five minutes after being bitten. The reptile's fangs struck him in the neck while he was sleeping, and ejected poison into the jugular vein. Moccasins are divided into four classes, the cottonmouth, the stump-tail, a water moccasin, similar to our water pilot, and an upland moccasin, resembling a copperhead in shape, and fully as deadly.

The rattlesnake is divided into two families. The most virulent is the ground rattler. It is between twelve and twenty inches long, and not much larger than a common lead pencil. It coils, springs its tiny rattle, and jumps the same as its larger brother. Its skin is a bright black in color; but the diamond marks are not so clearly defined as in the big rattler. During the hot summer days it lies under sand-sweeping palmetto fans, or creeps into gardens and sleeps in the shade of the cabbages and bananas. In clearing up litter, a man might easily pick up one unawares.

The genuine rattlesnakes grow to a monstrous size, and their colors are more brilliant than those of the Northern species. They have been killed twelve feet long, and as large around as a stove-pipe. Capt. Devall of Palatka avers that he saw one, twenty odd years ago, with forty-seven rattles. Incredible as this may seem, Colonel Pratt, of the Palatka Herald, declares that he has seen one with fifty-two. These serpents frequent high sandy ridges, and occasionally lurk in gardens and in ploughed fields. They have even been known to make their way into barns and houses. The beach scrub, where seldom burned, is alive with them. Some monsters have been killed on Anastasia Island, opposite St. Augustine. In the spring I have counted in one day, on the beach between Canaveral and Indian river inlet, ten freshly shed skins.

After one rattlesnake is killed, another is found near it. If the body of the dead reptile is dragged through the house or across a cattle pen, its mate is pretty sure to take up the trail and follow it. Through the winter these snakes are dormant. They live in holes made by the gopher and the land turtle, and are concealed in many of the old coquina ruins dotting the eastern coast. As the summer approaches, they pair off and hunt in couples. The numberless trails in the scrub and savannas made by deer, coons, wildcats, and otters, are their favorite lurking places. Here they lie in ambush, and many an unfortunate rabbit and opossum falls under their fangs.

Nor are the low savannas and salt-water marshes free from these great snakes. Last summer as Judge Connor, of Live Oak Hill, was crossing the wide open prairie at the head of Indian river, he saw a plump gray squirrel cutting queer antics on a spot of bare sand. As the sand was fully a mile from any tree, and covered with salt water six months in the year, the Judge's curiosity was excited. To use his own words, "the squirrel was jumping around right smart, and appeared as if he didn't know what to do with himself." Its attention was not distracted by the Judge's approach, for it continued prancing over the sand in a concentric course, as though crazed. The Judge walked up with the intention of capturing it. Suddenly he was confronted by an enormous rattlesnake. It was stretched out in the wire grass surrounding the sand, with its head toward the squirrel. On seeing the Judge, it threw itself into a coil and made a noise like that of a buzz saw. Its tail rattled with terrible earnestness. The squirrel ceased his antics, and sat up on the sand as motionless as a statue. Finding neither stick nor stone on the prairie, the Judge tried to scare the snake by threatening gestures. These incensed the reptile. It reared both crest and tail, darted out its forked tongue, and jumped fully eight feet toward the Judge. He then got angry, and threw clods of earth and grass. At this the serpent flew into an ungovernable rage. Its eyes fairly flashed fire. Apparently aware that there was no dangerous weapon within reach, it ran straight for the Judge, as though it meant to close with him. It finally became so active that Connor was glad to leave it. As he walked away it resumed its position, and the squirrel began his dance of death, charmed by its buzzing music. The Judge says that the snake was certainly nine feet long. The mystery is, how came the squirrel and its charmer on a salt-water prairie a mile from any tree.

More singular still, these rattlers have been seen swimming in the salt water. Dr. Wallace of Daytona informs me that he has seen them apparently crossing from the beach to the main land at Castle Windy. Three years ago, Capt. Neil of New Bedford, one of Swift's live-oak superintendents, met a monster near Mosquito Inlet, going out with the tide. The snake espied Neil's boat, and made a desperate effort to board her. The Captain beat it off with the oars, but the fight lasted two or three minutes. The serpent, at last disabled, drifted away with the current, and was finally swallowed by a shark.

The larger rattlers are said to follow herds of cattle. Cow boys say that they smell the milk dropping from the udders of the cows, and take up the trail, with a view to milking them. This is done while the cows are lying on the ground chewing their cuds. When the serpent takes the teat in its mouth, the cow stops chewing, and becomes as still as death. Thus she remains until the scaly thief is satisfied. She seems to know that the least motion would be fatal. One snake has been known to milk two cows successively.

In the fall, when palmetto berries are ripe, the rattler crawls to the top of the tree, and hides beneath its dark green fans. The berries attract the cardinal grosbeaks, bullfinches, mocking birds, and paroquets, and they fall under the infernal magnetism of the snake.

The rattlesnake when trodden on does not invariably bite a person. Bethune, an old Indian river mail carrier, while deer hunting last summer, stepped square on a rattler. He felt it yield and move under his feet, and then heard its ominous humming. He jumped nearly ten feet, and turned as white as a sheet, but he says that the snake made no effort to bite him.

The enemies of the rattlesnake include the hog, the deer, and the eagle. The hog thrusts his fat chops into the snake's face, meekly receives its bite, seizes the reptile by the neck, places its hoofs on its body, and tears it asunder. No blood is drawn, the poison is harmless in the fat, and the porker gets a fair meal. A drove of hogs will clear the wildest country of rattlesnakes. When a buck sees a rattler, he springs upon it like lightning, bringing his feet together upon its head and body, thus cutting it to pieces; for the hoofs of a Floridian deer are as hard and sharp as a razor. An eagle kills the snake while it is sunning itself. The bird descends with the velocity of an arrow, striking the reptile with such force as to sever the vertebræ.

But the deadliest foe of the rattler is the common black snake. He is a public benefactor, and ought to be protected by the State Legislature, even if he does pick up a chicken or two occasionally. He grows very long, and unlike his Northern compeer, never assails a human being. The rattler fears and shuns him; and well he may, for the black snake is as agile and quick as the mainspring of a watch, and as full of fight as a bull dog. Meeting his antagonist, he attacks without delay. After coiling and sounding an alarm, the rattler keenly watches its assailant. At first the black snake slowly glides around its spiral enemy, as though studying its weak points. He frequently hisses and increases his speed with each cycle, ever keeping an eye on the rattler. The latter twists its head with every revolution of its assailant. Swifter sweeps the black snake around the circle. At the full bent of his speed the rattler grows dizzy. In a twinkling it is caught by the throat, and the coils of the two snakes are intermingled. The contest is decided by main strength. As they writhe in the grass the superior prowess of the black snake is manifest. The rattler is slowly strangled. Sometimes its body is swallowed, but this does not always follow. The coach whip, a long, clean-cut snake, frequently assists the black snake, and instances are given in which a dozen coach whips and black snakes joined forces and killed a small regiment of rattlers.

Vultures and buzzards, with all their appetite for carrion, will never touch anything bitten by a rattlesnake; but when his snakeship himself is killed, they devour him with the greatest relish.

The Miner's Strike.

The railroad strike, and the rule of the mobs of thieves and loafers in the cities, are virtually ended, but the coal-miners of Pennsylvania are still riotous. Scranton was in possession of the strikers all day Wednesday, the shops where the men wanted to work being forced to shut down by the mob. There were two fights between the rioters and a vigilance committee, in the first of which the mob were victorious, but they were beaten in the second one, and four of their number killed and many wounded. The Mayor was assaulted and badly injured, while trying to restore order.

The Eastern War.

Osman Pasha claims to have killed 8000 Russians, and wounded 24,000, besides capturing a vast quantity of arms and ammunition, in the battles before Plevna. Reports from other sources indicate that the Russians have met with a severe check at Plevna, at the least.

A despatch from Constantinople, dated July 31, says the Russians are bombarding Yeni Saghra; this indicates that the previous reports of a Russian repulse there were false.

Bucharest telegrams say that 100,000 troops were engaged on each side in the great battle at Plevna. The Russians were routed and disorganized, and poured across the Sistova bridge retreating into Roumania.

From Asia Minor, it is reported that the Russians are again advancing on Kars.

A Smart Piece of Work.

In London they have been celebrating the 400th anniversary of the introduction of printing into England by Caxton, the most noteworthy feature of which was an exhibition of Caxton's works at South Kensington, and a grand dejeuner. The Printing Times and Lithographer states that the Bible held by Mr. Gladstone at the dejeuner as the "climax and consummation" of the art of printing was printed at Oxford, at the University Press, bound in London, and delivered at the South Kensington Exhibition Buildings literally within twelve consecutive hours. The book was printed, not from stereotypes, as some of the papers stated, but from moveable type, set up a long time ago, and not used for years. The printers commenced to make their preparations soon after midnight, and the printing actually commenced at 2 A. M.; the sheets were artificially dried, forwarded to London, folded, rolled, collated, sewn, subjected to hydraulic pressure, gilded, bound, and taken to South Kensington before 2 P. M. The book consists of 1,052 pages 16 mo., minion type, and is bound in Turkey morocco, beveled boards, flexible back, gilt lettered on back and inside cover, with the arms of the Oxford University on its obverse side; and is free from the "set off" or blemish which its hasty production might have excused. It contains an explanatory inscription and title: "In Memorium Gul Caxton," with the occasion and date of the edition printed at the bottom of each of its thirty-three sheets. The books are numbered 1 to 100 and copies are already allotted to the Queen, the Duke of Devonshire, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earl of Beaconsfield, the Emperor of Brazil, Mrs. Gladstone, Earl Spencer, General and Mrs. Grant, Mr. Jas. Lennox, of New York, Mrs. Pierrepont, wife of the American Minister, Earl Jersey, Prince Louis Lucien Bonaparte, the Library of the Academie Francaise, and several large public libraries in England and abroad, each book being inscribed with the name of the original presentee. The idea of producing the Bible under the circumstances originated with Mr. Henry Stevens, an eminent bibliographic authority on the subject of Bibles, who catalogued and arranged the splendid collection in the Caxton Exhibition. Mr. Stevens applied to the University Press, Oxford, to enable him to give it effect. How efficiently they co-operated is quite evident from the result. The event was quite a sensation of the day; whilst copies of the "Caxton Bible" are already scarce, if not unattainable.

New Hampshire Items.

Sixty-five deaths were reported in Manchester for the month of July.

Mrs. Phillip Badger of Warner was thrown from a carriage on Friday and severely injured.

Hon. Moody Currier has presented an elegant and substantial drinking fountain to the city of Manchester, to be erected in front of the Amoskeag Bank.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council, Aug. 1st, Hon. Lewis W. Clark of Manchester was nominated for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The following were appointed Commissioners for the erection of the new State Prison: John Kimball of Concord, A. M. Shaw of Lebanon and Alpha J. Pillsbury of Northwood.

Hedding Camp Meeting at East Epping, will commence Monday, August 27th, at 2 o'clock, P. M., and close the Saturday morning following. The usual ample provisions for board and refreshments have been made. The boarding house will be opened on Tuesday, August 14th. The committee have a fine new building in which they have furnished rooms to rent at reasonable rates.

Ohio State Convention.

The Ohio republicans, in State convention assembled, on Wednesday, Aug. 1st, nominated William H. West of Bellefontaine for Governor, on the second ballot. The candidate for Lieut. Governor is Fred Voegler; for Supreme Judge, W. W. Johnson; Att'y General, George K. Nash. The platform and resolutions of the last National Convention were reaffirmed; entire confidance was expressed in the honesty and patriotism of President Hayes, and his efforts for the pacification of the South and the purifying of the civil service approved. The remonetization of the silver dollar was demanded; opposition expressed to the granting of further aid to railroads by the General Government, and to the extension of patents which oppress the people; and the establishment of National authority over all "National highways" was urged, with the creation by law of some kind of board of arbitration to settle disputes between railroads and their employes.

News and Notes.

Mayor Jackman of Newburyport on the 1st inst. sent an official document under the city seal to A. J. Haynes, agent of the temperance paper, the "Word of Truth," forbidding him to sell any more copies of that paper under penalty of prosecution to the extent of the law.

Indignation is freely expressed in New York and elsewhere by the public and press at the discharge of young men by employers because they served with their regiments during the recent troubles. Six men of the Ninth New Jersey Regiment were discharged by employers in Hoboken. Six of the Seventy-first Regiment, two of the Eleventh, four of the Ninth, two of the Twenty-third and two or three from nearly every other regiment in New York and Brooklyn were discharged by their employers. Assistant Postmaster Brown of Brooklyn threatened to discharge several men of the old Fourteenth Regiment for obeying the military orders to serve with their regiments. This case is to be brought to the attention of President Hayes,—and if Brown isn't "bounced" promptly it will not be because he doesn't deserve to be. Several employers who have discharged members of the militia are to be prosecuted by the Judge Advocate of the State for obstructing the laws for the defense of the life and property of citizens.

A Scandinavian calling himself Hans Peterson has been arrested at Brownfield, Me., a station on the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad, by the station master, while breaking into the office at that place. He is the fellow who has recently broken into the stations at Westbrook and South Windham, Glen Station, Upper Bartlett, Bemis' and Centre Conway, as is proved by the finding in his possession of property stolen from those places.

The disbursing officers of the House of Representatives have got into trouble. It seems that they contracted for a large amount of coal, advanced money to the company, and now the coal company is bankrupt and can make no delivery. The law against advancing money on government contracts is very plain and severe, and the officers of the House, under whose authority the money was paid, will doubtless have to sustain the loss, if any occurs.

The Augusta (Maine) Journal thinks that "when Bro. Morrill of the Gardiner Home Journal states that the expenses of his establishment from Nov. 1st to June 1st, were $755.62 more than his receipts, he records the experience of more than two-thirds of the newspaper offices of that State. The outside world know little of the cost of a newspaper." And the Littleton Argus thinks the above will apply to New Hampshire newspapers as well as to those of Maine.

It appears that English shippers and underwriters are becoming nervous over the frequent loss of vessels by spontaneous combustion of coal. Every year large numbers of coal-laden vessels are posted at Lloyds as missing, with all hands, and it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that they have been burned in mid-ocean, and not a human being preserved to relate the causes. The figures show that 1,155 lives have been lost, and a tonnage of 30,000, representing 37,000 tons of coal, has been destroyed, through the spontaneous combustion of coal at sea.

Spain is getting ready for another year's expenditure of blood and treasure in Cuba, and her investment is one that would hardly be taken off her hands at five cents on the dollar. She has negotiated a loan of $25,000,000 for the coming year's campaign, which shows that, in spite of her boasts, this stupid old country comprehends that the rebellion is hardly less formidable than it was nine years ago.

Nathan Lawrence, hailing from Newport, Me., the tramp who shot Mr. Cushman Brown while he was trying to arrest him, and then shot himself, at Clinton, Me., on Tuesday, July 31, died Tuesday night. On his person were found two pistols, a knife, a pair of steel knuckles and quite a lot of silver. Mr. Brown will recover.

Gov. Stone of Mississippi, the man who said it would "not do to stir this thing [the Kemper County massacre] up," was nominated for re-election by the democrats on the 1st inst.

The Commune.

The arrest of Albert Curlin, in St. Louis, may lead to some interesting discoveries. It is evident that the wide-spread disorder of the last ten days must have been the result of organization and of an impulse from some central influence. The existence of the International Society in this country might reasonably be inferred from these demonstrations, if it were not already known. Meanwhile, a Paris letter to the Philadelphia Press, contains some intimations worth noting:

"The Internationals are recruited from the worst elements, such as have no sympathy with the existing order of things, and desire a social as well as political revolution. They are as hostile to the Republic of the United States as to the most absolute despotism. They, in fact, hate it more than any other government, as its demonstration of the possibility of self-government prevents the success of Communism. The International is a secret organization, with salaried officers and agents actively at work in Europe and America, the declared enemy of the political institutions of every country and every religion, atheistical, anarchical, and subversive of established notions of right and justice. When the mot d'ordre is given to stir up strife, to raise mobs, to kindle insurrections against governments, it must be obeyed. Its orators are specially instructed to denounce corporations, the accumulations of capitalists, the right of anybody to rule but the Communists, and to advocate the redistribution of property, the abolition of all distinctions created by individual effort, and the entire reorganization of society. One of the leading Internationalists recently boasted that the American Republic would ere long be supplanted by Communism, and that as there would then be no capital there could be no further strife between capital and labor."

Matrimony Made Easy.

A "matrimonial lottery" is the latest idea of the Kansas city Times. It has instituted a "matrimonial drawing," for which maidens and widows send their names (and photographs if they choose), and bachelors and widowers also furnish to the newspaper their names and addresses. The former are the premiums and the latter the subscribers,—the latter, for the drawing already held, being by far the more numerous, each one of whom had stated over his signature that he was an unmarried man. Drawing takes place as in a lottery, the man whose name is drawn with a woman's number being expected to make her acquaintance, and, if agreeable, to marry her. At the July drawing two hundred and forty-two women thus put themselves up for chance acquaintance with men, and the result of the drawing is announced in the next issue of the paper. Besides the matrimonial there is a pecuniary lottery, entirely distinct, where the amount of money to be distributed is small, but the privilege of buying a ticket is limited to patrons of the paper. Besides the notoriety which the journal achieves, money is made by the lottery business.

—It has been decided in Texas that a negro can marry a white woman whenever he finds one willing, but whether he is expected to shoot her if she refuses, as white men do, is not stated.

A Remedial Agent of Uncommon Power.

It is a fact which became patent years ago to the people of the United States, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a remedial agent of uncommon power. As a consequence of this recognition, its sales have increased immensely at home and abroad, and it has risen to a foremost rank among the proprietary medicines of the day. Chemical analysts, after submitting it to the closest scrutiny, pronounce it absolutely pure, and skilful and conscientious medical practitioners recommend its use. A wide range of disorders falls within the scope of its curative operation. Among them are enumerated dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, nervous ailments, urinary and uterine affections, rheumatism and gout. It is a supremely efficacious tonic, hastens convalescence, cheers the mind, imparts appetite, and promotes sound sleep.

A Toilet Essential.

Pomades and cosmetics may be dispensed with, but not so the Fragrant Sozodont; the most wholesome and efficient article for the teeth that the world has ever known.

Its popularity is immense. In the brown stone palace and the cottage, it is alike considered indispensable.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

EASTERN RAILROAD MATTERS.

At half-past nine o'clock on the evening of the 1st inst., Sheriff Kent, armed with a writ drawn by Samuel C. Eastman, Esq., of Concord, proceeded to the round-house of the Eastern Railroad, and on behalf of the National Bank of Commerce of Boston, in a suit against the Eastern Road for $100,000, attached the locomotives numbered 16, 65, 67 and 89, and placed a keeper upon each engine. Aware of the great inconvenience to which the public would be subjected if the four locomotives were prevented from running next day, Col. Kent then informed station master Barrett of the condition of affairs, and that gentleman at once consulted with Mr. "Doc" Ferguson as to what could be done, the railroad officials being considerably "consternated" by the movement made. Col. Eastman, the bank's attorney, was at the Rockingham House, and after some hours an arrangement was effected by which the attached locomotives were allowed to run as usual, carrying the Sheriff's keepers with them at the expense of the road, thus avoiding any interruption of travel. Two of the engines referred to run on the Conway road and one on the Dover road, the other being used as a shifting engine at this station.

Two other writs were served simultaneously, one at North Conway and one at Wolfeboro', in another suit by the same bank against the Eastern Railroad, for $30,000, the engines numbered 20, 66, and 68 being attached at those places. The morning train from North Conway was brought down by engine No. 23, which has been stationed up country as a relief engine, or something of the kind, not being a first-class machine, as we are informed. Arrangements were made with Col. Eastman on Thursday, we hear, by which the engines attached up country can be run on the same terms as those seized in this city.

THE "GRANITE STATE."

The new ship "Granite State," built at Neal's shipyard at Kittery, is the largest, and is claimed by her owners to be the best built merchantman ever put together on the Piscataqua; and after a visit to this splendid specimen of naval architecture, and carefully inspecting her under the guidance of Capts. Marcy and Ross, and Messrs. John Neal and Charles H. Downs, we are strongly inclined to consider the claim fully substantiated, and that everything which experience could suggest or the most liberal outlay secure has been done to make the noble ship as firm as she should be to do honor to her name.

There has been used in the construction of the "Granite State" over 500,000 feet of yellow pine, 650 tons of ship timber, 35,000 feet of white pine, 100 tons of iron and a large amount of copper; she is very heavy fastened, and trenailed all through with the best of locust. Great care has been taken to utilize all her room to the best advantage, and throughout her accommodations are of the first order.

Her length over all is 252 feet; breadth of beam, 41 feet 6 inches; depth of hold, 24 feet. She has a long floor, is sharp fore and aft, will have a very large carrying capacity, and unless her model belies her will be a fast sailer. She has a five-foot poop running six feet forward of the mainmast, timbered up the same as a three-decked ship as far as the poop deck. There are four main keelsons sixteen inches square, fastened to the main keel with 1 1-2 inch iron; two sister keelsons each side of the main keelson, 30 by 13 inches, fastened with 1 1-4 inch iron. Her ceiling is of the best yellow pine, commencing at the floor timber heads with planks 14 by 15 inches, running up above the bilge; the remainder are 12 and 14 inches. The clamps are 10 inches, all square bolted with 1 1-4 inch iron. There are three lower deck water ways, similarly fastened. She has double beams in all her working hatchways; also double water ways on her upper deck. She is square bolted throughout, one bolt being driven out and the other in. The outside planking is of the best material and unusual thickness, and fastened in the most thorough manner.

The cabin and joiner work, by Mr. C. H. Downs of this city, reflect credit on the designer and master workman; better work has seldom been seen than in this ship. The after house is 48 feet long and 24 wide, having a pilot house in the forward end, and the main entrance to the forward and after cabins. The companionway ladder, of hard wood, on either hand leads into the forward cabin, which contains rooms for the officers, pilot room, steward's room and pantry, with bins and tanks for holding ship's stores. The forward cabin will be used as a dining saloon. The mizzen mast will be handsomely cased, and ornamented on the forward side with the New Hampshire coat of arms in a rich frame; an armory will be built on the after side.

The after cabin will be splendidly fitted, with all the modern improvements. The finish is white, enameled doors and panels, with Webster's latest patterns of moulding and caps. The gangway entrance leading to the after cabin is fitted with a hard wood ladder mounted with brass. The after cabin saloon is 15 feet long and 11 feet wide, lighted by sky and side-lights. There are spare staterooms, bath-room, closets, etc. The furniture is to be of the latest pattern and very handsome; and not the least important article is a very large and convenient medicine chest, which will be stocked by Mr. Wm. R. Preston.

While the "after-guard" have been so carefully provided for, the seamen have not been forgotten. The forward house, 43 feet long and 19 feet wide, has in its forward part two forecastles for the crew, with separate entrances to each, and with fittings for stoves in cold weather. There are berths for twenty men, and the arrangements for their comfort are the best we have ever seen. Aft of the forecastle are the boys' room, and carpenter's room, carpenter's shop, (extending the whole width of the house,) and the ship's galley, which is fitted with sinks, lockers and shelves arranged with an eye to cleanliness and comfort. The boys' sleeping rooms occupy the after end of the house. The important end of good ventilation has been sought to be attained in every room in the ship which is to be occupied by human beings.

The spar work, by Mr. William R. Martin, is being done in a manner which will maintain his deservedly high reputation as a mechanic. The lower masts are built of the best southern yellow pine, and heavily banded. The lengths are: fore, 79 feet; main, 82 feet; mizzen, 76 feet. The fore and main topmasts are each 51 feet long; the length of the maintopgallant, royal and skysailmast and pole is 67 feet. Length of main yard, 84 feet; topsail yard, 76; topgallant yard, 66; royal yard, 44; skysail yard, 34 feet. The bowsprit is 23 feet outboard and 30 inches in diameter. Her jibboon is 58 feet long. She will be fitted with double topsail yards.

The iron work is done by Mr. B. Frank Rice, the well known shipsmith of this city, and like all the rest of the work, is being done in the very best manner.

The rigging work, we regret to say, is to be done by Boston parties: not that it will not be well done, but we think our own riggers would have done it as well and as cheaply. Mr. Frank Low is the master rigger; the rigging is to be of wire, and the ship will have an extra topmast backstay to each side on all her masts, and double topgallant backstays.

She is fitted with Emerson's patent windlass, said to be the best in use, and Russell & Son's patent pumps.

Mr. John Neal is the master builder, and Mr. David Badger foreman. Capts. Marcy and Ross have given her their personal superintendence, and left nothing undone to make her as good as any ship ever built in the State of Maine, if not the best one ever built there. The "Granite State" is rated A 1 for eleven years in French Lloyds.

The owners are Messrs. Peter and Daniel Marcy and John Neal, and Capt. Ross, each owning one-fourth. She will be commanded by Capt. Ross, who has had marked success as a shipmaster for over twenty years.

It was intended to have launched the "Granite State" on Saturday, the 4th inst.; but the tide not serving right the launch has been postponed until next week, probably Wednesday or Thursday.

When launched she will be taken to the navy yard to be masted, rigged and ballasted, and will remain there until ready for sea.

The building of this vessel has given employment for many months to a large number of mechanics and laborers, many of whom would otherwise most probably have been idle much of the time; and if nothing else influenced us, the fact that she was built on the Piscataqua, and the money paid for labor distributed among our own workmen at a time of marked depression, would make us heartily wish success to the good ship "Granite State." Long may she float, and success attend all her ventures!

A SERVICEABLE RAILWAY CAR.

The Conway train from Boston that is due in this city at twenty-seven minutes past 10 A. M. was detained at this station a short time on Thursday morning by a "hot box" of a new car technically styled an "observation car." While the heated journal was being cooled, we stepped on board and examined this new addition to the rolling stock of one of the best equipped railroads in the country. The car is free from any superfluous adornment both outside and inside, but for comfort, cleanliness and convenience it is unsurpassed. It differs from the cars of this character that are being run on the Portland & Ogdensburg and some other roads, in the fact that its sides can be thrown entirely open to give the traveler a full view of the surrounding country, or they may be shut as closely from the weather as the ordinary passenger car. When closed it presents the appearance of a common car, but in three minutes or less it can be changed into such a shape that the occupant will conclude that he has been left out-of-doors. The interior is furnished with comfortable, high-backed, cane-seat chairs that revolve in space enough for the longest legs, and by their peculiar construction, give rest to the whole body, at the same time affording the best facilities for observation outside, or for conversing with traveling companions within. The car will seat seventy-five persons, leaving room for easy moving about among the sitters. It is arranged somewhat after the plan of the Pullman, only in many respects it is greatly to be preferred to the latter. There being no extra charge for seats in the new observation car, there is of course a great rush for them at the several stations, so that they are generally well filled. There is one such car a day each way on every through train from Boston to the White Mountains, and for such a luxury Gen. Rockwell (the President of the Eastern Road) deserves the thanks of the traveling public for thus catering still further to the comfort of the patrons of the road. While this road has had and is still having an unfortunate financial experience, still it is unsurpassed by any railroad in New England for the elegance, comfort and cleanliness of its passenger coaches, and Gen. Rockwell seems as fully determined to keep ahead of all competing lines in the matter of providing conveniences as any of his predecessors.

THE FLOUR SHOW.

The exhibition of the cooking qualities of Hecker's self-raising flours at N. F. Mathes & Co's store, Thursday afternoon, was attended by over a thousand persons, most of whom were ladies, the "best families" of the city being largely represented. A range and gas stove were used for cooking, and bread was made by Mr. John Stevens of the Sailor's Home, and cake by Mr. George Rice, in large quantities, and distributed among the ladies present, who were quite enthusiastic over the merits of the newly-introduced (in this market) flours. Very nice jellies were made of the farina, at five minutes' notice, by Mr. Rice. Generous sample packages of the flours were given away to the ladies in attendance.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

The Republican Mayoralty caucus was held Thursday evening, the result being as follows:

Whole number of votes	444
Necessary for a choice	223
James A. Waterhouse had	1
Frank W. Miller	6
John H. Broughton	437

And Mr. Broughton was declared the republican candidate for Mayor.

JOTTINGS.

Republican caucuses in wards one, two, three and four this evening.

The Prohibition Caucus takes place this evening at Sons of Temperance Hall. See advertisement.

Morse & Ilsley will sell to-day (commencing at noon) to the highest bidder, house No. 95 State street, house No. 25 Gates street, four lots of land on Lincoln avenue, house No. 36 Deer street, and other desirable real estate, belonging to the bankrupt estate of J. C. Carr. Sale positive. See advertisement.

In our report of the first meeting of the Board of Instruction it was stated that Rev. Mr. DeNormandie was chosen chairman. This was an error; the Mayor, by the act of the Legislature creating the Board, is chairman ex officio. We overhauled the compositor severely for setting the report up as he did, and the only excuse he had to offer for his conduct was that he set up the item exactly as we wrote it.

The flood-gates of the North Mill-pond were lashed open on Thursday, allowing the water to flow out with the ebb of the tide, so as to allow of repairs being made to the tide-mill. The pond of course ran out much quicker and to a much lower level than usual; and as the water became shallow, and foul from the accumulation of sewage in the channel near the bridge, great numbers of fish, principally plaice and frost-fish, (both bottom-rangers,) appeared on the surface, evidently in distress and seeking to escape into deeper and purer water. Boys armed with spears caught many of the fish from the bridge, and hundreds died and floated back downward on the surface.

Fishing Schooner Lady Lincoln, Joseph Martin master, from Rockport, Mass., bound east, was lying in the lower harbor on the afternoon of the 2d inst., when two of the crew got into a row, and one of them, a Swede named Andrew Peterson, went for the other one, a Spaniard named Joseph Costa, with a fork, and Costa stabbed Peterson in the left side with a knife about four inches long, but the knife struck a rib, so the wound was not fatal. Both men were brought up to this city.

Lieut. Edward Woodman, U. S. N., formerly for a time stationed at this navy yard, died at Elizabeth, N. J. Aug. 2d, of malarial fever. He was a son of Hon. Charles W. Woodman of Dover, and was an officer of much promise.

Haymaking in the Hampton marshes has now set in as a steady job.

The Sunday School scholar that stands the highest in the State of New Hampshire is the youth at the Sabbath School organized by Mrs. John W. Dodge at the Summit House on top of Mount Washington as, he rises and begins "If I from sinful ways depart.

The medical man (!) of the CHRONICLE, in speaking of the autopsy on the body of Daley, says it disclosed "the fact that the knife entered the heart without touching the vital portion, thus prolonging what would otherwise have been an instantaneous death." Will he inform an anxious public what he means?—Times, July 9th.

A tramp who was arrested yesterday by the sheriff in Clinton, Maine, escaped and ran, and drawing a pistol, shot at one of his pursuers, the ball striking Mr. Cushman Brown in the groin. He then shot himself through the heart, and will probably die.—Times, Aug 1st.

—One of the striking costumes worn by bathers in the surf at Cape May is a lady's outfit glistening all over with silver anchors. These emblems of steadfastness did not, however, prevent their wearer from being knocked down by a big wave the other day and having to be ignominiously dragged up on shore by a fellow bather.

—The Murphy movement has begun in Illinois—They are shipping large quantities of Irish potatoes east.

—The latest sentimental poem is entitled "At the Bar." It was penned at a summer resort hotel, a half-an-hour before breakfast by the man who told his wife he was going out to look at the surf.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most efficient cures of Colds, Coughs, Consumptions, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Daily Chronicle.

—Judge Collamer, on assuming the charge of the post office department, at Washington, years ago, having previously been a member of Congress, was already acquainted with some of the clerks, whom he had met in the course of business, and one day, when contemplating some removals, he had called before him, among others, Mr. Marr, at present chief of the appointment office. In a half-serious, half-jovial manner, the judge said: "Well, Mr. Marr, do you think the department could get along without you?" The quick answer was evidently free from much apprehension of danger: "I don't know how that may be, judge; but I know that I couldn't get along very well without the department." He was retained.

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went out so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent, as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Cardiolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickcox, Rector of St. John's E. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a sprain more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 22d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Druggists pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment. White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Castoria.

Mothers may rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Pitcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimech, of Dupont, Ohio, says:

"I am using CASTORIA in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the CASTORIA. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. tnov1

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Strains, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Stings, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children teething may have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. tnov1

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have some flesh yet to gain. I shall regard my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indyiedi him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not used them, and he has not been at rest from the Rheumatism for twenty for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than I can or do recommend to you. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, but could only get temporary relief. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time, winter or ten winters, and have tried everything and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they told me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems is that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have live applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find five dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the busy trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croup, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy chief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors into some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e subsance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Acne or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucborrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

TO A PINK POND LILY.

What strange, new joy has reached thy heart of gold,
Tinging thy petals with a rosy light,
Causing thy waxen leaves, as they unfold,
With ecstasy to blush away their white?

Art flushed with thine own loveliness, or shy
With wondering o'er thy new-born bloom—
Hast thou found happiness, or dost thou sigh
At thy increase of beauty and perfume?

Dost grieve to find thyself less white
Though fairer than the blossoms of thy name?
Must thou regret because we find delight
In coveting thy beauty for thy fame?

Was it the rapturous dawning of a love
That warmed thy cold that to a radiant glow—
Bringing a message from the world above
To add new beauty to the world below?

Ah, strange, sweet flower; the answer in thy face
Our hearts interpret with a tender pain.
We feel the passion and the pathos of thy grace,
Sigh to behold, and looking, sigh again.

SARA JEWETT.

Psychological Influence.

Dr. George M. Beard read a paper on "The influence of Mind in the Causation and Cure of Disease." Dr. Beard cited two cases of organic disease of the spine which has received decided temporary relief while sitting under blue glass. The opinion was expressed that in time all works on therapeutics must include a chapter on mental therapeutics. From experiments and study, Dr. Beard was able to make the following psychological suggestions:—

First.—The ill success of patients treating themselves, and of physicians treating their own families, was partly due to the want of awe and the emotion of wonder to co-operate with them.

Second.—The old custom of keeping patients ignorant of the contents of prescriptions by writing them in Latin had psychology on its side. Possibly we may be going too far the other way.

Third.—It is entirely possible that hydrophobia and tetanus may be brought on, with all their distinctive symptoms, and that death may result, through the emotions of fear and expectation alone.

Fourth.—Patients whose will and intellect are feeble have a bad prognosis, for with them the subjective symptoms are trifling, and vice versa.

Fifth.—Physicians of great scientific attainments and real worth may fail when an ignorant and obscure charlatan succeeds, because in the latter wonder and awe are excited, and these are more powerful therapeutically than simple respect.

Sixth.—In experimenting in hospital with new medicines, patients must be deceived, or else the results are complicated by mental influence.—Medical Record.

Riots of the Past

Under a popular system of government, there ought to be no such thing as a riot to enforce a popular claim of any kind; but the people of a free country are not unlike those who live under a despotism, and there is always an element ready to break out into furious demonstrations to right what is regarded as a grievance. A list of some of the most notable riots since the Revolution, will be found to include the following:

In July, 1812, at Baltimore, a newspaper opposed to the war with England was demolished.

Sept. 24, 1831, four persons were killed by the militia in a riot at Providence.

August 18, 1835, several men killed and wounded in a riot at Baltimore, about the Bank of Maryland.

July 10-12, 1834, a riot occurred in New York City, about the supposed aims and objects of the Abolitionists, who were accused of promoting amalgamation.

August 11, 1834, a Catholic seminary or nunnery was burned at Charlestown, Mass.

August 12, 1834, forty houses were destroyed in an "abolition" riot in Philadelphia.

February 18, 1837, a riot was caused by the "hard times" and high prices of flour, and flour warehouses were sacked and the flour destroyed in New York.

May 17, 1838, Pennsylvania Hall and other buildings were destroyed by an "abolition" riot.

December 8, 1838, the Pennsylvania Legislature was broken up by a mob, and after several days of riot the militia were called out to suppress the rioters.

May 6, 1844, in a riot between native Americans and Irishmen, thirty houses were burned, fourteen persons killed and forty wounded. The military were called out to suppress the mob. The riot was renewed, July 4, 1844, when five thousand troops were called out and from forty to fifty killed before the mob was quelled in Philadelphia.

The Anti-Rent riots in Albany, Rensselaer, Delaware and Columbia counties from 1844 to 1847, were put down by the State militia of New York after much disturbance and destruction of property.

The Astor place riot, between the friends of Forest and Macready, took place May 10, 1849, when several persons, among them very many innocent spectators, were killed.

The great Anti-draft riot in New York, July 13-16, 1863, was the latest outbreak of the mob spirit upon any great scale previous to the present deplorable railroad riots, which have shocked and saddened the country, and caused great loss of life and property.—Rochester Express.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1877.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 2.

A great many, including Government officials who from their ample data are prepared to render intelligent judgment, are not deceived into a false security because the embargoes upon the roads have been relieved, and the trains are again running on schedule time. It is known that nearly or quite half a million of men who were leisurely perambulating the country when the outbreak occurred, who hastened to the centres of disturbances, gorged themselves with the spoils and were guilty of almost every excess known to the criminal code during the reign of terror, and who hastily scattered when order was so far restored as to make their punishment a foregone conclusion if they remained longer, are at their old tricks and ready to repeat their crimes at the first opportunity. A majority of them are loafers from choice. They will not work so long as they can gain a precarious subsistence by begging or intimidation. The cities are alike, with a class equally or more dangerous because their proximity to their fellow ruffians afford better opportunities for organization and concerted action. The fruits of their united reign for a few hours during the collapse of State and municipal authority are seen in the scores of new made graves, and in the ruins of millions of dollars' worth of property, still smoking at Baltimore, Reading, Pittsburg, Buffalo, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco and other points. They are only temporarily daunted and would return to the work of rapine and desolation with an added ferocity from their recent successes. Their capture and exemplary punishment, if it should fill every penitentiary to overflowing, is deemed the first duty; and as it was the skeleton of a Federal army that finally rescued us and that now stands between us and anarchy, almost the first thought was to increase its efficiency, by adding to its numbers. But evidence is not lacking to show that Congressional demagogues are preparing to oppose any increase of either army or navy, hoping thereby to increase their home popularity with the canaille. They will counterfeit a sympathy for the rabble, on the pretence that they are with labor in its fight with captial—endanger every interest—to advance their petty schemes for personal aggrandizement or to enhance the chances of partisan triumph. Were the sneering manners of these contemptible trimmers and time servers when alluding here to their constituencies, generally known among their supporters at home, it is likly that every man of them would be retired at the next election. We have the authority of the Baltimore Sun's correspondent for the statement that a Pennsylvania member has already indicated his purpose to secure the approbation of the Simon Tappertits of his District by urging the distribution of $10,000,000, from the Treasury, among the working people.

KNOX.

Attempted Train Wrecking.

A fiendish attempt was made Thursday morning to destroy or wreck a train of cars on the Concord Railroad, about three miles from Nashua. The particulars are as follows: When the section man, as is the custom in the morning, went over the line with his hand-car, he discovered that the rails near the entrance to the Pennichuck Bridge, which spans a brook of that name, had been tampered with. Further examination also disclosed the fact that both the rails on the down track had been loosed by some miscreants. The rails were thirty feet in length, and were the second length above the bridge in the town of Merrimack. The "fish bars" and the bolts had been removed, making the connection at the upper end of the rail, and the spikes which held the iron to the ties had been drawn and carried away, leaving the rails only attached to the road-bed by their weight, and the "fish-bars" at one end, and near by was found a small pinch bar and an old shovel. The bar was marked "Concord and Manchester R. R." The morning down passenger train was due at this point in a few moments and the iron had hardly been secured in its place before the train with its passengers went rushing past. It was a fortunate discovery for the passengers. If it had not been made in season to have been repaired, undoubtedly the engine, cars and their living freight of passengers would have been hurled from the abutments of the bridge, a distance of thirty feet to the rocky bed of the Pennichuck Brook below, and many have met a horrible death. It is supposed that the rails were tampered with after the morning freight train which arrives in Nashua at 5.15 had passed this point; it reached the depot all right. What the object of the wreckers was, is hard to conjecture, whether robbery or an old grudge against the company.

A London Scandal.

A London letter-writer says "London is now sorely scandalized over the elopement of Mr. Hungerford, a young man of good family whose wife is a leading personage in the "Prince of Wales' set," with Lady Tempest, the wife of Sir Charles Henry Tempest, bart., of Lancashire and Upper Grosvenor street, London. Sir Charles Tempest and his wife both belong to the old Catholic gentry of England. Sir Charles' mother was a daughter of Sir Thomas de Trafford, the head of one of the staunchest Catholic English houses. He was born in 1834, and fourteen years ago married Miss Hibbert, a daughter of Washington Hibbert, perhaps the most popular and highly esteemed Catholic gentleman of his time in England. That lady died after a short married life of two years, and Sir Charles Tempest was married for the second time in 1874, to Miss Harriette Gordon, a daughter of Captain Gordon of the forty-second Highlanders. The marriage was supposed to be a very happy one, and the sudden elopement of Lady Tempest has created therefore an uncommon excitement, especially in the best Catholic circles in England, in which Sir Chas. Tempest is universally esteemed."

Referring to this matter a correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel, writing from Racine, says:

"Tempest came to Racine in 1857. He was then an officer in the British army, but had been forced to leave the country for throwing his superior officer from the balcony into the parquet of a theatre. When he arrived here, under his assumed name of Charles Stuart, he went into business with a man named Loker, as forwarding and commission merchants. He ran things with a high hand. A first-class loafer and dead beat, he got into debt to everybody who would trust him. He was over-bearing, quarrelsome, and at all times under the surveillance of a man employed by his older brother to watch him. In 1860 or 1861 his brother died, and by this he gained the estate and title he now holds. He went back to England, and he married the lady who has now deserted him. The general opinion here is that she showed her good sense in leaving him, and the only wonder is that she remained with him as long as she did. Many of our citizens have cause to remember him, and would be glad to even get the amount of interest on their little accounts against him."

News and Notes.

Fully 1500 people witnessed the match between the Excelsior hand engine of Auburn, Me., and the Triumph of Berwick, which took place in Saco Thursday afternoon. The Triumph played a horizontal stream of 218 feet 8 inches, and the Excelsior 210 feet 4 inches. The victors were loudly cheered.

Detective C. S. Bell has been arrested at Washington upon a requisition from the Governor of Texas, charged with the murder of William Morris, in Texas, in 1869. Bell will be taken back to Texas at once. He was the official detective of General J. J. Reynolds commanding the military of the district of Texas during the reconstruction measures, and rendered much valuable service in the pursuit of lawless characters. He broke up several gangs of notorious outlaws, among them the Taylor gang, long a terror in that section of the country. In many instances he, alone and unaided, arrested desperate characters, who were known to have killed from one to ten persons each. He also acted as spy for General Grant during the Vicksburg campaign, holding at the same time a commission in General Shelby's Confederate cavalry, as a cover to his operations for the Federal commander. Bell is known throughout the Southwest as a desperate and fearless man.

Minister Pierrepont desires it to be understood that he has not had armorial bearings on his carriage, nor "anything but the initials E. P." Of the absence of General Grant and himself from the funeral of Mr. Motley he writes, in a personal letter to his father-in-law, Col. Willoughby of Saratoga: "Mr. Motley had been Minister to England, knew the etiquette well, and no one was a greater stickler for it. He never called upon me, although I had met him and conversed with him. Notwithstanding that, the day I heard of his death I called at the house, left my card and condolence, and although it was well known General Grant was my guest, neither of us received the slightest notice of where or at what hour the funeral was to take place."

The Pittsburg papers which abetted the strikers and belittled the militia have been making a hero of a young railroad employe named Robert Ammond, who undertook to run the road in the interests of the strikers. He did so for three days, and it is proudly recorded of him that in that time no accident occurred and no passes were issued without the young man's counter-signature. He is in his 25th year—tall, slender, intelligent, quick and forcible. With all his mistakes, he avers that he has never tasted a drop of strong drink. A year ago he came with a letter of introduction to Mr. Laying, admitting he had been wild, but expressing a desire to reform. He was placed on the road as brakeman, and soon attained a wonderful influence among his fellows.

The world moves. Hon. Alexander H. Stephens of Georgia appeared in Court recently as the attorney of a blind colored man.

Mr. Watterson not only lays aside his armor but he rises in the Courier-Journal to say that he put it on at the suggestion of Mr. Tilden. Speaking of his famous idea of massing 100,000 petitioners at Washington, during the counting of the Electoral vote, he says: "The hint was dropped by one who stood sufficiently near Mr. Tilden to justify the suspicion that it had not fallen without authority. It was dropped at a moment when the democrats were clamoring for a word and complaining that there was not so much as a shadow of a cue either to organization or action. Admit, for the sake of argument, that it was impracticable—a mere folly; yet it proposed something in the absence of every thing like movement." Confession is good for the soul, but nearly all of the current democratic confession consists of a mere unloading of responsibility upon Mr. Tilden's shoulders. There never was a man so treated by his friends before.—Tribune.

It has been clearly shown at the inquest at Pittsburg that the Philadelphia soldiers did not fire until two of their comrades had fallen. The first shots were fired by one of the mob, "a tall, thin man, wearing an old straw hat drawn down over his face," who went to work in a most business-like fashion. "He loaded his gun on the sidewalk," said one of the witnesses, "walked out into the middle of the street, kneeled down and shot at the soldiers. Then he walked over to the left and prepared his piece again."

The New York World, the organ of the free trade democracy, talks as follows on the labor question: "The American laborer must make up his mind henceforth not to be so much better off than the European laborer. Men must be content to work for less wages. * * * In this way the workingman will be nearer to that station of life to which it has pleased God to call him."

The whaler E. J. McKinnon, from the Arctic Ocean, reports having received information from the natives at Point Hope, through Capt. Ravens of the brig Miranda, that the men who were left on the abandoned whaling fleet last season are at Point Belcher. Nothing is known of the abandoned vessels.

Mr. Hans Breitmann Leland has presented to the British Museum a copy of President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation bearing the autograph signature of the President himself, countersigned by Mr. Seward, Secretary of State, and with his autograph. Only a very few copies were issued with these autograph signatures, and they have now become excessively difficult to procure.

Jay Gould was knocked down a cellar way in New York on Thursday, by a friend of James R. Keene.

A cigar box factory in Cincinnati was burned Friday, and four girls perished in the flames.

Schooner Florence, Capt. Tyson, sailed from New London for the Arctic regions on the 2d inst.

Seven men who were repairing a furnance lining at Pittsburg, Pa., Friday, were dropped into the furnace through the staging ropes being burned off. Two were taken out dead, and the others will die.

A Remedial Agent of Uncommon Power.

It is a fact which became patent years ago to the people of the United States, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a remedial agent of uncommon power. As a consequence of this recognition, its sales have increased immensely at home and abroad, and it has risen to a foremost rank among the proprietary medicines of the day. Chemical analysts, after submitting it to the closest scrutiny, pronounce it absolutely pure, and skilful and conscientious medical practitioners recommend its use. A wide range of disorders falls within the scope of its curative operation. Among them may be enumerated dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, nervous ailments, urinary and uterine affections, rheumatism and gout. It is a supremely efficacious tonic, hastens convalescence, cheers the mind, imparts appetite, and promotes sound sleep.

A Toilet Essential.

Pomades and cosmetics may be dispensed with, but not so the Fragrant Sozodont; the most wholesome and efficient article for the teeth that the world has ever known.

Its popularity is immense. In the brown stone palace and the cottage, it is alike considered indispensable.

Shattered toys are regenerated with Spalding's Glue.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

Factory Hours in India.

An East Indian correspondent writes to a London journal as follows: "The mills run from daylight to dusk the entire week through, the actual working hours extending in some cases from seventy-six to eighty per week. Nominally an hour for dinner is given at noon, and this is the only stoppage for meals or rest in the day; but the writer distinctly asserts that this hour is frequently curtailed to fifteen minutes. Very young people are employed in these factories—some under eight years of age; while many of the girls of twelve or fourteen years of age are already married and are mothers of families. In addition to their long hours of work, some of these poor creatures have to walk a distance of several miles to and from their work. The attention of the Indian government ought to be called to this deplorable state of things, and legislative remedies provided."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair recovers with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is wide and surprising. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

JOTTINGS.

Members of the Band of Hope, are especially requested to be present this (Saturday) afternoon at Mechanics' Hall at three o'clock. Arrangements are to be made for a Picnic at an early day; also to complete the preparation for the Exhibition to be given in September in the interest of the Band of Hope.

At the annual meeting of the corporation of the Portsmouth Savings Bank, held on July 1st, Messrs. Charles H. Rollins and Thomas E. Call were elected Trustees, succeeding True M. Ball, resigned, and Jos. Hiller Foster, elected Treasurer. The remaining trustees of last year were re-elected, as was the President, Hon. William Simes, and Joseph H. Foster, Treasurer. Messrs. John Laighton and Justin V. Hanscom were added to the members of the corporation, in place of William M. Shackford and James F. Shores, deceased members.

The two men, Costa and Peterson, who engaged in a drunken row on board schooner Lady Lincoln in the lower harbor on Thursday afternoon, in which one got prodded in the back with a fork and the other was stabbed in the side with a knife, were delivered up to the authorities at Kittery by Sheriff Kent on Friday, he having discovered that the vessel was at anchor on the Maine side of the river when the row occurred. This saves to this county quite a bill for court expenses.

The draw of Noble's Island bridge, some weeks ago found to be too narrow to allow of the passage of the new ship built by Mr. Fernald at the Raynes shipyard, has been widened sufficiently to let her through. No piles nor heavy timbers had to be disturbed, as the passage was wide enough except at a few points where the men engaged in repairing the bridge from time to time had broken the straight line of the draw. The bridge authorities showed every disposition to accommodate, and obviated the trouble as soon as it was brought to their notice.

The Eastern Railroad engines that were attached on Wednesday on behalf of the National Bank of Commerce, of Boston, were run next day over the Conway and Dover branches with a keeper in possession of each, but a new and most convenient arrangement was effected Thursday afternoon. The engineers and firemen belonging to the engines were discharged by the company, duly appointed keepers by the Sheriff, and on Friday filled the double positions of railroad men and Sheriff's officers, running their engines with just as much care and bearing themselves with just as modest mein as before they were promoted to official honors.

Ship Daniel Marcy, Bicknell, from Manila for New York, before reported lost, went ashore in Gasper straits, May 18th, during a fog, with very light winds. She was set on the reef by a heavy swell at eight o'clock in the evening; stove a hole in her bottom, fell over on her side and filled with water. At twelve o'clock the crew took to the boats and landed at the lighthouse, where they were hospitably received and provided with the necessaries of life. Afterwards they proceeded to Singapore. Captain Bicknell remained by the wreck to save everything possible. The hemp of her cargo, her sails, rigging and ground tackle may be saved. She was owned by J. Henry Sears & Co., of Boston, and is insured there.

On Friday afternoon Mr. Oliver Clark, while at work on the upper floor of the house of Mr. J. Albert Walker on Islington street, which is now being repaired, was precipitated to the cellar by the giving way of the floor. His head was badly cut, but no bones were broken.

It may not be generally known how extensive is the laundrying establishment of Mr. J. Haydn Smith, on Market street. It occupies seven rooms, including two drying rooms for use in rainy weather; seven skilled persons are employed; and Mr. Smith, who is aware that at the start there were some unavoidable mistakes, now guarantees entire satisfaction to all patrons. Any articles not properly laundried will be relaundried without charge. Nearly all the hotels in this vicinity, and many persons in neighboring towns, are his patrons; but he has facilities for a much larger business, and asks those who have anything to do in his line to give him one trial. Front entrance at 37 Market street; rear entrance 31 Penhallow street.

LITTLE BOAR'S HEAD.

The new Union chapel, to be used for the first time to-morrow morning, at Little Boar's Head, is pleasantly located fronting the avenue leading by the cottage of Mr. Albert Salter. Its exterior is attractive in appearance and the interior beautifully finished. The building was erected by contract, by Hutchins & Maddox of Lawrence. The fresco painting was done by Main, of Haverhill, Mass.; the outside painting by Kerr & Murray, of Lawrence. A generous lady stopping at Little Boar's Head gave an order for the carpets for the chancel on Friday, to be sent at her expense, ready to be put down, next day. Another visitor has supplied the hymn books, as a donation.

The services on Sunday will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Hickey, Congregationalist, from Philadelphia.

The recent donations have been, in addition to the receipts at the fair, about five hundred dollars. The edifice cost about three thousand dollars, and is creditable alike to the good taste and liberality of the habitues of this charming locality.

New Hampshire Items.

The lusty twins, Isaac B. and Jacob A. Chesley, aged 89, who have been credited with living at Rochester, N. Y., were born at Rochester N. H., and have lived at Wakefield for over sixty years. Isaac is married, but Jacob is a bachelor, and the two are said to be as active as ordinary people of 60.

Miss A. L. Smiley, a former teacher in the Normal School at Plymouth, has been elected preceptress of the New London Institution.

The New Hampshire Sabbath School Association have decided to hold their annual session in Nashua, commencing November 3d, and continuing four days. Dr. J. H. Vincent will be present, and participate in the deliberations, together with other prominent divines.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 154.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

The immigrant of the Shurtleff family in New England was William. The name was sometime written Shetle and Shirtley. It is not known when William Shirtleff came over, but he was in Plymouth, Mass. in 1634. His wife was Elizabeth Lettice of that town, and by trade he was a carpenter. He moved to Marshfield about 1660. June 23, 1666, he was killed by lightning. He was holding one of his children and another was hanging on him, but neither was injured.

William, son of the above, lived in Plymouth, and had eighteen children. The third was William, who graduated at Harvard College in 1707 and was settled as pastor of the church in Newcastle in 1712. He was the second minister of that church. He married Mary Atkinson, daughter of Theodore Atkinson of Newcastle. He was pastor there twenty years, and on being dismissed in 1732, was settled as pastor of the old South church in Portsmouth, Feb. 21, 1733. He died May 9, 1747, aged 58. He was buried under the old South church. The church not being of much use, some years ago was demolished, we think. Sept. 13, 1863, the remains of Mr. Shurtleff and his successors in the pastoral office, were exhumed, and what few bones, etc. were found were removed to Auburn Cemetery, where a monument marks their resting place. Mr. Shurtleff had been buried 112 and Mr. Strong 116 years.

The Newsboys' Dog.

The newsboys of Galveston have long been the owners of a large Newfoundland dog, which answered to friendly salutations when addressed as "Tige." He was an intelligent animal, and enjoyed the benefits of a good education in his peculiar line of business. He knew all the police officers of the city, and whenever the boys felt like regaling themselves in a social game of "chuck-a-luck" or "high die" Tige took up his position on the ramparts of safety, and never failed to give the alarm when a "peeler" hove in sight. During the Christmas holidays and on all state occasions he was decorated with all the gorgeous paraphernalia that the inventive talents of his keepers could suggest, and invariably, at the extremity of his caudal appendage, a "bunch of blue ribbon" and of which he was very proud, if the wag of his tail high in air could be taken as an indication of his internal emotions. Yesterday about 12 o'clock, while rambling around the city in quest of his usual amount of recreation, Tige had the misfortune to encounter a stray piece of medicated dog meat. He looked at it, smelled at it, and concluding that it was right, he opened his mouth and took it in. It was not long, however, before, "Tige" began to show signs of being sick. The news of his malady spread among the boys rapidly. He was taken in charge and brought to the place of rendezvous in rear of the News office, and the medicine man of the newsboy brigade was summoned to his relief. He came and prescribed copious draughts of sweet milk, which he ordered to be followed by heroic doses of castor oil, but the treatment was in vain. The boys rubbed him, and bathed him, but it was no use. Soon Tige's intelligent eyes began to lose their lustre, and he was no longer able to swallow. Mr. M. Kenefic was sent for, and suggested that a dose of ipecac administered in hot water would "do the business" for the sufferer, but hot water could not be had, and as a dernier resort one of the boys tried to catch a bottle of steam with which to wash down the emetic. Before he succeeded, "Tige" had breathed his last, surrounded by his friends, the recipient of all the attention they could bestow upon him. Late in the evening his funeral took place from the residence of the boys, near the corner of Twenty-ninth and Mechanic streets. They utilized the mail cart of the News as a hearse, and draping the wheels with crape and all the appropriate emblems of sorrow, they placed the remains of the dog in it and covered them over with a white cloth. On the rear of the cart was this inscription: "Poor Tige is dead, our pet." Jimmy Herron was the chief marshal of the procession, and mounted upon a mustang, he led the cortege through the streets. The hearse was drawn by the boys, who kept time to the measured tap of the drum at the head of their column. All the principal streets of the city were paraded, and just as the sun went down the boys dumped "Old Tige" into the bay from the planking on Williams' Wharf. They offer a reward of $10 for the policeman who gave him the poison. Thus ends the existence of a well-known character of this city.— Galveston (Texas) News, July 19.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills
For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Ill-looseness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most convenient purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole living. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as efficient. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, throughout not only our own but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most efficient cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Daily Chronicle.

—The "Virgin dance" of the Sioux is something similar to the May pole dance of the East, the young maidens forming around a pole or tree and dancing while boasting of their virtue. If any young man knows aught against a maiden he steps into the ring and tells it, when the young squaw is compelled to leave the ring in disgrace.

—John Craft, a sailor, returned from a long voyage one morning, met a young woman at 143 Liberty street, courted her in the afternoon, and married her in the evening. He drank so freely of lager at the wedding supper that he had to be arrested. His bride followed him to the Church street police station, and begged for his release, saying that he had never been drunk before since she had known him.—N. Y. Sun.

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Carbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickcox, Rector of St. John's E. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a sprain more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 23d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment. White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Foll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 Dey St., New York.

Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Pitcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimech, of Dupont, Ohio, says:

"I am using Castoria in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the Castoria. It is prepared by Messrs. J. R. Rose & Co., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. 1nov1

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Strains, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Stings, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children teething may have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. 1nov1

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done my family, I feel it my duty to write you, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Perhaps may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been trying, cling and hobble around springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and that was the only hope left for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mullis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy eliel, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Bachman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or any where else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

A Brave Chicago Boy.

The Chicago Times narrates the following interesting incident of the riots in that city. At one point it says: "The mob broke and ran, pursued by the officers, away south on Halsted, scattering as they ran, until only the boldest of them were left, pushing straight down for Bridgeport. This was evidently a deliberate move, for they kept at a safe distance ahead, and ran with a sort of community of purpose. Their object became clear when they got to the bridge near Archer Avenue, for after the officers had beaten them across it, another gang appeared and turned it, cutting off retreat. The situation had a very desperate look. There was no way of getting over. The roughs who turned the bridge jumped it and joined the crowd. The man is usually found when the occasion comes. In this case the man was a boy—a brave little fellow, only nine years of age, named James O'Neil. The rioters left him unnoticed on the bridge. He sprang to the bar, pushed it, and unmindful of the storm of missiles, threats and pistol balls that broke upon him, slowly swung the bridge into position. The policemen who were rescued by the little one's pluck cheered and patted him, and threw in a collection of a nickel each for his benefit.

Simple Cure for Drunkenness.

A Brooklyn man writes to the Sun: "I drank more intoxicating liquor from the year 1857 to the last day of 1873 than any other person I ever know or heard of; and in the mean time, knowing this sure cure, did not practice it on myself, but, for fun, did practice it on many others, and effected permanent cures. The remedy of the cure is this: When a person finds he must have a drink, let him take a drink of water, say two or three swallows, as often as the thirst or craving may desire. Let him continue this practice. His old chums will laugh; but let him persevere, and it will not be a week before the appetite for any kind of stimulant will disappear altogether, and water be taken to quench the natural thirst. If at any time the victim should feel a craving, let him take the first opportunity and obtain a swallow of water, and he can pass and repass all saloons. When he goes home at night he will feel satisfied and be sober and have money in his pocket. I commenced this practice the first day of 1874, and never think of taking a drink of stimulants."

Getting the Best of Him.

The New Bedford Mercury relates that not long since a gentleman, travelling by railroad from a neighboring city to Boston, purchased a glass of soda at a refreshment stand in a way-station, and gave the attendant a quarter. The latter apparently purposely delayed making change, and his customer was obliged to hurry on board the train with a feeling of having been cheated, and consequently out fifteen cents. At the next stopping-place he rushed to the window of the telegraph office and dictated a message to be sent to the soda-water man, to be paid for by the recipient. It was as follows; "Do you still sell foam at twenty-five cents a glass?" At every station where there was a chance he repeated this message. As for the soda-water man, that night, after shutting up, he drew up a little balance sheet on the fly-leaf of his diary, as follows; "Expenses of telegraphy, $1.25; extra profit on soda, 15 cents; out $1.10."

A Singular Case.

A case of rare interest to the medical profession is that of a young daughter of Hon. William M. Corbin, of Union, Conn. On the 3d of last September she swallowed a shawl pin, which was received in the left lung. For six weeks she experienced no trouble, but at the end of that time she had inflammation of the lungs. She was attended by the local physicians, and at length, Dr. Storrs of Hartford was sent for, this being in mid-winter. He advised the parents, who of course were very much alarmed, to trust to the chance of the pin being coughed up, rather than have an incision made for the removal of it. This course was pursued. The child recovered her usual condition of health nearly, and in May coughed up a part of the pin, it having rusted in two. On the 26th of July the rest of the pin, the head piece, was likewise gotten rid of, and the child is as well as ever, apparently. She had lived over eleven months with a shawlpin over two inches long in one of her lungs.

—Ladies now wear flowers stuck in the belt instead of at the throat.

—Mr. Scott, of Los Angeles, California, has a tomato vine twenty-five feet high, and the bard who sang: "Beneath the tall tomato tree I'd swing the glittering hoe," was no slouch; he had fits of inspiration.

—A writer in the Providence Journal has been looking into the use made of circulating libraries in that city. One woman takes out books "because," she says, "it looks well to see new books lying around." She never opens the books. Another woman frankly explained her motive as follows: "O no, I don't read the books, that would be tiresome. I just look over the beginning till I find who the characters are, and then I turn to the end to see how they come out. Then if anybody asks me about the book, I say: 'O yes, I've seen it;' and I tell how it ended, and so get the credit of being quite literary."

The Eastern War.

The details of the Russian defeat at Plevna show that their army there was almost destroyed, at least 8000 being killed and wounded. The Bashi-Bazouks murdered all the wounded left on the field. The Bulgarians are in great terror, knowing they can expect no mercy from the Turks. The Russians are hurrying forward reinforcements.

The Russian forces are advancing in Asia Minor, and heavy fighting is going on before Kars.

The last of the Tukish troops sent to the Caucasus to stir up insurrection have been withdrawn.

News and Notes.

The troubles in the mining districts of Pennsylvania continue, but most of the railroads everywhere are running trains regularly, with all the men they want.

Five girls and four men lost their lives at the burning of the cigar-box manufactory in Cincinnati on Friday.

Adelina Patti's case has been decided, the French court refusing to grant her application for a separation from her husband, the Marquis de Caux. The latter's application for separation from his wife was granted, evidence having shown the gravest misconduct on her part.

James T. Huff, alias James T. Parker, a noted confidence man and bogus secret service detective, has been arrested. Huff obtained $29 from A. M. Kreps at Williamsport on a promise to get him a position in the Treasury Department. Under the name of L. C. Zwegle he figured in the conspiracy to rob the tomb of Lincoln, and from a slip cut from a Western paper found in his pocket, he was denounced as the prime mover in the conspiracy. Two men concerned with him were sentenced to the penitentiary, but he escaped. The most remarkable document found on him was a statement prepared by him with regard to the mysterious Nathan murder in New York. He claims that he has the meerschaum pipe, tobacco box and watch of Nathan, the murdered man. He repeats the old story that Cale Guunion, Johnny Irving and Billy Forrester (the latter from Baltimore), went to the house and were admitted by Kelly, the housekeeper's son. While Gunnion was breaking open the safe Nathan awoke. He was then killed by a blow from the dog in the hands of Gunnion. It is stated that Gunnion is in the Albany Penitentiary, Irving and Forrester in Sing Sing, and Kelly in Auburn Prison.

Frank Walworth, the young man who shot his father in New York several years ago and was sentenced to State prison for life, has been pardoned by Gov. Robinson.

New Hampshire Items.

Joseph Perry and Timothy Conners fell from the roof of a mill in Newport on Saturday, striking a large rock in the river about 40 feet below. They were badly mutilated, and are not expected to live.

A very successful test was made this forenoon with the telephone of Hon. E. H. Rollins, connecting his residence at Rollinsford with the store of W. H. Vickery. The instrument is attached to the wires of the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Company, and is a remarkable invention in many ways. Conversation was held with Mr. Rollins and his household by the writer of this, Mr. Libbey, Mr. Wash. Laighton, and others, and all were greatly pleased with the result. Ordinary conversational tone is all that is necessary to be distinctly heard. Miss Nellie B. Nichols, stopping at the Senator's residence, favored the party at this end of the line with some vocal music. The song "Old Folks at Home," was finely rendered by her, and every word and sound was as distinctly heard as if she was within a few feet of her auditors. The instrument is destined to come into general use ere long, and we doubt not will eventually succeed telegraphing as a means of quick communication between different points. It is said that no matter how great the distance, the result is the same.—Dover Democrat.

J. Benson, a farmer from Candia, came to Manchester Friday morning to purchase goods, bringing a little daughter, three years old. He slipped into a store on Elm street for a few minutes, leaving the child in the carriage, since which she has not been seen. Fears are expressed that she has been kidnapped.

A daughter of Leroy B. Frost, of Franklin, seventeen months old, drank sugared fly poison from a saucer Thursday night, dying in six hours.

Friday morning, as the section hands on the Wilton Railroad came down in advance of a freight train, they found a serious obstruction, consisting of ties and stones, across the track at a corner of what is known as Ramsdell's curve.

The Manchester Mirror complains that while that city ought to be the sweetest, the cleanest and the healthiest city in New England owing to its natural advantages for drainage, it is at this season full of noxious odors repulsive to sensitive nostrils and pregnant of pestilence, and a loud call is made for sanitary reform.

Pitkin's Joke on the Louisiana Democrats.

It will be remembered that recently one of the Nicholls investigating committee found three or four boxes in the New Orleans custom house marked "J. R. G. Pitkin." The conclusion was jumped at that the contents were certain stolen papers bearing on the State. The committee, through Governor Nicholls, asked the Attorney-General of the United States if they should be opened. Judge Devins said that the committee would have to take that responsibility on its own shoulders. Meantime, while cogitating as to what should be done, each member of the smelling committee affixed their private seals on the boxes to preclude the possibility of the opening of the lids without detection. Meanwhile, Pitkin, who knew what was going on, allowed New Orleans for three weeks to work itself into a high state of excitement. Thinking the suspense had been long enough borne, and with the chances to have the committee make asses of themselves, he telegraphed to the Nicholls authorities his permission to open the boxes. It is understood they contain fishing tackle, some imitation grub worms, old gum shoes, bathing suits, and a hammock or two. Pitkin thinks also that one of the boxes contains in manuscript an epic poem, which he trusts the committee will read and criticise.

That's Business.

You should never judge by appearances. Not long ago a weazen-faced little man, wearing a $3.50 suit of clothes, went to one of the big hotels, and registering his name as from Texas, asked for a room, and if breakfast was on the table. The Olympian clerk gazed at him scornfully for a moment, and languidly remarked:

"Any baggage?"

"No," replied the guest.

"In that case," replied the clerk, "the rules of the house compel me to insist on payment in advance."

"Very well, said the guest, without hesitation or appearing offended, "take two days' board out of this," and from a wad of greenbacks as big as his arm produced a $100 note.

"I beg your pardon," stammered the abashed clerk, "but we are so often taken in, and your face not being familiar to me, I—"

"No offense," cheerfully answered the guest; "business is business and rules are rules. It does look a little odd to be without baggage, but as cattle dealers ain't much on style, and—"

"That's all right," said the clerk. "Put up your money; we know a gentleman when we see him. Jim, show the gentleman to 146. Call for the best in the house, general."

The old man stowed away an ample breakfast, got the clerk to give him small bills for a fifty, and asked where Billy Coolbaugh, the banker had his office, inquired when they had dinner, desired the clerk to tell Mr. Farwell, if he called, that he would be back at two o'clock, then went, and he hasn't been seen since. The clerk subsequently discovered that the $100 was bad. The sad event cast a gloom over the hotel office.—San Francisco Gazette.

He Couldn't Drink Wine.

There was a noble youth who, on being urged to take wine at the table of a famous statesman in Washington, had the moral courage to refuse. He was a poor young man, just beginning the struggle of life. He brought letters to the great statesman, who kindly invited him home to dinner.

"Not take a glass of wine?" said the great statesman, in wonderment and surprise.

"Not one single glass of wine?" echoed the statesman's beautiful and fascinating wife, as she arose, glass in hand, and, with a grace that would have charmed an anchorite, endeavored to press it upon him.

"No," replied the heroic youth, resolutely, gently repelling the proffered glass.

What a picture of moral grandeur was that! A poor, friendless youth refusing wine at the table of a wealthy and famous statesman, even though proffered by the fair hands of a beautiful lady.

"No," said the noble young man, his voice trembling a little and his cheek flushed, "I never drink wine, but (here he straightened himself up, and his words grew firmer) if you have got a little good old rye whiskey, I don't mind trying a snifter!"

A Mortifying Mistake.

A well known young lady recently made herself the victim of a ridiculous mistake. A handsome and wealthy gentleman, whose acquaintance she had just formed, invited her to attend a dress party in his company. She accepted, and arrayed herself for the event with unusual care. To her surprise and mortification he appeared, to escort her to the party, attired in a white linen coat. She invited him to be seated and then begged to be excused for a few moments. To her mother she stated the fact that she would be ashamed to go with him if he wore "that coat." It was finally decided that she should ask the gentleman to pass the evening at the house. Ashamed, but determined, she told him that she did not believe that any of the gentlemen would wear linen coats at the party; that he had better not go; a delightful evening could be passed at home, etc. The gentleman took the matter good-naturedly and remarked, "Why, this is only my duster." He revealed beneath it a garment of shining broadcloth. The lady recovered from her mortification sufficiently to attend the party, but she feels ashamed of her stupidity to this day. Her companion was the best dressed man there.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

The Mayor of Toledo.

The Mayor of Toledo, whose speech to the strikers has been so severely censured, complains that his remarks were "atrociously perverted" by the reporter of the Associated Press, and he sends us accordingly an accurate account of what he did say; but we cannot see that Mr. Jones has made his case much better by his correction. A mob of rioters were destroying railway property, stopping trains, closing factories, driving laborers away from their work, establishing a reign of violence and terror over a large section of the United States, and this Mayor, instead of using all the means in his power to disperse them, made a mild and cowardly speech, which meant encouragement if it meant anything at all. "It is this condition of things," said he (meaning an over-stocked labor market,) "that the railroads have taken advantage of to put down the laborer, until you have taken the matter of redress into your own hands. No doubt that the railroads will have to yield to your cause. They will have to come down." He assured the men that there was "a wide sympathy with the strikers and with labor inadequately paid," and that it was "a God-given right to every man to have employment;" and although he said that he was "opposed" to their going about in a body to make other men quit work, he closed with the queer expression that whatever they did he hoped they would "go gently about it." Of course there was but one interpretation which an excited mob could put upon such a speech, and the rioters lost no time in taking control of the city of Toledo, and stopping all business. It does not appear to us that the reporter of the Associated Press "perverted" Mayor Jones' address; on the contrary, he gave a very fair indication of its spirit, if not a reproduction of the exact language. —Tribune.

—A Scotch witness somewhat given to prevarication, has recently given an exact and careful answer which ought to be appreciated by lawyers of every land. "How far is it between the two farms?" said the counsel. "By the road; it's two miles." "Yes, but on your oath, how far is it as the crow flies?" "I dinna ken; I never was a crow."

A Remedial Agent of Uncommon Power.

It is a fact which became patent years ago to the people of the United States, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a remedial agent of unconmon power. As a consequence of this recognition, its sales have increased immensely at home and abroad, and it has risen to a foremost rank among the proprietary medicines of the day. Chemical analysts, after submitting it to the closest scrutiny, pronounce it absolutely pure, and skilful and conscientious medical practitioners recommend its use. A wide range of disorders falls within the scope of its curative operation. Among them may be enumerated dyspepsia, liver complaint, consitpation, nervous ailments, urinary and uterine affections, rheumatism and gout. It is a supremely efficacious tonic, hastens convalescence, cheers the mind, imparts appetite, and promotes sound sleep.

A Toilet Essential.

Pomades and cosmetics may be dispensed with, but not so the Fragrant Sozodont; the most wholesome and efficient article for the teeth that the world has ever known.

Its popularity is immense. In the brown stone palace and the cottage, it is alike considered indispensable.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elexant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

SAD ACCIDENT AT STRAW'S POINT.

About two o'clock, Saturday afternoon, fire broke out in the stable belonging to Dr. E. M. Tubbs, of Manchester, and before it could be checked destroyed the stable and Dr. Tubbs' cottage, and the cottage of Mr. Benjamin A. Kimball of Concord. The Tubbs cottage was occupied by Mr. W. G. Ladd and family, of Portland, Oregon. The fire is supposed to have originated from a lighted pipe left in the stable; the total loss is estimated at $6000; the property was partially insured. Several other cottages were in great danger, and were only saved by great exertions; one cottage, within sixty feet of the burned buildings, was badly scorched. But the loss of property was not the worst; Mr. Kimball was badly burned about the face and arms while endeavoring to save articles from the fire, and barely escaped with his life; and Mr. Henry Grove, a young man about twenty-two years of age, was burned to death. Mr. Grove belonged in Concord, and was an engraver; he had been stopping at Foss' Beach, but had visited Straw's Point that day to dine with Gov. Straw and family. His remains, shockingly charred and with the arms, legs and a portion of the head burned off, were found just outside where the piazza of Mr. Kimball's cottage had been. When last seen alive he was in an upper room of Mr. Kimball's house, assisting to save furniture, and it is supposed that while thus engaged he was overtaken by the flame and smoke and forced to jump from the window, and was burned to death where he fell. More probably the unfortunate young man was suffocated in the house; and his body thrown to the spot where it was found by the fall of the ruins.

Assistance was telegraphed for to this city shortly before three o'clock, and Kearsarge S. F. E. No. Three, and Hose One with 1500 feet of hose, went down, but could do no good other than to extinguish the embers. The machines returned at about nine o'clock P. M.

MORE LIGHT.

At about half-past nine o'clock this forenoon a person walking in the vicinity of the Mayor's place of business called the attention of that official to the fact that one of the street lights near by was burning and probably had not been extinguished during the whole night. This same party reports that he has seen the same thing at different times and in different parts of the city during the present municipal control, and hints that somebody needs looking after.—Times, Aug. 3d.

The man that "needs looking after" in this connection is Mr. Aaron Akerman, the gas company's official, who himself fired up the gas-light referred to a half-hour before the Mayor's attention was called to it, and had done the same thing for several days preceding, to draw from the pipes the foul air that had got into them while new pipes were being laid in the vicinity. "The present municipal control" has nothing to do with it; the city pays a specified price per hour for each burned, and for a specified number of hours; and if one burner or a dozen were left lighted all day the gas company's remedy would be to complain of the negligence of the man whose duty it was to extinguish them, as it would make no difference in the bill against the city.

DEMOCRATIC MAYORALTY CAUCUS.

The democrats held their Mayoralty caucus at the Court House on Saturday evening. Contrary to the custom of the democratic party for many years, the nomination was made by ballot, instead of the candidate being selected by the city committee and the nomination "ratified" by the party in caucus. A nomination was effected on the first ballot, which was as follows:

Whole number of votes	376
Necessary for a choice	189
Daniel Littlefield had	1
George E. Hodgdon	23
Samuel P. Treadwell	352

BOAT RACE.

The race for Kittery boats, to decide the ownership of a flag presented by Mr. William B. Keen, a native of Kittery but now a resident of Malden, Mass., came off on Saturday afernoon as previously announced. Of the boats entered five sailed over the course, which was from the spar buoy off Clark's island around the spar buoy on Phillips' ledge and back to the starting point, keeping outside of Kitts' rock buoy both going and coming. The wind was blowing fresh from the northwest, with frequent and heavy flaws, and the water was very choppy, but the various skippers carried on in good style, sending the little boats ahead at a great rate, though they did do some tall wallowing in the heavy chop off Fort Point, and gave their crews a liberal soaking down while beating back. The breeze being so fresh, the judges, Messrs. Calvin L. Hayes, Daniel H. Martin and John D. Lawrence, decided to make a flying start; the gun was fired at half-past two o'clock, and the boats crossed the line in the following order:

Boats.	Captains.	Start. h. m. s.
Lilian,	John G. Lowry, Jr.,	2 20 58
Myth,	Samuel H. Pillsbury,	2 21
Laura,	Joseph Keen,	2 21 10
Mingie,	William M. Otis,	2 21 22½
Cock Robin,	Daniel H. Fernald,	2 22 55

In less than an hour from the time the racing boats disappeared behind Fort Point from the view of the spectators on Clark's island, the leading boat shot into sight again, making the spray fly handsomely and followed at short intervals by the other contesting boats. The time of their arrival at the winning line, and of their sailing over the course, are given below:

Boats.	Return. h. m. s.	Time. h. m. s.
Myth	3 57 10	1 26 10
Lilian	4 3 40	1 22 42
Laura	4 6	1 24 50
Cock Robin	4 10 20	1 37 25
Mingie	4 12 5	1 49 42½

The boats having all returned and the judges and racing skippers landed on Clark's island, the prize, a handsome boat's ensign, was presented to the winner, Capt. Samuel H. Pillsbury of the Myth, by Mr. I. P. Miller, in presence of several hundred spectators, including a goodly number of ladies. In presenting the flag Mr. Miller expressed a hope that this race was but the first of a series of such yacht races—yacht races in which the workingmen can feel that they are not present merely by sufferance; which are not decided by trickery or the amount of money bet for or against any contestant, but in which the speed and seagoing qualities of the boats, and the coolnets, courage, judgment and skillful seamanship of those sailing them, decide who shall bear off the honors.

Capt. Pillsbury with a few off hand and appropriate remarks accepted the flag, (which was immediately hoisted at the Myth's mast-head,) hearty cheers were given for the winner, the judges and the gentleman who presented the flag, and then the scores of boats that had laid along the island during the afternoon made sail, some of them with a white ash breeze, for Kittery or Portsmouth.

Many sail boats besides those entered for the race (which was confined to Kittery boats) were "sloshing about" in the river during the afternoon, and several of them sailed over the course; many spectators were grouped under tch shelter of Fort Constitution and at the Jerry's Point fort to see the sport; everything passed off pleasantly; and the race not only enabled the boat skippers to show off the sailing qualities of their craft and their own skill, but gave a half-day's harmless and healthful recreation to several hundred persons. As it was a "scrub race" there was no allowance for size; but it is proposed to get up another one, to be sailed under yacht club rules and time allowance, the success of the first fully warranting it.

JOTTINGS.

At a meeting of the creditors of Mr. Leopald Blumauer before Hon. Thos. E. Sawyer, Register in Bankruptcy, at Dover, on Saturday, a majority of the creditors voted to accept the offer of composition made by the Bankrupt to accept twenty-five per cent. of their debts to be paid in three installments.

Lieutenant Theodore T. Wood is detached from the command of the torpedo-boat Intrepid, and ordered to the Enterprise, in place of Lieutenant Charles Seymour, who is ordered to the temporary command of the Intrepid. The Army and Navy Journal says the Enterprise is expected to be ready for sea on the 10th inst., when she will proceed to Hampton Roads.

At the examination of Joseph Costa, (on the charge of stabbing Andrew Peterson on board the fishing schooner Lady Lincoln of Rockport, Mass., in the lower harbor on Thursday afternoon,) which took place at Kittery, before Justice Dennett, Friday afternoon, he was bound over in $1000 for his appearance at the September term of the Court at Alfred, Me. He will be taken to Alfred jail. Peterson, for an assault with a fork on Costa, will go to the same jail to await trial as soon as his injuries permit.

We are indebted to Capt. J. Albert Sanborn, formerly of this city but now of the Black Hills, for copies of the Deadwood Weekly Champion and the Daily Pioneer, containing accounts of the recent Indian outrages in that vicinity, demanding a vigorous hunting down of the highwaymen that infest the Territory, and announcing the going out of a party of armed citizens to rescue Lieut. Lemley and his men and a surveying party from an overwhelming attack by Indians. Of course Capt. Sanborn was one of the volunteers, and we are glad to say captured a very fine Indian pony and and equipments instead of an Indian bullet.

The long continued easterly winds have driven upon the beaches at Rye large quantities of seaweed, which is being industriously gathered by the farmers of that town.

The Hotel at Foss' Beach is doing a thriving business this season, arrivals from almost every train being the rule. This is not the case with hotels generally, however, as the season is not up to the average in point of receipts.

Mr. Jefferson Janvrin, a wealthy farmer of Hampton Falls, has a very large barn, which has on one of its sides fifty birds' nests. Soon after the birds came and built, their nests from some cause fell to the ground. But Mr. Janvrin was so delighted with their inhabitants, that he nailed a strip of board to the barn for their nests to rest upon, hoping they might build again, which they did in a very short time, for in less than eight days he counted fifty new nests in place of the fallen ones, and they will continue to increase.

—Joe Goss, after considerable experience in Kentucky jails, breathes the air of freedom. He paid $100 fine and gave bonds for the remainder of the $250. The money was raised by his friends.

—A teacher, after long and very patient watching, catches a boy eating an apple in school, a misdeed he had frequently committed and as repeatedly lied out of. "Ah, ha," exclaimed the teacher, "I've caught you at it this time." "Caught me at what?" asked the boy, in conscious innocence. "Eating that apple." "Ain't eating no apple." The astonished teacher compelled the boy to open his mouth, and a great slab of apple was extracted therefrom. "Didn't know it was there," sturdily asserted the boy.

—Senator Blaine conversed with three old Georgia rebels on a Hudson River steamboat recently. He is reported as saying: "Gentlemen, yours is a great State. Georgia raises some very fine-looking men," and straightening himself up about six feet one, he added, "and so does Maine." He continued, "I suppose that I am not very popular in your country?" The Georgians, acknowledging that the Southern press never handled him very gingerly, invited him to visit the South and become better acquainted with the people and their opinions. The Senator then held some discourse upon Mr. Benjamin Hill. The ingenious report of the three Georgians, says: "Of course we lauded Mr. Hill, as everybody does in Southwestern Georgia, remarking incidentally, that he at one time had a large planting interest in our country. 'And what sort of a farmer did Ben. make?' he asked. 'Lost money,' we replied. With a meaning look, he said, 'That was mighty bad for Ben, although I would have thought as much.' His manners are so agreeable that it is very easy to lose sight of the bully in the man."

It appears that she simply touched ground in swinging to an anchor at Jarvis' Island, and carried away the pintles of her rudder. A coffer dam was to be built around the damaged portion of the vessel June 27, and she would be repaired in about fifteen days, when she would return to Jarvis' Island and complete loading.

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, a great extent, and robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, by its decisive curative effects, given a feeling of immunity from these. ...that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

The Courier-Journal pronounces the story ridiculous, and says: "If the person who made the offer will only prosecute his efforts, he can get a steamboat load of that sort of currrency at less than 12 1-2 cents on the dollar, as when the war closed, thousands of people had all the old barrels and boxes about the premises crammed full of it, and the most of them have got it yet."

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Carbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickcox, Rector of St. John's E. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a sprain more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 23d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment. White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 Dey St., New York.

Castoria.

"Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Pitcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimoch, of Dupont, Ohio, says:

"I am using CASTORIA in my practice with the most signal success and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Mark names on New York or Boston wrapper. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. tnov1

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Strains, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Stings, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children teething may have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. tnov1

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 22 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $4.00.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May, John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected in only Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 20th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I feel it my duty to give you my praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some people think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE!

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for about twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried every patent medicine I saw the name result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the persuasion of Rev. R. M. Mubbs, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to the address of Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend these Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their own care or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vendor of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon the wharfs, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forthwith enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, Yellow Dock, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders.

Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e suffrance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Story of the Engineer.

"Let me put my name down first—I can't stay long!"

It was a red ribbon meeting, and the man was a locomotive engineer, bronzed and strong and having eyes full of deep determination. He signed his name in a bold, plain hand, tied a red ribbon in his button hole, and as he left the hall he said:

"As the Lord looks down upon me, I'll never touch liquor again!"

"Have you been a hard drinker?" queried a man who walked beside the engineer.

"No. Fact is, I never was drunk in my life. I've swallowed considerable whiskey, but I never went far enough to get drunk. I shouldn't miss it or be the worse off for an hour if all the intoxicating drink in the world was drained into the ocean."

But you seemed eager to sign the pledge."

"So I was, and I'll keep it through thick and thin, and talk temperance to every man on the road."

"You must have strong reasons."

"Well, if you'll walk down to the depot I'll you a story on the way. It hasn't been in the papers, and only a few of us know the facts. You know I run the night express on the B— Road. We always have at least two sleepers and a coach, and sometimes we have as many as two hundred passengers. It's a good road, level as a floor, and pretty straight, though there is a bad spot or two. The night express has the right of way, and we make fast time. It's no rare thing for us to skim along at the rate of fifty miles an hour for thirty or forty miles, and we rarely go below thirty. One night I pulled out of Detroit with two sleepers, two coaches, and the baggage and mail cars. Nearly all of the berths in both sleepers were full, and most of the seats in the coaches were occupied. It was a dark night, threatening all the time rain, and a lonesome wind whistled around the cab as we left the city behind. We were seventeen minutes late, and that meant fast time all the way through."

"Well," he continued after a moment, everything ran along all right up to midnight. The main track was kept clear for us; the engine was in good spirits, and we ran into D—as smooth as you please. The express coming east should meet us fifteen miles west of D—, but the operator at the station had failed to receive his usual report from below. That was strange, and yet it was not, and after a little consultation the conductor sent me ahead. We were to keep the main track, while the other train would run in on the side track. Night after night our time had been so close that we did not keep them waiting over two minutes, and were generally in sight when they switched in."

When we left D—— we went ahead at a rattling speed, fully believing that the other train would be on time. Nine miles from D—— is the little village of Porto. There is a telegraph station there, but the operator has no night work. He closed his office and went home about nine o'clock, and any messages on the wire for him were held above or below until next morning. When I sighted this station I saw a red-lantern swinging between the rails.

Greatly astonished I pulled up the heavy train and got a bit of news that almost lifted me out of my boots. It was God's mercy, as plain as this big depot. It was the operator who was swinging the lantern. He had been roused from sleep by the whistle of a locomotive, when there wasn't one within ten miles of him. He heard the toot! toot! toot! while he was dressing and all the way as he ran to the station, thinking he had been signalled. Lo! there was no train there. Everything was as quiet as the grave. The man heard his instrument clicking away, and leaning his ear against the window he caught these words as they went through to D.

"For God's sake, switch the Eastern express off quick! Engineer on the Western express crazy drunk, and running a mile a minute!"

The operator signalled us at once. We had left D. nine miles away, and the message could have caught us anywhere except at Porto. Six miles further down was the long switch. It was time we were there, lacking one minute. We lost two or three minutes in understanding the situation and in consulting, and had just got ready to switch in where we were when the headlight of the other train came into view. Great Heavens! but how that train was flying. The bell was ringing, sparks flying and the whistle screaming, and not a man of us could raise a hand. We stood there on the main track, spell-bound as it were. There wouldn't have been time, anyhow, either to have switched in or get the passengers out. It wasn't over sixty seconds before that train was upon us. I prayed to God for a breath or two and then shut my eyes and waited for death, for I hadn't the strength to get out of the cab.

Well, sir, God's mercy was revealed again. Forty rods above us that locomotive jumped the track and was piled into the ditch in an awful mass. Some of the coaches were considerably smashed, and many of the people badly bruised, but no one killed, and of course our train escaped entirely. Satan must have cared for big Tom, the other engineer. He didn't get a bruise, but was up and across the field like a deer, screaming and shrieking like a wild tiger. It took five men to bind him after he was run down, and to-day he is the worst lunatic in the State.

"Tom was a good fellow," continued the engineer, after a pause, "and he used to take his glass pretty regularly. I never saw him drunk, but liquor kept working away on his nerves till at last the tremens caught him when he had a hundred and fifty lives behind his engine. He broke out of a sudden. The fireman was thrown off the engine, all steam turned on, and then Tom danced and screamed and carried on like a fiend.—He'd have made awful work, sir, but for God's mercy. I'm trembling yet over the way he came down for us, and I'll never think of it without my heart jumping for my throat. Nobody asked me to sign the pledge, but I wanted my name there. One such night on the road has turned me against intoxicating drinks, and now that I've got this red ribbon on I can talk to the boys with better face.—Tom is raving, as I told you, and the doctors say he'll never get his reason again. Good night, sir—my train goes in about ten minutes."

TUESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1877.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 4.

The need of statesmen in lieu of mere partizans and demagogues to deal with problems wholly unprecedented in our history, and which are pressing for solution, was never more imperative. The comparatively large amount in bonds disposed of by popular subscription during the limited time allowed for that purpose, bearing only four per cent. interest, and the fact that there are, of private property, $60,000,000 in greenbacks, lying idle and placed in Government custody because its investment in business enterprises is not justified by the business outlook, must be regarded as the most convincing evidence of the general lack of confidence everywhere prevailing in this country. These facts, too, would appear to have a negative bearing upon the inflationists' proposition that the business depression is due to a lack of money. The sullen outbreaks that are still occurring in the very presence of the military, and the startling report heard this morning that a general strike had been determined upon all over the United States before the end of next week by the Brotherhood of Engineers, though lacking authenticity, confirms the view that the resumption of freight and passenger traffic on the railroads did not surely indicate the end of all trouble with the mob spirit—a view I mentioned as being entertained by many of those best qualified to judge. The matter of the revision of the tariff will also furnish abundant employment for all the wisdom that can be diverted in that direction from schemes of personal aggrandizement or partisan advantage, at the coming session of Congress. Its proper adjustment is one of the inheritances from the old Whig party, whose relations to the democracy, upon this as well as some other questions, which have continued more or less successfully to hold their old places in National politics, were assumed by the republican party. Its resources for party capital were thought exhausted years ago. But until political economy shall have become an exact science and the true metes and bounds of international reciprocity shall have been definitely fixed, it promises to remain a bone of contention, presenting novel features on the opening of every new industry and on the extension or shrinkage of old ones; and since the late strikes it has assumed colossal proportions in the opinions of hundreds of heavy, medium, and light weight disputants about our hotels, bar-rooms, and other resorts for politicians and loafers.

While the opponents of the "Southern Policy" find it difficult to convince the public that Judge Taft's large vote in the Ohio convention was an implied censure of the President, its friends are hard pushed to make the resolutions adopted appear as an unqualified approval of all the President has done or omitted to do in the Southern premises. The esprit of that convention is interpreted here in this wise. It met with the idea that the common enemy's defeat at the next election was the first duty, and the delegates so demeaned themselves, as in their opinion to reduce the labor of that task to its minimum. Recognizing the fact that differences of opinion existed, and the right of republicans to entertain doubts of the wisdom of a particular line of policy relative to which the President himself was not wholly satisfied, there was no silly attempt made to force its approval, but instead, the President's personal character, the honesty of his motives, and his efforts looking to the good of the country we heartily endorsed, as they well could be, without a dissenting voice. Of course the resolutions upon national finances could not well be satisfactory to every section, but the work of the convention appears to be generally approved by republicans.

Nothing decisive from General Howard has been received for some days. The substance of the latest despatches amounts to about this: Joseph, by the exercise of good generalship slipped out of the trap prepared for his capture, and with his braves, was making a lively run for the buffalo country. Howard, with a force of nearly 5000 men, was close on his flank and rear, while Gov. Potts, with his Montana volunteers, was striving to strike the route of flight in advance of Joseph, in which case Howard expressed confidence in his ability to bag the whole kit, leaving his force free to operate against a lot of the savage malcontents about Deadwood, who have got themselves into trouble by leaving their reservations. I may mention that another Sioux delegation is soon expected here, when it is hoped we can so impress them with our boundless resources as to deter them from further hostilities against the Government. But those having and most experience in this particular method of Indian tactics appear most faithless of good results.

Conkling's reported premature return from his European visit has occasioned quite a flutter in political circles. I think the New York Senator will disappoint almost every one if he fails to vigorously attack the Administration when Congress convenes. Conkling's adherents declare that a wanton warfare has been waged against the Senator's friends in the Empire State, and that he is not the man to stand quietly by and be snubbed or see his friends abused.

It appears to be the opinion entertained by military authorities that the late Russian repulse was only an incident of a great campaign, and that it will not materially change the plan of Russia to dictate terms of peace from Constantinople, unless bought off at a heavy price before reaching there.

No one appears to doubt England's purpose to find a pretext for armed intervention in the Turks' behalf, and failing to find, make one; and the sending of four armed vessels to the Danube at this particular juncture of Turco-Russian affairs on the pretence of "protecting British interests," which has been made to cover all sorts of intermeddling in the business of other nations heretofore, does not tend to reassure the public of her pacific intentions.

[Communicated.]

A Visit to Western Massachusetts.

There is a town in the western part of Massachusetts, the last in the county of Hampshire, by the name of Plainfield. It was thither that your correspondent, a couple of weeks since, made his way for a few days of recreation. It is reached by stage three days in the week from Shelburne Falls. The sixteen miles intervening between Shelburne and Plainfield is over hills which, in our section of the country, would be termed mountains. The scenery is grand and picturesque. Everything has a greenness and freshness which is very inviting and reviving to a weary traveller. The inhabitants of Plainfield are a thrifty class of New England farmers. The Sunday which your correspondent passed there was of peculiar interest, not only to the inhabitants but also to the summer boarders (of which there are usually a large number) and visitors. The occasion was that Mr. Leavitt Halleck, a grandson of Rev. Moses Halleck, the first pastor of that town, was present and occupied the pulpit which Rev. Solomon Clark has so ably and acceptably filled for the past twenty years. Mr. Halleck is now stationed in Connecticut, but was spending a few days in his native town. The services were very impressive and affecting. Here was seen something to remind one of the days of yore. There was a large choir, and the instrumental music consisted of an organ, bass viol, violin, and flute! A queer combination certainly, if seen in one of our city churches, but church members in that town did not consider those as instruments of sin in that place.

There is in the next town, Hawley, a spring, known as Moody Springs, which with some appropriateness could be called the "perennial spring." It is visited a great deal both by the people in town and from abroad. It has remarkable healing qualities; it has the power of removing tan and freckles from the face, and giving to the skin clearness and softness; and it has the power of curing salt rheum. There is a man now boarding near by who is being very rapidly cured of the latter plague, by simply applying the water, as it comes from the spring, to his face and hands. A large quantity of this water is carried away daily.

Another visit of peculiar interest was to the summer home of William Cullen Bryant, the illustrious American poet. His home is in Cummington, the next town to Plainfield. The house is situated upon the brow of a high hill, from which one can obtain an excellent view of the surrounding country, while here and there can be seen various hamlets, mountains, valleys, and streams. Everything about the residence has been so arranged as to make it cheerful, pleasant, and homelike. As we drove up to the house the aged poet and his brother John were returning from an afternoon's walk. My companion had the good fortune to be acquainted with one of the inmates of the home, and by that person we were carried to the poet's library and given an introduction to that distinguished individual. For a half hour we were kindly, courteously and pleasantly entertained. He told us of the time when he was taught Greek and mathematics by Rev. Moses Halleck in a story-and-a-half house which still stands in Plainfield, on the main street. This house is now the property of the only Irishman in town, who feels no interest in the preservation of a house with which so many historical associations are connected. Your correspondent returned to fair Strawberry Bank feeling amply repaid for this visit.

YOURS, A. B.

The "Word of Truth" in Newburyport.

Rev. Mr. Wolfe, of Newburyport, Mass., some weeks ago issued a temperance paper called "The Word of Truth," in which he published the names of all the firms and individuals that deal in intoxicating liquors wholesale or retail, classing them all together as "rumsellers," and declaring "there is no difference." This naturally occasioned much consternation and disgust among the respectable liquor dealers; in particular, the Christian liquor sellers who are active members of the church disliked to be called rumsellers, and as two of these are deacons of the church which had for some time employed Mr. Wolfe as a city missionary, Mr. Wolfe's missionary career was suddenly stopped by his summary discharge. But he has kept on publishing his paper at such intervals as suited him, and in a recent issue "slandered" a woman named Sliney, who it is said keeps an unlicensed drinking house and vile den, for which he was arrested, giving bonds for his appearance when wanted. Last week the Mayor of Newburyport, Mr. Jackman, notified Mr. Wolfe's general agent that if he sold any more copies of that paper he would be prosecuted. But Mr. Haynes, (the agent,) not having the fear of Mayor Jackman before his eyes, and disregarding the official injunction served on him in regard to its further publication, sold on Thursday and Friday the last edition of 5000 copies. A large crowd of Wolfe's friends assembled on Thursday evening in front of Haynes' store to express their approbation of his pluck in holding out when every other periodical dealer in the city had been frightened into discarding the paper. G. J. L. Colby, editor of the The Visitor, who has twice been the temperance candidate for Mayor, furnished the funds for and superintended a display of fireworks, which was clearly in violation of the city ordinance. On Friday the authorities had a private session, and it is understood that Mr. Colby is to be prosecuted, and that gentleman, it is stated, is expecting it and announces himself ready for it.

The Newburyport correspondent of the Boston Globe says: "The affair is causing considerable stir. The majority consider The Word of Truth a big nuisance, as bad as Boston had in the old Life in Boston. Others think that in ordering an injunction Mayor Jackman was meddling, and went too far in putting down a free press." This comparison is certainly unjust. The Life in Boston was a notorious vehicle of falsehood and slander, in which any venomous coward could assail the reputation of any person, man or woman, anonymously, the publishers of the vile sheet sheltering themselves from justice by syncopating the names of the persons slandered; whereas the Word of Truth deals openly and aboveboard, giving all names in full, and making all charges squarely and not by insuendo. Whether Mr. Wolfe's method of forwarding the temperance cause is judicious or not we shall not undertake to say. But we will say that we think the papers have made a mistake in the name of the Mayor of Newburyport, for we feel sure that while the first syllable of his name must be "Jack," the last syllable is not "man" by any means.

Interference in Politics.

Hayes' wish was law to the Cleveland Convention.—Boston Transcript.

So say all the policy organs. They enter into details by adding that the President has been writing letters to Ohio, urging the nomination of Judge West and begging for conciliatory action; in other words, using his official influence in a political convention. And the worst feature of this affair is that they boastfully refer to this "interference in politics" by a President who has pretended that non-interference in politics is the proper condition of a person's holding federal office. Now, will anybody tell us why, under the President's own rule, he should not be called upon to resign his office? Had a "mere politician" taken the course thus boastfully attributed to President Hayes, he would have been hounded desperately by the professional reform pack. Are we to understand that the rule is permanently suspended in behalf of those who "interfere in politics" on the President's side? Why cannot the "reformers" be truthful enough to keep up at least an appearance of consistency? It is about time for this huge hypocrisy to stop.—Boston Traveller.

—Mr. Cartier, of New York, waltzed six hours in one strait heat the other night. The intellectual development of that young man's legs is fully as marvelous as the gloomy vacuity of the thing he wears his hat on.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS, CURES CATARRH CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus treated, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

E. G PIERCE, JR., P. M.

TO PROHIBITIONISTS.

PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4th.

Mr. Editor: My advice to the temperance men is to fight our battle with the republican party, and then we can accomplish our end, for by that party we obtained the law and kept it. This very year they have made it better, and the great majority of them are for temperance. Every vote thrown for A. A. Fernald, prohibition candidate, is a vote for the rum party out and out. I cannot vote for any such candidate, for I am a temperance man all through, and I will not support the rum party at the ballot-box under any pretense, however specious. I have known Mayor Broughton all of my life, and he has always been a thorough-going temperance man. I must vote for him, and advise all temperance men and everyone else to do the same.

PROHIBITION.

Of course, if any republican who is a prohibitionist also, wishes to vote the prohibition or democratic or any other ticket, it is his right to do so; but no one should vote the prohibition ticket under the impression that he is helping the temperance cause, for the only possible effect will be to help the democratic ticket—just what it was put in nomination to do. Temperance democrats may talk prohibition, but they vote the straight democratic ticket; and the object of the prohibition nominations at this election is to draw votes from the republican party. The prohibition ticket, of course has no possible chance of election; and if it could draw off enough republican votes to secure to the democrats the choice of Mr. Treadwell for Mayor, we cannot see that it would be any gain for temperance, for Mayor Broughton is and always has been a temperance man. Do not throw your votes away on the prohibition ticket, under the mistaken impression that by so doing you are voting in the interests of prohibition.

PLEASURE BOATING.

On Saturday, shortly after the arrival of the steamers from the Shoals, a lady—and notwithstanding her somewhat comical dress, which was evidently not intended for the ball room, and a huge straw hat of no particular fashion which she had on, she was a lady in appearance—entered an oyster saloon and ordered a stew, adding, "And as quick as you can, please, for I am a-l-m-o-s-t starved!" The attendant hastened to comply with the wish of the famishing lady, who explained that she was stopping at Rye Beach, and being very fond of fishing had gone out that morning in a small boat containing a party of four, two ladies and two gentlemen, to enjoy her favorite sport. The wind soon became so strong that they started to return to the shore, but the freshening breeze compelled the gentlemen to shorten sail to such an extent that they could make no progress in beating, and after sticking to it for hours and getting blown half way to the Shoals the gentlemen decided to bear up and run for a harbor at the islands, which they did, arriving there just in time for the ladies to catch one of the steamboats for this city. As they had been afloat all day, took no lunch in the boat with them and had no time to dine at the Shoals, they were pretty hungry; but one of the ladies couldn't stand it to appear in public in her fishing rig any more than she was compelled to, and hastened to procure a conveyance to Rye Beach, while the other went for something to sustain life, right away, regardless of appearances. The latter declared that she had had enough sea fishing to last her as long as she lives, and that nobody will ever get her on board a craft smaller than a line of battle ship again.

As Messrs. John S. Hart and James Rand were beating in from the Shoals on Sunday, when off Rye Beach their boat was struck by a squall and knocked over, but they cut the halliards and managed to get the sail down, after which the boat was easily righted, and they bailed her out, got sail on her again and beat up to the city, arriving all right, though rather moist.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

To-day is election day, and every legal voter should exercise his right and perform his duty as a citizen, and vote for—somebody. The Inspectors of Checklists will be in session from eight to ten o'clock this morning and from one to two o'clock this afternoon, for the purpose of furnishing certificates to any persons whose names have been improperly omitted from the check-lists.

If the Ward Clerks will furnish us with full returns of the voting in their respective wards as soon as convenient after the closing of the polls, they will confer a favor.

The work on the sunken schooner Ceres had progressed so well up to Monday that on that day a small amount of coal was taken out of her fore hatch. Mr. Benjamin Chellis, the foreman of the wreckers' gang, adopted a method of working entirely different from that employed by his predecessor, and with the best results, he having taken the wreck further in shore every day the men have worked. The vessel was moved as far in as she could be with the anchor-hoy overhead, Monday, and all subsequent lifts will be made with two scows, one on each side. Two more lifts are expected to take the wreck into position to discharge cargo from the fore hatch. The hull is entirely covered with barnacles.

The new ship Granite State will be launched from Neal's shipyard at Kittery on Thursday, Aug. 9th, at noon.

The second excursion to the Shoals in steamer Appledore, under the auspices of the Woman's Temperance League, comes off to-day. Tickets for the round trip, at 75 cts. each, can be obtained at Divid Kimball & Co's. See advertisement.

Gen. Natt Head was in town on Monday.

A vote for the Democratic candidates tomorrow, is equivalent to a vote for Joseph R. Holmes for street commissioner. This alone should be sufficient to bring every voter to the polls.—Times, Monday evening.

Is that so? It is no secret that Mr. Holmes, whose ability and faithfulness as street commissioner no one can dispute, was to have been thrown over by the democrats had they carried the city at the time it was last retaken from them by the republicans, the democratic wire-pullers calling him a d—d fool for refusing to run his department "in the interests of the party." What has changed them so?

The Appledore House, Isles of Shoals, is full this season, as usual, and the guests are enjoying themselves thoroughly. Laighton Brothers know exactly how to promote the health, comfort and pleasure of guests, and they were never more successful than they have been this year.—Boston Globe.

The Times of Monday evening censures the city government for allowing Kearsarge S. F. Engine to go to the Straw's Point fire when urgently telegraphed for, leaving "only one engine [No. Four] that could be relied upon," as No. Two is away being repaired. If we remember aright the Times insisted that No. One was a trustworthy engine at the time it was repaired at large expense some years ago by a democratic Mayor, and it is quite as good now. But the Times must find some fault with the republican city government, just on the eve of election—and would have shouted much louder about "heartless indifference and selfishness" had the engine not been sent to Rye.

A couple at Hampton Beach sat on the rocks to see the tide come in. The tide soon rose, not only in front of them, but behind them, and their pleasure was turned into grief. The water had risen up to their waists when two gallant young men went from the shore and rescued them. When the woman reached the shore she looked back and saw what danger they had braved; she quickly fainted and followed that by a fit of hysterics.—Post.

As a son of A. F. Perkins, station agent of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad at Dover, was handling a revolver Monday morning, it was accidently discharged, the ball entering the leg below the knee. The wound is not dangerous.

"Sweet Forget Me Not," is the title of a new song with a remarkably pretty waltz chorus, composed by "Bobby Newcomb," of minstrel fame. It is sung by Primrose and West, of Haverly's Minstrels; Delehanty and Hengler, of the "Tony Pastor Troupe;" Adah Richmond, and other artists, all over the country. Price, forty cents per copy; can be had from any music dealer or from the publisher, F. W. Helmick, 50 West 4th St., Cincinnati, O.

On Saturday afternoon an unknown person endeavored to throw the steam boat train from Alton Bay off the track near Poor Farm crossing, about three miles from Dover, by placing a long, flat stone on each rail. The stones were a little too thick, and struck the cow-guard and were thrown from the track. Had they been thinner they must have caused a serious accident, accompanied with loss of life, as the trains run very fast at this point.

News and Notes.

A bill in equity to compel the appointment of three receivers of the Ogdensburg Railroad was filed Saturday morning, at Portland, Me., by the trustees of the first mortgage bondholders and one of the joint consolidated mortgage trustees.

There will be a great temperance meeting held at Newburyport, Thursday, at which Wendell Phillips and Mrs. Livermore are invited to speak.

A report from Keokuk, Iowa, says that the Spencer family, father and four children, were all horribly murdered on Friday with an axe, the object being $1200, which the assassins secured. Willis James, brother-in-law of Spencer, and who worked for the latter, gave testimony at the inquest, and blood was found upon his clothing, and the Vigilantes had him taken, with a suspected man named Brady, into the woods to try them, and if found guilty they would be hanged immediately.

The poor house on the Industrial Farm of the county of Norfolk, Ontario, was burned Sunday night. The building was of wood, and was quickly reduced to ashes. Seventeen human beings were burned to death, and four men were badly burned. The dead comprise seven women and ten men.

Silver mining is increasing at Newburyport. Prof. Richards reports that the China (new) will yield a good profit from the very surface of the earth. Other mines are extending their operations. The Merrimac pays one per cent. monthly without fail.

The verdict of the jury in the riot inquest at Baltimore was that the victims were shot by unknown members of the Sixth Regiment, while on duty under the State authorities, and when attacked by a mob and in jeopardy. The verdict says the soldiers should have acted as a body and only under orders, and are blamable as soldiers for disobeying orders not to fire, though, nevertheless, as no orders to fire were given, they were compelled individually to protect themselves. The jury is of the opinion that the soldiers being demoralized, much unnecessary firing was done, but the responsibility for the killing of persons rests entirely with the rioters who attacked the soldiers. The authorities after sounding the military call should have had sufficient police to protect the assembling soldiers.

There was a fatal case of genuine cholera at Lowell on Monday.

Frank Campbell, of Auburn, Mass., whose invalid wife was murdered in a horrible manner a few weeks ago by James Mulcahey, a rum-crazed ruffian, was married again nine days after the murder to a woman forty years old, who had been married twice before.

A correspondent of the New York Times has been studying the miners' strikes at Scranton, Pa., and interviewing the miners, and from his accounts it is evident that the working people of that region are in a wretched condition. But on the other hand the mining companies have lost money even at the very low rate of wages paid, until they are almost bankrupt—some of them quite so—and there is no immediate prospect of better times for mine owners or miners. It is a deplorable state of affairs, but the remedy is not easy to point out.

The democratic Chicago Times, in view of the recent troubles and the palpable inefficiency and imbecility of the average American Mayor which they have brought to light, is led to remark: "The remedy is simple, and ought to be practicable. In municipalities suffrage should be restricted to tax-payers, whether men or women. They settle the bills and should control their contraction through their own representatives. They are the real stockholders in the municipality, and they alone should elect its directors. These in turn should elect the Mayor."

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. J. Benson, the Candia farmer who lost his little daughter in Manchester on Friday and feared she was kidnapped, found her all right on Saturday.

Michael J. Sullivan, of Nashua, was kicked by a horse Saturday evening, receiving severe injuries about the face, and having his lower jaw broken, besides being injured otherwise.

The eighth annual reunion of Company H, Seventh Regiment, New Hampshire Volunteers, will be held at Willoby Grove in Hollis, August 22.

The regular services of the Hedding camp-meeting at Epping, will begin August 27 and continue one week. Dr. Chapman of Brooklyn, N. Y., and General John L. Swift of Boston are to be present.

Deputy Sheriff Hoyt of Exeter captured a horse thief Friday, together with a nice team which he had stolen from George H. Berry, at Richmond Corner, Me., on the 13th of July. The man claimed that he bought the team of a band of gypsies. The prisoner and stolen property were delivered to Maine authorities.

—The Pittsburg Committee of Public Safety requested the local papers not to post sensational bulletins on their boards, and one of them posting up a very sensational one, which attracted a large crowd, some of the Committee entered the office and requested the proprietors to remove it immediately, or they would have it removed and take possession of the office. The bulletin was removed.

Why Suffer Dyspeptic Tortures,

When the famous regulator of enfeebled, acid or bilious stomachs, Hostetter's Bitters, will cure you? Could you read the testimony of the myriads of dyspeptics whom it has cured, though you might be of a skeptical turn, you would be convinced. Evidence of its efficacy is constantly multiplying, and this relates not only to cases of dyspepsia, but also liver complaint, constipation, urinary and uterine troubles and malarial disorders. The success which has attended the great stomachic has incited unscrupulous parties to manufacture cheap imitations of it, which they attempt to palm off as the genuine article. But, so familiar is the public with the real elixir, that these nefarious attempts are rarely successful. Neither imitation or competition affect the popularity of the standard article.

The Standard Tooth Wash

of the age is Sozodont. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth are rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and antiseptic.

Every day to its popularity.

Spalding's Glue is like wit: a good thing well applied.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

Generals P. T. Beauregard and Jubal Early have beaten their swords into ploughshares and turn the wheel of fortune monthly for the Louisiana State Lottery Company with as much vigor as fifteen years ago they led armies to battle. HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,
For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of humanity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Carbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickcox, Rector of St. John's E. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a sprain more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 25d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment. White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Fletcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimech, of Depont, Ohio, says:

"I am using CASTORIA in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the CASTORIA. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. (nov1

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Strains, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Stings, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children teething may have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. (nov1

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Feel Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well; I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22nd of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indivised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had on my way to Concord, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, NOV. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have suffered in my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most incessantly. The physicians told me my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was going to go as far as Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherre, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 22, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Bachman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting to do so, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing detected by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and aldermen, accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION!

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most efficient cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who is vulnerable to their disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Amateurs and the Army.

Let us look at some further differences between professional and amateur soldiery. The former are the trained instruments of executive power. With them obedience to orders is the first of duties, while long service gives habitual coolness and stolidity, which are invaluable in moments of excitement. Accustomed to the roughness of campaign life, they are not used up by a night or two of little harder beds than ordinary, or by a day or two of a little worse food. Their discipline does not allow them to carouse on beer while awaiting orders to march. Always ready to move, whether they ought to go to one point rather than another is not with them a matter of discussion and protest. The soldier is content with his pay and his calling; his home is with the company; he has no shop to quit with reluctance when ordered to march, and no social ties to draw him away from the scene of peril.

But the volunteer militiaman goes into service under great disadvantages of temperament or training. Taken, it may be, from a luxurious home, even awaiting orders in a city armory may be to him the most monotonous and demoralizing of duties. He may be haggard from the loss of sleep, overcome by the heat and by padded clothes, made ill by unaccustomed food, and worn out by anxiety as to how his business is getting along on the one hand, and by the public excitement on the other. A regular soldier in the same position would be in clover; but the militia are mainly recruited from youth quite unaccustomed to the hardness of a soldier's life. Not a few would be rejected on physical grounds if they applied for admission to the Army. Then, they elect their officers, and are apt to watch them narrowly to see that they "don't put on airs." The militia defray most of their own expenses, and feel quite independent of the State. Their pay for actual service is the subject of joke, and they often "turn it into the company fund." They discuss the decisions of their officers, and occasionally hold a meeting to express by vote their views of whether the company or regiment should go home or go to war. The feeling with which a militia regiment goes to quell a riot is also totally different from that of professional soldiery. * * * So far as the evidence taken up to this writing shows, both in Pittsburg and in Baltimore the militia fired on the mob without orders—fired one or two at a time, and then the rest joining, from their places in column, actually as they were on the march. Of course the disadvantages of that method of firing are apparent; we can hardly fancy professional soldiery worried into firing without orders.

But, were there nothing else to consider, the obvious respect paid by the rioters to the Army, as the outward symbol of the national will, was too marked to pass without its lesson. Correctly handled as were these few companies, steady as they were under the occasional missiles of the mob, neither the skill of the officers nor the discipline of the men can fully account for the effect they produced. The Army carried a vast moral power with it, which aided them not only in guarding Government property but in protecting railroad trains and dispersing mobs, without firing a shot. Unless some instances have escaped us, in all this bloody business the Army has not killed a man. They have captured hundreds of rioters, and dispersed thousands—they have killed none. In a few instances, stones were thrown after them, but generally there was an instinctive shrinking from conflict with national forces.—Army and Navy Journal.

Two Foolish Young Kentuckians.

Daniel Brown, who was a local for the Shelby Sentinel, two weeks ago burlesqued a younger brother of Byron Yount, who had a fight with a young Perry—both boys being under fifteen years of age. Saturday evening last John Yount, the boy, met Mr. Brown at Cooper's, and, taking him aside, asked him something in regard to the article in the Sentinel. Brown not making the matter satisfactory, John Yount expressed his boyish indignation. Brown slapped Johnny over and walked off. John reported the affair to his older brother, Byron, who espoused his quarrel, and during the evening he and Brown passed some high words. Each knowing the other's disposition well, they parted and prepared themselves for the next meeting. Brown borrowed a little four-shot pistol from his friend, James Edwards, and Yount, after seeking in vain for a weapon, took a pistol from his private drawer.

Thus prepared, the two walked toward each other and met at the railroad, one on one rail and the other on the opposite rail. In this position Brown asked Yount when he was ready; Yount replied, "Now," and both fired simultaneously into each other, only five feet apart. Yount's ball entered Brown's right breast. Brown's ball entered the lower part of Yount's abdomen, and ranged downward into the leg. Brown continued to fire, and emptied his four barrels, one ball entering Yount's wrist, another entering his right side. Yount's pistol refused to revolve, and while under fire he spat on his thumb and endeavored to wrench the cylinder around; but failing, he closed with Brown, and they pounded and pummelled each other with their pistols until they were parted; they again ran together, and fought until both fell from exhaustion. When taken apart Brown's grip was still upon Yount's arm, which had to loosened by friends forcing open the hands.

Both parties were laid upon the platform, a short distance from each other, and five doctors summoned; but no relief could be afforded Brown. While lying thus, Yount, it is said, swore at Brown, and said to him, if he could only reach him he would soon put him out of the way. Brown died at two o'clock on Sunday morning, and was buried at Pleasureville cemetery on Sunday. Yount lingered until Sunday evening, when he, too, died after suffering great pain. Brown was a graduate of Eminence College, was a member of the Christianburg Baptist church, and was beloved and respected in his section. Yount was the son of George Yount, a well-to-do and highly respected farmer of Shelby county.—Frankfort (Ky.) Yeoman.

The Eastern War.

A despatch from Bucharest, Monday, says that a great battle has been fought near Tirnova between the united forces of Mehemet Ali and Osman Pasha against the forces under the command of the Grand Duke Nicholas, in which the Russians were defeated with the loss of 15,000 men. Also, that the siege of Rustchuk has been raised. A despatch from Vienna states that the Bosnian leader Despotovitch has been defeated and driven into Dalmatia, where his forces were disarmed. Advices from Russian sources assert that General Ghourka's positions in the Balkan passes are secure, and that communication with him is uninterrupted.

A despatch of Tuesday says Suleiman Pasha has recaptured Kasanlik, at the southern mouth of Shipka Pass, with all its guns and materials, driving Gen. Gourkha pell mell across the mountains.

The Turks report a naval engagement in the Salina mouth of the Danube, in which two Russian gunboats were destroyed by Turkish ironclads.

News and Notes.

Kentucky had a State election on Monday. The democrats carried the Legislature.

The adjusters have completed the settlements of the losses on the St. John (N. B.) fire, and the total amount to be paid by the insurance companies is in round numbers $6,861,000. Of this the English companies will pay $4,822,000; Canadian companies $1,469,000; American companies $445,000, divided between the Ætna of Hartford, $240,000, Hartford of Hartford, $140,000, and Phenix of New York, $65,000. Add to this, $125,000 reinsurance by the Queen and the London, Liverpool & Globe companies.

The store of John Gorman at Newburyport was robbed of jewelry, cutlery and pistols worth $600, Saturday night.

Rumors are current at Havana that Jovellar will resign the captain-generalship of Cuba and be succeeded by General Blanco. General Martinez Campos has sent dispatches to the King of Spain explaining the situation, and stating that the insurgents are so well supplied with information by spies, and their facilities for disbanding when pursued are such, that it takes five hundred soldiers to look after ten insurgents. Campos requires 50,000 more troops to crush the insurrection. He says the insurgents will only surrender on receiving their independence, and recommends that the Spanish Government adopt one proposition or another. There are a great many sick soldiers at Havana.

The Howgate Arctic expedition has lately received a contribution of $500 from Capt. Americus Symmes. Captain Symmes is the advocate of the theory that a navigable cavity extends through the earth from pole to pole.

A despatch from Mississippi says that a negro at Pickensville, Ala., killed a young white man named Bush; and two other white men, named Storey and Kilpatrick, attempting to arrest the murderer, were resisted by his friends and both killed. As there is no election to come off in Alabama right away it is possible that this will not turn out to be one of the "negro outrages" to which we have been accustomed in the past, in which scores of black rioters were always killed and several white citizens wounded.

Men who play practical jokes are getting into trouble. Two Brooklyn fellows forged the name of a captain of a military company to an order to one of the members to appear at the armory for duty at three o'clock in the morning. He went, and the fools laughed at him! The jokers are in jail on a charge of forgery, and now he has his laugh.

Neal True was struck by a train on the Portland and Ogdensburg railroad at Cumberland Mills, Me., Saturday, and thrown eighty-one feet. He is not expected to recover.

A Miss Carr, of Guelph, Ontario, was forcibly abducted last month by a man named Sturdy and his daughter, and taken to Hamilton, where she was forced to marry Sturdy. The villain and his daughter are in jail, their victim being delirious from terror; it is feared the latter will become insane.

The towns of Eaton, Wisconsin, and a settlement of seventeen houses called "Benjamin's," were burned on Sunday. Only three houses were left in the two places. Two families were destroyed, and three are missing and supposed to be lost.

Lick Floyd, aged 81 years, his brother David and the latter's two sons, had a fight with Joseph A. Martin and his two sons, at Hopewell, Ohio, on Monday, and all the Floyds were killed.

Howard Reynolds, a wealthy contractor and builder of Monmouth, Ill., having discovered proof of his wife's guilt with Charles Kirk, a grain dealer, shot the woman dead, Kirk escaping. Reynolds then fatally shot a man who rushed into the room on hearing the firing, and finished by blowing his own brains out.

The centennial of the battle of Oriskany, near Utica, N. Y., was celebrated on the battle ground on Monday, 50,000 persons being present.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company advertises for proposals for the purchase of eight thousand tons of scrap iron—the debris of the Pittsburg destruction.

Rev. James Murray, a Catholic priest, was buried in Bangor. Three of his brothers, who are priests, performed mass, and the occasion also called into the sanctuary three cousins, all priests.

Vanderbilt's $100,000 donation to his employees will give engineers about fourteen dollars apiece; conductors, eight dollars; firemen, seven dollars; brakemen, switchmen and yardmen, three dollars.

Snake stories are now in order. The Grand Rapids (Mich.) Eagle says a blue-racer twenty feet, eight and three-fourths inches in length, and ten inches in circumference, was killed in the township of Cannon by a citizen who was attacked by the reptile. Two girls, each about thirteen years old, died last week from the effect of rattlesnake bites,—one in Osborn county, Kansas, and one in Raleigh, N. C.

George Jackson, a negro who outraged and murdered a young girl named Corinna Hayes at Hamburg, Ark., was taken from jail on the 28th ult. by a mob of armed men, chained to a sapling and burned to death. His screams were heard a great distance. All that was left of him was about fifteen pounds of calcined bones.

At Boggs township, Pa., on the 3d inst., a girl of twelve years of age, named Stone, fired a gun loaded with buckshot at a ten-year-old boy named Johnny Woolsencraft, the charge striking him in the stomach and causing instant death. The girl had threatened to kill the boy unless he gave her a drink of water, which he refused to do, when she deliberately shot him.

The District Court of Northern Berkshire at North Adams never had a more genuine sensation than that of yesterday, when the Court room was packed with a sweltering crowd to hear the examination of Herbert Blanchard, who shot Albert and Francis Starks at the Advent chapel in North Savoy last Sunday. George M. Bourne and Francis Borden, charged with being accessories to the crime, were also brought before the Court, and all three were tried together, as the same witnesses and the same testimony were needed to understand all three cases. Next to the prisoners themselves, the crowd were most anxious to have Clara Starks, the girl who was the cause of the whole trouble, pointed out to them from among the thirty or forty witnesses. It was hard to believe that the innocent-looking little girl in short dress and straw hat was the centre of such a serious tragedy, and, whatever her fault in permitting the attentions of Blanchard after her father's wise prohibition, the experience of this week and those yet to come will be a punishment to be remembered during her life.—Republican, Aug. 4.

The people of Candia are somewhat excited over the robberies that are being made in that quiet village. Not being content with the successful raid made on J. G. Our Flag Hoisted at Samoa.

The American flag has been hoisted at Samoa, and unless the action of the Consul is repudiated by the authorities at Washington, the islands of the Navigator's group will henceforward have to be accounted as in the possession of the American Government. A short time ago we gave the particulars connected with the visit of several Samoan chiefs to Fiji, whither they had gone to endeavor to persuade Gov. Sir Arthur Gordon to take possession of Samoa for Great Britain. Apparently, the Samoan chiefs had not got any encouragement, for on their return home the American Consul, Mr. Griffin, commenced negotiations to have the American flag hoisted. All the preliminaries were completed on the night of the 23d of May, a number of documents having been signed, and on the morning of the 24th the American flag was hoisted at the King's house, at Point Molinu, on the west side of Apia Harbor. A salute of twenty-one guns was fired from the other side of the harbor. The American clipper bark Menshokoff was lying at Apia at the time, and an American man-of-war is expected shortly. A great feast was given at the King's house, and all the white inhabitants were invited to go. Thakomba's son, from Fiji, and the English Consul, Mr. Liardet, went to where the feast was being held, and said they would join them if they would haul down the American flag while they were there. The natives, however, declined to haul down the flag, even temporarily, and Prince Timothy and the English Consul left. Mr. Griffin, the American Consul, recently visited Washington, but it was not stated that he was commissioned to accept the cession of the islands.—New Zealand Herald.

The American flag has been hoisted at Samoa and allegiance formerly tendered to the United States. Some strange rumors are current with respect to this movement, but we forbear, for the present at least, of giving them publicity.—Fiji Times.

Speak Gently to the Poet.

"Encourage the young poet."—Ex. Yes, encourage him. We wrote poetry once ourselves, but we were not encouraged. When we submitted a fourteen-page poem to a publisher, he said the measure was defective. We offered to write ten more pages and give him full measure without extra charge, but he didn't encourage us. He said many of the lines lacked the requisite number of feet, and we proposed to scratch off seventeen more feet of the stuff on the spot, so that he might add a foot here and there where it would do the most good, but he didn't encourage us. He made a motion to put a foot where it wouldn't do us any good, and we went away from there without making any further propositions. Something told us it would be unhealthy to linger around there any longer. But we subsequently sold our poem. We got two cents a pound for it, and the purchaser did not grumble about lack of "measure" or "feet" either. He seemed to appreciate the production; but the careless manner in which he jammed it into an old bag was not calculated to encourage a young poet. —Norristown Herald.

Why Suffer Dyspeptic Tortures,

When the famous regulator of enfeebled, acid or bilious stomachs, Hostetter's Bitters, will cure you? Could you read the testimony of the myriads of dyspeptics whom it has cured, though you might be of a skeptical turn, you would be convinced. Evidence of its efficacy is constantly multiplying, and this relates not only to cases of dyspepsia, but also liver complaint, constipation, urinary and uterine troubles and malarial disorders. The success which has attended the great stomachic is incited unscrupulous parties to manufacture cheap imitations of it, which they attempt to palm off as the genuine article. But, so familiar is the public with the real elixir, that these nefarious attempts are rarely successful. Neither imitation or competition affect the popularity of the standard article.

The Standard Tooth Wash

of the age is Sozodont. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth are rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and antiseptic.

Every day to its popularity.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately, often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Clark held a session of the District Court on Tuesday, when a question was heard and argued relating to a note of $2500, made by J. C. Carr, endorsed by Hill & Carr and discounted by the New Hampshire National Bank, the assignee of Davis, Moulton & Co. in New York District objecting that it should be not allowed as a claim against the bankrupt firm in New York, but should be allowed against the estate of Hill & Carr in this District. The question is as to the security by a mortgage, and is submitted to Judge Clark for decision as a special referee. Beardslee of Utica, N. Y., for Symonds, assignee of Davis, Moulton & Co.; Frink for New Hampshire National Bank; H. S. Clark for A. F. Howard, assignee of Hill & Carr.

A hearing was also had in the matter of E. P. Kimball, assignee of Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank, in the matter of a note of Geo. T. Macy, made to A. H. Hill or order and by him endorsed. Mr. Hill testified that the note was discounted for an indebtedness of Macy to the bank, and that Mr. Hill's endorsement was official and not personal. The bank had purchased bonds of Macy and this indebtedness was for some over payments to him and for which he sent the note. The note, which was for $800, was disallowed as against the estate of A. H. Hill, in bankruptcy.

A hearing was had in regard to certain notes made by Jas. M. Carr, endorsed by J. C. Carr, amounting to $10,000. These proofs were allowed by the Register in Bankruptcy, and now it is contended that the notes were made by Carr because Hill was President of the Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank and was prohibited by law from being indebted to the bank, but that the notes were not the individual notes of Carr and should be expunged from the list of claims against his separate estate. Mr. Hill testified that the notes were discounted for the benefit of Hill & Carr, as his name was not allowed to be used in the bank. Mr. Hill furnished the collateral security to the bank pledged for the payment of the notes. The counsel for the Savings Bank maintained that Hill was acting in a fiduciary capacity, and that if there was anything done in violation of law it cannot now be taken advantage of by the representatives of Carr or Hill or any one claiming under them. The Court suggested that as the assignee had proved his debt absolutely while he held security, he was not now in position to object. The counsel for assignee admitted that the proofs were imperfectly made, and asked time to amend and correct them, as they now appeared to be defective inasmuch as Mr. Hill testified that certain bonds and stocks and a bank book were deposited as collateral for these notes. Mr. Carr testified that the entire proceeds of the notes were for the benefit of Hill & Carr; Mr. Hill being President of the bank could not be a maker of the notes, and he (Carr) presumed that the investing committee knew that it was a loan to Hill & Carr, and not to Jas. M. Carr. The claim was disallowed, with leave to prove the same against the estate of Hill & Carr. Frink and Howard for assignee of J. M. Carr; Frank W. Hackett for E. P. Kimball, assignee of R. T. C. S. Bank.

Before the U. S. Court, Thomas Howorth, Wm. Howarth, Thos. Woods and Stephen Daly of Portsmouth, aliens, were admitted to citizenship.

WRECKED AGAIN.

The schooner George L. Treadwell, formerly one of the fishing fleet belonging to Mr. Valentine Doané, Jr., of this city, which was wrecked on Chincoteague Shoal last winter while on the passage from Norfolk to New York with a load of corn, and was subsequently sold, raised by wreckers and taken into port, has again come to grief. After being repaired she was put into the West India trade, and on the 18th of July left Nassau, New Providence, for Baltimore, and the next morning was capsized by a squall off Ship Channel Cays, the crew taking refuge on the side above water. No lives were lost, all hands being taken off by a schooner which was near by at the time of the accident. Wrecking vessels sailed from Nassau July 20th to endeavor to right the capsized schooner.

PORTSMOUTH DIRECTORY, 1877-8.

"Greenough's Directory of the inhabitants, institutions, manufacturing establishments, business, societies, business firms, etc., etc., of the City Portsmouth, for 1877-8," is now ready for delivery to subscribers, and for sale by Willis G. Myers at No. 17 Congress street, (late Jos. H. Foster's,) at $1.50 per copy. To those who have used the Directories of Greenough & Co. in the past, it will be enough to say that the present issue is nearer perfection than any of its predecessors. It contains a neat map of the city, with the wards as at present existing marked by separate colors. The numbers of houses and stores are given according to the late renumbering; and there is a directory for the outskirts of the city, taking in all the houses without numbers on outlying streets and roads. There is a complete list of officers of the city government, fire department, schools, churches, military organizations, honorary and benefit societies, charitable associations, etc., of itself worth more than the price of the book; and many other features of value. The book should find a place in every office, counting-room, store and house.

VETERAN ARTILLERY ASSOCIATION.

At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Veteran Artillery Association, held Monday evening, officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows:

George W. Towle, Captain;
William O. Sides, 1st Lieutenant;
George E. Hodgdon, 2d Lieutenant;
Oliver M. Knight, 3d Lieutenant;
Charles A. C. Gray, 4th Lieutenant;
Andrew J. Sides, Adjutant;
Samuel C. Whittier, Surgeon;
Charles A. Holbrook, Assistant Surgeon;
Eugene M. Grant, Chaplain;
William H. Sise, Treasurer and Paymaster;
John H. Wells, Quartermaster;
Thomas E. O. Marvin, Judge Advocate;
Edward B. Prime, Clerk.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

The U. S. S. Enterprise is now announced to drop down to the lower harbor on Friday and sail for Hampton Roads on Saturday, which place there is little doubt she will reach in safety if the weather holds good, as her pumps are of the very best make.

The Straw's Point fire is now believed to have been kindled by the spontaneous combustion of oily rags, and not by a tobacco pipe carelessly laid down while lighted.

The mountebank who reaped a rich harvest of nickels and dimes on Market square, Monday evening, from the crowds he delighted by his exhibition of eating cotton and blowing smoke and flame from his mouth, and the Punch and Judy show which pleased the youngsters in the same place Tuesday evening, each made more excitement than the municipal election seemed to do.

The Manchester Mirror of Monday says "four governors occupied seats in the Portsmouth train this morning, viz: Prescott, Cheney, Straw and Harriman," and the engine "Gov. Stearns" drew the train.

Mr. Simeon S. Jenkins, whose card as civil engineer appears in another column, is a native of Berwick, and after being engaged in the construction of railroads, water works and other public works for about thirty years, has settled down at Dover.

The election of Tuesday was the most quietly conducted of any city election for years. There was a noticeable lack of interest in the working politicians of both parties, and very few carriages were engaged in taking voters to the polls. The total vote of the city for Mayor was 266 less than that of last year, when 2006 votes were cast; but it was heavier than many anticipated it would be throughout the day, 1600 votes being the extreme limit of the estimate we heard made up to four o'clock. There was much more scratching of tickets than appears in the returns, as both sides were at it and pretty nearly balanced each other; particularly was this the case in Ward One. There was nothing anywhere worth mentioning in the shape of disturbance, that we have heard of. The prohibition candidate for Mayor, Mr. Albert A. Fernald, received thirty-three votes in the city.

Gentlemen who use tobacco, for smoking or chewing, will find an interesting notice in our paper of this date from the Merchants' Tobacco Company, 30 Broad Street, Boston, Mass.

—A curious anecdote is current of Pauline Lucca and the tenor Sonntheiler, who in 1860, when she was neither known nor rich, lent her a diamond of great value, which she wore when she performed in "Semiramide," but forgot to return to him. Sonntheiler was then rich, and thought little of the jewel. He however afterwards asked La Lucca to restore the gem, and in reply was informed by the diva that she had been robbed of it. At length Sonntheiler fell into such difficulties that he was obliged to take legal proceedings against the fair borrower, who, as she could not prove the robbery alleged in her letters, was condemned two or three weeks ago to pay heavy damages to Sonntheiler.

—The origin of "windfall" is said to be the following: Some of the nobility of England, by the tenure of their estates, were forbidden to sell any of the trees upon them, the timber being reserved for the use of the royal navy. Such trees as fell without cutting were the property of the occupants. A tornado, therefore, was a perfect God-send in every sense of the term, to those who had occupancy of the extensive forests, and the "windfall" was sometimes of a very great value.

—In a Nevada trial a new theory for defence was evolved. It consists in proving the previous bad character of the accused in mitigation of his crime, and as an explanation why nothing better could have been expected of him.

—"Mamma, I know why papa calls you 'honey,'" triumphantly cried a youngster. "Because he thinks I am sweet, dear?" "No; it's because you have so much comb in your hair."

—Pretty girls are like confectionery in more ways than one—they are sweet, they are expensive, and they are conducive to heart-burn.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Carbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickcox, Rector of St. John's R. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a sprain more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 22d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any things they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment, White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., as horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 Dey St., New York.

Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Pitcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey; neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimock, of Dupont, Ohio, says:

"I am using CASTORIA in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the CASTORIA. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. (nov1)

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Stiffness, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Stings, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains no Opium, Morphine, Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children teething may have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. (nov1)

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 23 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for the 2 years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of Dr. Quain's CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are the best medicine recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $5 for the same.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills. Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, and I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk one mile every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 13, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been troubled with the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yea, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. P. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for over twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get temporary relief. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for the last ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go, when Mr. Mathis, who lived in the business of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

—o—

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.
WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Why Riots Thrive in Baltimore.

Riots have been of easy growth here in almost every period. Bank riots, anti-federal riots, know-nothing riots, police riots, election riots, abolition riots, Southern-sympathy riots. The father of General Robert E. Lee received the injuries here which finally laid him in his grave at the hands of cold-blooded ruffians. The cause of this riotous temperament is to be found in many things, among others the social propensity of the Baltimore people. In no city are there more social clubs of both high and low order, and military clubs, firemen clubs, lodges, etc., where the people assemble and agitate. Here began Methodism, Odd Fellowism and several social fraternities. Rowdy political clubs were always indigenous. There is, besides, a very large element of the original people, of the fervent blood of the Irish and Scotch Celt. The Protestant Presbyterian element and the Catholic element, both English and Irish, make up the leading Baltimore families. Baltimore stripped all the Chesapeake Bay towns of their enterprising traders, and grew to opulence on the ruin of many an old port of entry. The bay-traders were generally Irish and Scotch. It drew blood and brain from Virginia as well as from the eastern shore, and the border Presbyterian counties of Pennsylvania. Many Spanish and French from the West Indies settled here and contributed their spasmodic and infuriated passions to a native populace already touchy enough under the influence of the broiling summers of the clay hills and gullies on the Chesapeake. The atmosphere of Baltimore is sultry; it mixes badly with whisky. There are more taverns to the square acre in central Baltimore than in the Seven Dials of London. More concealed deadly weapons are carried here than in the great city of New York. The "code" is in vogue, and to defend your "honor, sah," particularly in a bar-room, is a Christian duty. Baltimore has all the southern traits intensified by the density of population. It is the largest city of the South, and is as southern as Memphis or New Orleans. —"Gath."

The Devil's Chain.

A few days since, a gentleman resident in the nighborhood of Everton, England, went on a visit to Newcastle, and, being anxious to possess some memento of his trip, he purchased a copy of Mr. Jenkin's celebrated work, "The Devil's Chain." On the evening before his return home he sent the following telegram to his wife: "Shall be home to-morrow evening about nine o'clock. Am bringing 'The Devil's Chain' for you." Not knowing of the existence of the book in question, the good lady began to be somewhat terrified at the threatened bondage implied in the mysterious telegram which she had received, and the bare possibility of being manacled by some dreadful instrument forged in the regions below, drove her almost to the brink of desperation. She became convinced that her husband was insane. To prepare for any emergency which might happen on the return of her "better half," she enlisted the services of two grown-up brothers. The well-known knock of the husband raised all in the house to the tip-toe of expectation. Screwing her courage to the sticking point, she hastened to the door, but the remembrance that he was the bearer of "The Devil's Chain" for her was too much, and she fainted in his arms. On recovering consciousness, she inquired why he had sent her such a telegram, to which he replied, "The telegram contained nothing but the truth, and here I am at the stated time." "But where is 'The Devil's Chain?'" she asked. "How impatient you are; I have it in my pocket," was his reply. At the utterance of these words she screamed out, "Oh, he has gone mad; what shall I do, what shall I do!" and at the same moment the brothers rushed from their hiding place, and, seizing the supposed maniac by the collar, threw him down. At first he was quite bewildered, but the light dawned upon his mind, and he began to see that "The Devil's Chain" had occasioned all the mischief. As soon as he could release one of his hands he drew from his pocket a small parcel which he threw upon the table, exclaiming, "There is the Devil's Chain." When the true nature of its contents became known, the men heartily laughed at their folly, and the affrighted wife was quieted.

—There is a servant girls' trades-union at Dubuque, Iowa. A lady recently endeavored to re-engage a servant girl who worked for her two years ago and gave excellent satisfaction, but the girl resolutely refused to go, though she acknowledged that she liked her former mistress as much as the latter liked her. The lady urged her to give her reasons for refusing a permanent place with one whom she acknowledged she liked so well. Then the girl said she was a member of a ring or secret society of servant girls, each of whom was pledged to bring from her employer's a given amount of provisions—meat, or flour, or butter, or soap, or something—every week, and in return for this, when out of employment the person to whom these articles were given supported them until they found, or she could find for them, another place. And the girl refused to re-enter the employment of her former mistress, because the lady had been so kind to her that she could not make up her mind to steal anything from her.

Wages in the Coal Regions.

A correspondent of the New York Times, writing from Scranton, Pa., concerning the mining troubles, says he has examined the pay-roll sheets of the Lackawanna Coal and Iron Company, and learned from them the following facts:

"The company in March employed 2248 men and boys, to whom they paid $74,000, an average of $33 per head. In April they paid 2218 men $61,000, or an average of $28 per man and boy. In May there were 2140 persons who earned $68,200, or an average of $30, and in June 2130 men earned $63,000, or an average of about $30 each. It must be remembered that the mine gangs, numbering about 600 each, include about 200 boys, working at wages varying from $4 to $10 a month."

There is undoubtedly great force in the following suggestion as to the primary cause of the trouble at the mines; too many men to do the work required:

"The great trouble here in Scranton," said an officer of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company, who has been acquainted with the coal business of the corporation for twenty years, "is our population, an excess of miners for the work to be done." The Company, a few years ago, purchased large tracts of land along the valley, embracing an area about four miles in length. It sunk shafts at great expense, at a time when the prospect seemed to warrant the belief that there would be a steady demand for all the coal that could be brought out of them. The miners flocked to the region, and during the war, when nearly all the men employed were foreigners, they constantly brought out friends and relatives, until the scarcity of labor that had for a time existed ceased, and when the panic came in 1873, it was suddenly found that the supply of coal would have to be limited, and there soon came complaints of lack of employment."

A Story of a Cock and a Ball.

A New York paper recently published a long yarn about Justice Bradley of the United States Supreme Court, asserting that he told Justices Field and Clifford that he was in favor of the democratic electors from Florida, and read them an elaborate opinion he had prepared sustaining that view, but that he was visited by a throng of republican leaders all through the night preceding the day on which the Electoral Commission voted on the Florida case, and when it came to a vote he voted in favor of the republican electors. Also, that Justice Bradley subsequently filed the identical opinion he had before read to Clifford and Field in support of the Tilden electors, as his reason for supporting the Hayes electors, merely altering "democratic" to "republican" all through it, and making a few other trifling changes. The story is ridiculous on its face, for Judge Bradley's argument in favor of the Hayes electors could not be twisted into supporting the Tilden electors without being entirely re-written and much of its most important part left out altogether; but further proof of the utter falsehood of the charge against Judge Bradley will not be asked for by any one, after learning that the charge is made by the New York Sun.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 6.

A vast amount of ingenuity has been thrown away on the Washington Monument during the last quarter of a century without any apparent progress towards its completion. A few weeks after the unfavorable report of the Commission, its members were reported to have hit upon a plan to overcome any further lateral pressure of the earth foundations. It contemplated a circular trench around the shaft, thirty or forty feet in depth, to be filled up with a wall of solid masonry, which in turn was to be strengthened by iron-hoops. About the same time Mr. Larkin Meade was said to have proposed a plan for completing the superstructure. It was, in short, to surmount the present unfinished marble shaft by a colossal statue, eighty-five feet high, of the "Father of his Country," and to be formed of hammered bronze. The upper layers of stone were to be beveled at the expense of the external surface so that the feet, even, of the big bronze George might be visible to his admiring countrymen and others. Now the President is said to have pronounced in favor of a union of the two plans, and thus complete the national reproach. I forbear to indicate the views of your correspondent as he is not an art critic; but from all that is heard from those professing ability in that direction, it is safe to predict that should the compromise be agreed to, it will be most mercilessly lampooned and abused as an outrage upon every requirement of aesthetics. In this connection I may say that the naval monument recently erected at the foot of the Capitol grounds is generally regarded as one of the very finest specimens of monumental building in the country.

The revelations relative to the starving condition of thousands of Pennsylvania miners and their families made by Saturday's New York papers, has served to confirm the opinion of many as to the necessity of Government supervision over railroads and other great corporations, holding, as they do, such vital relations to all our great interests, including the laboring masses. While it has not abated the demand for the swift punishment of the ruffian and incendiary leaders of the late riots, it has softened the censure visited upon the mass of the strikers who had real grievances, and the agitation over this and other problems precipitated by the outbreaks, appears destined to go on until the meeting of Congress, when it will be taken up by the House and Senate.

From the Star of Saturday evening it would appear that the charges filed here recently against Collector Russell of Richmond, are not very unlike those brought against him months ago and which were investigated and dismissed as not warranted by the evidence filed in their support. Commissioner Raum is reported to have again dismissed them with a pretty broad intimation that they were inspired by malice and envy, and perhaps by the hope indulged by his accusers of officially succeeding him. It may prove that those against Brooklyn's Collector, which are under investigation, have no better foundation in fact.

The Administration is rapidly dispersing, many important functionaries having already gone on their summer vacation while others are preparing to follow, although the heat of no summer for ten years has been less oppressive than this season. The President has indefinitely postponed his Southern visit and will go to Vermont in a few days, where he will spend a portion of the time with Mr. Evarts at the latter's farm.

News and Notes.

The extensive stables and carriage houses connected with the Morton House, formerly the Americus Club House, at Indian Harbor, Greenwich, Conn., were burned early Monday morning, and thirty-six horses, twenty-four of them very valuable animals, perished, and many elegant carriages were consumed. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The night watchman did not give an alarm, and it is thought that he was asleep. The flames spread with such rapidity that within forty-five minutes all the buildings, with their contents, were a mass of ruins. The stablemen barely escaped. The entire loss amounted to $50,000.

Dr. De Hasse, American Consul at Jerusalem, writes to an Omaha paper giving the details of his tour around the world in the remarkably quick time of sixty-eight days. The journey from Alexandria, Egypt, via Brindisi and Paris to London, and thence to New York and San Francisco was accomplished in twenty days, just the same number of days going from San Francisco to Japan. The crossing to Canton, in China, took six days. A sail of ten days over the China Sea and through the strait of Malacca brought him to Ceylon, and twelve more days to Suez, in Egypt, and thence, a few hours by rail to Alexandria, his starting point, making the entire distance of 25,000 miles—16,000 by water and 9000 on land—in sixty-eight days, without any accident or detention of any kind.

The Philadelphia Ledger could not find a single American among the Philadelphia rioters.

Five men and twenty-five horses, of a party lost on the Staked Plains in Texas recently, perished from thirst.

When somebody recommended Governor Young of Ohio to call upon the National Government for help during the railroad troubles, he answered: "I will never call for United States troops until every man in Ohio has been whipped."

Jay Gould was once a country editor. He writes now occasionally, it is said, and is regarded as an astute and sagacious writer.

The London correspondent of the Liverpool Daily Post states that the homœopathists have discovered a certain remedy for seasickness. It is apomorphia, and a very small dose of it taken once an hour in water will remove the qualms. They are so certain of its success that they are going to procure a gratuitous circulation of it among vessels that carry passengers.

The opening of the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Line to New Orleans marks the rapid progress of a compact and admirably managed organization, which already reaches all the principal points for telegraphic business at the North, and promises soon to cover the South with an equally efficient service. Every forward step taken by this healthy and aggressive young Company is a cause for special congratulation to the business public. It has for the first time in this country made telegraphing really and continuously cheap. The service it has rendered, especially to the press, deserves a less grudging recognition than it has hitherto received. The Western Union has uniformly refused to reduce rates except when driven to it. Every reduction is due solely to the enterprise of the Atlantic & Pacific. If people want low rates, they ought to maintain the Company that secures them. Its managers yesterday denied authoratively the malicious stories about its intending to raise rates. Its steady policy for years has been to reduce, and it seems to have prospered on it.—Tribune.

Mr. James T. Fields is engaged on two important volumes. The first volume, of about 800 pages, will be entitled "Family Library of English Poetry, from Chaucer to Tennyson," and will contain all the standard poems in the language that are not too long to be embraced in such a collection. The other volume, of the same size, will bear the title of "Family Library of English Prose, from Sir Philip Sidney to John Ruskin," and will contain specimens of the best prose authors in the language. These volumes will be published by James R. Osgood & Company of Boston.

When the Secretary gets at the work of banishing politics from the navy yards the trouble will begin. Politics have been intrenched in the navy yards through successive Administrations—whig, democratic and republican. When Buchanan was trying to crush out the heresy which subsequently split the democratic party, proscription ran so high that the humblest laborer in the yards was obliged to pronounce the shibboleth of the dominant faction of the dominant party. Senators have wrestled with each other—as Gwin and Broderick did—for the control of navy yards and their incidental patronage. Ships have been built or unbuilt, repaired or laid up in ordinary, with reference to the immediate needs of the controlling politicians. These abuses are almost as old as the Government itself. Possibly they are less prevalent now than in former years. But they will be found most formidable in any attempt at reorganization.—N. Y. Times.

The joke of the Iowa campaign is the nomination upon a prohibitory platform of a man who has been indicted for the illegal sale of liquor. The joke of the Ohio campaign is the nomination upon a democratic platform of a man who was a Know-Nothing a few years ago and is a Prohibitionist now.—Chicago Times.

A family of six persons in Taunton, Mass., have been for six months seriously affected with symptoms of poisoning, the mother having been a patient at the Massachusetts General Hospital, getting much relief. It now proves that the family has been using for cooking and drinking purposes, water that has stood all night in a lead pipe. Will people never understand the peril of this mode of proceeding?

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: "What seems to be wanted in the game of base ball is an improvement in the umpire arrangement. Every club can win every game on its home grounds, but they all seem to let down as soon as they get into the clutches of a strange umpire. An automatic combination umpire, with a stem-winder and a time lock, would be an improvement."

One of the most original ideas of the day is advanced by the Chicago Times, which declares the constitution of Canada to be a responsible republic while that of this country is an irresponsible elective monarchy, and argues that instead of annexing Canada to the United States, as proposed by Mr. Blaine, the United States ought to be annexed to Canada.

A southern college professor says that Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, is "as just as Aristides and as brave as Cæsar." His inaction in the Kemper county massacre would indicate that he is also as dead as both.—N. Y. Times.

James Bourden, seventy years old, a Swede, made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide at Manchester on the 7th inst., jumping in the canal, near the print works, he being rescued by parties in the vicinity. Cause, tired of life.

The Eastern War.

There was nothing definite or of importance from the seat of war, Tuesday. Turks and Russians mutually accuse each other of frightful barbarities, and both deny that they commit any. The Turks claim to be giving the Russians a terrible shaking up, and driving them at all points in Bulgaria. A despatch from Shumla says that the Russians are concentrating in great force at Aklona, it is supposed with the intention of an attack on Rasgrad, where 40,000 Turks, under the command of Ahmed Eyoub, defend the fortified camp. A despatch from Bucharest says the Russians have declared their intention of holding the Shipka pass at all hazards.

It is reported that Russia has succeeded in inducing Servia and Greece to simultaneously declare war against Turkey.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thin, brittle, brea& or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

THE ELECTION.

The Times says the democrats fairly throw away the chance to carry the city, "and there is no excuse for it. We might have won, but as it is we have got what we have got and must make the best of it. But 1740 votes were thrown in the whole city, showing that nearly 600 voters staid away from the polls. It is more than probable that all the republicans who could be persuaded to vote for Mr. Broughton, did vote; and had democrats rallied and thrown a full vote, instead of Broughton having a majority of 96, the majority would have been more than 200 for Mr. Treadwell." There is no doubt that the democrats failed to carry the city through not throwing enough votes; but then the vote of both parties was very fairly proportioned to the tearing old canvass that preceded the election. With two daily papers in the city, one strongly democratic and one with a very perceptible leaning toward republicanism, there was no apparent attempt to fire the voter's heart, on either side; indeed, a stranger in the city might well have been excused for not discovering from the papers that an election was coming off at all, and all that puzzles us is how so many as 1740 voters came to find it out in time to deposit their ballots.

[Communicated.]

CONUNDRUMS.

Mr. Editor: The result of our city election is that the city is to remain under the control of the republicans another year, a result which all republicans will rejoice at if only some needed reforms be made. Why not place Ex-City Marshal Johnson in his old position? And why not also give us a Street Commissioner who can fulfill all the requirements of his office without having to call in the aid of a surveyor, which entails extra expense on the city? The people are ready for such a reformation in their affairs; then let us all, as true republicans, throw aside all self interests and personal ambitions, and do all we can to lessen taxes and improve our condition financially. The republicans have a grand chance to show by their works that they are willing to do all that can be done for the benefit of the whole people. SUMNER.

POLICE COURT.

Wednesday, August 8th.

John Barrett, a boy, was arraigned on complaint of Thomas F. Hoyt, for an assault. The complainant did not appear, and the two witnesses who were in court testified that the first they knew of the matter was when they received notice to attend the trial; so young Barrett was discharged.

Daniel Hurley was brought up for assaulting James Sweeney. The complainant in this case also was absent from the court, and Judge Batchelder, begining to get tired of that way of doing business, sent an officer after him and he was brought in. Hurley was fined $5, costs taxed at $7.64. He announced his readiness not to pay the same, and will "go up" if he sticks to that resolution.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

We are under obligations to the Ward Clerks of the various wards for prompt returns of the voting on the 7th inst., and hereby tender our thanks for their obliging courtesy.

The splendid ship "Granite State" will be launched at noon to-day. The launch can be seen from the wharves in this city.

Col. J. C. Butler's third popular excursion to the Shoals in steamer Appledore comes off to-day. Tickets for the round trip 75 cents each; for sale only by Mr. Butler,—all tickets sold on the boat will be charged for at full rates.

Schooners Jed F. Duren and Snow Bird, of St. John, N. B., and schooner Mist, of Calais, Me., were loading brick at the yards up river, on Wednesday, for St. John. The captain of the Snow Bird informs us that the parties chartering his vessel, at the same time chartered six others, two to load at Portland, two at Danversport and two at this port, all to take bricks to St. John.

Mr. Charles H. Tompson, formerly of this city and for many years leader of the old Portsmouth Cornet Band, is now leader of the American Band of Boston, which numbers twenty-five instruments. This band was one of the sixteen which participated in the tournament at Rocky Point, Rhode Island, on the 3d inst.

The Boston Journal says: "Mr. Alfred Ordway, the well known artist, has recently brought home as the result of a month's sojourn at Newcastle, near Portsmouth, N. H., a collection of open-air sketches of several historical points of interest in that locality. Among them are views of the Governor Wentworth Mansion, near the Hotel Wentworth; the Jeffries Mansion, 200 years old, situated on Battery Point: 'Pall-and-be-d——d' Point on the Piscataquis River; the Martello Tower, just west of Fort Constitution, and the Murderer's Cave, in which Wagner, the Smutty Nose murderer, secreted himself after his return from the scene of bloody tragedy. These works of art are painted in oil, and will be framed by Mr. Charles W. Kennard, and placed on exhibition at his store on Tremont street, where the residents of Portsmouth and vicinity and visitors to the ancient town of Newcastle will be welcome to inspect the views." By "Murderer's Cave" we presume is meant the shallow cave in the face of the cliff below the Hotel Wentworth, near which Wagner landed on the morning after his murderous expedition, but in which he did not hide at all. The cave has always been called the "Devil's Den," and if a new name is to be given it now we respectfully submit that it should be called after some personage at least as respectable as the one whose name it has so long borne.

RYE LETTER.

Rye, August 6th.

"Zed" has a long letter in the last Boston Saturday Evening Gazette, all about Rye Beach, in which it is pretty plainly indicated that business is not so good as usual this season, and some reasons are given why it is not up to the former standard, all of which may be correct, and may not be. But he may make up his mind to one thing,—business or no business at the beach, the farmers who live back from the sea and who reap no benefit from summer boarders, are not going to vote for any more roads to accommodate them or boarding house keepers, and the idea of their helping to pay for street or road lights, or plank sidewalks, would make them vote against any such proposition "early and often" if they could have the chance. It is all very well to talk about the benefit to the whole town which is derived from summer boarding, but just ask any farmer in town who don't have facilities and location for the business how much richer he is at the end of the season, than he would have been if there was not a boarder in town! At one hotel where from twenty-five to forty chickens are used every day, there has been only one small lot bought of a resident of the town; and it is no wonder that the tax payers living back from the sea should grumble at having to pay for these things, which do not benefit them in the least.

But aside from all this it is intimated by "Zed" that not enough chickens, eggs and pure ice cream (without the corn starch) are provided. Perhaps some boarders are unreasonable in their demands—undoubtedly owing to ignorance on their part, which considering their opportunities of acquiring knowldge is excusable; still to common country folks it does seem strange that they entertain some singular ideas, in regard to things they eat, which they think anybody with any sense at all ought to know was an impossibility. Chickens have not yet been produced which consist of all white meat; still, all or nearly all who go out to board, really seem to think that such is the case; at least they all send for it. Then again, cows don't give cream exclusive of milk, but these nice folks who come to spend the summer with us seem to think they ought to, if they don't. Then the tripe must be all "honeycombed," and they don't know why it can't be made that way just as well as any other; and the beefsteaks ought to be all tenderloins, and if oxen don't know how to grow that way, they ought to be taught.

And worst of all, "Zed" says they don't know how to make a fish chowder! After such a charge as that it is not so much of a conundrum as to the cause of a decline in business; but now that there is an "Episcopal Chapel" here, and the bell all right in the tower, perhaps if everybody becomes an Episcopalian, (nobody can preach in, or go to St. Andrew's by the Sea unless they are of that denomination) and attends services regularly every Sunday, things may improve. NAT.

Rye, Aug. 8.

The house, barn and outbuildings, belonging to Mr. J. Newel Philbrick, about a mile from the Center, on the road leading from Jenness' Beach to Breakfast Hill, were entirely consumed by fire between one and two o'clock this morning. But very little furniture was saved, the flames spread so rapidly, and the family saved barely clothing enough to cover themselves with. The fire broke out in the house, and before it reached the barn the stock was fortunately got out in safety. Among the articles destroyed was a fine old-fashioned brass clock, for which Mr. Philbrick had been offered $100. It is not known how the fire caught. In that part of the house where it originated there had been no fire during the day. There was insurance on the buildings for $1500 in the "Farmer's Mutual." None of Mr. Philbrick's private papers were saved. NAT.

A New Form of Lunacy Illustrated.

The man who wants a retraction is the thorn in an editor's flesh. If a local item states that red-headed John Simpkins who lives on Orange street was arrested for drunkenness, an irate man rushes up to the office to demand an explanation to the effect that no reflection is cast upon Thomas Plimpkins of Lemons street, who has black hair and drinks nothing stronger than cider. If a reporter, in describing a street fight, mentions the fact that it took place near "The House of Lords," the indignant proprietor of that establishment appears before the editor, protesting that a slur upon the character of his saloon is intended, and threatening dire vengeance if an apology be not offered as publicly as the insult to the effect that the rioters got their liquor at another and altogether more disreputable groggery. If the hapless journalist throws some humorous incident into an impersonal form, he finds that he has hit home in a score of places, and he is accused of satirizing people of whose existence he knew no more than the world knew a month ago of the village at the bottom of Lake Leman. If he invents fictitious names to fill out a narrative he learns that there are hundreds of people willing to assume the roles which he has created, after the manner of the disreputable schoolmasters who accused Dickens of caricaturing them in the character of Wackford Squeers. In fact, it seems to be a common thing with certain half-educated, thin-skinned and self-important persons to imagine that the press is always discussing them; and generally they have no better grounds for the supposition than Scrub, who declared, "I think they talked of me, for they laughed consumedly." When a fellow of this kind has no other excuse for nagging at an editor he is sure to appear as the champion of his minister, his mother-in-law or his daughter, and until the inventor of the Bogardus kicker contrives some small, cheap and easily concealed but powerful petard by which the man who seeks a retraction may be blown to the moon, the life of the American journalist will not be completely happy.—N. Y. World.

—The liquor sellers of Bennington, Vt., are indignant. They expected to get rich out of the approaching celebration; but a Vermont law forbids the sale of liquor near a military encampment, and the Vermont militia will encamp at Bennington on centennial week. The commanding officer has the power to stop such sales, to seize liquors, and to place guards at any place where he believes liquors are sold, and notice has been given that the power will be exercised.

—A young fellow, who was a bit of a Bohemian, fell in love with his laundress, a charming young creature; and in order that he might see her frequently, he contrived to make her call every day to take something to the wash. As chance would have it, they were separated from each other for a time, but by and by they met again. "Have you been true to me all this time?" inquired the comely damsel. "See," said he, "I have worn nothing but paper collars since we parted."

—A story is told of the late Queen of Holland, who encountered one day on the high road a soldier making frantic efforts to light his pipe. "There," said she, giving him some money, "buy good tobacco." "It is the Queen," whispered an equerry in the soldier's ear. The latter mumbled out some thanks, when the Queen remarked, "I fear the regulation tobacco is not good." The soldier opened his pouch, and placed some weed in Her Majesty's hand, adding, "Just taste that stuff, ma'am."

Why Suffer Dyspeptic Tortures,

When the famous regulator of enfeebled, acid or bilious stomachs, Hostetter's Bitters, will cure you? Could you read the testimony of the myriads of dyspeptics whom it has cured, though you might be of a skeptical turn, you would be convinced. Evidence of its efficacy is constantly multiplying, and this relates not only to cases of dyspepsia, but also liver complaint, constipation, urinary and uterine troubles and malarial disorders. The success which has attended the great stomachic has incited unscrupulous parties to manufacture cheap imitations of it, which they attempt to palm off as the genuine article. But, so familiar is the public with the real elixir, that these nefarious attempts are rarely successful. Neither imitation or competition affect the popularity of the standard article.

The Standard Tooth Wash

of the age is Sozodont. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth are rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and antiseptic.

Every day to its popularity.

Spalding's Glue is like wit: a good thing well applied.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reported to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by use becomes white and healthy.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Daily Chronicle.

—A stalwart man rushed into a doctor's office in Newark, Ohio, the other day, with the cry: "Pump me out quick." "What is wrong with you?" inquired the doctor. "Get the pump ready while I am telling you. I'm burning up inside. Hurry. I took a drink down on Gingerbread Row. They have put a job up on me. I am poisoned." The doctor suddenly interposed: "Why, I smell something burning myself;" and opening the patient's waistcoat found a hole three inches in diameter burned in the shirt front. While the stalwart citizen was taking his drink he had dropped a cigar stump between his waistcoat and shirt. "Didn't you smell smoke?" asked the doctor. "You're right, I did; but I thought it was coming out of my mouth."

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Marbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickcox, Rector of St. John's E. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a cramp more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 23d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment, White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 66 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Pitcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimech, of Depont, Ohio, says:

"I am using CASTORIA in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the CASTORIA. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. nov1

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Strains, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Bites, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children teething may have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. (nov1

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for nearly twelve years with neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten years, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and I thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. H. Mallory, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and oblige Mrs. Laura Sherrel. Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trving climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy elief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the posession of this Family Medicine prevent its spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Bachman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.
WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.
DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle painful troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Itch or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

A Counterfeiter Trapped.

Joanna Sterling, a pretty little girl twelve years old, keeps a newspaper stand in New York. To Joanna came Thomas Buff, of Oswego, who wanted to buy a morning paper, and asked her if she could change a half a dollar. Joanna said "You bet!" and gave Mr. Buff forty-seven cents and the newspaper he desired. Mr. Buff then tendered to Joanna a half dollar coin, and when he was about half a block away, the little girl called to him that the money was bad. This information made Mr. Buff change his walk to a quickstep, but Joanna's brother pursued him and captured his coat-tails. Then Mr. Buff said, "I will sit down on this stone and wait until you go back and get that half dollar."

"That's too thin," said the boy; "here comes a cop, and he's too fly for you." When the "cop" came up the boy explained the situation, and Mr. Buff said; "Well, I don't suppose this'll be more than three years for me, will it?"

"I don't know," answered the policeman; "we'd better go to the United States court." When the party arrived before the United States grand jury, Joanna and her brother promptly told their stories, and Mr. Buff was immediately indicted. As Joanna left the jury-room, the foreman of the jury said to General Foster: "Call that little girl back, will you?"

The little girl came back, and the foreman directed her to pass in front of each juryman. She did so, and when she had finished her round she was possessed of a pile of silver change. Then she went out, and General Foster said: "Well, that restores my faith in human nature. It was a pretty act."

—An Ohio critic deluged with sarcasm a barrister who assumed the part of the mummy in an amateur dramatic performance. He said: "He was obliged to put a little animation into himself to come up with the character, and to wear more recent linen, but that was about all. Nature had admirably qualified him to act the part."

—A Chicago young man had listened all the evening to his wife's selections from Wagner, and he slept very soundly. Toward midnight, cats assembled in the backyard and yowled fearfully. The sleeper did not get up and throw bootjacks at them, but turned on one elbow and whispered in his dreams, "Sing it once more, Elvira; sing it once more."

—English butchers have been experimenting with dynamite, exploded by a current of electricity, as a more humane means of killing cattle than the present method, and find that it works admirably. A small primer of dynamite is fastened to the forehead of each animal, with an electric fuse attached; when the electric current is set in motion the charges are exploded simultaneously and the animals are instantly killed.

—During the strike in Albany, while Coroner Fitzhenry, of that city, who is a member of the Burgesses Corps, was guarding the western end of the upper railroad bridge, a man attempted to pass the guard. The coroner commanded the intruder to halt. "Who will stop me from going over this bridge?" asked the man. "I will," said the coroner. "Would you stop the likes of me, who voted for you for coroner?" The coroner replied: "I am put here to shoot, and I get thirty dollars for a corpse. If you don't leave I'll put a bullet through you."

—During the recent unpleasantness in Chicago a party of roughs called on Robert Law, a rich coal dealer. "You must pay your men two dollars a day, or we'll shut you up," said the spokesman. "And who the devil are you, sir?" demanded Robert. "We represent the labor strike, and must be obeyed," imperiously demanded the spokesman. "Well, you wan't me to pay my men two dollars a day, do you?" "Yes, and you must do it, too." "I'm much obliged to the labor strikers. I'm now paying my men from $3 to $4.50 a day, and a reduction to two dollars will be a good thing for me; but go and see the workmen about it."

—An English farmer has recently been compelled to pay the costs of a practical joke. He was sitting in the bar-room of the inn one night and taking his usual tankard of ale, when his eye chanced to fall on the sleeping form of a man with a long beard. He went to the fire, and, lighting a piece of paper, deliberately applied it to the sleeping man's beard. There was a bright, rushing flame for a second or two, the man sprang to his feet in agony; the joke was complete, and the farmer roared in ecstacy. The unfortunate sufferer, who happened to be the village tailor, knew that the farmer was a man of substantial means, and acted accordingly. He brought an action for $250 damages in the Malmesbury County Court in due course. According to the plaintiff's evidence, his beard was eighteen inches long when he lay down, after having some ale. The next thing he remembered was his face being on fire, while a man helped to put out the flame. The defendant sat in his seat roaring with laughter, and did not offer any assistance, nor did he tender any apology for what he had done. His lips were burned severely, his face was blistered, his beard, eyebrows, and eyelashes were burned to the skin, and one eye and one ear were scorched. The magistrate awarded him $250 and costs.

A Desperado's Career.

The Greenfield (Mass.) Gazette gives the following history of the careeer of Herbert Blanchard, the ruffian who shot two men at a church door in Savoy, Mass., a few Sundays ago:

"The young desperado, Herbert Blanchard, if half that is told of him is true, is as desperate and lawless a rascal as ever went unhung. He was a hard boy at school, and has the reputation of once putting the master out-of-doors when the latter attempted to punish him for some misdemeanor. He was always in trouble at home and abroad—a reckless, harum-scarum fellow. At the age of seventeen he married Jane Blanchard, but led her such a miserable life that she soon left him, obtained a divorce, and is now remarried and living in Stamford, Vt. Blanchard, after his early matrimonial experience, became a rover. He has been all through the wilds of the West, to California, where he boasts of being hunted down as a blackleg and thief; to Mexico, where he enlisted in the Mexican army, deserted, was arrested, and got out of prison by cutting his way through the roof and lowering himself to the ground by stripping up a flag and tying the ends together. He was shot at by the guards, but succeeded in making his escape. He married another wife in Mexico and left her with one child. This country was not large enough, so he took a trip to foreign lands, and this last winter came back to the little hamlet of Savoy, having finished his criminal education in France. His father, Daniel Blanchard, lives in Savoy, and his grandfather, Chandler Blanchard, in the adjoining town of Hawley."

Mean Business.

Some scoundrel, or possibly some funny fellow who plays practical jokes, recently poured a solution of lead into one of the salt-water tanks of the New York Aquarium. As the system of tanks is continuous, this poison—most deadly to all forms of fish life—permeated the whole series and the fish began to be affected immediately. The first intimation of wrong received by the keepers was in seeing the fish all swimming near the surface of the water and frequently trying to jump out, as if to obtain fresh air. Shortly afterward they were floating dead upon the surface and were removed. Not only the line of small tanks at the southern side of the building, with their rare and beautiful specimens from the tropical seas, was affected, but also the great sixty-foot tank, with its immense sharks and sturgeons, its populous school of herring, and its clumsy-looking skates. The loss counted several hundreds of fish, representing many thousands of dollars. It is the most severe one which Messrs. Coupe & Reiche have sustained. The managers are utterly at a loss to account for the malice which has caused this wholesale slaughter, and are of opinion that the lead must have been put in one of the small tanks by some one who did not realize that the tanks were connected, and that death in one meant death in all. The most valuable of the destroyed specimens are thought to be the beautiful and delicate "angel fish," which are very difficult to obtain, and almost impossible to keep alive. But there were other specimens which never before, it is said, were successfully kept in an aquarium, and the managers fear it will be long before the collection will again be as complete as it was. However, steps have been taken for replacing the loss as soon as possible. Telegrams have been sent to Bermuda and the other fishing stations of the company ordering the agents to forward all specimens on hand. Meanwhile the tanks are being filled with less rare fish from the nearer stations.

News and Notes.

The New York Tribune is puzzled with the letter of the Rev. Mr. Munson, the greenback candidate for Governor in Maine. The candidate is a Universalist, yet consigns or rather "hurls to the deepest hell the authors of our financial policy," which leads the Tribune to anxiously inquire "how many hells are there in the Universalist hereafter?"

John Morrissey offers a purse of $500 for a race with single sculls open to the world, to come off at Saratoga Lake, August 28th, three miles and one turn; $100 entrance to go with the purse to the winner. Courtney and Riley have agreed to enter.

There was a heavy thunder storm, with severe squalls, at Portland and along the Maine coast, on the 7th. Several small crafts in Portland harbor were thrown on their beam ends, but none were sunk. A barn in Biddeford was struck by lightning, and burned. In some places much damage was done to growing crops and glass windows, by hail.

Mr. John Swinton, the New York Socialist, who offered himself as bail for Donohue, the leader of the strike on the Erie road, said he had no real estate but produced certificates of deposit showing him to be the owner of $7,000 in United States bonds. So he is one of the "enemies of the people." Mr. Swinton is one of the editors of the Sun. He said he would rather not be called an "employe" of the paper, that word being a little offensive to him, but would prefer to be called a "servant" of the company. This is a nice distinction, which he did not explain.

A sample of the mischief done by the popular terrorism about hydrophobia lately occurred at Pittsburg. A man was bitten by a dog, and one of his acquaintances told him he would go mad. The matter preyed so much on his mind that he determined on suicide, to escape the terrible fate his friends predicted for him. A few days after that, he swallowed the contents of a vial of sulphate of morphia, enough to kill fifty men, and died instantly. His friend is probably satisfied that the dog's bite killed the victim.

Nellie Goodrich, the young, beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. H. P. Goodrich, a wealthy citizen of North Adams, Mass., fell in love with a railroad laborer named Moury. Moury fell in love with the girl. The girl's father prohibited the acquaintance, so the pair eloped and got married. After various tribulations on the part of the married couple the stern parient relented and gave them his blessing and lots of money. Moury is said to be a young man of good character and habits.

The Republican State Convention of Maine met at Augusta on Tuesday. Gov. Connor was renominated by acclamation.

Messrs. J. E. Butler & Co. have sold the Union and Journal of Biddeford, Me., together with the job printing establishment, to George A. Hobbs of Geneseo, Ill. Mr. Hobbs is a Maine man and a journalist by profession. He was formerly Clerk of Courts of Somerset county, and years ago was connected with several papers in the State, but went West in 1857. Under his management the paper will continue to support republican principles.

The Eastern War.

The Turks report another victory, the Russians having been repulsed in another attack on Plevna on the 7th with a loss of 900, killed and wounded. Somebody lies, somewhere; either the Russians were not driven back so far nor so badly beaten as the Turks said, at their first repulse, or they have not renewed the attack so soon. A special despatch from Bucharest says the Russian troops around Plevna have been re-enforced. They now number 70,000. The Roumanian army, now numbering 25,000, which is now passing continually to Nikopolis, will form the extreme right of this force. Accounts from various places say that on the 6th 5000 Turkish cavalry attacked the Russians between Lascar, a village near Plevna, and the river Pusica. The Russians, who occupied a fortified line, and who now outnumber the Turks, repulsed them without difficulty, but made no attempt to follow, as Grand Duke Nicholas does not wish to waste the energy of his troops in partial engagements. The Porte has officially informed the English Embassy that after two day's hard fighting at Lovatz, the Russians suffered a severe defeat. The two monitors captured by the Russians are now ready for action.

Waltham Watches.

"United States Centennial Commission—International Exhibition, 1877." Messrs. Robbins & Appleton, Agents for American Watch Company of Waltham, have published, by permission, a pamphlet of forty pages, containing extracts from the Official Report on Horology, prepared for the Commission by Prof. James C. Watson of Astronomy at the University of Michigan, Member of the Board of Judges for Instruments of Research and Precision, and Chairman of the Committee of the Board of Judges on Chronometric Apparatus, at the Centennial Exhibition.

These extracts include full tables of the performance of all watches entered for competition, giving a detailed and careful account of the thorough tests that were applied, and by which the superiority of the Waltham to the best Swiss Watches was definitely determined. This report presents, in clear and indisputable terms, conclusions which are of the utmost importance to all who would possess themselves of a trustworthy time-piece.

The following quotation is made from page 26 of the Report:

"It is not the purpose of this report to make direct comparisons of the productions of the different manufacturers. The reader who is curious in such matters will find, in most cases, the requisite data under the heads of the report relating to the exhibits in question. But in order to convey to the general reader an idea of what the system of manufacture under consideration has made possible in a newly-developed industry in this country, it is proper to state here that the reporter has compared the results of the trials as heretofore given with those furnished for all the first-class fully-adjusted watches in the International Exhibition, and that it is clear beyond question that the chronometers numbered 670,044, 670,082 and 670,095 (Waltham Watches) are altogether superior to any others exhibited."

An Appendix contains extracts from the address of M. Edouard Favre-Perret, Commissioner from Switzerland at the Exhibition and a Member of the International Jury on Watches, to the Watchmakers of Neuchatel, confessing the triumph of American Machine Watches over the Swiss hand-made Watches.

The Pamphlet will be sent free to any address, on application to Robbins & Appleton, 9 Bond St., New York.

—Misdirected letters—Those addressed to spinsters.

—In a drug shop. Customer: "I've tried the rat poison, and it won't work." Druggist: "Did you follow my directions—put it on some fresh bread and set it in a dry place?" Customer: "Yes, and the rats wouldn't touch it." Druggist, (indignant:) "Then your rats are good for nothing at all!"

—A professional man, returning to his office, one day, after a substantial lunch, said complacently to his assistant, "Mr. Peetkin, the world looks different to a man when he has three inches of rum in him." "Yes," replied the junior, without a moment's hesitation, "and he looks different to the world."

—A young lady in Newton county, Ga., is possessed by a strange monomania. She fancies herself a baby, and has not spoken a word in three years, although her powers of conversation used to be of an order higher than the average. Notwithstanding this absurd hallucination, she is inconsistent enough to read and write letters.

—We read in a scientific journal: "There is a method which I have adopted in my own house to cool the temperature of any room during hot weather, and that is, to hang a sheet or a blanket down outside the windows upon which the sun may be shining. This sheet is wet, and the evaporation of the water produces a deliciously cool apartment. The sheet is kept damp by having a vessel filled with water above the top of it outside, and a piece of flannel arranged to form a siphon, and touching several portions of the sheet. The water gradually empties out of the vessel, and may be replenished if necessary. The windows, of course, open. It is strange that so simple and inexpensive a method has not found favor here, more especially in sick rooms; a cylindrical-shaped tin vessel, with some very fine holes, fixed over the window, would easily supply the water."

—A building in Paris know as the "Suicides' Hotel" has recently been torn down. Ten years ago a young student, despairing and in love, blew out his brains in the room which he was occupying, and just one year afterward another student committed suicide in the same room after losing his money in a gambling house. A few months afterward a waiter, who had been accused of theft, crept into this room and hanged himself. The superstitious hotel-keeper surrendered the lease and abandoned the chamber of death. An apothecary then took possession of the premises and carried on his business there, but finding his wife had deceived him, retired to the fatal chamber and there poisoned himself with his own drugs. The next occupant was given notice that the place was about to be pulled down to make room for the Boulevard Saint Germain. An indemnity of $50,000 was demanded but refused, and the jury having decided that $17,500 was ample compensation the owner grew despondent and declared he was a ruined man. A month ago he asked permission to visit the old premises before they were pulled down. His request was granted and nothing more was heard of him until the workmen found him hanging by the neck in the fatal room.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stablished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

The veteran Mail Agent on the Concord Railroad, Col. William Conn, has been bounced and placed on the retired list, and Charles Stevens of Manchester succeeds to the position.

The "Granite State" was successfully launched at slack water on Thursday, a very large number of people being on the wharves, in boats on the river and on the island and shore near the shipyard, to see the noble vessel go off. She moved off steadily and with moderate speed, causing less ripple on the water than we ever saw at a ship launch before, though she is the largest merchantman ever built here. She was brought up by her anchors after running about two-thirds of the way over to the dry dock, and was taken under the theers at the navy yard (where she will be masted and rigged) and moored.

Mr. George W. Jenness of Rye fell from a load of hay on the 8th inst., and received a fracture of the shoulder.

At the Marshall House, York Beach, are Judge Lowell of Boston, Judge Howe of Portland, Rev. Dr. Burgess of Springfield, Col. Frank S. Fiske of Longwood, (formerly of 2d N. H. Vols.,) S. B. Tatterall, the well known banker of Philadelphia, and Dr. Falkner of Jamaica Plain. President Eliot, of Harvard College, has been for some time sojourning at the Marshall. The season at the "Short Sands" has been quite successful.

The Times says "Hon. Frank Jones has selected Master William P. Benedict of this city as the candidate from this Congressional district for entry to West Point Academy. The examination will take place on the 28th."

Schooner George L. Treadwell, before reported capsized off Ship Island Cays July 19th, had $1500 in silver coin on board. She was raised and righted by wrecking schooners and taken to Nassau, N. P., after she had been stripped of sails and rigging. She is now owned by Henry & Co., of Baltimore.

The Becker brothers, of Newcastle, on Tuesday, 7th inst., rescued from drowning two men whose boat capsized in a squall off Fort Point, and sank.

The loss by the Philbrick fire at Rye was about $2000. The family were first alarmed by the stifled howlings of their watch dog, and on inspection found the room in which the animal was confined filled with smoke. The flames had gained such headway that the family had only time enough to catch up a little clothing and get out of the house.

POLICE COURT.

Thursday, August 9th.

John Murphy, John Randall and Ida Gordon were charged with malicious mischief in breaking in a door and tearing down a fence at the premises of Charles S. Walker, on Hunking street. The complaint against Ida Gordon was "nolled;" Randall was adjudged not guilty; Murphy was fined $3, costs taxed at $10.69. Murphy appealed, and gave bonds in $50 to appear.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

Thursday evening, August 9th.

In Board of Aldermen, the usual monthly batch of bills was ordered to be paid.

In Convention of both Boards, the vote for Mayor was canvassed, and John H. Broughton declared elected.

In Board of Aldermen, Mrs. Anna B. Wilson was elected to serve three years, and Mrs. Helen C. Knight to serve two years, on the Board of Instruction, to fill vacancies.

Committee on F. W. Miller's proposal to furnish stone reported in favor of accepting south end of Union street and paying Mr. Miller $100 for the stone if used on the street. Referred to next Board.

Committee on back ordinance not being ready to report, were granted more time.

Adjourned.

[Chronicle Correspondence.]

THE BLACK HILLS.--LETTER NO. 3.

THE "CITY OF DEADWOOD."

On our way up the gulch we passed a large saw mill in full operation; a huge pile of sawdust and great piles of boards were evidence of the immense business of this mill. A turn in the gulch brought us into Elizabethtown, a suburb of Deadwood. Here the houses began to increase in number, a street became defined, and more pretentious architecture was visible. The frame buildings (though small in size) were more numerous than the log cabins, and rude signs (some of them particularly conspicuous on account of their doubtful orthography) announced the calling of their respective proprietors. "Beans, 20 cts. Drinks 25 cts.;" "black hills Brewrey & all other kind Likers;" "Second Hand goods bought and sold. Drinks 25 cts;" were some I noticed. One sign, whose projector was evidently a man of affairs, announced:

"washing ironin, Flooting also boots & shoes neatly
Repared soups 10cts
2 drinks 25 cts."

One cabin was labelled "Mining and Mechanical Engineer, Drinks 25 cts." We also passed a building somewhat larger than its fellows. Over the door we read, "Black Hills Daily Champion"—the usual affix as to drinks being omitted; I saw quite an array of bottles in the window, however, but from a slight acquaintance with the "guild" should form the opinion that here no—I mean to say that I am quite sure that "drinks" are not sold at this place.

In addition to the above mentioned evidences of business activity, one is struck, in passing along, with the great number of places—"simon pure" saloons—where intoxicating liquors are sold. One would suppose that drinking of the same was the principal occupation of the country—but of this, further on.

As we progressed, the narrow street became more and more crowded with teams and men. In front of some of the houses were plank walks. Then the only sidewalk would be the bank of a mining ditch through which the muddy, yellowish water was swiftly running. Presently one would have the choice of the wagon road and its perils, or of shinning up and around a treacherous, muddy embankment. Still pressing on through the throng, with much the same feeling one has when hunting for a good place "to see the procession pass," the increasing grandeur of the buildings, size of the stores, and a thousand other evidences informed us that we were approaching the heart of Deadwood. As I was passing along here I happened to glance into an open door-way, and my attention was fastened at once. A medium sized square room, neatly furnished, contained six or eight plump little human figures, that did not appear to advantage, clad as they were in the garb of their native land. From their dress, one could not distinguish them from "Hi Low" or "Sing Lee," who were industriously ironing linen across the way, but their occupation, (they were sewing,) their rouged faces, and their significant glances all pronounced them to be women. In a few words the "old miner" explained to us the sight before us, and we passed on with feelings of indignation and impatince because a false sentiment as to "human rights," etc. permits these beings to be imported by the ship-load, and the profits of the nefarious business to accrue to a "company." I am told that Chinese labor is imported in the same way.

After a while our feet were welcomed by respectable plank side-walks, and we passed on to where the throng was thickest. On one side of the street, and winding up over the hill, was a long train of "prairie schooners" or immense freight wagons, drawn by twelve and fifteen yokes of oxen each. Mule, horse and ox teams were slowly threading their way in both directions. Horsemen, (some in buck-skin hunting suits,) armed to the teeth, were riding up and down. Pack animals of all degrees, from the stately mule down to the plucky little "Jack," were being led about, all bound for—somewhere. Large stores filled with great stocks of goods were doing a rushing business. Two hotels were feeding a great crowd of people, who rushed for a seat the moment one was vacated. And at least a dozen large gambling houses were thronged, and every table was surrounded by the players and lookers-on. Each of these gambling places is fitted up in a neat, and in some cases almost an elegant manner. The walls of the rooms are painted and frescoed; the bars are fitted up in a style excelled only by a few in our largest cities; tables are ranged along on each side of the rooms, where "Faro," "Poker Dice," "Mustang," "Banque," "Roulette," "Lansquinette" and other games are carried on. At the end of each saloon is a platform, from which an orchestra discourses night and day; and, by the way, at the Hurdy-Gurdy (or dance) House the music is really superior. In the streets men were buying and selling horses; several auctioneers perched on boxes, were selling goods of all descriptions and extolling the wares in such an original and eloquent flow of language, that it was almost a duty to purchase on the ground of encouraging genius. A brass band, in front of each of the two theatres (the "Bella Union" and "Gem") was playing a noisy prelude to the matinee performances. Miners were in the stores purchasing supplies and paying for the same in gold-dust; nuggets, bars, dust, rotorted gold, and coin were lavishly displayed in the windows of each of the four banks. The noise of the hammer, saw, and anvil were all about us, extending and improving this wonderful town. For a moment a feeling of amazement possessed us when we thought that only one short year ago, a few log cabins were all that represented civilization here, and that the war-whoop of the savage was frequently heard on the top of the hills that were looking down upon us.

Further on we were brought to a standstill by a huge bank of earth, extending across the sidewalk far into the street. Clambering to the top of the pile we observed planks laid down, and running up between the buildings. Following these planks with our eye, we saw a windlass, worked by two men, a shaft, house, flume, and all the evidences of active mining going on. Presently a wheel-barrow appeared, propelled by a tall, bronzed and bearded fellow, dressed in sombrero, undershirt, and California made overalls tucked into his long boots. With respectful alacrity we got out of the way, while he dumped his load in the middle of the street. Several men with teams were busy carting the dirt away, but that is not the miner's lookout. Others may come and build, and buy and sell; he digs for gold, and has a right to place the earth and rocks, ditch and flume, where his royal will pleases. The town is built entirely on mining claims, and it is not impossible that the miners may not be "ground sluicing" the foundations of the banks away, or "drifting" under the hotels, stores and dwellings in a short time. We turned and half walked, half slid down the embankment.

When we—and about a cart load of loose gravel—struck the sidewalk, we found ourselves in the midst of half a score of French demoiselles, who, in exquisitly fresh and neat costumes were lounging in their doorway, singing, laughing, smoking cigarettes, and exchanging jokes with bull-whackers, mountaineers, miners, merchants and pilgrims, in a truly impartial manner. This institution is on the principal street and in the business centre of the town. Enquiring for the location of the Post Office, in a perfectly courteous manner we were directed through the only cross street in town to South Deadwood. [South Deadwood is built on Whitewood Creek.] On arriving at the Post Office we took our place in line with at least two hundred men who were waiting their turn. As one of the contrasts in a mining town I will mention that while waiting here we observed a lady—a real lady—whose dress, style and manners would have been au fait had it been a Fifth Avenue mansion she was entering, instead of the Deadwood Post Office. Immediately after her came a wild, fierce looking mountaineer, tall, slim, and straight as an arrow. His bronzed face and long hair were partly concealed by his broad-brimmed sombrero; his person was clad in elaborately fringed buckskin; he carried a Winchester rifle (sixteen shooter) over his shoulder, while around his waist was a belt of grim looking cartridges, ready for instant use. One was the embodiment of all that is refined, gentle and lovely in civilization, while the other was—well, that which makes the former possible.

In due time we obtained our mail, which had been waiting for us nearly a fortnight, after which we continued up Whitewood, passing through a long street on which many houses were being built. Not far in the "suburbs" we found an eligible camping place with plenty of wood, and water of the most delicious quality. Here we all remained for a week; at least this camp was our headquarters. At the end of that time the "Star Line Company"—as we called ourselves—began to break up, on account of its members going in different directions throughout the hills. Four of the seventeen have returned home; one has started for the "Big Horn Mountains," and the remainder are here variously engaged. This ends the story of "our trip across the plains." Every member of the party can but think of this episode in their lives with pleasure, and not the least satisfaction is the thought that under circumstances of trial, fatigue, and some hardships, no word was spoken one to another that now occasions regret. It is a remarkable thing to say, but we did not have a growler in the party.

Yours, AL.

Why Suffer Dyspeptic Tortures,

When the famous regulator of enfeebled, acid or bilious stomachs, Hostetter's Bitters, will cure you? Could you read the testimony of the myriads of dyspeptics whom it has cured, though you might be of a skeptical turn, you would be convinced. Evidence of its efficacy is constantly multiplying, and this relates not only to cases of dyspepsia, but to liver complaint, constipation, urinary and uterine troubles and malarial disorders. The success which has attended the great stomachic has incited unscrupulous parties to manufacture cheap imitations of it, which they attempt to palm off as the genuine article. But, as familiar to the public with the real elixir, these nefarious attempts are rarely successful. Neither imitation or competition affect the popularity of the standard article.

The Standard Tooth Wash

of the age is Sozodont. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth are rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and antiseptic.

Every day to its popularity.

Spalding's Glue is like wit: a good thing well applied.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of humanity from its fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Daily Chronicle.

—Two young lads swam the Niagara river below the falls, a few days since. At one time they were enveloped in the thick foam on the surface, and were completely lost sight of for a few moments. The successful accomplishment of the feat was loudly applauded by their numerous comrades who witnessed the affair from the American shore.

—A countrymen of plain appearance entered a Macon, Ga., banking-house the other day, and made a deposit of $3000. One of the officers asked him "what he intended to do with so much money?" "Oh," he replied, "I am doing this for my wife, and am determined to keep on working and adding to the amount until, when I die, she will be a real marriageable widow."

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Carbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickcox, Rector of St. John's E. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a strain more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 22d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment. White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Fletcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimech, of Dupont, Ohio, says:

"I am using CASTORIA in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the CASTORIA. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. (nov1

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Strains, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Stings, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children nothing may have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. (nov1

I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well, and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.25.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty; but as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and how good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only partly succeed. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for nine years, and have been to the springs, and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South the last part of the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mobley, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that your pills will cure anything, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars, send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1874.

TROS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trving climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And the owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any seller of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the last said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1876.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders.

Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

THE BLACK HILLS.—LETTER NO. 3.

THE "CITY OF DEADWOOD."

[PART 2.]

Immediate explorations in and about the "wicked places" of Deadwood, enable me to present the following facts:

There are seven houses where "banking" games are played,—in other words, the losses are paid out of and winnings paid into, a "bank." Faro is the principal game, though many other games are in vogue. Each one of these houses is as large as, and about the dimensions of the Portsmouth City building, supposing the lower floor of that building to be a clear room. Music—and as a rule very good music—is heard day and night, in all of these places. When a player rises from the table, if he has been winning, he passes his checks to the dealer, who counts them. This done, the dealer, in a monotonous tone of voice, sings out: "Number One (meaning the number of his table) weigh out two hundred dollars" (or as the case may be.) The lucky player passes to the cashier's window, (at one end of the bar,) and that official after carefully weighing the required amount in gold-dust, pours it into the little buck-skin sack which has been handed to him, ties it up, and passes it back to the owner. In nine cases out of ten, that same man will be back at the same table on the following night, and when he again rises from the play that same monotonous voice will sing out: "Weigh in Three Hundred Dollars!" In this case the plumptitude of the buck-skin is "minus" instead of "plus." In addition to the "banking houses," there are about twenty places (all connected with a bar business) where smaller games are carried on, such as "seven-up," "poker," "bluff," etc.,—and by the way, should any of the readers of the CHRONICLE be at all curious as to the nature of the above games, a brief interview with the apprentice boys on any of our particularly moral weeklies will enlighten them. With the exception of one house, the "Melodeon," all the games are on the "dead square;" i. e., there is no cheating or deception employed. At the "Melodeon," the most rascally set of thieves held high carnival during the great rush to the hills, which is now over; "thimble rig," "three-card monte," and every device of the devil which has been exposed time and time again by every newspaper in the land, found their ready victims among the crowd who until a few days ago filled the town to overflowing. Not long ago I saw a young man lose over seven hundred dollars—every dollar he had—at the game of "banque." The modus operandi is as follows: A large show case has its bottom filled with bank bills from the denomination of one dollar, upwards to the largest; on each of these bills are placed numerals, corresponding to all the combinations which may be thrown with the dice, which are used. It is a peculiarity of this game that the player always wins; for (first paying fifty cents for the privilege) having thrown, and won a prize, it is now a rule of the game for him to pay one dollar and throw again. He wins again. He must now pay two dollars, and throw again; as before, he wins, and now he has to pay four dollars, and throw again,—and so on, the person in charge ingeniously managing the game in order to lure the victim on, and yet not give the appearance of fraud. In this case the player, when he had given his last dollar to the gambler, had won about eight thousand dollars, but as he had no more money to "chip in" and throw again, according to the rules of the game he forfeited not only the fortune he had won but all the money he had paid for the privilege of winning it. One of the dealers in this house has been shot by an enraged victim. I do not think shooting is justifiable in such cases. I have never heard of a case where a fool has given winnings back to a gambler, neither have I ever heard of a gambler shooting a fool, because that fool had won his (the gambler's) money. In my opinion the folly of gambling lies in the absurdity of supposing keen, sharp men are going to invest capital in a "bank" and appliances to carry on a "business" where the probabilities are not largely in their favor. Even in the so called "square games" the percentage in favor of the bank is enormous. The heaviest gambler in the hills won fourteen thousand dollars last spring; he is still here—dead broke!

The number of places here where liquors are sold is—but stop! I think I had better put it in this way: For a small, an exceedingly slight compensation, I would undertake to compile a directory of the places where liquors are not sold; but life is too short for any one man to count the places where these beverages are dispensed. It is a singular fact, however, that Deadwood has only six breweries. From the top of a neighboring pinnacle (which seems very near, until one begins to climb it) I have taken a bird's eye view of the country in search of the geographical reason, if any, why we should not have more breweries. I can find none, unless it be that we have no North Mill-pond to compel the people to drink beer, on the principle that "the hair of the dog is good for the bite."

The Dance House is one-hundred feet deep by forty feet wide. This place is almost elegant in its appointments. The walls are frescoed, and at night numerous chandeliers shed a brilliant glow over a scene not lacking in animation. At each end of the hall is a bar, and down the sides for some fifty feet are tables at which gambling is carried on. At the further end of the hall is a platform for the orchestra, which orchestra discourses the most delicious dance music. A crowd may always be found there every evening. At about eight o'clock in the evening the lower end of the hall is cleared, and the "girls," dressed in bright, fresh and tasty costumes, enter from an ante-room. Then whoever wishes to dance steps forward, sets are formed, and the "light fantastic" is indulged in with varying degrees of grace on the part of the male performers. At the end of the dance the change "promenade to the bar" is called, when each gent. has the privilege accorded him of paying for two drinks (50 cents.) The gents generally dispose of their drink in the usual manner; the "girls" seldom drink—at least they do not here. Even here—as well as everywhere else in Deadwood,—decorum, good manners and politeness are marked features. More pretentious assemblies might profitably pattern these virtues from the Deadwood Dance House. A good brass band plays for an hour each evening, in front of this place of amusement—or whatever it may be called.

Two theatres, the "Gem" and "Bella Union," gratify the thespian taste of the dwellers in the Hills. The "Gem," besides being the oldest, is the best conducted and is undoubtedly the favorite. Matinee performances are given at each theatre on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, at which it is customary for the women and children to attend. Ladies are never seen at the evening performances. It is the custom at each theatre to employ a number of female waiters, or "beer slingers," as they are commonly called, who bring "drinks" to the bibulously inclined. These females are paid a salary, and I believe their wages are regulated by their success in drumming up trade.

On Sundays the miners, mechanics and laborers abstain from work; but all the stores, saloons, and places of amusement are open, and this day is the busiest of the week to the proprietors and employees connected therewith. As everybody in quest of business or pleasure takes this day for the above purposes, the town presents an unusual bustle to the sight seer.

On the other hand, Deadwood has, like older communities, an eye to more serious and important things. We have three churches, two Protestant and one Catholic, three newspapers, a school, courts, two deputy sheriffs and a jail. We have not yet arrived at the magnificence of a City Marshal, and there is not a policeman in the town. A fire company has been organized, and a movement is now under way looking to the organization of two companies of militia, as a protection against a possible Indian raid; but if the rumor announced as a fact by one of the daily papers, that the County is to offer a bounty of two hundred and fifty dollars for every Indian brought in dead or alive, is true, probably there will be no invasion.

Perhaps some of the readers of this letter will have concluded that Deadwood is the wickedest place in the country, and—will wish they were here; and others for the same reason will be glad they are not here; but rather than lead anyone into error in this particular, I will, in conclusion, give a few more facts and advance a few opinions of my own, even at the hazard of promulgating original ideas.

Deadwood is the most orderly city I have ever been in. Rowdyism is unknown. I have seen but one personal altercation since I have been here (two months.) [I have seen two men, at different times, knocked down for attempts at rowdyism.] The politeness, good temper and courtesy one meets everywhere is remarkable. Men of all occupations, unless busy for the moment, will go far to give information, or direct one on his way. Every Sunday I see several hundred men in line at the post office, nearly all of whom have come many miles, and have several names to enquire for. They can ask for only one name at a time, then have to take their place at the further end of the line and go through the weary process of waiting their turn again. I think the President, unless he requested it on the score of great necessity, would not be allowed to interpolate his presence there, yet the other sex walk past the line and on stepping to the window the leading man invariably draws back and allows the feminine the precedence. A murmur is never heard from the anxious line. Women, unattended, frequently, day and night, walk the streets as safe, yea, far safer, than the women of our older cities.

The men, when walking or riding from place to place, consider it prudent to go armed; women can go unattended in any vicinity not dangerous on account of the Indians. The 4th of July was celebrated here by speaking and singing. The town was crowded from early morning until late at night. During the day I did not see a drunken man, and at night but very few the worse for liquor. A helplessly drunken man is sometimes seen lying in some safe place on the sidewalk, or between two buildings. Such are never disturbed, unless friends discover them and take them away. On the whole I think the men of the mountains are, as a rule, about as honest as, and more moral, temperate and agreeable as companions than, the men of the cities.

Yours, At.

—Some of the American preachers in attendance at the Pan-Presbyterian Council seem to have astonished the canny Scots not a little. After Dr. Hoge's sermon in St. Andrew's, a venerable elder was asked what he thought of it. "I thought I had him twice," replied the good old man; "but he gaed over my head wi' a fluff like a bat."

—The bow of a ship must be very polite. Is the stern always severe?

State Conventions.

The Republica n State Convention of Maine, which renominated Gov. Seldon Conner on Thursday, had quite a lively time over the platform, the "policy" men insisting on the Convention endorsing the President's action with regard to the South, and the larger portion of the delegates being determined to ignore the question. The "anti-policy" men were as eager to have "the policy" censured. The leaders on each side seem to have been Collector Morrill of Portland for "the policy," and Mr. Boutelle, of the Bangor Whig, for the antis. Senator Blaine at last poured oil on the troubled waters by urging the extremists on both sides to let "the policy" pass unnoticed, and moving to lay both resolutions on the table, which was done. The platform as adopted declares the United States a nation and not a mere confederacy; proclaims the duty of the nation to protect its citizens; declares for local self-government; demands political freedom for the colored men of the South; denounces the action of the democratic House in refusing appropriations for the army; demands specie resumption; opposes further government aid to railroads; praises the system of non-sectarian education, and the prohibitory liquor law; but does not mention "the policy."

The State Conservative (Democratic) Convention of Virginia met on Wednesday. There were numerous candidates for Governor, and the Convention on Wednesday is described as a "pandemonium, and a "howling mob." The strife of rival factions was carried beyond all bounds of decency, and the temporary Chairman was hooted down because he ventured to speak of the necessity of maintaining the honor and credit of the State. This was taken as an indication that he was opposed to Gen. Mahone, whose followers favor a "readjustment" of the State debt, and they forced him by their clamor to cut short his remarks. The disorder was so great that no business was transacted. On Thursday the "Conservatives" met again, and the fight was renewed. The whole second day's session was spent in a fight to see whether a platform should be adopted before a candidate was nominated, or vice versa, it being finally decided to nominate first and discuss the proper way of repudiating the State indebtedness afterward. No vote on a nomination was reached up to eight o'clock in the evening.

South Carolina Politics.

Gov. Moses, the "robber governor" of South Carolina, is creating quite a sensation in that State by producing his "private" papers relating to political matters occurring when he was governor. The despatches say that nearly every official of the State for years is implicated, and a good many who never were officials. Many of the former members of the republican Legislature have come forward with statements that they were bribed by prominent democrats to pass certain bills in their interest. The bills were certainly in the names of democrats, who received the charters and acted upon the privileges. The despaches close by stating that so many leading democrats are implicated in the revelations made that an organized effort, having the sanction of the highest authority, is being made to suppress the whole matter, and let the prosecutions already begun against the republicans hang over them as an inducement to leave the State and hush their mouths concerning their democratic accomplices. Owing to the fact that the local newspapers do not publish these revelations, this may easily be effected; but the hill counties of the State will protest against the compromise.

Serve 'Em Right.

The arrest of a large number of pursers, storekeepers and other officials of the National Line of steamships between this country and England, for wholesale smuggling of silks and laces, was reported some time ago. The goods thus smuggled within two years (the smuggling has been carried on by wholesale for about eight years) are said to have been subject to a duty of at least a million dollars, and the injury done to honest American dealers by the fraud has been immense. Every steamship of the National Line has been engaged in the business; and it seems that the company is now to be taught a lesson, for the Surveyor of the Port of New York has been instructed to seize the steamship "Denmark" on her arrival from Liverpool. The vessel, which is worth $750,000, is to be libelled in the United States District Court for bringing smuggled English silks here. The charge is that James Nagle, purser, and James Wells, the storekeeper of the "Denmark," have within the last four years landed $200,000 worth of silks and laces from her without payment of the duties. The line is owned by capitalists in England, and one of the officers recently said to a Customs officer that he did not think smuggling an offence against the laws.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 8.

Some interest has been excited here by the late move made in Baltimore, looking to the organization of a new party by laboring men who were called upon to come out of the two old parties, as inimical to the interests of the laboring classes, and to identify themselves with the new one, having as its distinctive feature the protection of the working man from the exactions and tyranny of capital. The incendiary appeals of the principal speaker and "Boss" organizer were most loudly applauded, and according to the dispatches, great enthusiasm was manifested. It derives importance mainly from the understanding that it was preliminary to similar efforts soon to be inaugurated all over the country under direction of agitators more or less sincere, and the most blatant kind of demagogues who were brought to the surface by the late strikes. As further indicating the present drift of public sentiment, I mention the current report that the President and Cabinet are casting about them in earnest to find a solution of some of the problems brought out by the late disorders; and it is alleged that the sessions of several Cabinet meetings have been almost exclusively devoted to the matter, the practicability of meeting the novel demands by the formation of a "Labor Bureau" under Government auspices, receiving special attention.

Mr. Moore, a recently discharged Special Treasury Agent, has succeeded in making quite a sensation by the charges of malfeasance, corruption, theft and blackmail specially made against several Treasury officials here and elsewhere, and against General Boynton, a well known Washington correspondent, in an open letter lately published. He is undoubtedly figuring for reinstatement. But the charges are so circumstantial in character that the officials named cannot afford to ignore, nor can the Department well refuse to investigate them. Boynton, who is absent from the city, has telegraphed a general denial; but it is not known that more than one of the others implicated have attempted any reply.

The President, acting upon the opinion of the Senate and House Military Committees, the Judge Advocate General, and upon his own, derived from a careful and exhaustive examination of the evidence upon which General B. P. Runkle was convicted of embezzlement by court martial, has disapproved its sentence and directed that General Order No. 7, 1873, directing that said Gen. Runkle be cashiered from the military service of the United States, be revoked. To those most familiar with the merits of the case, and with Belknap's unjust rulings, oftentimes, there is but one voice—that of approval—at the President's decision. Gen. Runkle resumes his old place in the army with his reputation in no wise damaged by the taint unjustly cast upon it through the hasty action of a court martial, approved by a Secretary of War who now rests under a weight of odium that no action of the Chief Executive can ever remove or in any degree lighten.

KNOX.

Blue J. Williams.

The old blue jeans breeches and cowhide boots elected Governor of Indiana by the democrats last autumn do not seem to be in high favor with the papers even of their own party, since the great strike. Many of the leading democratic organs openly growl at Gov. Williams; among them the Cincinnati Enquirer, which occupies the same position in the West that the Post does in New England, says:

"Uncle Jimmy Williams is a most astounding person. His conduct during the strike was as bad as it could be. Each development makes it worse. The latest phase of it is a note which he addressed to the strikers saying: 'The bearer of this letter is my son-in-law. I hope strikers will allow him to transport his cattle to St. Louis in safety.' The hope was realized, and the son-in-law was passed through. This request and its compliance completely muzzled the Governor, so that he let the State take care of itself, after his son-in-law had been protected. He made a feeble pretence of calling upon the Government for aid, but he made no effort toward suppressing violence by his own power. The story seems grotesquely incredible, but it is circumstantially told in the Washington despatch of a paper of the Governor's own party."

The famous Kentucky Natural Bridge over Caney Creek, in Elliott County, broke in the centre of its arch a few days ago and fell in magnificent ruins.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; and then renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brushy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Board of Education met Friday evening, and Mrs. Helen C. Knight appeared and qualified. The Mayor reported the following committees:

On Purchasing—Messrs. Shannon, Fender and Goodrich;

Examination of Teachers—Messrs. Hackett and Shannon, and Mrs. Knight;

Salaries — Messrs. DeNormandie and Hutchinson, and Mrs. Wilson;

Truancy — Messrs. May, Wendell and Sherburne;

Text Books—Messrs. Pender, Hutchinson and Gardner.

The High School Committee was elected, as follows: Rev. James DeNormandie for three years, Dr. James R. May for two years, Mrs. Helen C. Knight for one year.

The following sub-committees were appointed by the Mayor:

Messrs. Shannon, Pender and Sherburne, for District One;

Messrs. Hackett and Hutchinson, and Mrs. Wilson, for District Two;

Messrs. Gardner, Goodrich and Wendell for District Three.

CARELESS DRIVING.

Three little girls, apparently from six to nine years of age, on Friday morning were chasing each other near the front of the Post Office, when one of them started to run across Warren street to the corner by the Custom House Exchange, just as a heavy butcher's wagon turned into Warren street. The child was looking in an opposite direction from the approaching team, and did not see it, while the driver of the latter, doubtless supposing that she would notice his coming in season to save herself from harm, did not check his horse, but drove on to the crossing at a rapid rate. The horse knocked the little girl down, but fortunately did not tread upon her, while the heavy wheels of the cart passed by her, just grazing her head. A fortunate and narrow escape indeed. This, however, is but one instance of a dozen or more that have come under our personal observation this season of careless driving through our streets, and it is high time that it was stopped. It is but a week or two ago that a heavily loaded team was driving down Pleasant street at a ten-mile rate when a little child was crossing toward Mr. Tucker's store and just barely escaped being crushed beneath the wheels. There is a law against such driving and it should be enforced.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

At St. Mary's church, Children's Mass at 8:30, Solemn Mass at 10:30 A. M.; Sunday School at two o'clock, Vesper Service at three o'clock, P. M.

At St. John's church, services at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. every Sunday,—except the first Sunday in each month, when the Children's Choral Service and public catechising, commencing at 4 o'clock, is substituted for the usual one at 7:30; seats free at this service.

Mr. John W. Wilson, one of the brethren, will address the Reform Club in the evening, at eight o'clock, at Mechanics' Hall. Praise service will precede the address. Collection to defray expenses.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

Col. J. C. Butler's excursion to the Shoals per steamer Appledore was postponed on Thursday on account of the weather, and will take place to-day. Tickets 75cts.; for sale only by Col. Butler.

Fishing schooner Ranger, belonging to Mr. Horatio W. Trefethen of Kittery, got caught under her wharf Thursday, filled and sank. She was raised on Friday.

The Portsmouth Veteran Artillery Association will have their second annual reunion and clam-bake at Hotel Wentworth, Newcastle, on Tuesday afternoon, September 11th.

The U. S. S. Enterprise dropped down to the lower harbor Friday afternoon. Her destination has been reported to be Hampton Roads, but she had a Boston pilot on board when she dropped down the harbor.

Mr. C. N. Emery of Manchester, proprietor of the Ocean House at "Concordville," York, Maine, was drowned while bathing at York Beach at about eleven o'clock, Friday forenoon. Mr. Emery was a very estimable young man, about thirty-eight years of age, and had been married about one year. His body was recovered.

A party of gipseys that have been encamped somewhere down Sagamore Creek way for a week or more, broke camp on Friday and went over the bridge into Maine. There were six or seven teams, the horses not being "crow bait" by any means; and two of the wagons were big, well-built and neatly painted affairs, entirely covered in, with large windows for the admission of light, and comfortably fitted up inside,—in fact, they were regular houses on wheels, and not very small houses, either. The procession attracted much attention.

News and Notes.

A passenger train on the Jersey Central Railroad ran off the track at Oceanport Bridge on Thursday and over thirty persons were injured. That many lives were not lost is wonderful, as three crowded cars were thrown from the bridge into the water, which is three feet deep. At Troy, Kansas, Thursday afternoon, a passenger car went down a fifteen-foot embankment, wounding twenty-five persons, several of them fatally.

The London Pall Mall Gazette says the latest "new thing in collisions" is the running down of a lightship by one of the Boulogne steamers of the English General Navigation Company. "The collision seems to have been a perfect one in its way, for the unfortunate lightship sank beneath the water nine minutes after being struck." Luckily, however, the persons in charge of the lightship were rescued by the crew of the steamer, which at once proceeded to her destination, "This is all very well, but it seems at first hardly necessary for a steamer to run into a lightship, which is a stationary, inoffensive object, and one, moreover, it would be thought, whose position was so well known as to render it secure from all danger of collision unless under very exceptional circumstances." When the case is investigated the cause of the accident will, perhaps, become clear; but it is impossible to guess what freaks the passion for collisions may yet exhibit. "We shall probably hear some of these days that Eddystone Lighthouse has been upset by an ironclad."

The Newburyport Herald says, "The old women have got a pet bugbear—one Dyer, a crazy man, who broke out of the poor-house, and subsequently escaped from the county-house at Ipswich. He is supposed to be prowling about the woods and berry pastures." If hard experience can teach any wisdom, "old women," and young women too, have reason to dread an insane man, lurking about in the fields. The number of women and girls who, within three years, have been killed, and worse, by ruffians who have afterward been declared by their peers to be insane, is a frightful record, and justifies the whole sex in a feeling of dread and horror toward any man supposed to be in the least irresponsible.

The latest in postal matters is a postal card ink, for messages which are sent on such cards, or otherwise unsealed. A solution of nitrate or chloride of cobalt, or chloride of copper, mixed with a little gum or sugar, produces a "magic ink," which is made visible by warming, either by holding against the stove or over a burning match.

There was a notable gathering of the Free Soilers of 1848 at Downer's Landing, Mass., on Thursday. Charles Francis Adams, George F. Hoar, Frank Bird and other prominent men spoke, and a kind of love-feast and glorification was held over the triumphant success of the movement set on foot in '48.

An American named Biggar has been arrested by a police spy in South France for having called President MacMahon an ass at a table d' hote. He is now in prison awaiting trial. The United States charge d' affaires has sent counsel to see fair play, and to send a report to him if the charge is untrue.

The report of the Massachusetts judge who conducted the inquest regarding the cause of the steamboat explosion on Silver Lake, which resulted in the death of Mrs. Cynthia S. Phillips, clearly specifies the defects in the boiler and charges gross negligence upon the makers, upon the owners of the steamer and upon the inspectors, who should have ascertained by an application of the proper tests that the boiler was in an unsafe condition.

If President Hayes wishes to be consistent in his civil service reform career, he must immediately remove Collector Morrill of Portland from office, for in spite of the famous order abridging office holders' rights of citizenship the Collector was a prominent actor in, and assumed to be the leader of, the Maine State Convention. But as the Collector was working to secure an endorsement of "the policy" we presume it is all right.

The commendations of those who have been its guests is the best advertisement for the American House, Boston. This great Hotel is centrally and conveniently located, is supplied with all modern improvements and is a most desirable house for visitors to Boston.

Englishmen have in general learned to be a little more cautious in predicting the future of the United States, and the news of our recent riots did not call forth many of the usual diatribes upon the weakness of our political system. But one of America's best friends, Mr. Bright, made the fantastic mistake of supposing that the strike riots had something to do with questions of protection and free trade. The London correspondent of the Tribune in a recent letter points out that a similar mistake was made by English free traders as to the causes of the war of the rebellion.

Sixty-one men of Bridgeport, Conn., presented a strong petition to the Common Council Monday evening, asking for work. It was referred to the Road and Bridge Commissioners. This is the way it closes: "Earth, decked with beauteous gardling's crowns, smiles on our aching eyes. The purse proud, swathed in luxury, disdainful pass us by. We have eager hands and earnest hearts, but may not work for bread. God of the wretched, hear our prayers! We wish that we were dead."

Ex-Congressman Kellogg, of Connecticut, went with his family to his native town, Shelburne, Mass., to get a three days' rest and be with his mother on her birthday. He found an old playmate of his boyhood and a friend for forty years, D. O. Fisk, charged with the crime of burning his own barn to get the insurance. He defended him on the trial and had the satisfaction of having his friend triumphantly acquitted of any ground of probable cause for the charge of crime, and the Court room rang with cheers at the close of his argument and the announcement of the decision.

Possibly a Good Speculation.

A California millionaire, whose daughter will shortly marry a French count, is to pay the groom $100,000 cash down before the ceremony takes place, that being the price demanded by the condescending foreigner for consenting to share his title with an American born young woman. The figure seems high, but the investment may not prove to be such a bad speculation after all. A good many of these European counts turn out to be very clever cooks or stylish hair-dressers, and should the ambitious papa's mine incontinently peter out, or he get swamped at the stock board, a first-class foreign artist in victuals or hair will be found handy to have about the house. Such fellows command fabulous salaries in San Francisco when times are flush, and they are always able to make a pretty good living when they are willing to set about it.

—A Kentuckian went to Pittsburg to the races, met a dark-eyed girl in the driving park, secured an introduction, in two hours proposed, in three hours more he married her, and it takes a half column in the Pittsburg papers to tell the story.

—Some one has said that a good woman is better than a good man, and a bad woman is far worse than a bad man; a statement which finds proof in every outbreak of the criminal classes. The furies of civilization are females. In Paris mobs the women are often leaders and always a prominent feature, and earth cannot show a worse specimen of humanity than the French hags, who with torch and knife lead the outbreaks there. In the New York draft riots the females were the most furious and most ferocious, and now the papers published at the scenes of the strike riots say that the women were the worst of all the bad crowds which rioted in pillage and murder through Chicago, Pittsburg and Baltimore.

Why Suffer Dyspeptic Tortures,

When the famous regulator of enfeebled, acid or bilious stomachs, Hostetter's Bitters, will cure you? Could you read the testimony of the myriads of dyspeptics whom it has cured, though you might be of a skeptical turn, you would be convinced. Evidence of its efficacy is constantly multiplying, and this relates not only to cases of dyspepsia, but also liver complaint, constipation, urinary and uterine troubles and malarial disorders. The success which has attended the great stomachic has incited unscrupulous parties to manufacture cheap imitations of it, which they attempt to palm off as the genuine article. But, so familiar is the public with the real elixir, that these nefarious attempts are rarely successful. Neither imitation or competition affect the popularity of the standard article.

The Standard Tooth Wash

of the age is Sozodont. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth are rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and antiseptic.

Every day to its popularity.

Spalding's Glue is like wit: a good thing well applied.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

Generals P. T. Beauregard and Jubal Early have been their own trumpeters and turn the wheel of fortune monthly for the Louisiana State Lottery Company with as much vigor as fifteen years ago they led armies to battle. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

—The French Ministry of War announces that a number of soldiers will this year be placed at the disposal of agriculturalists for the purpose of the harvest. The persons employing them will have to pay a sum varying from twenty-five to fifty cents per day.

—The house Gen. Grant occupied in St. Louis before the war still stands on Barton Street, in that city. It is a tiny wooden structure, a story and a half high, and contains two rooms. Residents thereabouts are well aware of its history, and speak of it as "a little house atween two big uns."

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiffjoints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Carbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickox, Rector of St. John's E. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a sprain more than 46 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 2d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment, White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liliments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Pitcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimoch, of Dupont, Ohio, says:

"I am using CASTORIA in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the CASTORIA. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. ROSE & CO., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. 1nov1

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children teething may have health, and Mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. 1nov1

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousnes Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the Public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from persons who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had, I can eat well, I can sleep and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I remain,
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 25th of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and twenty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I think it my duty they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indpriest him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE;

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for two winters, and have been unable to attend to my business. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mulling my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherre, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy elief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not know ing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewer, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the ground. All owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any offal of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy or other place of the kind within the city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS, CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG: My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, stillingia, and Mandrake with the iodides of Potash and iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organ, whose action they derange, and when a substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Exostosis and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

THE UNFINISHED LETTER.

NEAR DEADWOOD.

"Dear Jenny—
We reached here this morning,
Tom Baker, Ned Leonard, and I;
So you see that, in spite of your warning,
The end of our journey is nigh.

The redskins—'tis scarce worth a mention,
Don't worry about me, I pray—
Have shown us no little attention—
Confound them!—along on our way.

Poor Ned's got a ball in the shoulder—
Another one just grazed my side—
But pshaw! ere we're half a day older
We'll be at the end of our ride.

We've camped here for breakfast. Tom's splitting
Some kindling wood, off in the pines,
And astride a dead cedar I'm sitting
To hastily pen you these lines.

A courier from Deadwood—we met him
Just now with a mail for the States,
(Ah, Jenny! I'll never forget him)—
For this most obligingly waits.

He says, too, the miners are earning
Ten dollars a day, every man.
Hallos! here comes Tom—he's returning,
And running as fast as he can.

It's nothing, I guess; he is only
At one of his practical——" Bang!
And sharp through that solitude lonely
The crack of Sioux rifle shots rang.

And as the dire volley came blended
With echo from canon and pass,
The letter to Jenny was ended—
Its writer lay dead on the grass.

The Free Soil Party.

It takes a good while to find out things regarding the State of New Hampshire. It was a century after the battle of Bunker Hill before it was shown that New Hampshire furnished more than half the men that fought there on the Colonial side; and even yet most people consider the battle of Lexington the first overt act of war on the part of the colonists, though Fort William and Mary was captured and the guns and ammunition removed by New Hampshire men long before, and in presence of royal armed vessels, too. Now the honor of having led in the revolt against the once omnipotent slave power is claimed for New Hampshire, and though the men of our State have always known that such was the fact, yet a knowledge of it seems to have just dawned on the good people of Massachusetts.

At the notable gathering of original Free Soilers at Downer's Landing, Mass., last week, to celebrate the birth of the Free Soil party in 1848, Hon. Amos Tuck of Exeter, N. H., was present; and after Charles Francis Adams, Samuel and George F. Hoar, and others, had glorified Massachusetts as the mother of the Free Soil movement, Mr. Tuck was called on for a speech, and he gave the company both a speech and a surprise. Mr. Tuck's remarks were as follows:

I feel it to be a fearful thing to speak to these learned men of Massachusetts; but born upon soil which was Massachusetts soil, as was the State of Maine before its admission to the Union, and now hailing from a State which is acknowledged to have done something toward Massachusetts, both in mind and material, I shall claim exemption which would be accorded to one of your own sons who was feeble in speech and unlearned in the arts of oratory. This convention is not one that assembles with the ordinary credentials, but we have to have credentials dating back thirty years. They are not made up by officers of caucuses called within the week past; but these credentials consist of acts done many years ago, and no man can buy these credentials any more than Simon could buy the power to cast out devils. Now, you are making up history here, and nobody can make up history better, or history that is likely to last longer, than the people of Massachusetts; but will you please to take account of things that happened prior to 1848? Will you bear in mind, Mr. Downer, and gentlemen, that two years before, and more than two years previous to that date, the State of New Hampshire—people in the State of New Hampshire—set the example of a conflict with party leaders that had never been set in this country before (applause), in opposition to the democratic party in 1844-5, which we have never given up to this day. (Renewed applause.) In 1845 we made a declaration of principles that constituted the essence of the republican party, which was formed at Philadelphia eleven years later. I have in my pocket a "call," which will prove the truth of what I say.

Here is the original "call" for the Convention on the 22d of February, 1845, signed by 263 democrats, and drawn up by my friend John L. Hayes, now of Cambridge, and myself, in one of the jury-rooms in the Exeter Court House. It invites democrats to assemble on the 22d of February to take into consideration the condition of the party, and to make a declaration of sentiments in regard to the action which Mr. Hale had previously taken in opposition to the annexation of Texas for the reasons given by Mr. Calhoun, or for any reason whatever; and we organized it as a movement of democrats. Previous to that time, men had remonstrated at different times against the action of the democratic party in New Hampshire, which was the strongest democratic State in the Union. We insisted on being organized as democrats. We refused to leave the party on account of our sentiments. We claimed that this was true democracy; that anti-slavery was true democracy; and we have refused to leave until this day (great applause); until we have got the majority of democrats in New Hampshire on the republican side. (Laughter and applause).

I wish you to correct the history of this movement. You have no right to establish the fact or to write on the page of history that the republican enterprise began in 1848. Previous to 1848, I have told you how we began this movement in 1845. We began in 1844. In 1846 the independent democrats held the balance of power between the whig party and the democratic party—no election having taken place for Governor. At the next trial we said, "If you will elect our man, John P. Hale, to the Senate, we will elect your man, Colby, as Governor." This was in 1846. There was a vacancy in the House of Representatives, and they concluded, if Mr. Hale had been put in the Senate, to nominate myself for the House of Representatives, and after several ineffectual efforts for an election I was elected to Congress in 1847. One year before this Buffalo Convention you had elected John G. Palfrey as a regular whig to the House of Representatives, and the whigs of New Hampshire came into the support of myself simply on the ground of my stating to Ichabod Bartlett, who was sent to me to consult me if I should be expected to be found voting with such men as John G. Palfrey and John P. Hale, that I should, and I voted with them. And at the next election you Whigs of Massachusetts would not elect Palfrey again. (Laughter and applause.) Put that down on the record. (Renewed laughter.)

And in the revolution in the organizations that took place in the United States, bear in mind that the humble State of New Hampshire placed the first anti-slavery Senator in the Senate of the United States. (Applause.) Bear in mind that in introducing anti-slavery declarations, next to Joshua R. Giddings, a New Hampshire man sent an anti-slavery resolution to the House of Representatives (applause), and that for two years there were only two anti-slavery men in the Congress of the United States—John P. Hale and myself. I acknowledge how unfortunate it was for New Hampshire that she did not have a better representative than myself. At that time Charles Francis Adams—when we prevailed in New Hampshire—Mr. Adams, Judge Allen, Henry Wilson, Charles Sumner (I might repeat the list), stood well with the whig party. (Uproarious laughter and applause.) It was not until the next year afterwards that you pronounced the whig party dissolved. We claim that we helped to comfort you. (Great laughter.) Please to put it down on the record of the history that you are making, gentlemen (renewed laughter), because while we cannot claim much in our little State we are very jealous in what we can claim. (Laughter.)

I say, sir, that our declarations, humbly made at that Exeter meeting, when we published our resolutions, and in all our labors and in all our votes in Congress or out of Congress, the time, the year, the date of what we wrote in 1845 is our patent. There's the original document; yours was not taken out until 1848. That is the original document. Let me tell you how I obtained it. In 1844 or 1845 the democrats told Mr. Hale and myself and my friend Fogg, long the editor of the Independent Democrat that was established in 1845 (applause) indicating republican principles—so confident were they that our action would be the end of us as men of any influence, that one man in my town, Exeter, put away the call and wrote upon the back of it—I won't detain you to read it, only enough to show that he kept this in memoriam to condemn the men who signed this document and who approved the action that was then taken. I appealed to the son—for the father hath gone to his account—to allow me to read this note on the back, but he would not let me see it and I was obliged to buy it of him—(laughter)—for a considerable amount of money. I value it very highly. (Renewed laughter.) I will take all the pains that I can to see that it is preserved in perpetuam of my regard for the men and what took place in those days.

The Boston Traveller, referring to this matter, says: "It is rather embarassing when a company of gossips meet to talk over the events in the life of a precocious child on its supposed natal day, to have a midwife present at its birth declare that the event occurred two years earlier, and in a different State from what they had supposed. This is much like what happened at the Free Soil gathering of yesterday, and it really looks as if Mr. Tuck has the truth as well as the laugh on his side."

Steamship Disaster in the Pacific.

The Pacific Steam Navigation Co's steamer Eten was wrecked on some rocks seventy miles north of Valparaiso, July 15th, and over one hundred persons lost their lives. Many of those lost got safely on the rocks, but afterward threw themselves into the sea to end their sufferings, as the weather was so bad that relief steamers laying off the rocks were unable to reac h them with boats for several days. The Eten was an iron screw steamer, built in 1871, and cost about $240,000.

Another Indian Fight.

Gen. Gibbons' command of regulars and volunteers had a desperate and bloody fight with the Nez Perces at Big Hole, Montana, August 9th. The fighting continued all day. Capt. Bradley and Lieut. Logan, of the army, were killed; General Gibbons, and Lieutenants Coolidge, English and Woodruff, were wounded. Many enlisted men and volunteers were killed and wounded, and Gibbons' horses, supplies, a howitzer and reserve ammunition were captured. Over a hundred Indians were killed, but they beat back the troops in repeated attacks on their village; the troops finally entrenched in a strong position, and sent to Deer Hole for supplies, and transportation for the wounded, which were at once started out under a strong escort.

News and Notes.

The MacMahon Government of France is daily becoming more aggressive against the republicans, as a campaign plan. The newsdealers are forbidden to sell republican papers; one paper has been fined a hundred francs for refusing to print a speech of MacMahon's. The Paris police have forbidden the sale of portraits of Thiers on the street. On the other hand, 80,000 copies of an equestrian portrait of MacMahon are to be distributed in the provinces. Such ludicrous attempts to bolster up an unpopular cause would be fatal to it in most countries, but they may work well in France.

Steamtug L. R. Lyon was burned on Black river, N. Y., Friday, and the engineer and pilot were burned to death.

Advices from Pickens county, Ala., represent the excitement caused by the murder of Story, Kilpatrick and Bush, subsiding. The evidence of negroes proves that several white men participated in the killing. One white man and several negroes have been arrested. Warrants are issued for others.

A North Carolina boy up a tree tied a rope around his neck, told his sister he was going to hang himself, and jumped to the ground, supposing the rope was long enough to reach, but it was seven feet too short, and he broke his neck.

Learning that the crops of a member, whose entire family was prostrated by sickness, were likely to be lost for want of gathering, the Good Templars, male and female, of Starrsville, S. C., to the number of eighty, turned out, and by working hard an entire day saved the product.

"Brick" Pomeroy, the noted blackguard who won much dollars and infamy as the editor of the La Crosse Democrat during the war, and then lost all he had—except his reputation, which would have been a good thing to have got rid of—in an attempt to make his scurrilous sheet the organ of the New York democracy, has just been married for the third time; his last wife was formerly his proof-reader. He was divorced from his wives numbered one and two.

Yacht Flora went ashore on the north breaker, at the mouth of Newburyport harbor, Friday evening, and it was thought would be a total loss. Three young men on board got ashore all right.

The attitude of the Indians at Sitka, Alaska, has become so threatening that the Treasury officials have hastened to dispatch a revenue cutter to that point, to protect the white settlers.

The railroad accident at Oceansport, N. J., turns out to be more serious than at first reported. One hundred and fifty persons were injured by the accident, thirty of them seriously; one died on Friday, and others cannot live long. Several persons are missing, and it is feared they are buried in the mud under the wrecked train. The officers of the railroad are very reticent, and will give no information whatever to the reporters.

This is the way P. T. Barnum puts it: "I hadn't the remotest idea of lecturing when I came over, but I have a wife who can spend a hundred pounds as fast as I can make it, so I thought I might as well."

New Hampshire Items.

The city government of Concord on Saturday appropriated $1000 for the expenses of receiving President Hayes, who is expected in that city on Thursday, August 23d.

Henry Carpenter, (supposed to be Henry Stickney,) who recently robbed a farmer named Rogers in Derry, of a large sum of money, was arrested in Manchester Thursday night. He is about thirty years of age, and claims to belong in Stockport, Mass. He will be held for identification.

Dr. Alpheus Benning Crosby, Professor of Dartmouth Medical College, died Thursday. He lectured to a class Monday morning, although he experienced difficulty in reading his notes and making the usual demonstrations. The cause of his death has not been determined.

On Saturday, George McConnell of Haverhill was standing in an open door playing a mouth harmonican, when lightning struck the harmonican, severely burning McConnell's mouth and the whole front of his body. He was unconscious for several hours, and his recovery is very uncertain. The house was set on fire and badly injured.

Mrs. A. J. Nichols, of Moultonville, was prostrated for two hours by a flash of lightning on the evening of the 7th. A dog at her feet was killed.

The managers of the State fair have nearly completed the arrangements for the fair to be held in Manchester September 18, 19 and 20. A prominent new feature of the display this year will be the grange exhibitions, for which very generous prizes have been offered.

Political.

The anti-policy republicans of Ohio are organizing for open war on the administration.

The fifth plank in the platform of the Maine Republican State Convention is as follows: "The action of the democratic House of Representatives in refusing appropriations for the army, except upon the conditions that deprive the Commander-in-Chief of the discretion vested in him by the Constitution, was wholly unjustifiable, dangerous and revolutionary. It is a striking commentary on their evil and perilous course that two of the States whose entire representation in Congress aided in defeating the army bill, have been obliged under the pressure and violence of mob law to call on the National Government for such aid as only the army can render."

The Democratic State Convention of Virginia succeeded in nominating a candidate on the third day of its session. The candidates were six in number, and F. M. W. Holliday was nominated on the seventh ballot.

"A longer-eared, wilder-heeled set than a portion of the 'Lowell, Lawrence, Fall River, etc.,' democracy never was raised in even a mule-bearing country. They make the old democratic wagon tedious to the live and progressive men of the party." This is not from a republican paper. It is from the Pittsfield (Mass.) Sun, which is angry because the democrats will not nominate Mr. Adams again.

The democrats of Madison county, Mississippi, have nominated a negro as one of their candidates for the Legislature.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proved that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often restores the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus lonely, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

At the last meeting of the Board of Instruction the subject of confirming the present corps of teachers came up, by a suggestion of Mr. Shannon that some action should be taken upon the re-appointment of the present force of school instructors, so that the latter might know whether they were confirmed or rejected, and govern themselves accordingly. Quite a spirited debate ensued, in which some of the members of the Board claimed that such action was unnecessary, without precedent, and in the absence of any law or regulation concerning it, the teachers' relations to the school board remain unchanged from last year. Other gentlemen of the committee maintained that the present organization of school supervisors had nothing to do with the contracts of their predecessors, and therefore were not obliged to accept one or any number of teachers, but rather had the prerogative of examining every teacher and of rejecting or accepting according to the fitness of the candidate. It was urged on the other hand that while it might be a plan worthy of adoption to have an examination of every teacher at the close of the year for the purpose of testing his or her merits, in point of fact it was an innovation, and never had been done. And further, as the teachers had all gone forth from their schools in unquestioned expectation of resuming their old positions at the beginning of the new year, and that as the vacation was more than half past, it would seem somewhat unjust to adopt the rule in question to apply to them at so late a day. A committee having been appointed at an earlier stage of the meeting (consisting of Messrs. DeNormandie, May and Gardner,) to revise the system of Rules and Regulations that govern the schools at the present time, it was finally voted to instruct this committee to incorporate into the new Rules some clause that shall cover the matter under discussion, so that an examination of teachers may take place annually prior to a re-engagement. It was also voted that each sub-committee of the three districts prepare a list of those teachers that they may deem qualified to be continued, and bring them before the Board of Instruction for confirmation. This new departure will, without doubt, stir up the thirty-five or forty teachers now in the employ of the city to new diligence to "make their calling and election sure;" and we are informed that the custom of trying the teachers at the close of each school year prevails in many places, and always with good results.

LIBERAL OFFERS.

We have just been looking over a lot of letters and circulars received by us within the past six months, from people making us the most liberal offers in the way of trade; and we are lost in wondering how many million dollars we should now be worth if we had profited by all the generous proposals made us. It is possible that had we accepted all the goods offered us we might not have been able to realize hard cash for them just yet, in which case we should certainly have had on hand a stock of articles numerous and varied enough to set up an old curiosity shop and a dollar store, at least. We should have had a windmill and a steam-pump, a base ball suit and a horse rake, a mowing machine and about sixty sewing machines, two cabinet organs and eight gross of blacking, half a ton of starch and a piano, several breech loading shot guns that will kill birds a mile away just as well as at fifty feet, a velocipede and a bible and a croquet set, thirty dozen bottles of an infallible catarrh cure of which no patient ever required a second bottle, a plough and two hundred kegs of paint (assorted colors), a piece of the old elm, a sword cane, chromos, a fishing pole that cannot be told from a walking stick, fifty patent churns and a gun that unscrews so that it can be carried out of town under the coat on Sundays, lottery tickets, wheelbarrows and counterfeit money, revolvers, numerous choice corner lots in bran new cities in Montana and Idaho, and several whole sections of land of inconceivable fertility and great value in New Mexico, thermometers and barometers combined, and other articles too numerous to mention. On footing up the regular retail prices of all the goods offered us we find the amount a little over seventy thousand dollars; yet such is the liberality with which the editor of "your valuable and influential paper" (that's what they all call it) has been treated that we should have got all the goods mentioned merely by paying seventy-eight thousand dollars cash and throwing in seventy-five thousand dollars' worth of advertising at regular rates—agents' discount off. That we have accepted none of the liberal offers might be taken as proof that we are not mercenary; but the fact is that we have no use whatever for a steam pump or mowing machine, and do not want a piano or eight gross of blacking or the infallible catarrh cure. But we have been tempted at last by an offer more liberal than all the rest put together; a man out west offers to furnish us with a wife, to be paid for entirely in advertising—no cash at all asked. That is, the western man does not say "the goods will be forwarded by express on receipt of a marked copy of your paper containing the first issue of the advertisement," but he promises us a fair chance to get a wife, and as this is probably about our last chance to secure one of these desirable articles we have concluded to go for that western gal to the extent of the advertisement, which we accordingly print, as follows:

A Pleasant Social Sensation.

Young ladies, young widows, bachelors and widowers throughout the country are invited to participate in the Kansas City TIMES second Great Matrimonial Drawing at Coates' Opera House, in Kansas City, Mo., on Oct. 1, 1877. At the first drawing, in July, 240 ladies were won by as many unmarried gentlemen, the affair making a wonderful sensation throughout the West. Copies of the TIMES MATRIMONIAL-EDITION, containing a detailed report of the drawing and full particulars of October's Drawing, sent free by mail to any address on application. Published weekly; subscription price, 50 cents for three months, entitling every unmarried subscriber to participate in the Second Great Matrimonial Drawing, in which there are also fifty-two cash premiums. Address, THE TIMES, Kansas City, Missouri.

With the above advertisment we received a "gentleman's coppon," and the following explanation:

If the editor, or any one whom he may designate, wishes to participate in the Matrimonial Distribution, he will fill up the gentleman's coupon and forward it at the time of sending a marked copy of his paper containing the above notice, and the name so designated on the coupon will be registered for the special distribution.

At first we thought of offering the chance to the proprietors of the CHRONICLE; but they are married already, and we do not think it would be right for either of them to secure more than one man's share of family while so many poor fellows have none at all. But we are a little shy of filling up the "coupon" ourself until we have taken legal advice on the matter; we want to know, in case we should happen to draw a colored lady, or some homely old widow with fifteen or sixteen children, and should refuse to accept the prize, if a suit for breach of promise would lie. If the legal question is answered to our satisfaction we shall fill out the coupon and send it to Kansas City; and then if all goes to suit us, we will show the Times man, who so often derides the "old bachelor editor of the CHRONICLE," that we can get a wife, and without buying her, either—pay for her in advertising.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

The Bangor Express over the Eastern Railroad, which left Boston at seven o'clock Friday evening, was thrown off the track at Seabrook by a misplaced switch. Our correspondent at Seabrook writes us that the up freight train switched on to the siding, then backed across the main track to a "spur" track, took on a car that was there and again went on the siding to allow the express to pass; and that somebody—whoever he was who should have looked after it—neglected to set the switch at the spur track right for the passage of the express on the main track. The express train was running at thirty miles or more an hour when it approached the switch, but the engineer, Mr. Judkins, saw that it was wrong and put on the air brake, but the momentum was too great for the train to be stopped in time, and the engine, mail and baggage cars, parlor car, two sleeping and two common passenger cars, ran off the end of the spur, which is only about three hundred feet long, and all except the two latter were badly smashed; a smoking car and two passenger cars stopped on the rails. The engine was capsized, rails torn up and sleepers broken into bits, the top of the mail car bursted out, the baggage car thrown across the track and its sides caved in, and other damage done; but though the train was well filled with passengers, (most of those in the wrecked cars being bound for Mount Desert and other eastern watering places,) yet none of them were hurt; and the engineer and fireman, who heroically stuck to their posts, also fortunately escaped unharmed. Our correspondent says the fireman was almost buried in coal and had to be dug out, and the engineer crawled out through the cab window. The assistant mail agent had his head slightly bruised. The passengers and mails were transferred to a train sent from this city, and passed through here on the way east at about one o'clock Saturday morning. The trains over the road were late all day Saturday, and the mails still more so—for the mail agents neglected to transship the forenoon mails for this city, and they did not arrive till the middle of the afternoon, which occasioned a good deal of growling. The first estimate of the damage was $40,000; but the Boston Journal of Saturday evening puts it at only $10,000, which we hope is nearest correct. All the siding-switches of the Eastern road are fitted with patent signal lanterns which work with the switch, showing a red light when the switch is set for the siding and a green light when it is set for the main line; but the short spur track where the accident occurred is not thus provided,—as such short spurs for purely local use are not on any railroad, we are informed. It would seem that after all the hard luck the Eastern road has had, and with the great care which is undoubtedly exercised in its management now, this unlucky accident might have kept out of the way.

PORTSMOUTH REPRESENTATIVES.

We clip the following from the Independent Statesman in regard to some of our Portsmouth representatives in the last session of the legislature: Among the younger republican members, Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth, took honorable rank. Self-possessed and ready of speech, with a penetrating, though not musical voice, he held his own with the older members. He was frequently called to the chair by the Speaker, and the unction with which he put through the business on the Speaker's table, told plainer than words how much he enjoyed the distinction. He managed the mock session very well indeed, and made a new departure which we trust will be followed on all future occasions. His witticisms were all good and harmless. Jokes with a sting in them, or a nasty flavor were rigidly excluded.

There were many good-looking men in the House, but considering his years no man was more attractive to the eyes of lady lookers-on, judging by their glances, than Col. Eastman of Hampstead. In this particular he fairly divided the honors with our debonair friend from Old Strawberry Bank, Col. Sise, whose immaculate white vest was the theme of so many reportorial squibs. Cal. Sise was rather fond of making motions, and was misunderstood sometimes in consequence, being thought factious by some and consequential by others. He was neither, in fact, but a downright good fellow.

Another good fellow was our nearest neighbor, Richard H. Waldron, of Portsmouth. Quiet and unobtrusive, no truer man held a seat on that floor. He was unswervingly right on all political and moral questions, and he had a hearty contempt for the penny wise and pound foolish economists who sought to display their wisdom by appeals to class prejudice and that spirit of avarice which is supposed by some sordid souls to have an abiding-place with all farming communities.

In the same division was our democratic friend from Greenland, E. A. Peterson, the fidus Achates of Col. Sise; and a very companionable gentleman. He was constant at his post and followed his party leaders with a fidelity worty of a better cause. On other than party questions he was quite progressive, and the Normal School had no firmer friend in the House.

A member whose zeal sometimes outran his knowledge was Samuel Langdon of Portsmouth. He would make motions, and he clung tenaciously to the yeas and nays when to call them was worse than folly. This penchant subjected him to a castigation now and then from the leaders of his party who could not be made to see the point he was driving at. It is doubtful whether he knew himself. Inveigled into the Speaker's chair at the close of the session, one gentleman, thinking to have some sport at his expense, bawled out "Mr. Speaker," repeating the call several times before Langdon deigned to recognize him, and when he did so he called out, "Sit down! you are out of order!" Another member then arose and gravely said, "Upon that question, Mr. Speaker, I shall call the yeas and nays." This was too much, and amid a roar of laughter and a shower of paper wads the Portsmouth member retreated from the Speaker's desk.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

Last week, in Boston, Arthur F. Lincoln was arrested on a charge of forgery. Mrs. Annie Atherton, Lincoln's mother-in-law, gave him a letter to mail in which was enclosed a check for $125 on the Mercantile Savings Institution, made payable to the order of George A. Mudge of this city. Instead of sending the letter, Lincoln opened the same, and forging an indorsement obtained the money. He admits the forgery.

Commodore Cooper visited the navy yard on Saturday, and received the customary salute.

Why Suffer Dyspeptic Tortures,

When the famous regulator of enfeebled, acid or bilious stomachs, Hostetter's Bitters, will cure you? Could you read the testimony of the myriads of dyspeptics whom it has cured, though you might be of a skeptical turn, you would be convinced. Evidence of its efficacy is constantly multiplying, and this relates not only to cases of dyspepsia, but also liver complaint, constipation, urinary and uterine troubles and malarial disorders. The world-wide fame it has attended the great stomachic has incited unscrupulous parties to manufacture cheap imitations of it, which they attempt to palm off as the genuine article. But, so familiar is the public with the real elixir, that these nefarious attempts are rarely successful. Solicit their imitation or competition affect the popularity of the standard article.

The Standard Tooth Wash

of the age is SOZODONT. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth are rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and antiseptic.

Every day to its popularity.

Spalding's Glue is like wit: a good thing well applied.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and gives a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their chest for the relief and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.
WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG: My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into more serious disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and where substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

The Sick Man of America.

There has long been an assertion that there is "a sick man in Europe," but whether that man will come to a speedy dissolution, or obtain a spasmodic convalescence, future events will have to determine. It is certain that he recuperates most vigorously. Nations, if ever born in a day, do not die so suddenly. The Turks came into Europe with a most energetic force, and they are not apt to be driven out of it, without an equal amount of resistance. Besides, although it has often been declared that they have depreciated, there does not appear to a casual observer any evidence of depreciation; on the contrary, mixed with the best blood of the world, it may be that they are superior, physically if not morally, to their ancestors. Yet the civilization of Mohammedism is so dissimilar from that of Christianity, and the material force of Russia is so overpowering, that it would seem to be merely a question of time, whether or not Turkey will be crushed by the very preponderance of power and aggressiveness of religious ideas.

However this may be, there is also a sick man in America. Mexico shows far more symptoms of senility, premature as it is, than does Turkey. Incited by the example of the United States, Mexico took up arms against what is probably considered her mother country, Spain, and with success. Whatever may have been the grievances of the colonies in North America against England, it is likely that Spanish cruelties far exceeded, in Spanish colonies, English imprudencies in English colonies. England has been the best colonizationist of all modern times. She has succeeded in spreading her civilization and her language over a large part of the globe, in the due course of Providence. But Spain, powerful as she may have been in former times, shows but little progress. With but a few honorable exceptions, her course shows but little liberality; so much so, that her "ever faithful isle" of Cuba, in all probability, in the ordinary course of events will become an independent nation or one of the brightest stars in the flag of the American Republic. When liberated from English rule the United States commenced to progress, but when freed from the Spanish yoke, Mexico ceased to progress, or at least progressed [illegible] of the country has been nothing but a series of futile revolutions. It is the boast of the great mass of the Mexican population today, that they are the descendants of Montezuma's people. But if that people were no better than their descendants, history loses certainly a great part of its romance, and the cruelties said to have been committed by the first Spanish invaders can scarcely—or but partially at least—be blamed. It is quite certain that the present Mexican race has been the result of the intermixture of Spaniards and Indians. A great deal has been said about the benefits to be derived from miscegenation, but much depends upon what kinds of races may be mixed. The intermixture of the Anglo-Saxon, Teutonic or Celtic and similar stocks with the African, produces, to say the least, a smart people; while the intermixture of some other races with the latter produces a most wretched population. Indeed, the mere social communication of the blacks with the whites, joined with climatic influences, developes an advance among the former in our Southern States. One may now occasionally see in the South persons of purely African descent, of fine features, fine heads, fine figures, and fine sense—but while the blacks have there advanced, it is a question whether or no the whites have retrograded. Blood, although thicker than water, always seeks its level. The present population of England was the result of an intermixture of people—but the people who intermingled were in the first place of good stock. The Castilians of Mexico may be good enough, but the mongrels are bad enough; yet a good government under the protection of a somewhat different people might change matters very essentially. The Territory of New Mexico is an example of this. Having been annexed to the United States during the Mexican war by force of arms, she soon began to feel the effects of a stable government, and she has been always improving ever since, and no part of the United States has ever been more loyal than has the Territory of New Mexico. She resisted both persuasions and threats, when during the rebellion it was attempted to bring her under Confederate authority. She contended successfully for the American flag against the Texan "rebel" invaders; and at the battle of Valverde, under the late lamented Gen. Canby, assisted by that famous scout, Kit. Carson, the invaders were repulsed, and made the best of their way home, bare-footed and half-starved; as one of the invaders said to me, "they would neither give nor sell us anything to eat." No more invasions were made into New Mexico afterwards; and her native population, satisfied with a stable government, are content with being a mere Territory, in spite of the attempts of politicians to make it appear that she is invidious to the approach of American ideas and American civilization.

Extending along the northern frontier of the United States some thousands of miles lies the Dominion of Canada. She is a semi-independent country, and connected with this nation by religious, social and business ties. Her territory reaches far northward into uninhabitableness, but is sparsely settled except in a few localities, for it is natural for all populations to gravitate toward the South. Being homogeneous and homologous with our own people, and with somewhat similar institutions, it would not be surprising if at some day Canada should become an integral portion of the United States, were it to suit the convenience of both countries. But Mexico, extending also thousands of miles along the south-western frontier of the United States, and with pretensions to similar institutions, has not a homogeneous or homologous population. Travelers unite in saying that the climate of the most of Mexico is delightful. It is a land "where nought but man is vile." There vegetation reproduces itself in the greatest profusion; but its government is a sore spot upon the civilization of the world. Encouraged by our own internal dissensions, that perfidious usurper of France, Louis Napoleon, undertook to build up there a "Latin" dynasty; and, enticed from his beautiful home in the Fatherland, Maximilian (not a Latin) only met with an untimely end, and "poor Carlotta" became a raving maniac; for after the rebellion, through the persuasions and almost threats of the American government, the French deemed it prudent to withdraw their forces. So much a failure was this attempt that the London Times asserted that no further violation of the Monroe doctrine in the United States would be undertaken by any European Government, and if a reform in Mexico were made, it would necessarily be effected by the United States.

A large portion of the great State of Texas, bordering on the Rio Grande, has always been liable to the invasions of lawless raiding bands from Mexico; so much so that settlers have only maintained themselves in their homes by personal prowess. These invasions sometimes reach even a distance of two hundred miles into Texas. It may seem strange to an observer in a more Northern region that such may be possible, but it is to be considered that in that country there is support for both man and beast at all seasons of the year. These raids provoke reprisals; were it otherwise no settlements could be maintained at all. The first raid of any consequence was made soon after the war between the United States and Mexico, by Capt. Callahan, a noted Texan ranger, when the Mexican town of Santa Rosa was captured and sacked; and the last one some four years ago by Col. McKinney of the U. S. forces, when a camp of hostile Indians, harbored by the Mexicans, was surprised and brought into San Antonio. In the camp were found numerous scalps, one scalp being that of a child apparently six months old, and another holding the long yellow Saxon hair of a young woman. Whatever may be said at this late day of the annexation of Texas to the United States, it was a matter of manifest destiny. She is a part and parcel of that country, and her citizens American citizens, entitled to be protected as such. It was said that it had been the policy of the Mexican government to keep Texas a wilderness between her more populous regions and her more powerful neighbor. Be that as it may, Europeans and Americans were invited into that country by the Mexican government, only to be oppressed, and when remonstrances were made to the Central Government at the City of Mexico, the remonstrants were thrown into the vilest prisons; and in the revolution which followed, when the most of the Mexicans left Texas with the exception of a few of the higher class, who are now held in high repute, the revolutionists were, whenever possible, most mercilessly massacred, until after the battle of San Jacinto. In the due course of time, it became evident that Texas must throw herself either into the arms of the United States or England, and her predilections led her to the former.

Now the question arises, how can these ever recurring inroads of Mexicans upon American soil be prevented? There is not apparent any regular government in Mexico; there are at this time several claimants of the Mexican Presidency, and any arrangement even made between the United States authorities and the de facto government of Mexico is not likely to be long effective. After the defeat of Mexico by the United States, Gen. Scott was invited to take charge of the administration of the government of Mexico, but patriotic motives prevented him. In consideration of after events in the United States it may be that his refusal was providential. It was the opinion of that well-known statesman, Sam. Houston, that a protectorate over Mexico should be established by the United States. Perhaps by and by, when the wearisome discussion of the internal affairs of the country is exhausted, many other statesmen may arrive at the same conclusion.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1877.

News and Notes.

There was a heavy squall at Coney Island Friday evening, which wrecked 462 bathing houses, and several women and men therein had narrow escapes from broken limbs. Considerable clothing was lost. The United States coast survey schooner Scoresby was blown high and dry on the beach at Rockaway, nearly into a hotel.

The Bonapartist and clerical press of Paris are clamoring to have MacMahon declare a state of seige in France until after the election comes off, which would enable the ultramontanes to defeat the republicans without regard to the real wishes of the nation. The Germans expect another coup d' etat in France, but it is thought Germany will refuse to recognize a government established by such means.

Later reports from Big Hole, Montana, say that Gen. Gibbon did not lose even a horse in his fight with the Indians, nor any supplies. He surprised the Indian camp, but his force was too small for the work and he was forced into the defensive. Many more Indians than whites were killed. Gen. Howard has joined Gibbon.

The verdict of a Philadelphia coroner's jury in the case of a man who was killed while attending a meeting of the malcontents in that city on the 20th ult., in contravention of the Mayor's order, was to the effect that it served him right.

Not only is the population of Scranton, Pa., liable to explosion, but the city itself seems likely at any time to perform similar conduct. It appears that in mining for coal, shafts and tunnels have been run all about under the town. The mines are now flooding, owing to the perverse conduct of the strikers, and as the water rises the gas is forced back. The mayor of the city says that if this continues long the pressure of the water will become so great that the gas will break up the thin surface, and blow all Scranton to pieces. This would be a mere hasty, if not a more complete, finish than the one predicted now for some years—that the miners will work up so near the top that the weight of the houses will break in the shell, and the city be distributed through the mines. Neither prospect is first-class for any but the Adventist land-buyers.

A colored soprano, who was requested by the deacons of the Locust Hill Church, near Columbus, Ga., not to sing with the choir, quietly set fire to the building the next morning.

Blue Jeans Williams makes a feeble and unsuccessful attempt to soften down the story about his efforts to have the strikers pass his son-in-law over the blockaded railroads. The exact facts, as he gave them to a reporter of the Indianapolis News, are: "Why, my son-in-law was on his way to Pittsburg with some cattle, and was stopped at Columbus by reason of the strike, and had got this far back on his way home. He was very anxious to reach home, and I wrote a note to aid him if possible." He plaintively urges that the note was not addressed to the strikers but to "whom it may concern." But as the strikers blocked the way and let the son-in-law pass, it is reasonable to conclude that it was meant for them. Son-in-law didn't get through, however, for a postal clerk put him off the car!

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has presented a claim to the Government for the transportation of troops along its line to protect the road from rioters!

The Harvard boat crew, that didn't want "loafers or reporters around," has dissolved. One of them has been appointed banco-steerer, a position of great trust in this city, and another is making an extensive study of chiropody, from life.—N. Y. Sun.

Gen. Henry Darnell, on trial at Tiptonville, Lake county, Tennessee, bulldozed the Court at that place on Wednesday and Thursday of last week with twenty-five armed men, the sheriff and deputies being entirely inefficient. Darnell recently gave himself up, but refused to go to jail, and instead was placed in custody of one of his friends. It having been shown that the bond was insufficient it was so announced in Court and Darnell was ordered to jail. The sheriff refused to act, and Darnell and his armed mob walked out of the court room, denouncing the Court, and defying its authority. The sheriff refusing to obey an order to summon a posse, Gov. Porter telegraphed to send the Chickasaw Guards of Memphis to the Court's relief, but the order was countermanded, Darnell and squad having left for Kentucky.

The Navy Department has succeeded in contracting for its coal at $3.47 per ton, and the War Department at $3.44.

A combination of the Western Union and Attantic & Pacific telegraph lines, the total receipts to be pooled and then divided according to a special agreement, is announced as almost a certainty. "Tolls" will go up as soon as the combination is effected.

Washburn, the well-known "Last Sensation" showman, was stricken with paralysis at Petrolia, Pa., recently, and it is thought cannot recover. His travelling troupe has been disbanded.

A despatch from London says: "Profound apprehension and anxiety exist in all commercial and financial circles here respecting the repudiation movement in Georgia and Virginia. This, with the effect of the railway strikes, threatens to be destructive of American credit in Europe."

Greeks are greatly excited over the massacre of their countrymen along the shores of the Black Sea, and in Thessaly and Epirus, by the Turks, and it is not believed Greece will remain neutral much longer.

The Turks report having gained victories over the Russians at Ani and near Shumla, but it is not believed that any battles have been fought at those places.

The Turks are hastening the completion of the fortifications of Gallipoli, on the Dardenelles, and mounting large numbers of Krupp guns there.

The London Times' Constantinople correspondent telegraphs: "Civil war of extermination is being carried on at present at Eski Saghra. All the male Christian population have been sentenced to death by a Turkish General. This news has been brought by two American missionaries who were protected by Turkish friends. This news is also confirmed by consular despatches. Every male Bulgarian is accused of being either a spy or an open enemy."

New Hampshire Items.

George W. Hodgdon and Edward Breeze, of Brookline, obtained goods from Messrs. Woodward & Corey and Henry Stearns of Keene on a forged order on J. A. Hall of Brookline, were tried in the Nashua Police Court Saturday, and bound over in $1000 each until the September term, and were also fined $20 each and costs for obtaining goods under false pretences.

The will of the late Mrs Betsey Whitehouse of Pembroke, which left the greater portion of a large estate to the Home Missionary Society, is to be contested in the Supreme Court on the ground that she was too sick to make a will.

The State Agricultural College is $6000 behind hand, needs $500 for new instruments and repairs, and also more students, as independent of the new class there are but eleven.

On Saturday last, while Dr. Nathaniel Batchelder of Epping was on a professional visit to a lady in Raymond, he mistook the entrance to her apartment, the hall being quite dark, and fell the entire length of the cellar stairs, breaking his left hip. At last accounts he was in a critical condition.

Will Damon shot Woodbury Chase through the neck in Gilmanton on Sunday morning, as he claims in self defence.

N. E. Wyatt, a freight conductor on the Boston & Maine Railroad, was cut to pieces by his train at Woodville on Monday. His head and one arm were cut off. He was twenty-six years old, and unmarried.

The heaviest thunder-storm of the season passed over the town of Hill on Friday about five o'clock P. M. Rain continued to pour in torrents for more than an hour, with much thunder and vivid lightning. Hailstones fell an inch in diameter, cutting down grain, vines, and breaking glass. The stones laid in heaps unmelted for several hours after the storm.

President Hayes will visit Manchester as the guest of Ex-Gov. Fred Smyth, after Concord has got through lionizing him.

A barn in Keene, occupied by David Sweeny, and owned by Faulkner & Colony, was burned Saturday afternoon. Loss $1200; insured $600.

Political.

The repudiationists won a complete victory in the "conservative" convention of Virginia. The debts which the conservatives propose to repudiate are to the last cent "chivalry" debts, no carpet-bagger or republican having had anything to do with them—except to furnish money. The candidates for governor and lieutenant governor both served in the rebel army.

The democracy of four States have recently had an opportunity to express themselves on certain vital questions which touch the credit of the country. In Georgia they vote for naked repudiation. In virginia they barely escape making the same record. In Mississippi they ask the Government to give away more land and money to railroads. In Ohio they demand more paper promises and want the Government to make gold, silver and paper "of equal tender and incovertible." It might be judicious to give this crowd unlimited control of the Treasury, and then again it might not.—Tribune.

A letter from the widow of Judge Chisolm, the victim of the Kemper county (Miss.) massacre, says the Probate Court of that county refused to settle up her husband's estate. She is thus prevented from leaving the scene of the butchery of the family.

Dallas county, Ala., which has been good for four thousand republican majority, gave the democrats three hundred majority at the last election. The republican party has been entirely crushed out in the Southern States, and men who prefer republican candidates dare not vote the republican ticket.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 11.

A goodly number of cynical people and habitual fault finders shake their heads ominously over the report that Mr. John Sherman has gone to Ohio to take a hand in the campaign just opened. Perhaps these critics are running before they are sent—going off "half cocked," as it were. Besides, one finds it difficult to believe the President so indifferent to his reputation for consistency as is implied by the rumor in question. It is certain, however, that Mr. Sherman has really gone to Ohio. Should he dare open his mouth on the stump there or elsewhere the civil service reformers will hear something drop; and the storm will beat so vehemently that every house founded upon the sand, no matter how pretentious or carefully constructed, will be swept to irretrievable ruin. Public confidence in the sincerity of the reform leaders among high officials, has never been very pronounced; and it has been subjected to a good many rude shocks since it was first announced that politics and the civil service were to be divorced. The "malicious" efforts of Gail Hamilton and Kemble have rather deepened the feeling of distrust among the very credulous and those always prepared to harbor suspicions of their purer neighbors; and it only requires one more overt act, such as Secretary Sherman is said to contemplate, to bring the whole movement into disrepute.

The founders of the Mrs. R. B. Hayes Temperance Society, who were spitely accused of interested motives in rallying under that particular banner, recently investigated the scandalous act of their godmother in presenting a basket of flowers to the Schutzenfest Association. After hours of protracted labor it was resolved that if she had sinned it was through ignorance, and that they were therefore only called upon to wink at her instead of voting her an outcast beyond the pale of charity.

The order prohibiting the sale of arms and ammunition to Indians has been supplemented by another calling the attention of army officers to the prohibition and enjoining upon them the duty of preventing such sales by every legitimate means. It is felt that this is a step in the right direction; but to insure a complete observance of the order will require the co-operation of not only the army but of every trader on our frontier. Even then, and in spite of the utmost vigilence, large quantities of the contraband articles will be smuggled through so long as money can be made out of their sale.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proved that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus lonely, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilized; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is safe and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp cannot exist.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

JUVENILE LEGISLATION.

In "an act for the better protection of children," passed by the Legislature at its late session, appears the following:

"SECTION 1. No minor under the age of fourteen years shall be admitted at any time to, or permitted to remain in, any saloon or place of entertainment where any spirituous liquors or wines, or intoxicating or malt liquors are sold, exchanged or given away, or at places of amusement known as dance houses and concert saloons, unless accompanied by parent or guardian. Any proprietor, keeper or manager of any such place who shall admit such minor to, or permit him or her to remain in any such place unless accompanied by parent or guardian, shall be fined ten dollars."

This prohibiting the sale of intoxicants to children under fourteen years of age, or the allowing them to remain in drinking saloons, is all right in itself; and that some such act—and the enforcement of it, too—is needed in this city we have more than once had proof, in the appearance on our streets of drunken boys; but really, while there is a State law in force absolutely prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors to anybody, old or young, this putting children under fourteen years of age into a class by themselves and specially prohibiting such sale to them seems a work of supererogation. Similarly, it is odd that the State should prohibit the presence of young children in places which the State has declared shall not exist at all.

THAT MARINE MYSTERY.

Under the heading of "The Mystery at Portsmouth, N. H., the Army and Navy Journal of August 11th publishes the following letter (the third it has published on the subject) concerning the case of the marine McCarthy.

Sir: My attention has been called to an article in your issue of July 2, over the signature "Citizen," containing an explanation of some of the circumstances attending the finding and burial of the body of what was supposed to be one McCarthy—an enlisted man attached to the Battalion at Marine Barracks, naval station, near this city. With your permission I will correct that statement. This body, having been taken from the river, was brought to the police station—some half mile distant—where I was permitted to make a cursory examination in presence of several gentlemen. The condition of the body, as I then viewed it, in connection with the peculiar circumstances of McCarthy's disappearance (notorious at the time), created a general impression that the missing marine had been foully dealt with. That the man whose body then lay before me was murdered, I entertain not the slightest doubt; but I am not aware that any clue to his identity has yet been obtained. I strenuously urged the necessity for an inquest, but failed utterly to impress the authorities. The law of New Hampshire places the power to order an inquest in the hands of the Mayor and Aldermen; and the Coroner can have recourse only to an appeal to the County Solicitor. The Mayor having peremptorily refused an inquest, I proposed to make such appeal, but, early the subsequent morning, the man was conveyed to the cemetery by a marine guard and buried. The Mayor has never seen the body, and gave, as apology for the course pursued, his desire to prevent expense to the county.

SAMUEL C. WHITTIER, M. D.,
Coroner, Rockingham County.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

The new City Government will organize at 10:30 o'clock this forenoon, at the Court House.

On account of the decease of Miss Ellen Brown, a member of the Grange, the Picnic arranged by Portsmouth Grange for Wednesday, 15th inst., is postponed till Tuesday next, August 21st, or first fair day, at Gravelly Ridge.

The huge excursion steamer Plymouth Rock is announced to make an excursion to the Shoals on the 29th inst., under the management of Jarrett & Palmer, (her owners,) and it is expected she will visit this harbor and remain several hours.

The wrecked schooner Ceres is now high and dry at low water, on the flats off Renick's point, just below the Kittery end of Portsmouth bridge. She's a hard looking old craft now.

The Hutchinson Family, "Tribe of Asa," will give a concert at the Appledore House, Isle of Shoals, on Friday evening, August 24th, and will sing at Franklin Hall in this city on the following evening.

Bunker Hill Encampment, I. O. O. F., of Charlestown, Mass., accompanied by Brown's Brigade Band of Boston, twenty-five pieces, have decided to visit this city on September 1st, and remain three days. The visitors will receive every attention from the local Encampments, and will be quartered at the Rockingham. Among other items in the programme are a trip to the Shoals and a drive to Hotel Wentworth, a parade, levee, visit to the navy yard, etc.

The Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, Major D. J. Vaughan commanding, leave for Bennington, Vt., this morning.

A New York yacht, bound to Mt. Desert, came near going on a ledge of rock east of Foss' beach, Rye, during a thick fog recently. A small boat was sent ashore and the strangers learned where they were, and by the aid of a fisherman were brought to a safe anchorage, where they remained until the fog lifted. On the return passage, the yacht ran out of her course, sailing up towards the place where she had anchored and saluting the seaside visitors at the point.

Mr. Knox, of Concord, is to begin at once to erect a boarding house having a front of one hundred feet, at Foss' beach, Rye, just north of Millard Ward's cottage. The house will command a splendid sea view.

Hon. James G. Blaine arrived at York, Me., on Saturday, where he will remain a few days as the guest of Mrs. L. Bigelow Lawrence.

There was a heavy robbery of jewels, money, etc., at Boar's Head Monday night. Sheriff Kent was telegraphed for. We have been unable to learn the particulars.

Poor Girls.

The poorest girls in the world are those who have not been taught to work. There are thousands of them. Rich parents have petted them; they have been taught to despise labor, and depend upon others for a living, and are perfectly helpless. If misfortune comes upon their friends, as it often does, their case is hopeless. The most forlorn and miserable women on earth belong to this class. It belongs to parents to protect their daughters from this deplorable condition. They do them great wrong if they neglect it. Every daughter should be taught to earn her own living. The rich as well as the poor require this training. The wheel of fortune rolls swiftly round—the rich are very likely to become poor, and the poor rich. Skill to labor is no disadvantage to the rich, it is indispensible to the poor. Well-to-do parents must educate their daughters to work. No reform is more imperative than this.

A New Kind of Casabianca.

It is a boy that can stay at his post as long as there is any use of his holding it, that is not afraid of threats nor the presence of violence, and keeps his work resolutely in hand so long as there is work to do. This is what is reported of August Doudel, the brave little telegraph operator who was shut up in the Pittsburg railroad office on Saturday night. He kept on telegraphing, doing his duty, without the slightest regard to the mob surrounding him. They could not drive him away so long as the connecting wires responded to his hand. When at last they fired the building, he quietly, and with a touch of humor, sent his last message, "Fire's too hot. Good night," and got away in time, showing himself to be as sensible as brave. Obedience to order and discipline were never more needed than now, and it is a noble thing to die at one's post, if thereby a trust is kept that saves other lives or keeps destruction and rapine at bay. But to hit it as accurately as this boy has done, to care nothing for the risk of life so long as his magnets worked and he could send intelligent replies over the wires, and then to know when to quit, makes us confess that the modern Casabianca is a great improvement over the old. —Philadelphia Ledger.

—Mr. Charles F. Browne—otherwise Artemus Ward—once wrote a bright letter to a little eight-year-old friend of his in Elmira, and the Gazette of that town now prints this letter for the first time. He tells his "dear Amelia" how much he misses her: "Why didn't I put you in a bottle and bring you down with me?" he says; "But I am always forgetting something. The other day I went off and forgot my Aunt Sarah, and she's a good deal bigger than you are. Mr. Ramsey is also a very forgetful man. He frequently goes off and forgets his washerwoman. * * I like you very much. I should like you just as well if you were twelve years older. I am very singular about some things. You spoke to me about a boy who is my rival. I should feel very sorry to kill that boy, but he may drive me to it. I am in hopes that he will take himself into a premature tomb—that he may choke himself with a large slice of pudding—but if he does neither, I shall feel forced to load him with chains and read all my lectures to him. That will finish him. His boots may remain, but the rest of him will have perished miserably long ere I have got through!"

—A curious and remarkable experiment has been tried in India. Mr. Adams, of Bombay, has invented a solar battery consisting of two hundred small mirrors so arranged that they focused the sun's rays upon a small copper boiler, and generated steam in it in twenty minutes. Mr. Adams contends that he could by the same means generate heat enough to drive the largest spinning mill in Bombay.

—When Spotted Tail, Red Cloud and the other copper-colored Envoys Extraordinary reach the National Capital, it would be prudent to take them under its sheltering care. Few spectacles are more unlovely than that of a Sioux ambassador on an aboriginal drunk.

—While a well-known author in the East has married his step-daughter, and an unknown farmer in Nelson County, Ky., his step-mother, it has been reserved for a clergyman's son in Walton's Lick, Ky., to outstrip them both by the remarkable matrimonial feat of carrying off his step-grandmother.

Why Suffer Dyspeptic Tortures,

When the famous regulator of enfeebled, acid or bilious stomachs, Hostetter's Bitters, will cure you? Could you read the testimony of the myriads of dyspeptics whom it has cured, though you might be of a skeptical turn, you would be convinced. Evidence of its efficacy is constantly multiplying, and this relates not only to cases of dyspepsia, but also liver complaint, constipation, urinary and uterine troubles and malarial disorders. The success which has attended the great stomachic has incited unscrupulous parties to manufacture cheap imitations of it, which they attempt to palm off as the genuine article. But, so familiar is the public with the real elixir, that these nefarious attempts are rarely successful. Neither imitation or competition affect the popularity of the standard article.

The Standard Tooth Wash

of the age is Sozodont. It has distanced competition. Discolored teeth are rendered white by its use. The breath derives fragrance from its aroma. It prevents and arrests dental decay. The gums become rosier and harder under its operation. All its ingredients are vegetable and antiseptic.

Every day to its popularity.

Spalding's Glue is like wit: a'good thing well applied.

THE COLOSSAL BRONZE STATUE OF VICTORY which stands in the Park, at Lowell, before the tomb of the first soldiers that fell in the revolution, is a lasting and beautiful tribute of art. It is one of the first objects sought by strangers visiting our sister city, which indeed many visit purposely to see this elegant object of high art. It was obtained from the King of Bavaria by Dr. J. C. Ayer, to whom his Majesty was especially gracious in acknowledgment of what his remedies are reputed to have done for the suffering sick. It was donated by the Doctor to the City of Lowell as a permanent and speaking emblem of the victories both of Science and Arms.—Hagerstown (Md.) Press.

Generals P. T. Beauregard and Jubal Early have beaten their swords into ploughshares and turn the wheel of fortune monthly for the Louisiana state Lottery Company with as much vigor as fifteen years ago they led armies to battle. Ayer's Cathartic Pills

For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and expense is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Carbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickcox, Rector of St. John's E. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a sprain more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 22d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frostbites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment, White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

J. R. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Pitcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimock, of Dupont, Ohio, says:

"I am using CASTORIA in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the CASTORIA. It is prepared by Messrs. J. R. ROSE & CO., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. tnov1

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Strains, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Stings, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children teething may have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. tnov1

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2[illegible] years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine, I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and write you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was sick four years ago I lost weight I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty-[illegible] but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the wonderful cures they have done, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indyiest Dow to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a sufferer from the Rheumatism for twenty years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half of the praise they deserve.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE!

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intolerable pain. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go to some place south the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure one, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON!

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL;

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

—o—

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated lungs and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into a troublesome disorder. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they disturb, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Nervility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

—"Twins to let" is a sign on a hall door of an East-side tenement in New York. These babies are hired by the women who grind organs attached to perambulators.

—Felix McCarty of the Kerry militia was generally late on parade. "Ah, Felix," said the sergeant, "you are always last." "Be aisy, Sergeant Sullivan," was the reply, "sure some one must be last."

—The non-occurrence of an event which had been announced to take place is amply explained by a Digby (N. S.) paper thus: "Owing to no more of an audience than the doorkeeper and empty benches, Mr.— did not give his poetic readings in the Temperance Hall on Tuesday evening last."

—A maiden who keeps house for herself in a quiet way called at a country store not many miles from Boston last week and bought a quarter of a gross of bunches of friction matches, informing the store-keeper that the last lot she had bought of him was just gone. He had sold it to her twenty years before.

—A Holyoke clergyman recently received a letter from a man who said he had been invited to address a reform club, and would like said clergyman to write an address about an hour and a half long for him, specially exhorting him to "write it in full hand, and bring it out quite impressive."

—It was very muddy weather when President Hayes visited Rhode Island, and when he went away, he carled away about three-fourths of the State on his boots and had to sit down in Connecticut and let his feet hang over the line while the despoiled inhabitants scraped off their estates.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brushy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

The Eastern War.

A despatch from Bucharest, Tuesday, says that the number of Russians between Plevna and Rustchuk and the Balkans is now estimated at 140,000 men. A despatch from Adrianople says that Suleiman Pasha had pushed his reconnoisance to Karalom without meeting with any Russian troops. A despatch from Alexandropol says that General Tergukassoff's army has been reinforced and is advancing to attack Ismail Pasha, who is retreating towards the Armenian frontier, near Targavla. A despatch from Gablova says large numbers of Bulgarian fugitives continue to reach that town, and report that the Turks have devastated the Eski Saghra and Achirpan districts, and that they have massacred from 12,000 to 15,000 men, women and children, and have burned sixty villages; at Eski Saghra they burned a hospital containing 800 wounded Russians.

News and Notes.

Edward Bellamy will have a timely story in Scrivner for September, entitled "Hooking Watermelons," in which he speaks of the distinction usually recognized by boys between "hooking" and "stealing," the former only applying to the appropriation of growing crops—the theory in the juvenile mind being, according to Mr. Bellamy, that nature can not be regarded as making contracts with some individuals to the exclusion of others.

Mrs. Sarah Hibbard of Etna, Me., left her home on Thursday last and was missing till Sunday, when she was found in a pasture, dead. Her arm and collarbone were broken. It is supposed that she was killed by an ugly ram.

Schooner R. L. Hersey, from Winsor, N. S., for Baltimore with a load of plaster, sprung a leak on Saturday ten miles off Cape Cod, and sank at midnight, the crew escaping in a boat, taking nothing with them.

Ship N. T. Hill, Capt. Jabez H. Snow, of Bucksport, Me., 1500 tons register, is two hundred days out from Rangoon, with a cargo of rice for Falmouth, Eng., and is supposed to be lost with all hands. She was a new ship, on her first voyage.

Thomas Fitzgerald, of Fall River, Mass., fatally stabbed his wife on Sunday, because she told him, when he came home drunk and ordered her to give him some supper, to get food where he got his rum. The man has for a long time spent nearly all the money he could get for liquor, his wife working hard in a factory to support herself and child, and feed her worse than worthless husband.

Senator Morton is almost helpless from an attack of paralysis which he had at San Francisco a week ago. He was sent to Richmond, Ind., in the car of the Superintendent of the Central Pacific Railroad.

Advices from Rio Grande City, Texas, on the 13th, say: "This morning fifteen men from Mexico entered the town, broke open the jail, shot Judge Cox and the jailor and released two notorious outlaws. The civil authorities called upon the military for assistance, and Col. Price, with 100 regulars and two Gatling guns, started in pursuit, but failed to overtake them. They recrossed the river and entered Mexico, seven miles below Rio Grande. The troops have not yet crossed."

John Overn, of the Bunker Hill District, Boston, a young man about twenty-three years of age, while drunk Monday evening went to the grocery and liquor store of Henry Ryan, and assaulted him. Ryan in defending himself inflicted some injuries on Overn, who soon afterward died. Ryan (who was also under the influence of liquor at the time of the quarrel) is under arrest, though the doctors do not think Overn's death was due wholly or mainly to him.

Thomas T. Prentis, the U. S. consul at the Seychelles islands in the Indian ocean, is on a visit to his home in Waitsfield, Vt., with a rich wife, two children, a colored woman from the Seychelles as a servant, and lots of costly baggage. To give piquancy to his visit, Mrs. Sarah A. Thayer of Waitsfield has sued him for breach of promise of marriage, laying damages at $5000.

"Jenny Lind writes that she is about to settle in England for the purpose of educating her son, now four years old. A girl was born to her on the 31st of March last. Jenny is now about fifty-six years old." This absurd statement has arisen from a letter written by Jenny Lind some twenty years ago, going the round of the papers without a date. Jenny Lind has been living at Roehampton, Surrey, for many years. As most people are aware, not one woman in perhaps twenty millions has a child at the age of fifty-six! In fact, the famous Douglas case mainly turned on the impossibility of Lady Jane Heard having a child at fifty-two.—Sun.

New Hampshire News.

Saturday forenoon Mr. Charles Carter, aged 40, employed in Dow's grist-mill at Bow, had occasion to thrust his hand down the aperture through which the grain reaches the stones. While his hand was thus placed and resting on the upper stone the mill was started, and before the man could be extricated, his arm was literally twisted from his body some six inches below the shoulder joint, being held to the shoulder by a few shreds of skin. It is thought he will recover.

A despatch from Epping announces the sudden death on the camp ground at that place, Monday, of Lyman Daniels, formerly overseer of the Duck mills in Lawrence, and a highly respected citizen.

The old Baptist Church, lately purchased by the Methodist Society, at Milford, was dedicated Sunday with appropriate ceremonies. Rev. J. W. Hamilton of Boston preached the dedicatory sermon. A collection was taken and $1100 raised toward paying the remaining debt of $1300.

Stirring Scenes at Niagara Falls in Bypast Time.

If but half the memories that exist of the popular resorts of midsummer could be collected together, they would form a volume of rare interest. With the idea of drawing a crowd to Niagara Falls during the travelling season of 1827, as appears by the newspapers of that time, the hotel proprietors of that locality conceived the project for a scene that in this age of ocean steamships would draw visitors from the other side of the Atlantic to witness it. Procuring a weather-beaten brig, named the Michigan, that was said to have been at one time a pirate craft, she was gayly decked with flags and streamers for the purpose of sending her over the falls, with various live animals on board as passengers. Everything being ready, at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 9th, 1827, the task of towing her from Yale's Landing, on Lake Erie, to the rapids, was commenced by Capt. Rough, with a yawl and five strong-armed oarsmen. When within half a mile of the great cataract, being as near as they dared to approach, she was cut adrift, the oarsmen having to pull for their lives, so near were they to the rapids, to reach the shore in safety. To the spectators on the high lands of both the American and British shores, in full view of the doomed vessel and the rapids, it was a grand sight as the Michigan approached, head on, the first rapid, and keeping the same course the most skillful pilot would have chosen, the American flag displayed at her bowsprit, and the British jack at her stern. She passed the first rapid unhurt, still head on, making a plunge, shipping a sea and rising from it in gallant style, but in her descent of the second rapid, her masts went over the board at the same moment,—thus giving those who had never witnessed such a scene a specimen of the sudden destruction of the spars of a ship at sea in a case of wreck. Expectation of her fate was now at its height as she swung around and presented her broadside to the dashing, foaming waters, and then, after remaining stationary for a minute or two, was by its force again swung round, stern foremost, and having passed to the third rapid, she bilged, but still kept on upright to the Horseshoe, over which she was carried, stern foremost, to the abyss below, where, as will be conceived, she was dashed to fragments, scarcely two boards remaining attached together, and many of her timbers being broken in pieces; yet such was the desire of those who had witnessed the scene to obtain a relic of the floating fragments so numerous at first below the falls, at sunset nearly all had disappeared.

The animals on board consisted of a Rocky Mountain buffalo, two bears, two foxes, a racoon, four geese, and a cat, all of whom were let loose on deck when the vessel was left to her fate, the buffalo excepted, who was enclosed in a pen upon deck. The two bears, after one had climbed a mast as if to take an outlook of the situation, left the vessel shortly after she commenced a descent of the rapids, and notwithstanding the rapidity of the current, reached the British shore in safety, where they were at once captured. The buffalo and the two foxes were seen to pass over the falls, but nothing was visible of them afterwards. The last that was seen of the cat she had crawled to the end of the bowsprit, where she appeared rather than otherwise to enjoy the scene around her. The only live animals who passed over the falls unhurt, were the two geese, who were sold, for that reason, by the man who rescued them, for a larger sum than any of their species probably ever brought before. At least twenty thousand people witnessed the spectacle, which it was supposed would be ere long repeated by the same parties, on a much grander scale; but though no such event followed, one far excelling it in splendor, if unpremeditated, and witnessed by few, was visible not many years afterwards in the same world-famed locality. During the attempted Canadian rebellion, in which American fillibusters largely shared, about ten years after the period referred to, as the people at the Clifton House, on the British side of Niagara Falls, were about sitting down to tea, a bright light was seen from the windows far up the lake, which continued to grow brighter and brighter, until, by the time the evening meal was over, a burning steamer was visible approaching, the scene increasing every moment in splendor to the time when, after being whirled about like an egg-shell in the rapids, completely enveloped in flames she went over the falls near the Goat Island shore; her hull, as a matter of course, being dashed to fragments, while the engine still rests beneath the boiling flood of waters at the foot of the falls, where it will be looked upon never again, at least in time, by human eye. The steamer, it may be added by way of explanation, had been employed in conveying recruits from Old Fort Schlosser, on Lake Erie, to the rendezvous of the rebels at Navy Island, and that she was seized at a moment when only one man was left on board, by an expedition from the Canada shore, who after towing her out into the lake and setting her on fire, left her to her fate.

A Portsmouth artist, Mr. John S. Blunt, was present on the first of the occasions above narrated, and took five views of the falls, with the scene that drew him there, which he afterwards exhibited, accompanied by the best of the Copley pictures about town, that were loaned to him by the owners for that purpose, on the second floor of the building now occupied as the 99 Cent Store.

To Render the Liver Active

When that important secretive gland requires arousing, it is only requisite to resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the national remedy for inactivity of the bilious organ, for constipation, and for besides those malarious disorders to which torpidity of the liver predisposes a person. Far more surely does this celebrated anti-bilious cordial accomplish a curative result than mercury or any other mineral drug used to cure liver disorders. In fact, such medicaments cannot fairly be called remedies, since, although they may have a temporary effect, they eventually fail to influence the system remedially, but instead often do it serious injury. The Bitters, on the contrary, are a specific of the most salutary nature, and are likewise a reliable and agreeable tonic, appetizer and nervine.

We Can't Talk

without showing the condition of our teeth. Every laugh exposes them. In order not to be ashamed of them, let us use SOZODONT, which is sure to keep them white and spotless, and to give fragrance to every word we utter.

"United we stand," as the joined fragments said to SPALDING'S GLUE.

We publish the announcements in our advertising columns for pay, and seldom trouble ourselves to enquire as to the qualities or merits of the wares advertised further than to assure ourselves that they are legitimate and respectable. But when an article performs miracles in our midst, transforming the old to young, in appearance at least, we cannot pass it by unnoticed. We know of people who, years ago were gray-headed and who now wear dark and glossy hair. How is this? It evidently is not colored, for it has a perfectly natural appearance instead of the harsh, dry, staring look of hair stained with nitrate of silver or other common hair dyes. No! It has been restored to its youthful color, lustre and vitality by the use of that wonder of wonders, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. It has many imitators, but there is nothing like it. The test of years only increases its fame, while its imitators die and are forgotten.—Boston Daily Globe.

The State of Louisiana, at the close of the war, found itself in a very crippled condition, financially; so the authorities imitated the example of Congress at the close of the Revolutionary war, and that of the States of Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania and New York, as well as many other commonwealths in times gone by, and in 1868 incorporated some of its leading citizens in the Louisiana State Lottery Company, with a capital of one million dollars, since augmented by three hundred and fifty thousand dollars accumulation as a reserve, all of which is paid up in cash. This company quarterly pays the State a large fund for the maintenance of its hospitals and schools and other charitable and educational purposes. The lottery is drawn monthly, without fail, in the City of New Orleans, under the personal supervision of the two ex-Confederate Chieftains, Generals P. T. Beauregard, of Louisiana, and Jubal Early, of Virginia, and the full schemes can be had by writing to M. A. Dauphin, Esq., President, Lock Box, 692, P. O., New Orleans. The next drawing is on Sept. 4, when tickets are only two dollars each.

E. G PIERCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

The new City Government organized at the Court House, Tuesday forenoon, in presence of a moderate audience of citizens. The oath of office was administered by the City Clerk to Mayor-elect Broughton, the members-elect of the Board of Aldermen and Common Council being then sworn by the Mayor.

Mr. Wm. A. Hodgdon was appointed temporary President of the Common Council, but declined, as did also Mr. George Cox; Mr. Arthur T. Pfeiffer then took the chair. The permanent organization was effected by the choice of Mr. Wm. A. Hodgdon as President, he receiving eight votes to one for Walter S. Gray; Mr. Hodgdon made a brief speech of acceptance on taking the chair. Mr. Robert E. Rich was unanimously chosen Clerk.

In Convention, Hon. Marcellus Bufford was elected City Clerk, receiving all the votes cast, sixteen in number. Prayer was offered by Rev. Charles A. Holbrook, after which the Mayor delivered the following ADDRESS.

Gentlemen:—The citizens of Portsmouth have entrusted to us the management of their municipal affairs for the coming year. In assuming these duties, we take upon ourselves very great responsibilities. These are to be entered upon not lightly, but seriously, with a view, not to our personal interests but to the public good, remembering that while the necessary expenses of the city are large, yet in these hard times especially, taxes are a burden hard to be borne, and which therefore should be reduced by all proper means to the lowest possible point. The people, who have put us in these offices, ask and expect us to manage the public business prudently, and to put into office men who can be relied upon for diligence, discretion and economy.

I wish, gentlemen, that I could congratulate you on a revival of business. The great depression which has existed for four years, over all this country, and many other countries, shows no signs of lightening. Employment is still difficult to obtain, and wages are low. There is but little trade, and most branches of manufactures find but little encouragement.

In the midst of it all, however, I can heartily congratulate you, that the great tumults and commotions which have disturbed large portions of our land, have not been felt among us, but that quiet and peace have prevailed in this city and throughout New England.

The printed City Accounts for the year 1876 exhibit the financial condition of the city on the thirty-first day of December last. The ordinary bonded debt remains the same—being $161,700; the only payment required the present year being $5000, on the first day of October next, for which an appropriation has been made.

Of this debt $55,500 draws five per cent. interest, and $106,200 draws six per cent.

In addition to this debt is the loan contracted to pay for shares in the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, being at present, as I shall show in this address, $343,000.

The appropriations for the year 1876 were largely drawn upon before I came into office; additional appropriations were required for the streets, the Fire Department, School-houses and some other accounts, and the expenditures were necessarily carried beyond the appropriations, though no expense was authorized which was not considered imperative. In addition, it was thought prudent to settle a suit, which had been decided adversely to the city by a referee, and the sum of $1167 was paid for this purpose for which no appropriation was made. This was somewhat less than the sum awarded by the referee.

The appropriations for the present year have been fixed at the smallest possible sum consistent with the requirements of the several departments. I hope that we shall be able to confine the expenses within the appropriations. I know no good reason why it cannot be done.

The Fire Department is in a high state of efficiency. All the apparatus is in order. The Steamer Sagamore, which had been in use twelve years, has been thoroughly repaired by her builders, and is warranted in every respect as good as new. Two thousand feet of first quality leather hose and a new hose carriage have been bought. The new hose-tower with its conveniences adds much to the efficiency of this important department. I am not aware that any thing else is called for the present year. The officers and members are energetic, and experienced, and deserve and I believe receive the confidence of the public. I am satisfied that the whole force and machinery of this very important branch of the public service is all one can ask for; I hope no pains will be spared to keep it up to its present effective condition.

The streets are in good order. Some of them have received extensive repairs during the year, and the work has been well done. I am of the opinion that our streets will compare favorably with those of any city of our size. No further considerable outlay will be required the present year.

The cost of supporting the poor the past winter was quite large. In addition to the persons supported at the Alms house, more than a hundred families were assisted at their houses, in some cases to a very considerable amount; these families were looked after by the overseers, their wants inquired into and relieved with as little expense as was consistent with humanity, and the aggregate amounted to a large sum.

In regard to the City Farm, I believe that the city was fortunate in procuring the services of Mr. Shannon, who is a thorough farmer, and I have heard nothing but commendation from any source about him and his estimable wife. The poor under their charge are carefully attended, and every thing about the House and Farm is kept in the best order.

The city Councils in the years 1875 and 1876 caused that part of the city farm which borders on Woodbury street to be laid out into lots, and expended a large sum of money—more than $2000—in fencing the lots and opening and making a part of the streets required. They also by Joint Resolution authorized the streets indicated upon the plan to be opened from time to time as the Mayor and Aldermen may deem expedient. The Mayor and Aldermen were also authorized to sell these lots at prices to be fixed by themselves. A schedule of prices was adopted, and the lots have been extensively advertised for sale, but no purchaser has yet been found. It is very questionable whether any of these lots can be sold at the prices fixed upon them.

During the past year several applications have been before the City Councils for the purchase of other parts of the Farm, and the Councils by a Joint Resolution passed on the 12th day of July last, authorized a Committee to sell all that part thereof lying west of the Creek Road for $175 per acre. The sale has not been effected. I suppose the powers of that committee cease with their term of office, and that further action will be needed if the Councils are disposed to sell.

I commend the whole subject to your consideration.

The Police force consists of the City Marshal and two Assistant Marshals, and six police officers who act as night watchmen. In the day time the Marshal and one assistant are on duty, the other assistant acting as captain of the night watch; so that two men perform all the ordinary duty by day, and seven look after the city by night. One of the assistant marshals has been added during the year, but this has not added to the expense, because he takes the place of the seventh night watchman heretofore employed. I do not think the number is too large, and I doubt whether the citizens would be willing to run the risk of a smaller number, especially by night: and the pay is certainly low for able and efficient men. There are also several supernumerary watchmen who perform duty only as substitutes, and receive pay only when on duty. The force the past year has been prompt and reliable, carefully and quietly pursuing their routine of duty, and deserve commendation.

I think that the officers of the Police, as well as some other city officers, should be selected in part at least by the Chief Executive of the city. At present the Mayor has no voice in the selection of officers, except the Aldermen or the City Councils, who are the appointing power, should be equally divided, when he has a casting vote. It seems to me that the law formerly in force giving the Mayor an equal voice with the Aldermen in the appointment of officers, was a salutary one, and that its revival might be the means of procuring or retaining more experienced men. It cannot generally be for the interest of the city to supersede tried and experienced officers by men who are entirely without experience in the positions to which they are appointed.

I am not able to speak of the city schools, the mayor not heretofore being a member of the school committee, but must refer you to the printed reports for 1876.

Citizens interested have procured the passage at the late session of the Legislature of a law, under which important changes are made in the school committee. The first and least important is in the name—the old and time-honored "school committee" giving place to a "Board of Instruction." This Board is to be appointed by the Mayor and Aldermen; it consists of twelve members; four to be appointed each year hereafter for the term of three years. The Mayor is to be chairman. The appointments for the following year have already been made, and include two ladies. Let us hope for the best results from this new departure.

During the past year extensive improvements have been made in the buildings in the Court House grounds. These changes were made on account of the absolute necessity for enlarged facilities for washing, drying and storing the fire hose. The arrangements for that purpose were found to be very inefficient, entailing constant cost, delay and injury to the hose. The hose room was so small that the soiled and frozen hose had to be left out-of-doors sometimes for many hours, being taken in a few pieces at a time to be washed. During all this time, no matter how severe the weather, the doors had to be kept open until the hose was all washed; and the hose tower was so small that only a limited quantity could be dried at one time. Of course high prices were paid for labor under such circumstances, and particularly as the washing of the hose must begin immediately after its use, whether by night or day.

By the plans adopted, the old hose room and the room used for a stable form one spacious room, fitted for a hose room, and a tower fifteen feet square and sixty-five feet high has been built. In this tower, which is well ventilated and easily warmed, more than a mile of hose can be hung and dried at one time. Even this great quantity is no more than was laid in the yard frozen stiff after the Temple fire. Had the present arrangements been perfected at that time the frozen hose could all have been taken under cover at once and thawed that night without cost, except for fuel, and washed comfortably the next day, at a saving of more than one-half the cost. This saving is now and may hereafter be made in the washing of every lot of hose used. And further, the new tower furnishes a convenient and effective place for preserving the hose not required on the reels. And any one who will take the trouble to examine the building, with its conveniences, and the hose in it, cannot fail to see that the cost of the tower and improvements, which was $2374.22, was money well and economically laid out.

The new stable, necessitated by the alterations above named, cost $2370.29. It has sufficient accommodations for all the horses the city will be likely to need, a carriage house, harness closets, work shop and an office for the street commissioner. It is a very substantial and convenient building, and will answer the purpose for many years. The appropriation for the hose tower and stable was raised by taxation the present year.

In my address to the City Council one year ago, I said that I was informed that a proposition would be brought before them, to provide for further aid to the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. The company had procured the passage of a law authorizing the issue of $100,000 new stock or bonds "for the purpose of completing the road and paying existing debts," and also authorizing the cities of Portsmouth and Dover to "take their proportionate shares of said stocks or bonds." The share of this city was $44,000, and an earnest call was made on the City Councils for the passage of an ordinance providing for a subscription for shares to that amount. The subject was before the Councils for several months, and was fully discussed. Agents were appointed to examine the accounts of the Railroad, and several meetings of citizens were held. The Agents made a thorough investigation, and presented elaborate reports. The citizens, at their meeting, after a discussion lasting through two evenings, and with the Agents' reports before them, voted to recommend the taking of the stock. The result was, that after several months of discussion and agitation, the City Councils reluctantly passed the ordinance, and the stock was subscribed for and taken in February last. $43,000 of City Bonds were issued, from the sale of which a sufficient sum was realized to pay for the shares. The city of Dover subscribed for their proportionate share at the same time.

It is a matter of congratulation, that the amended Constitution of the State, when it goes into effect, will prohibit towns and cities from aiding in the construction of railroads, or pledging their credit or paying money to aid any dividend-paying corporation.

The entire amount of stock in the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad held by the City is 3440 shares, the par value of which is $344,000, for which the City has issued bonds to the amount of $343,000 at six per cent. interest. The interest on these bonds has so far been paid from dividends received on the stock.

Gentlemen, I have called your attention to a few of the more important matters which may come before you, or which will interest the citizens. I trust our intercourse may be pleasant and harmonious, and that all our measures may be undertaken and completed with the best interests of the City in view.

SOON CAUGHT.

Some time Monday evening, during the amateur performance of the operetta of "Girofle-Girofla" at the Boar's Head Hotel, Hampton, the apartment of Mrs. E. J. Tinkham of Chicago, on the second floor, was entered by means of false keys, the drawer of the dressing case unlocked, and an elegant watch, costly bracelet, rich brooch and an ear ring to match, all very valuable, were stolen therefrom. The thief evidently got frightened during the operations, as an ear ring was dropped and other valuables near by were left untouched. In another room some money and several rare coins were taken from a pocket-book in a bureau drawer, and another lady lost a portmonnaie while witnessing the performance. Dispatches were immediately sent to Sheriff Kent of this city and also to the chief of the detective force of Boston requesting them to work up the case, it being believed that an organized gang of thieves are engaged in making these depredations, other similar operations having been attempted within a few days at seaside houses in this vicinity. But the thief in this case is not a "professional," for he walked straight into the lion's mouth in the most blundering manner.

Tuesday noon Ex-Marshal Frank B. Johnson noticed a man trying to sell some jewelry to a countryman on Market square, and at once surmised that he was the Boar's Head thief. Mr. Johnson lost track of his man for a short time, but taking Mr. Samuel Taylor into his confidence and giving him the suspected person's description, sent him on the trail, with instructions to bring the jewelry peddler to Mr. Johnson's store to sell his goods. Mr. Taylor notified the jewellers of the city, requesting them to send the fellow to Mr. Johnson's store if he called upon any of them; and shortly after, Mr. Wilbur I. Trafton was visited by the thief, who, not suspecting he was being taken before one of the best criminal officers the city ever had, readily accompanied his guide to Mr. Johnson's store. After "pumping" him for some time and getting him to display the stolen jewelry, Mr. Johnson quietly sent for an officer to arrest him. The thief, at length evidently suspecting something was wrong, attempted to leave the store, but was prevented by Mr. Johnson, although he made a good fight and threatened to use a knife. He was taken to the station house and searched, and most of the missing jewelry found on him and identified. The thief, who gives the name of Frank Wells, and says he formerly worked as a painter in Smith's carriage manufactory in Boston, was taken in charge by Sheriff Kent, and with his plunder taken to Hampton, for trial before the Police Court of that town. He is probably a green hand at the thieving trade, or he would never have attempted to dispose of the stolen property so near the place where the crime was committed,—and to Frank Johnson, too!

THE U. S. S. ENTERPRISE.

The "contract sloop-of-war" Enterprise sailed from the lower harbor for Hampton Roads at five o'clock Saturday afternoon. She has been talked about a good deal—we think she has been mentioned in this paper several times—but she is a beautiful vessel, if she does leak like a sieve; and the day she dropped down from the navy yard to the lower harbor she went down very handsomely against a strong flood, steaming along at a good rate of speed and working like a yacht. We are informed that she leaked fourteen inches of water in twenty-four hours while lying in the harbor, after coming out of the dry dock the last time; what she will do in rough water we cannot tell, but she will probably not leak much more than when in port. The contractor who furnished the labor for building this vessel has been roughly handled for the way he put her together, but her leaking is not entirely his fault, if our information is correct. His contract of course specified the size of fastenings to be used; but after he had got the holes (some four or five thousand in number) all bored, it was found that the department had no copper of the required size on hand, and the holes had to be all re-bored. Of course he got extra pay for this, but it wasn't good for the vessel; for it is impossible to bore out a hole and keep it as "true" as when it was first bored in the solid wood, and when the bolts were finally driven many of them went in much too easily, a single blow being sufficient to send them in six or eight inches. Each one of these easy-going bolts is the site of a leak, and the aggregate of the whole is seen in the water daily discharged from the ship's pumps. We have heard it hinted that the whole business was a put-up-job to throw discredit on the plan of building men-of-war by contract; if so it was well managed, for the end aimed at was certainly attained.

BIG BLAST AT DOVER POINT.

The sub-marine party who have for the last two seasons been successfully engaged in removing the obstructions of ledges and boulders in the Cocheco river, so that large seagoing vessels can now navigate the river, have finished their work in the Cocheco and with their schooner hauled down to Dover Point, to remove an enormous rock there which has always been dreaded by the up-river mariner. This rock is situated in the channel in nearly twenty-six feet of water at high tide, and stands up fourteen feet higher than the surrounding bottom; at low tide there is but four feet of water over this dangerous rock, which weighs over two hundred tons. The divers have placed a steam drill on the top of the rock, and holes are being sunk in it and filled with explosives. The blast will be fired Thursday afternoon at high water, and will be a rare spectacle, well worth witnessing.

The popular landlord of the Dover Point Hotel, Mr. Dan. Wiggin, will be prepared to accommodate spectators in his usual satisfactory manner that day—or any other day they may see fit to visit the beautiful location of his hotel.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

Mr. Henry S. Hartshorn on Monday evening signalized the close of his term of service as one of the Board of Overseers of the Poor, by entertaining the old and new Boards and other invited guests, at a bird supper. The feast, which was worthy of Taft's famous house at Point Shirley, was prepared by Mr. John S. Sides at his Central Oyster House.

The Hutchinson Family, "Tribe of Asa," will sing at Franklin Hall on Thursday evening, the 23d. It is possible they may also sing there on Saturday evening, the 25th, as previously announced. The hall is engaged for Friday evening, the 24th, by Heyward's Combination. The Hutchinson's will give a concert at the Appledore House on the evening of the 24th.

Rev. L. L. Harmon, for the past ten years or so pastor of the Pearl street church in this city, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Freewill Baptist church at North Hampton.

The following has been handed to us for publication as a sure cure for cold in the head; Trisnitrate of bismuth six drachms; pulverized gum arabic two drachms; hydrochlorate of morphin two grains. To be taken as snuff.

The squirrel was attacked by ten or fifteen sparrows and driven up a tree, where, after jumping from limb to limb, he was compelled to leave and take another position. Here he was again attacked by re-enforcements and completely routed. He has not made an appearance since.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Carbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickox, Rector of St. John's E. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a sprain more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 22d, 1876."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment, White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Windgalls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Pitcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimoch, of Dupont, Ohio, says:

"I am using CASTORIA in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the CASTORIA. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. tnov1

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children never suffer, they have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. tnov1

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Strains, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Stings, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Walk Without Crutches; One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 25 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. Have suffered all the time, I could eat but little, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all you claim and recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May, John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have no doubt I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I feel it my duty to inform you of it, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Many times I think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Fulton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, as that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pains The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 3, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule o Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy clief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocanon by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier shall fail to comply with such notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

—o—

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome or fatal disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

—First Black Hussar—"Dost see yon foeman advancing, comrade?" Second Black Hussar—"I dost." And they both dusted. -N. O. Times.

—"We are informed," says an Annisquam letter, "that when the proprietor of the solitary grocery store here feels moved to attend a base ball match or join the rest of the town in going for the mackerel when they come in shore, he hangs the key on a nail in the door-post so that people wishing to buy anything can go in and help themselves, paying at some future time."

—Insuring baggage is the latest novelty, and the travelling public will be likely to regard it with decided favor. The company insures baggage from the time it leaves the house or hotel until it arrives at its destination, and the policy covers against fires in any hotel, on any railroad, in any railroad depot and on any steamship or steamboat, and covers against accident on any steamboat or steamship and on any stage coach.

—Girls are comparatively few in Deadwood, but those that are there make up in vivacity what they lack in variety. The Champion describes two of them as galloping a race through the streets, and finally urging their horses into a saloon. Whereupon, adds the reporter, "the proprietor shipped this sort of fun up as a little too fresh, and the girls were routed out."

—During the hoodlum attack upon the Chinese quarter in San Francisco fifty horses were taken from horse-car stables for the use of the citizens' cavalry. Much difficulty was experienced in preventing the animals from charging up Sutter street whenever that thoroughfare was crossed. Finally Captain Crittenden conceived the idea of strapping a car bell to the pommel of his saddle, by the aid of which his entire command was started, halted and otherwise manœuvred with the greatest precision.

—The doctors of Detroit don't take a joke as kindly as they might. The other evening a citizen of Woodward avenue went a block out of the way to put his head into a doctor's office and call out—"Man at the corner of Woodward avenue and Elizabeth street got a bad fit!" The doctor put on his hat and hastened to the corner indicated, hoping that he might not be too late to save human life. There was no crowd and no excitement, and as the M. D. leaned against the lamp post to catch his breath he saw a man sitting on the curb-stone bathing his foot with cold water. The boot which he had drawn off stood beside him, and the man was saying: "Blast that shoemaker; blast that boot—ah—yes, blast them!" It was a bad fit. After two or three minutes the doctor saw that it was. What his thoughts were no one will ever know, but as a boy came near running a velocipede against him, he growled out: "About ten thousand men in this town ought to be taken out and shot!"

—When "Ten Thousand a Year" first appeared, it was published anonymously, and Mr. Warren, the author, used to go about among his brethren at the bar, asking them if they had seen it and what they thought of it. The book soon became very famous. One day Warren attacked a well-known judge with the usual question, "Have you seen Ten Thousand a Year?" Suspecting the secret of the authorship, the judge said, "Oh, yes, of course I have." Something peculiar in the judge's manner prompted Warren to ask further questions. "I'll tell you a secret," said the judge, "if you give me your word of honor not to betray my confidence." Warren gave his word with great solemnity. "I am the author of Ten Thousand a Year," said the judge. The next day there appeared a paragraph in the papers announcing that Mr. Warren, an eminent member of the bar, was the author of the new novel which had attracted so much attention, and in the next edition of the work, the name of the author appeared for the first time on the title page.

—"Well, Jim," said one schoolboy to another as they met at the noon recess, "how do you like the new house?" "Like nothing," contemptuously replied the other; "there's seven boys in the block all bigger 'n me, and not one I can boss; the telegraph pole before the door is all full of splinters, and it's worth a fellow's life, let alone the legs of his trousers, to try and climb up it; the grocer's store round the corner has got a big dog, and wire nettings over the apples and things, and altogether it's a regular old cave of gloom, like what Beecher talks about. I tell you it ain't a circumstance to the house we left. if it has got the modern improvements, and the rent is cheaper, and there's more room. That house, Jimmy, was like what I think heaven will be like. Springtime you could sail for blocks and blocks in the gutters on sections of the sidewalk, and every winter there was skating-rinks upon skating-rinks on all the vacant lots round. Not a boy on the street more 'n seven years old, and every one of them would pay me a marble, or the first bite of his apple, or some other evidences of wealth, every day in the week, for me not to knock off his hat, or shoot him with a pea-shooter where his clothes were tight. And as for groceries, the Dutchman round the corner was too blind to see you book anything, and if he did, he was too fat to run far. I tell you it was a little heaven on earth. People might have some regard for their children when they move."

THURSDAY, AUGUST 16, 1877.

Democratic State Convention of Maine.

The Maine democracy held their State Convention in Portland on the 14th inst. William L. Putnam of Portland was made temporary chairman, and John B. Redman of Ellsworth and Edward C. Moody of York temporary secretaries. The temporary organization was made permanent. Efforts were made to induce Hon. John C. Talbot, the candidate of last year, and to whom by party usage and courtesy the nomination this year belonged, to withdraw; but he positively refused to take himself out of the way, and had to be thrown overboard the same as Jonah was, by force.

The platform adopted by the Convention is the best specimen of political carpentry seen for a long while; it consists of but three planks, the first re-affirming the St. Louis platform, the second asserting that Tilden was elected, and the third announcing that the democracy offers no factious opposition to the national administration. Every one of these planks might have been used in building the ark, so far as their connection with the questions now before the country are concerned; and the platform as a whole could only have been strengthened by the insertion of planks asserting that the waters of the ocean are salt and that the sun formerly rose in the east. An attempt was made to put an anti-prohibitory-law plank in, but the proposition was voted down by a large majority. Not a word is said about specie resumption, inflation, the labor troubles, the longed-for subsidy to the Texas Pacific Railroad, or any other topic of interest to the modern world.

Three ballots were taken for a candidate for governor; on the third ballot Joseph H. Williams, of Augusta, was nominated, receiving 282 out of 480 votes.

Mr. Williams, is a retired lawyer, and is aged about sixty-three years. In 1846 he was President of the Maine Senate, and under the constitution of the State became Governor when Hannibal Hamlin was elected United States Senator. Mr. Williams remained a republican all throgh the war and up to 1872, when he went over to Greeley. He voted for Tilden, however, which makes him a good democrat now.

Death of Professor Sanborn.

Professor Hiram Sanborn, of Jersey City, New Jersey, died at the residence of his father, Mr. Solomon Sanborn, in Tamworth, N. H., Aug. 8th, and was buried August 10th. Prof. Sanborn was by profession a lawyer, but devoted the most of his active life to teaching, and to the real estate business in New York, in which he was very successful. He was an active politician, and in 1872 took an active part in the Greeley campaign, speaking frequently in this and other States, for Mr. Greeley, of whose friendship he was prouder than of his own successful life. Since the death of Mr. Greeley he has taken but little interest in political affairs. He was an earnest anti-slavery man, a devoted Free Soiler, and gave his support to the old Hale and Julian ticket, the ticket headed by Martin Van Buren and Charles Francis Adams, to the Fremont campaign, and to the first and second nominations of Mr. Lincoln. He was extremely active and earnest during the war, and made many speeches in behalf of Gen. Grant in 1868; and only followed the call of his old leaders, Greeley, Chase, Adams, Curtis, Julian, David Davis, Trumbull and others, in leaving the republican party in 1872.

Prof. Sanbora was formerly in business in Springvale, Maine, and in Rochester, N. H., as well as in New York. He was a frequent writer for the press, and a constant speaker and lecturer. He took great interest in religious matters, and was a frequent speaker at religious meetings; he was, and at the time of his death had been for many years, a member of the Congregational church, "the church of his fathers;" and in all the relations of life proved himself a good, pure, honest man. Mr. Sanborn was an active temperance man, and much interested in the Reform Movement, in aid of which he often lectured.

News and Notes.

A raft of spars, consisting of 180 heavy sticks of timber, arrived in Boston harbor on the 14th inst., in tow of tug Knickerbocker; the raft, towline and steamer made a string a quarter of a mile long. This raft came all the way from Hamilton, Ontario, by water, via Lake Ontario, the Oswego and Troy Canals, Hudson river and Long Island Sound. The saving in the cost of shipment, (all spars from Canada for Boston have heretofore been shipped by rail from Troy, N. Y.,) is some $2000, and the venture having proved a complete success the saving hereafter on the shipment of heavy timber to Boston from the Canadian lumber region will be an important item to the firms engaged in the business. The only fear in the case was that the heav swell off Point Judith would break the raft apart, in which case the loss would havey been very great. The raft was a week on the passage from Hoboken, N. J., to Boston.

Philander M. Haines, foreman of the belt department in the Laconia Mills at Biddeford, Me., was caught by a shaft and killed on Tuesday.

As yet the Providence Tool Company is at a standstill in regard to its rifle contract with Turkey. All the processes of gunmaking having been stopped, the nearly two thousand employes are roaming around the streets, having been compelled to take a vacation, very much against their will. Never before since the Tool Company commenced to make rifles for the Ottoman Government, in 1874, has it been obliged to entirely suspend work. The works will not be opened until it has been ascertained whether Turkey will furnish the funds to pay for the last lot of rifles already made, as the company does not propose to continue making the rifles if there is to be any risk attending the payments for them. At the present time the way out of the difficulty has not been found.

Improvident fishermen all over the world have done what they could to ruin their business. The use of trawls and other wholesale modes of destruction has worked great mischief to the fishermen on the New England coast, but in Great Britain the worst of all possible practices has been introduced. This is the use of dynamite, which kills every fish within reach of the force of the explosion. A report recently presented to the British House of Lords states that this method has become so common on the coasts of Cornwall and Devonshire that it is feared the pilchards, mackerel and herring will be driven from the coast forever. A bill is suggested making the killing of fish by dynamite a criminal offence, punishable with imprisonment and hard labor, but one obstacle is the fact that these fishermen pursue their deadly work beyond the three mile boundary and are thus outside the water over which the government has jurisdiction.

A floating steam pile driver blew up in Cambridgeport, Mass., on the 14th, and Mark Clougherty was thrown from a ladder and had his neck broken. Several other persons were injured, but none seriously. The pile driver was totally wrecked.

A passenger train bound from Troy for Bennington was run into at Hoosac Junction by a freight train, August 14th, and several persons were badly injured.

Over 500,000 persons have perished by famine in India within the past four months.

At Smith's Ferry, Pa., an oil well was set on fire on the 14th, and four men were burned to death.

New Hampshire Items.

Hon. Lewis W. Clark has been confirmed as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

A little daughter of D. A. Warner of Nashua was severely scalded by falling into a tub of boiling hot water, on the 14th inst.

An attempt was made to wreck the White Mountain passenger train due in Nashua over the Concord Railroad at four o'clock on the afternoon of the 14th inst., at Pennichuck bridge, a heavy sleeper having been laid on the track close by the place where the rails were loosened some weeks ago. The pilot of the engine threw off the obstruction.

Dr. Nathaniel Batchelder of Epping fell and broke his leg at Raymond on Saturday.

Daniel Tilton's house is in Tamworth, but his farm is located in that town, Albany, Waterville and Sandwich, which all come nearly together at that place.

The Nashua Telegraph tells of a young man in that place who, after trying in vain to get a girl to smile upon him, as a last resort gave her a $10 gold ring on condition that she would "go with him one week," he being confident that she would learn to love him. The woman accepted and kept her pledge. At the end of the week she "did not like him." He then gave her a silk dress of the value of $35, she to try him a month. During the month he gave her another ring. She tried very hard to love him, but did not succeed, and told him so. Then the giver was angry. He hunted to a lawyer's office, explained his grief, and caused the young woman to be notified to call immediately. The lawyer explained her crime, made some remarks about the jail, and demanded the gold ring and silk dress. The young woman was frightened. She said she would see her sister. The sister inquired about the matter of an officer. The statutes were then searched, and the young woman was told to hold on to the property, which she will do.

Jonathan Stone of Keene, while at work in Hinsdale setting a curbing stone about ex-Gov. Hale's grave, was seriously crushed in the hips by a falling stone.

The residence of Alfred P. Kendall, situated on the Lowell road near Nashua, was entered by burglars Monday night, the 13th inst. A watch, diary and some clothing were stolen.

The Eastern War.

During the Russian retreat from Kalover the heavy fire of the Turks exploded the powder magazine. The Russians lost five hundred killed and one thousand wounded, principally by the explosion.

The German Government has seriously remonstrated against the Turkish atrocities, and has intimated to the Porte the absolute necessity for stricter discipline.

The Russians defeated the Turks and took five cannon at Topkeny on the 14th inst. Next day the Russians retreated.

Political.

The "old freesoilers of '48" held a reunion at Downer's Landing on Thursday. That free soil movement was the outgrowth of minds and hearts honestly devoted to the cause of freedom. But, branching off upon the idea that General Taylor was too much of a pro-slavery man as compared with Daniel Webster, it undertook to give moral effect to its convictions by holding up and voting for Martin Van Buren, as the embodiment of the idea that it is never right to sacrifice expediency to principle! From the beginning of the movement, it had many good men in its leadership; but their ways, and their studyings of the art and duty of success, did not differ from those of politicians in general. Among the leading were Charles Francis Adams and Francis W. Bird, who have at last found refuge and consolation in the arms of that unadulterated democracy which is represented by Samuel J. Tilden, another stickler for integrity in public life, as shown in cipher despatches from Oregon, and in other ways not less conspicuous.—Salem Mercury.

The music has begun again in the Ohio democratic camp. A meeting of the party leaders was held at Put-in-Bay on Friday, and the plan of campaign discussed. There was a good deal of energetic talk about the surface principles of the canvass, but the real question of interest is let out in this astounding dispatch to the party's principal organ, the Cincinnati Enquirer: "It is understood that there is a hitch or misunderstanding between Hon. R. M. Bishop and the most prominent members of the State Central Committee, on the subject of Mr. Bishop's assessment for campaign purposes. Mr. Bishop's idea is that any money contributed should be applied solely to and for the purpose of carrying Hamilton County, which he considers the central point in the contest. The Committee-men indicated claim that Mr. Bishop's nomination was made upon the assurance that he would contribute an ample sum for campaign purposes, and look after Hamilton county besides. If Mr. Bishop fails to meet the views of the Committee to-morrow, there is a possibility of serious trouble ensuing." This is a tolerably cool confession that Mr. Bishop was nominated solely because of the size of his pocket book, a motive which had of course been already suspected; but this open confession of it by the party's chief organ is hardly an act of friendship.

Ex-Gov. Jenkins, who is presiding over the Georgia Constitutional Convention, talks pretty freely about that august but not especially impressive assemblage. He said to a reporter of the Augusta Chronicle the other day: "It bids fair to be the most absurd and ridiculous Constitution that ever was drawn up. The Convention is entirely too large a body. Every man seems to think that he must offer something, and that his measure is the most important of all. They are really making a code of laws instead of a Constitution." Mr. Jenkins made himself unpopular early in the session by stating to the committee on the bond question that in 1872 he had advised a man to buy some bonds because the State would not repudiate its own word. The repudiators have abused him for speaking of such a thing now, especially for putting the incident in such an offensive way, and they will not be likely to treat him any more gently now, after this discriminating opinion of a Convention which has eclipsed all its other foilllies by the unpardonable one of repudiation.

—A tall, elderly, refined-looking gentleman recently went into a small Post-office in a rural region of England. He asked some question relative to the registering of a letter, and was very sharply, rudely, and unnecessarily snubbed by a young woman in attendance. He asked her if she thought that was a proper way to answer an inquiry in a public office. She said she thought that she had been quite civil enough for him. He asked her, with an ominously increasing mildness of manner, if she would favor him with her name. She emphatically declined to do so. He then said he thought he would tell her his name, which, however, she declined to hear, saying that his name was no concern of hers. He calmly replied that he thought it was, for his name was John Manners, and he was the Postmaster-General.

—A grandfather was amicably chaffing with his granddaughter, who was seated on his knee. "What makes your hair so white, grandpapa?" [the little girl asked "I am very old, my dear; I was in the ark," said he, with a reckless disregard for truth which does not prepossess one in his favor. "Oh!" said her little ladyship, regarding her distinguished relative with fresh interest, "are you Noah?" "No, not Noah." "Are you Shem, then?" "No, I am not Shem?" "Are you Ham?" "No, I am not even Ham." "Then you must be Japhet," insisted the little maiden, at the end of her historical tether, and growing somewhat impatient with the difficulty which surrounded her aged relative's identification. "No, I am not Japhet," said he, wagging his head, intensely enjoying the joke. "Then, grandpapa," said the little maiden, firmly and decisively, "you are a beast!"

—Donn Piatt says that "a true interviewer is a man who puts his own views in the mouth of the interviewed and trusts to God and good luck to escape death."

[Communicated.]

THAT "MARINE MYSTERY."

Mr. Editor: I desire to call public attention to the powers and duties of coroners in connection with Dr. Whittier's letter in the Army and Navy Journal of August 11th. The Coroner says: "The law of New Hampshire places the power to order an inquest in the hands of the Mayor and Aldermen; and the Coroner can have recourse only to an appeal to the County Solicitor. The Mayor having peremptorily refused an inquest, I proposed to make such an appeal," etc.

The Coroner misapprehends the law. The Coroner may always and at any time hold an inquest whenever he thinks proper. He may if he thinks proper hold an inquest when not authorized by the Mayor and Aldermen; or he may refuse to hold an inquest even if requested so to do by them. The Mayor had no power peremptorily to refuse an inquest, if that means to grant the right to hold one; the only power he or the Aldermen have is to refuse to authorize and request an inquest at the public expense. The following are the laws:

"The coroner shall take an inquest upon the view of the dead body of any person whose death is supposed to have been occasioned by violence or casualty within the county for which he is commissioned, and in which such dead body shall be found, whenever in his judgment the circumstances are not clear of the cause thereof." [Laws of 1873, Ch. 48, Sec. 1.]

"No coroner's inquest shall be holden at the expense of any town, city or county, nor shall any fees or costs of such inquest be paid by any town, city or county, unless the coroner shall have been specially requested in writing to hold the inquest by the selectmen of the town or mayor and aldermen of the city to be charged with such expense, or by the solicitor for the county or the attorney-general of the State." [Laws 1876, Ch. 19.]

A GOOD LAW.

The Legislature at its last session passed the following law, being spurred up to it by the energetic persistency of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. We have already published the first section of the act in our local columns, and the whole of it in a GAZETTE supplement; but by special request we again give the law entire:

An act for the better protection of children.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. No minor under the age of fourteen years shall be admitted at any time to, or permitted to remain in, any saloon or place of entertainment where any spirituous liquors or wines, or intoxicating or malt liquors are sold, exchanged or given away, or at places of amusement known as dance houses and concert saloons, unless accompanied by parent or guardian. Any proprietor, keeper or manager of any such place who shall admit such minor to, or permit him or her to remain in, any such place, unless accompanied by parent or guardian, shall be fined ten dollars.

SEC. 2. Any person who shall employ or exhibit, or who shall sell, apprentice or give away for the purpose of employing or exhibiting, any child under the age of fourteen years in or for the vocation, occupation, service or purpose of dancing, playing on musical instruments, singing, walking on a wire or rope, or riding or performing as a gymnast, contortionist or acrobat in any circus or theatrical exhibition, or in any public place whatsoever, or who shall cause, procure or encourage any such child to engage therein, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the education of children in vocal and instrumental music, or their employment as musicians in any church, chapel or school, or school exhibition, or prevent their taking part in any concert or musical exhibition.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect on its passage.

Approved July 19, 1877.

POLICE COURT.

Charles S. Walker, drunk, fine $3, costs $8.04. Goes to the country.

Edward Lolley and William Randall were up for mutual assault. The former was ordered to pay $9.90 for his share of the fun, but Randall got clear.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

Bunker Hill Encampment, I. O. O. F., will visit this city Sept. 13th, 14th and 15th, and Strawberry Bank and Mt. Sinai Encampments of this city have laid out the following programme: On Thursday, the 13th, receive visiting Encampment at noon; drive to Newcastle at four o'clock, with committee; evening, out-door concert by band. Friday—visit navy yard in the forenoon; street parade of the three Encampments in the afternoon; promenade concert and dance at Franklin Hall in the evening.

The New England Association of Gas Engineers, Mr. Samuel G. Stiners president, met at the Rockingham House on Wednesday. About sixty members were present. A business session took up part of the day; the rest of it was to have been spent in driving in the outskirts of the city, but the rain prevented. To-day the members go to the Shoals, have a banquet at the Rockingham on their return, and leave for their homes on the early evening trains.

Frank Wells, the jewelry thief of the Boar's Head Hotel, was arraigned in the parlor of the hotel on Tuesday evening, the 14th, less than twenty-four hours after the theft was committed, before the Police Justice of Hampton, and pleaded guilty. He was bound over in the sum of $800 for his appearance at the October term of the Supreme Court; failing to procure bonds, he was brought back to this city by Sheriff Kent, and lodged in jail.

The U. S. S. Speedwell is to be fitted with a new boiler at this navy yard, and work on it has been commenced.

Several members of the Heavy Artillery, who were unable to start for Bennington, Vt., with their company on Tuesday morning, left for that point on Wednesday.

Sagamore Steam Fire Engine, No. Two, arrived back from Portland, Me., where she was built and where she had been for some weeks undergoing extensive repairs, on the evening of Tuesday, the 14th inst. She has been fitted with a new boiler and a much larger water tank than she formerly carried; the pump has been bored out; the driver's seat has been placed forward of the air chamber, giving the driver far better control over his horses than before; and the engine now is not merely "as good as new," but is probably a better machine than when first procured by the city. A trial of the engine was had on Market square, Wednesday afternoon, the results being in every way satisfactory.

Hon. N. G. Marshall of York is said to be collecting and arranging the material for a full and complete history of that town from its earliest settlement to the present time. There is probably no one now living who is in possession of so large an amount of material and has so great knowledge of the traditions and incidents relating to its early history as he. Mr. Marshall's well-known research and extensive knowledge relating to the early as well as subsequent history of that ancient town will, with the aid of his well-known pen, produce a work of inestimable value to this and succeeding generations.

REWARDED AT LAST.

In the list of officers of the late Democratic State Convention of Maine, we find the name of Mr. E. C. Moody of York, who was one of the two secretaries. We congratulate our old friend "Ed" on his rapid promotion in the democratic ranks. He's a good fellow, and willing to work hard at wire pulling, solely for the good of the party—and some small office. Some people suspected the purity of the motives which made Ed flop over to the democratic side of the fence the moment he lost (through the abolition of the office, which was that of chief accountant at the navy yard—salary $1500 per year, duties nil) the fat sinecure which closed his many years of office holding under republican administrations; but such persons do him injustice. He knows exactly what he went over to the democrats for, and so do a good many other people—including not a few of his democratic neighbors at York, who defeated him for representative in the Legislature at the last election there by vigorously "scratching" him. We are glad Ed has managed at last to get one office—though we don't know what pay the democrats of Maine give a secretary of their State convention.

Against Orders.

Too many cooks might have spoiled the Bennington broth if one of them hadn't taken possession of the kitchen at the critical moment, in a very obstinate way. That (saving the homely proverb) was our stout hero of the 16th, John Stark. When the Burgoyne scare ran over New England, Stark held no military position, having thrown up his commission in disgust because Congress had promoted some junior officers over his head. But his patriotism was proof against disloyalty to the public welfare, and when the New Hampshire troops were ready to march to the Hudson to check the British advance, the veteran promptly accepted their command from the government of that State. Proceeding westward to Manchester, Vt., with his men, he found Gen. Lincoln there, with orders from Gen. Schuyler, at the head of the Northern department, to take the New Hampshire troops and their commander, under his authority for the rest of the campaign. To this order Stark squarely refused to submit, claiming his commission from the government of New Hampshire as justifying his act. This breach of discipline was communicated to Congress, which forthwith sent notice to New Hampshire that it was gravely damaging the public safety by appointing Stark to this independent command; that it this kind of outside thing was allowed to go on, the national circumlocution office might as well shut up, and requiring the governor who had given Stark his papers, to fall in behind Lincoln and Schuyler, according to rule. But before all this regulation-tape could be tied up, Bennington came and the red-coats went. Stark fought that battle in a state of insubordination, as some other brilliant things have been done. Perhaps this very condition of official "contempt," in which he had put himself, edged his natural courage and force with its irresistible dash, that afternoon. It was a short cut to victory, in more senses than one. In the joy which it sent through the colonies, the irregularity of the successful leader was readily passed over. And Stark, from being a private citizen extemporized for the nonce into a provincial general, was promoted at once by Congress into a brigadier of the army of the United States, Maryland alone casting a negative vote.—Springfield Union.

To Render the Liver Active

When that important secretive gland requires arousing, it is only requisite to resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the national remedy for inactivity of the bilious organ, for constipation, and for besides those malarious disorders to which torpidity of the liver predisposes a person. Far more surely does this celebrated anti-bilious cordial accomplish a curative result than mercury or any other mineral drug used to cure liver disorders. In fact, such medicaments cannot fairly be called remedies, since, although they may have a temporary effect, they eventually fail to influence the system remedially, but instead often do it serious injury. The Bitters, on the contrary, are a specific of the most salutary nature, and are likewise a reliable and agreable tonic, appetizer and nervine.

We Can't Talk

without showing the condition of our teeth. Every laugh exposes them. In order not to be ashamed of them, let us use SOZODONT, which is sure to keep them white and spotless, and to give fragrance to every word we utter.

"United we stand," as the joined fragments said to SPALDING'S GLUE.

We publish the announcements in our advertising colums for pay, and seldom trouble ourselves to enquire as to the qualities or merits of the wares advertised further than to assure ourselves that they are legitimate and respectable. But when an article performs miracles in our midst, transforming the old to young, in appearance at least, we cannot pass it by unnoticed. We know of people who, years ago were gray-headed and who now wear dark and glossy hair. How is this? It evidently is not colored, for it has a perfectly natural appearance instead of the harsh, dry, shaving look of hair stained with nitrate of silver or other common hair dyes. No! it has been restored to its youthful color, lustre and vitality by the use of that wonder of wonders, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. It has many imitators, but there is nothing like it. The test of years only increases its fame, while its imitators die and are forgotten.—Boston Daily Globe.

The State of Louisiana, at the close of the war, found itself in a very crippled condition, financially; so the authorities imitated the example of Congress at the close of the Revolutionary war, and that of the States of Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania and New York, as well as many other commonwealths in times gone by, and in 1868 incorporated some of its leading citizens in the Louisiana State Lottery Company, with a capital of one million dollars, since augmented by three hundred and fifty thousand dollars accumulation as a reserve, all of which is paid up in cash. This company quarterly pays the State a large fund for the maintenance of its hospitals and schools and other charitable and educational purposes. The lottery is drawn monthly, without fail, in the City of New Orleans, under the personal supervision of the two ex-Confederate Chieftains, Generals P. T. Beauregard, of Louisiana, and Jubal Early, of Virginia, and the full schemes can be had by writing to M. A. Dauphin, Esq., President, Lock Box, 692, P. O., New Orleans. The next drawing is on Sept. 4, when tickets are only two dollars each.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth; and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and stabilished; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical art. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of the numberless Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by the timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Centaur Liniments.

One thing is now thoroughly established. Never since man suffered and human agencies alleviated pain has there been any thing which went so far as a pain annihilator and curative agent as the Centaur Liniments. These Liniments have within the past year cured more cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Stiff Joints, Caked Breasts, Swellings, Poisonous Bites, Burns, Lame Animals, etc., etc., than all other remedies combined. As the name of Centaur implies half horse and half man, the Centaur Liniments are for man and beast. But not the same Liniment. The White Liniment is for man and the Yellow for horses and animals. Herein this Liniment differs from all other remedies, although some of the ingredients are alike in each. They contain the well-known Witch Hazel, Arnica, Carbolic, Rock Oil, Mentha and other powerful ingredients.

Wm. H. Hickcox, Rector of St. John's P. Church, Wakefield, Clay Co., Kansas, writes: "Many years I have been suffering from a Weak Back, caused from a sprain more than 40 years ago. I have not found any thing to relieve me until I commenced the use of Centaur Liniment. I feel it my Christian duty to inform you that by its wonderful effects I am entirely relieved of pain. January 23d, 1878."

Messrs. J. McClure & Co., Druggists, Cincinnati, Ohio, say:

"Teamsters pronounce the Yellow Centaur Liniment superior to any thing they have ever used. We sell several dozen bottles per month, and the sale is steadily increasing."

These are only samples of thousands upon thousands of similar testimonials reaching us every month. All the Extracts, Embrocations, Salves and Ointments in existence are not doing one-tenth the good which is done by these admirable Centaur Liniments. For Frost-bites, Stings, Cuts, Itch, Salt Rheum, etc., there is nothing like the Centaur Liniment. White Wrapper. For Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Wind-Galls, Poll-evil, Scratches, etc., on horses, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is equally as good. They are certain in their effects; they are pleasant to use, they are handy and they are cheap. No family should be without Centaur Liniments. They are worth one hundred times their cost.

Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Dr. Pitcher's Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sour Mouth, Croup, or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mineral, morphine, nor alcohol. It is as pleasant to take as honey, neither gags nor gripes, and is superior to any remedy in existence.

Dr. E. Dimoch, of Depout, Ohio, says:

"I am using Castoria in my practice with the most signal benefits and happy results, and find it a perfect substitute for Castor Oil."

This is what every one says. Many nurses in New York use the Castoria. It is prepared by Messrs. J. E. Rose & Co., successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D. (nov1

The Centaur Liniments have created a revolution in remedies for Rheumatism, Strains, Swellings, Pains, Burns, Scalds, Stings, etc. The White Liniment is for the human family, and the Yellow Liniment is for horses. They are certain, handy and cheap.

Castoria is certain to operate. It does not nauseate or gripe like Castor Oil, but is pleasant to take, digests the food, regulates the bowels, cures wind colic, expels worms, and causes natural sleep. It is equally adapted to adults and infants. It contains neither Mineral, Morphine nor Alcohol. Children teething may have health, and mothers find rest, if they use Castoria. (nov1

They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 3 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, two are for my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was most sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; now I weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father and been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a trial and you will be of my mind. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I had tried it out long by my physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling around the medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was truly in a sad plight. GILBERT GROVE, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative so could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city, to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, offal or refuse of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and develop into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the manifestation of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Tetter or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

The Dipper.

A writer in the "Contributors' Club" of the August Atlantic, tells of his dismay when, in speaking to some English friends about the star-group of the "Dipper," and of its being the only one of the constellations whose appearance really conforms with the name, he was met with the blank query:

"What is a dipper?"

"Here," he says, "were people, with whom I could talk for an hour about Locke, Berkeley and Hume, who didn't know, after all, what a dipper was!"

When he tried to explain, the result was:

"A ladle! we understand. Oh, yes. A ladle!"

"In this case," the writer adds, "not only the words but the things varied; that is, they don't have 'dippers,' strictly so-called, in England."

When Professor Proctor was asked by the editor of St. Nicholas to write a paper on the constellation of the "Dipper," he appeared embarrassed for a moment, and then said:

"Oh! You mean the 'Cleaver.' We call that constellation the 'Cleaver,' in England."

However, the professor had at least found out its American name, and could so far Americanize himself as to give a capital paper on the "Dipper" to St. Nicholas, which appeared several months ago. In the September number of that magazine he is to take up the subject of the "Dipper" again, we are told, with diagrams of his own and some very startling and interesting facts in regard to that constellation.

Worse than the "Bummers."

A few days ago, Mr. Holbrook, a sagacious and successful grocery merchant on Peachtree street, packed his stock of goods, moved them from his store into a vacant store a door or two off, then ripped up every plank in the floor, laid down a floor of solid sheet iron, replaced the upper planks and moved his goods back.

"What does it all mean?" we asked him.

"It means rats," he replied solemnly. "Yes, sir, rats. I tell you the rats here cost me more by hundreds of dollars a year than my taxes and insurance. I have tried to get rid of them in every possible way. I have found that they continued to increase. I was consequently forced to move out and put down a sheet iron barrier between the thieves and my goods."

"Why didn't you try cats or terriers?"

"Cats?" in a tone of scorn. "Cats and terriers! Did you ever see this new breed of rats that we have here? We can't handle them with cats or terriers either."

Atlanta has become so thoroughly infested with rats that their destruction has become a matter of very serious importance. The ruthless invader of our store-rooms, granaries and coops is the regular wharf rat—or Norway rat, as it is called. It is an importation, and not a native productian. It is said that it came with Sherman's army to Atlanta, being brought hither in the forage for the horses that was shipped out from New York. The Sherman rat, as we propose to call him during the crusade against him that is hereby inaugurated, is a perfect mouster. He is as large as a small kitten, has huge thighs and foreshoulders, possesses enormous strength, is combative and plucky, and his cruel, rapacious face is ornamented with a pair of flowing moustaches. He has bred with incredible rapidity since his introduction here, and has literally devoured or driven out the modest, inoffensive, old-fashioned, little gray rat, that innocent, easily-satisfied vegetarian that may be termed "the rat of our fathers."

A more harmless little rodent than our little rat of ante-bellum times can hardly be imagined. He was accepted without a murmur, and really taken as a sort of pleasant joke. He figures in history as a decent gentlemanly rat that cracked an occasional grain of corn, or licked syrup, once in a while, from his tail that he had dropped into some sweet jug. He figures in history in such pleasant episodes as the famous visit of the country rat to the city, and in poetry as the rat that eat the malt that lay in the house that Jack built. He did no harm, and was liked and tolerated on all hands. But this new rat, born in the throes of revolution, and growing amid the fierce turbulance of this latter day, is a bloodthirsty and abnormal scoundrel. He despises the mild and musty corn, or the tranquil jam upon which the rat of our fathers fed, and whenever he wants a lunch he rushes out into your yard, seizes a half-grown chicken, and clipping its throat-latch with his sharp teeth, throws the palpitating corpse over his shoulders and gallops back to his den to wallow in warm gore. These huge rats can be seen in great numbers galloping about stores, along the street, at night. It is almost impossible to raise poultry anywhere in the city. The rats kill young chickens and ducks with the greatest ease, and during last winter entered, on one occasion, a chicken coop, and pulled from its roost and destroyed a full-grown hen. They kill grown pigeons frequently. They do not confine themselves to the city, but are spreading into the country. We have seen them six miles from town.

Dr. Taylor has one which is about as large as his dog, that burrows back of the store. The doctor says the burrow opens up at the other end somewhere beyond Decatur. These rodents can swim a creek, and nothing seems to stop them. They make more night raids into the country, moving in troops of a score or so, carrying destruction to the barn-yards and granaries and consternation to the sleek and non-combatant rats of the rural districts. They will attack a man when they are pressed in a corner. On such occasions when flight is impossible they will fly at their pursuer in blind rage, and generally succeed in closing their teeth through his flesh somehow.

The bite of this little animal is actually poisonous. Captain E. M. Roberts was bitten by one, and his hand is now shrivelled all around the bite. Mr. Harwell was bitten, and it was feared that his arm would have to be amputated. Mr. Dickson was bitten, and was sick for weeks. The poison instilled is virulent and obstinate. There is a notice in the St. Louis papers of late date that a professional rat-killer of New York has gone to that city carrying a gang of ferrets that have been trained to hunt and kill rats. He guarantees to kill several hundred a day, and to virtually rid St. Louis of the presence of this ubiquitous and deadly marauder. When he has finished we advise that he be sent for.—Atlanta Constitution.

Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1877.

What Does This Mean?

The Boston Post of Thursday, under the heading "New Hampshire," prints the following:

"In the late Legislature an act was introduced and passed by the House 'To prevent towns and cities from aiding railroads and other corporations,' but was defeated in the Senate the day before final adjournment by a vote of eight to three. The friends of an appropriation by the Manchester City Council of $100,000 to aid the Manchester & Fitchburg Railroad are surprised to learn, at this late day, that this act was enrolled by the Clerk, approved by the Governor and published in the list of acts passed. These facts will not invalidate the appropriation."

In the "Laws of the State of New Hampshire, passed June session, 1877," as furnished to the papers of the State and printed by them, the act referred to is endorsed "Approved July 19, 1877;" and we hardly think it was "defeated by the Senate" nearly a month after it had become a law of the State.

News and Notes.

Statistics show that the French mercantile marine, which in 1866 ranked as third among other nations, had on the 31st of December, 1876, descended to the sixth place. Yet France has "free trade in ships" and unlimited paper money, has had nothing to do with carpet-bag government, and is the native land of the Commune.

The Boston Post of Thursday comes to us with a most interesting supplement—fifteen columns of "solid nonpareil" notices of property to be sold for non-payment of taxes; and even this includes only eleven wards of the city, leaving ten wards yet to be heard from. The Globe of the same date has twenty-three columns of the same kind of literature.

Bill Longley, a Texan desperado, while awaiting trial in jail, is writing his life and adventures for the Giddings Tribune. He owns to thirty-two murders. There ought to be no difficulty in hanging him on this evidence.

The coroner's jury investigating the cause of the railroad disaster at Oceanport, N. J., have returned a verdict that the accident was caused by the neglect of John S. Conrow, he having given the safety signal to the approaching train, without having first seen that the draw was securely fastened, and that the safety of the travelling public demands a slower rate of speed in the future in crossing these bridges.

The New York Tribune has an odd story about the management of the Brooklyn navy yard. Commodore Nicholson, the commandant, some weeks ago received orders from the Navy Department to pay first-class workmen the same wages as are paid in neighboring ship-yards; enquiry showed that such workmen are receiving $3.50 a day, but the commodore refuses to pay more than $3 per day of ten hours, asserting that he can fill the yard with men at $2 a day. If this story is true the gallant commodore must fancy himself the owner of the Brooklyn navy yard, instead of being simply its commandant.

The English steamer John Bramall sailed from New Haven, Conn., on the night of the 11th inst., with a valuable cargo of ammunition, consigned to the Turkish War Department. The Bridgeport metallic cartridge works shipped thirty-two car loads of cartridges, and the Whitney Arms Company of New Haven supplied the balance of the cargo. No report of her sailing was made, for the obvious reason of keeping the Russian authorities in ignorance as to her movements.

Canada is having her share of labor trouble, the latest being a ship-laborers' strike at Quebec, because a firm employed "non-society men." The principal Canadian railroad was disturbed by a strike some months before there was any such commotion on the American lines. Those theorists who attribute our labor contentions to Protection may be puzzled when they find that Free Trade has not exempted Canada from the same ills.

There was a good deal of lively talk at that Put-in-Bay conference of the Ohio democrats last week. One pugnacious delegate was anxious to put the republicans on the defensive at once. "What we want," said he, "is to be ahead of them, and to give them something to answer when they commence. If we have nothing more, let's rehearse the Ten Commandments to them, and charge them with having violated all of them—so as to put them on the defensive." This was too much for one of the old war-horses, who retorted: "There is only one objection to that, which is this—it would give us only a week to prepare in. The gentleman himself may be a Sunday school teacher, and have all the commandments at his tongue's end, but he must remember that some of us may be in an entirely different situation." This pious project seems to have been abandoned subsequently, when it was discovered that the Christian statesman who was to stand on the platform had put a padlock on his pocket-boot and thrown away the key.—Tribune.

The Vermont Centennial.

The centennial of the battle of Bennington was celebrated in that town on Thursday, August 16th, that being the anniversary of the battle won by the New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts colonists under Gen. John Stark, over the British and Hessian regulars and tories under Col. Baum.

The 15th was "Vermont Day," in celebration of the completion by that State of a century of independence. The procession on that day was three miles long, numbered 4000 persons, and was witnessed by 25,000 spectators. Speeches were made by Hon. Daniel Roberts, Ex-Gov. Harriman of New Hampshire, Gen. Banks, Gov. Connor of Maine, and other distinguished men; original poems were read; and in the evening President Hayes gave a reception at his hotel in Bennington Centre, the Old Bennington of former days.

The Best Pump for all Shipping.

Every improvement in pumps for shipping is sure to attract the attention of seamen; because on good pumps their lives often depend. But a pump may be good in itself, and yet so complicated that when out of order it cannot be readily put to rights at sea, when a ship is leaky; hence we frequently hear of vessels putting into port to have their pumps repaired; or cleared, if choked. Hundreds of ships, we might say thousands, and be within the truth, have been lost owing to their pumps choking. A few days since our attention was called to an iron pump which was in process of application on Battery Wharf. It is called a "diaphragm pump," but seamen will understand it better when we say it is a suction pump, without a plunger, with two valves, one above the other, which can be put in or taken out by hand, and are so arranged that they cannot be choked even by dock mud. We saw a basket of coal pumped up with water, and the boxes were unaffected by it. But this was not its only merit. With much less power than that applied to a common pump it drew up a continuous stream of water of the same diameter as the main cylinder. We saw all the parts taken out, and can say that any person of ordinary capacity can adjust them without difficulty. But they cannot be injured or choked by pumping, and are more durable than the gear of any pump now in use. The exhibition which we noticed on Battery Wharf was not an experiment. The pump is now on board of a hundred sail of vessels, and wherever it has been used, has proved superior to all others. It can be worked with common braces, fly wheels, steam or any other purchase now in general use. We believe it is the invention of Mr. Loud, of the firm of Kilham, Loud & Co., of this city, and is patented. A force pump on the same principle is applied to shipping for washing decks, or to be used in case of fire. Captains Davis and Candage, the Marine Inspectors for the Boston Underwriters, consider both these pumps among the most valuable inventions for the safety of shipping that they have ever seen in the pump line. It only requires to be known to be universally adopted. We call attention to it for the information of shipowners, on account of its value, and not as an advertisement, though we think the inventor would do well to advertise it in every seaport. In this age it is not enough that a machine may be good in itself, it is just as necessary that it should be known, and advertising is the best means adapted for that purpose.—Traveller.

A Cat's Curiosity About Bees.

Charles Kaiser, who has the only hive of bees in town, says that when he first got his swarm his old cat's curiosity was much excited in regard to the doings of the little insects, the like of which she had never before seen. At first she watched their comings and goings at a distance. She then flattened herself upon the ground and crept along toward the hive, with tail horizontal and quivering. It was clearly evident that she thought the bees some new kind of game. Finally she took up a position at the entrance to the hive, and when a bee came in or started out, made a dab at it with her paws. This went on for a time without attracting the special attention of the inhabitants of the hive. Presently, however, "Old Tabby" struck and crushed a bee on the edge of the opening leading to the hive. The smell of the crushed bee alarmed and enraged the whole swarm. Bees by the score poured forth and darted into the fur of the astonished cat. Tabby rolled herself in the grass, spitting, sputtering, biting, clawing and squalling as never cat squalled before. She appeared a mere ball of fur and bees as she rolled and tumbled about. She was at length hauled away from the hive with a garden rake, at the cost of several severe stings to her rescuer. Even after she had been taken to a distant part of the grounds the bees stuck in Tabby's fur, and about once in two minutes she would utter an unearthly "yowl" and bounce a full yard in the air. On coming down she would try to scratch an ear, when a sting on the back would cause her to turn a succession of back somersaults and give vent to a running fire of squalls. Like the parrot that was left alone with the monkey, Tabby had a dreadful time. Two or three days after this adventure Tabby was caught by her owner, who took her by the neck and threw her down near the beehive. No sooner did she strike the ground than she gave a fearful squall, and at a single bound reached the top of a fence full six feet in height. There she clung for a moment, with tail as big as a rolling pin, when with another bound and squall she was out of sight and did not again put in an appearance for over a week.—Virginia City (Nev.) Enterprise.

The Virtue of Waiting.

They met on the outgoing train a few evenings ago. One a distinguished republican Senator, the other an ex-official of high character, who has long stood prominently before the country. Said the latter:

"Tell me, now, inter nos, what do you think of the republican prospects, and the policy of the Administration."

Said the former: "Well, here it is. We can't go over to the democrats. We've got to stand and take what we get inside the family. Publicly, I indorse the past and the present, and, I reckon, the future policy of the Administration. Privately, I think Hayes, with the best intentions in the world, has knocked the 'stuffing' clean out of the party."

"And what do you mean to do about it?"

"Wait."

"Can the old craft be righted by waiting?"

"I believe so; time and events must help us. Now, what do you think?"

"I indorse the policy also."

"In the same way?"

"Exactly."

"Shake."—Inter-Ocean.

An Eagle's History.

On the portico of Mr. Frederick C. Rowland's residence in Olive street is a fine model of an American eagle, which has an interesting history. It was the figure-head of the steamer United States, which plied between this city and New York early in the twenties. She was the first boat to cross into certain New York waters after the Fulton monopoly came to an end. Before that time she used to run between this city and a point just short of the monopolized waters. At one time she ran aground on Fairfield Beach, and Mr. Geoge Rowland, father of Mr. Frederick C. Rowland, put a gang of men at work and had her dug out. When the steamer was refitted he was given the eagle, and it has been kept in the family ever since. It has been painted and gilded for a large number of public occasions, the family loaning it to nearly everybody who applied for it. A few of these occasions were Governor Seymour's reception by P. T. Barnum, early in the decade ending at the beginning of 1860; at a grand reception in this city tendered to the Hon. John Woodruff; and during the Presidential campaign which ended in placing "Honest Abe" in the White House for his first term. During that important campaign it perched on the wigwam in Olive street. This aged eagle has also done duty upon locomotives attached to trains on which distinguished statesmen have been. It has also honored Fourth of July railroad excursions. Many citizens remember with ease the many public occasions it has adorned. The fact that the eagle was the figure-head of the United States, one of the early steamers between this city and New York, leads naturally to the question recently revived by articles in the New York Graphic, "What year did a steamboat first run in the Sound?" It is believed to be the year 1819. A few years later a regular line of boats was running between this city and New York. When some of the old steamboat men who were not in the city Saturday arrive, the exact date can probably be ascertained.—New Haven Palladium.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

The Supreme Court (full bench) of New Hampshire on Monday, 13th inst., sustained the verdict of the jury for $6000, and ordered judgment thereon, in the case of Theodore H. Deverson of this city against the Eastern Railroad. Plaintiff was formerly an engineer on the Eastern Railroad, and in the autumn of 1873 was severely injured by a collision near Kennebunkport, Me., where two heavy freight trains, (one of twenty-two cars and one engine, and the other of forty-four cars and two engines,) came together in a thick fog at night, killing several persons and shattering nearly every car of the trains, Mr. Deverson having a leg broken and receiving other severe injuries. This case was entered on the docket in 1875.

The full bench also confirmed the verdict of the jury in the case of Mrs. Hannah McIntire, who was badly injured at Conway Junction (formerly Brock's Crossing) on the Eastern Railroad by being thrown from her carriage; the jury gave the lady $3000 damages.

POLICE COURT.

Thursday, August 16th.

Eugene Smith was adjudged to be a common drunkard, and was sentenced to Brentwood for ninety days and ordered to pay $8.04 costs.

THE SEABROOK ACCIDENT.

The reporter who telegraphed from Newburyport the account of the recent accident at Seabrook, by which the train "plunged down an embankment" must have been a trifle excited when he sent his dispatch to the associated press. The embankment is about twelve inches in height. He estimated the damage at $40,000. Later a special correspondent put it down to $10,000. We have taken some pains to ascertain just how much damage was done to the train and find that the heavy Pullman cars were but slightly injured. Thirty dollars will put them in order. The express car of the Maine Central Road could be put all right again for $200. The Eastern Railroad express car was injured $100 worth. The baggage car badly used up could be put in order for $500. The postal car would cost $700 to be as good as new; while the locomotive "New Hampshire" would require $300 for repairs of all kinds. It will be seen that the highest estimate of the cost of the affair is fixed, by a practical examiner, as we understand it, at a little over sixteen hundred dollars. We are glad the road gets off so cheaply. A misplaced switch at this point once cost the road a large sum, but here providentially there was no one killed and none injured. It is curious to notice the great disparity between the hasty guess of the enthusiastic correspondent, who was, it would seem, anxious that the accident in point of figures should be of large account, and the subsequent careful investigation of a competent expert, which shows what was the amount of damage actually incurred.

DECLINED.

The caucus of republican members of the City Councils having nominated Walter C. Harriman, Esq., for an office under the present municipal administration, that gentleman on Wednesday sent to the members referred to the following declination:

To His Honor the Mayor, and to the members of the City Government:

Gentlemen: At the caucus held last Monday evening, you were pleased to give me the nomination for City Solicitor for the ensuing year. The nomination was entirely unsolicited by me. I did not suppose that I had been among you long enough, or was so favorably known, as to have my name considered at all with reference to the position; and believing that there are others more deserving and better able to fill the same than myself, I hereby decline the nomination. With grateful acknowledgements to you and my friends, I have the honor to remain

Yours Respectfully,
WALTER C. HARRIMAN.

PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

The U. S. S. Enterprise, from this port 11th inst., arrived at Port Royal, S. C., on the evening of the 14th,—a very good passage.

The public are cautioned against a man who calls himself George Henry Allen, and who has been collecting money from Good Templars in Somerville, Cambridge and other places in Massachusetts, by representing (it is claimed falsely) that he has been sent to them by Mrs. Leonard, Grand Worthy Secretary.

Steamer "May Queen," with an excursion party from Newburyport, visited this harbor on Thursday and remained several hours. A steam yacht from Boston was also in the harbor on the same day.

While the yacht "Cock Robin" was sailing about in the lower harbor on a recent afternoon she undertook to run over Seaward's ledge, and would have managed it first rate if there had been water enough to float her, but there wasn't, and she struck the ledge hard enough to stave her garboard strakes, causing her to fill. The venturesome skipper is said to have presented a most picturesque appearance as he waded through the water between the ledge and the shore, carrying his sailing companion "pig-back."

Moses R. Perkins of Epping has been appointed mail route messenger between this city and Manchester, on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad.

The Lane Rifles of Candia have accepted an invitation extended them by the Portsmouth City Guards, and both companies will go into camp at Newcastle for one week on the 27th inst. The Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. E. G. Peirce, Jr., are to go into camp for three days at Boar's Head, Hampton Beach, next month.

Judge Charles E. Batchelder, of the Portsmouth Police Court, has been retained as counsel by Frank Wells, the Boar's Head jewelry thief. Wells first attempted to sell the stolen jewelry at Messrs. C. E. & J. E. Dixon's store, and his manner appearing suspicious to Mr. J. E. Dixon that gentleman called at Sheriff Kent's office to lay the matter before him, but the Sheriff was out; the thief got caught all the same, however.

The Light Artillery are requested to meet at their armory this afternoon at half-past five o'clock, on important business.

To Render the Liver Active

When that important secretive gland requires arousing, it is only requisite to resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the national remedy for inactivity of the bilious organ, for constipation, and for besides those malarious disorders to which torpidity of the liver predisposes a person. Far more surely does this celebrated anti-bilious cordial accomplish a curative result than mercury or any other mineral drug used to cure liver disorders. In fact, such medicaments cannot fairly be called remedies, since, although they may have a temporary effect, they eventually fail to influence the system remedially, but instead often do it serious injury. The Bitters, on the contrary, are a specific of the most salutary nature, and are likewise a reliable and agreable tonic, appetizer and nervine.

"United we stand," as the joined fragments said to SPALDING'S GLUE.

We publish the announcements in our advertising colums for pay, and seldom trouble ourselves to enquire as to the qualities or merits of the wares advertised further than to assure ourselves that they are legitimate and respectable. But when an article performs miracles in our midst, transforming the old to young, in appearance at least, we cannot pass it by unnoticed. We know of people who, years ago were gray-headed and who now wear dark and glossy hair. How is this? It evidently is not colored, for it has a perfectly natural appearance instead of the harsh, dry, staring look of hair stained with nitrate of silver or other common hair dyes. No! it has been restored to its youthful color, lustre and vitality by the use of that wonder of wonders, Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. It has many imitators, but there is nothing like it. The test of years only increases its fame, while its imitators die and are forgotten.—Boston Daily Globe.

The State of Louisiana, at the close of the war, found itself in a very crippled condition, financially; so the authorities imitated the example of Congress at the close of the Revolutionary war, and that of the States of Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania and New York, as well as many other commonwealths in times gone by, and in 1868 incorporated some of its leading citizens in the Louisiana State Lottery Company, with a capital of one million dollars, since augmented by three hundred and fifty thousand dollars accumulation as a reserve, all of which is paid up in cash. This company quarterly pays the State a large fund for the maintenance of its hospitals and schools and other charitable and educational purposes. The lottery is drawn monthly, without fail, in the City of New Orleans, under the personal supervision of the two ex-Confederate Chieftains, Generals P. T. Beauregard, of Louisiana, and Jubal Early, of Virginia, and the full schemes can be had by writing to M. A. Dauphin, Esq., President, Lock Box, 692, P. O., New Orleans. The next drawing is on Sept. 4, when tickets are only two dollars each.
